STATEMENT OF DR RICHARD WILLIAM McLEAN

Publicly known as Dr Barran Dodger

THE WITNESS REMAINS — A COMPREHENSIVE STATEMENT ON INCIDENTS, TESTIMONY, DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE, PRESERVATION AND ACCOUNTABILITY

Date: 1 November 2026
Author: Dr Richard William McLean
Public identity: Dr Barran Dodger
UN OHCHR reference stated in my published materials: UR/UST/23/AUS/17

PREAMBLE — WHY THIS STATEMENT IS NECESSARY

I am Dr Richard William McLean, publicly known as Dr Barran Dodger: former journalist and news-graphics artist, author, researcher, advocate, whistleblower and person living with disability.

I make this statement to bring together the significant incidents, experiences, institutional correspondence, documentary records, safeguarding concerns, legal and administrative matters, humanitarian circumstances and spiritual writings published through my website:

THE WITNESS REMAINS — THE COSMIC RECKONING — DR BARRAN DODGER

https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me

This is not intended to be a substitute for the original documents. It is a consolidated statement directing readers to the relevant pages and records, explaining why they matter, and identifying the questions that I ask independent investigators, government agencies, disability and safeguarding authorities, journalists, legal representatives, researchers and human-rights organisations to examine.

I do not ask anyone to accept every allegation or interpretation without examination.

I ask that the original records be obtained, preserved, read in context, compared with the chronology and assessed fairly.

I ask that my disability, psychiatric history, personal circumstances, sexuality, faith or emotional response to events not be used as substitutes for investigating the evidence.

I ask for the same evidentiary standards that should apply to any other person.

PRESERVATION FIRST. EXAMINATION SECOND. CONCLUSION LAST.

PART I — THE PUBLIC RECORD AND ITS PURPOSE

1. The principal archive

My documentary work is distributed across several connected repositories and publications.

The principal public sources are:

Main GitHub documentary repository
https://github.com/wezzo72/Barrandodger

Rebuilt repository
https://github.com/wezzo72/barrandodger-rebuild

Original public archive
https://wezzo72.github.io/Barrandodger/

Official Government Documents Register
https://wezzo72.github.io/Barrandodger/official-government-documents-register.html

Rebuilt public archive
https://wezzo72.github.io/barrandodger-rebuild/

The Witness Remains — Kronos: The Timing of God
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me

These repositories and websites serve different but related purposes: preservation, public access, documentary indexing, personal testimony, spiritual and intellectual publication, and the presentation of matters requiring independent examination.

The archive contains material described as government correspondence, administrative decisions, public-interest disclosure material, Freedom of Information records, clinical and disability-support documentation, financial correspondence, legal records, personal testimony, research, spiritual writing and historical publications.

The original documents, rather than the summaries on any website, must be treated as the primary material for factual and legal conclusions.

2. The purpose of preservation

My archive is not merely a collection of complaints.

It is an attempt to preserve a documentary history that I believe should be capable of surviving institutional changes, administrative referrals, unanswered correspondence, changes in personnel and the passage of time.

The records include documents created by government departments, statutory authorities, tribunals, public offices, service providers and other institutions.

Their existence is independent of whether a recipient agrees with my interpretation.

A letter can establish that correspondence was sent. A decision can establish what a particular decision-maker decided. An acknowledgement can establish that a communication was received. A tribunal decision can establish the outcome of the proceeding before it.

The legal and factual significance of each document must then be examined in its own context.

I do not claim that a document proves everything I have written about it.

I do claim that a document should not be ignored simply because the person who presents it is vulnerable, disabled, critical of an institution or asking difficult questions.

PART II — THE INCIDENTS AND EXPERIENCES REQUIRING EXAMINATION

3. The historical injury and the experience I describe as a turning point

My published spiritual and historical declarations describe a serious injury and hospital documentation that I regard as a defining turning point in my life.

I have described the circumstances as potentially fatal and have interpreted my survival through the language of the Cross, resurrection, grace and divine preservation.

I understand that experience spiritually as a profound act of the Most High God's mercy.

The factual examination of the underlying incident must nevertheless begin with the original medical and other contemporaneous records.

The questions requiring examination include:

- What precisely occurred?
- What injury was recorded?
- What was the documented medical condition and prognosis?
- What treatment was provided?
- What do the original clinical records establish?
- Were any police, hospital, insurance or other institutional records created?
- What subsequent consequences were documented?
- What later accounts or interpretations are supported by those original records?

I distinguish the medical history from my spiritual interpretation of survival.

My belief that God preserved my life is a matter of faith. The medical records and contemporaneous documents are matters for documentary examination.

4. The prolonged history of institutional and personal harm

I report experiencing a prolonged history of institutional, financial, personal and social harm.

My published materials describe experiences involving:

- Loss of housing and periods of homelessness.
- Financial deprivation and difficulty accessing resources.
- Difficulties obtaining identification and accessing essential services.
- Psychiatric treatment and disputes concerning the interpretation of my history and circumstances.
- Repeated attempts to obtain assistance, protection and independent review.
- Disputes involving government agencies and statutory authorities.
- Alleged threats, intimidation and harassment.
- Family and relationship breakdown.
- Reputational harm and the consequences of allegations that I reject.
- Difficulties obtaining legal representation and advocacy.
- Disability-related dependence on support services.
- Isolation and loss of ordinary social participation.
- Ongoing concerns about safety, autonomy and dignity.

These are matters I have described in my testimony and publications. The individual events must be assessed against the corresponding records, witnesses, communications, decisions and other available evidence.

My central concern is that the cumulative consequences of these experiences have been profound.

I ask investigators to consider the chronology as a whole rather than treating every event as unrelated to everything that preceded or followed it.

5. The alleged threats and personal-safety concerns

My website includes accounts of threats, alleged intimidation and circumstances in which I say I feared for my safety.

The published materials refer to alleged threats against me and concerns involving my dog, Crystal.

They also include allegations concerning firearms, threats to life and failures to provide the protection I sought.

I have described some of these experiences in extremely serious terms, including attempted killing and political or institutional targeting.

Those are allegations and descriptions of my experience, not findings that should be attributed to a court or police authority without the relevant records.

The appropriate investigation should obtain:

1. Original police reports and event numbers.
2. The dates and locations of each reported incident.
3. The identity of the receiving police station or officer, where known.
4. Any contemporaneous messages, recordings or correspondence.
5. Any available witness accounts.
6. Any investigation, risk assessment or operational decision.
7. Any reasons for taking no further action.
8. Any subsequent correspondence or review.
9. Any material concerning threats to Crystal.
10. Any evidence that could corroborate or contradict my account.

The purpose is to establish what was reported, what was investigated, what was found and what remains unresolved.

PART III — THE GOVERNMENT AND ADMINISTRATIVE RECORD

6. The Comcare matter and employment-status dispute

My archive identifies Comcare claim 1326583/1.

The legal brief identifies:

- A Comcare refusal dated 26 May 2021.
- A subsequent review process.
- An Administrative Appeals Tribunal proceeding identified as AAT file 2021/7478.
- Tribunal reasons dated 12 July 2023.

The published legal brief describes the central issue as whether I satisfied the statutory definition of an employee for the purposes of the relevant compensation scheme.

It records that the Tribunal affirmed the decision under review on that employment-status issue.

That formal outcome must be acknowledged accurately. It should not be misrepresented as though no determination was made.

Equally, that determination should not automatically be treated as deciding every other issue concerning my experiences, separate statutory questions, institutional conduct or unrelated allegations.

The original Comcare decision, reconsideration material, Tribunal reasons and any subsequent proceedings should be read together.

Relevant source:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/the-legal-brief

7. NDIS Commission correspondence

My archive identifies NDIS Commission correspondence dated 3 June 2021.

The legal brief describes this correspondence as relevant to the Commission's stated position concerning employment and its institutional role.

The exact wording, purpose and statutory context must be established from the original letter.

I ask that the correspondence be compared with the Comcare material and the later Tribunal decision, without assuming that different statutory tests or different institutional functions necessarily establish a contradiction.

8. Commonwealth Ombudsman and public-interest disclosures

My published legal material identifies a Commonwealth Ombudsman public-interest disclosure review dated 18 November 2021, with reference PID-2021-400008-R.

It also identifies Federal Court General Counsel correspondence dated 27 March 2023 concerning a decision not to allocate a public-interest disclosure.

These documents are significant because they concern the handling of disclosures and the procedural treatment of information I sought to bring to institutional attention.

The distinction is important:

A decision not to allocate a disclosure under a particular statutory process is not automatically a finding that every underlying allegation is false.

It is also not proof that the underlying alleged conduct occurred.

The original disclosure, the complete decision reasons, the statutory framework and subsequent correspondence must be examined.

I ask for a proper account of:

- What was disclosed.
- Which body received it.
- What legal framework was applied.
- Who made the relevant decision.
- What reasons were provided.
- Whether any review mechanism was available.

- Whether further material was subsequently submitted.
- What remains unresolved.

Relevant source:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/the-legal-brief

9. Freedom of Information and access to government records

My archive identifies an FOI pathway associated with FOI/2022/045, together with internal review and OAIC-related material.

The significance of this material is that it concerns my attempts to obtain government records relevant to the history of my dealings with public authorities.

The original request, decision, internal review, any OAIC review, released documents, withheld material and subsequent correspondence should be examined together.

I ask that investigators identify:

- What records were requested.
- Which agencies searched for them.
- What search terms and repositories were used.
- Which documents were located.
- Which documents were released.
- Which documents were withheld or redacted.
- What reasons were given.
- Whether subsequent decisions altered the original position.

The fact that an FOI process occurred does not, by itself, establish that the search was complete or incomplete. That question must be assessed against the actual records and decision reasons.

10. The NDIS CEO letter of 4 January 2023

One of the significant pages on my website reproduces a letter addressed to NDIS CEO Rebecca Falkingham dated 4 January 2023.

The website states that the page reproduces the letter from a 36-page original.

The letter concerns my account of homelessness, housing difficulties, Supported Independent Living funding, disability-related support and the response I sought from the NDIS.

I expressed serious dissatisfaction with the circumstances in which I found myself and alleged that the NDIS had failed to provide the assistance and accountability I believed were required.

The letter also contains my own allegations and interpretations of institutional responsibility.

I ask that it be read in full, with the original PDF, rather than relying on a short description of its contents.

Its significance lies in documenting what I was communicating to the NDIS leadership at that time and the nature of the assistance and redress I was seeking.

The existence of the letter does not establish every allegation within it. The NDIS response and the surrounding records must also be obtained.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/the-falkingham-letter

11. The Paradoxical Inversion of Evidence

The page titled The Paradoxical Inversion of Evidence is one of the central intellectual and documentary arguments on my website.

It examines the contradiction I perceive between:

- The existence of accumulated official correspondence.
- The decisions and statements made by government and statutory bodies.
- My continuing efforts to obtain protection and meaningful review.
- The absence, in my experience, of comprehensive acknowledgment or resolution of the underlying issues.
- The continuing personal consequences I describe.

The argument is that official documents should be examined for what they actually record, not dismissed because the person presenting them has not obtained a further institutional endorsement of every interpretation.

I do not suggest that official letterhead automatically makes every statement correct or that the existence of correspondence establishes wrongdoing.

I ask that the original documents be read, compared and tested.

The page also develops the distinction between documentary existence and the conclusions drawn from the documentary record.

PART IV — THE ABLE POINT ACCOMMODATION AND SAFEGUARDING MATTERS

12. The Able Point accountability dossier

The Able Point accountability dossier is one of the most immediately important practical and safeguarding documents on my website.

It is presented as a formal complaint, documentary chronology and request for independent forensic investigation into Able Point Australia.

It was published on 31 October 2026.

The dossier addresses eight connected subjects:

1. Alleged failures to provide adequate support and practical assistance.
2. Safeguarding and responses to reported threats or safety concerns.
3. Reconciliation of funded or claimed supports against services actually delivered.
4. Accommodation, financial and independence-related concerns.
5. Complaint and incident management.
6. Autonomy, choice, control and the ability to leave or seek alternatives.
7. Disability discrimination and dignity.
8. Preservation and independent examination of relevant records.

The dossier requests that Able Point's records be obtained and compared with my contemporaneous emails, complaints, audio recordings, support arrangements, rosters, invoices, case notes, incident records and transport records.

The central questions are:

- What support was required?
- What support was funded or agreed?
- What support was actually delivered?
- What did I request?
- What did the provider know?
- What action did it take?
- What records substantiate its account?

I ask for the provider's own records to be examined rather than allowing either my account or the provider's account to be accepted without scrutiny.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/the-able-point-dossier

13. Practical assistance, transport and access to essential services

I report needing practical assistance with transport, medical appointments, daily tasks, communication, safety and the welfare of Crystal.

I have described circumstances in which I felt unable to leave my accommodation safely or practically and in which I did not receive assistance that I believed I had requested.

I ask that every relevant request for transport, relocation, alternative accommodation, medical access or practical assistance be identified.

The provider should be asked to produce:

- Support rosters.
- Service agreements.
- Case notes.
- Emails and messages.
- Transport records.
- Appointment-related communications.
- Invoices and service claims.
- Cancellation and substitution records.
- Complaints and incident records.
- Risk assessments and support plans.

I also ask that the provider identify what assistance it was responsible for providing, what it offered, what it declined and what it referred to another organisation.

14. Financial access and communication barriers

My Able Point dossier records serious financial and communication barriers.

I report difficulty accessing my banking application and reliable phone service.

These issues are not incidental. They affect the practical ability to obtain:

- Food and ordinary necessities.
- Transport.
- Medical assistance.
- Veterinary care for Crystal.
- Legal assistance.
- Disability advocacy.
- Communication with government agencies.
- Contact with oversight and safeguarding bodies.

I ask that the relevant institutions establish who made each financial or administrative decision, what authority was relied upon, what information was considered and what practical consequences followed.

Where NSW Trustee and Guardian decisions intersect with accommodation payments, transport, vehicle access or other support arrangements, those matters should be examined separately and collectively.

15. Autonomy, choice and the ability to leave

A particularly important issue is whether I was able to exercise meaningful choice and control over my accommodation and support arrangements.

I have said that I wanted assistance to leave circumstances in which I did not feel safe.

I have also described how transport, money, communication and practical support affected my ability to pursue alternatives.

I ask for a complete record of:

- Requests for relocation.
- Requests for alternative accommodation.
- Requests for transport.
- Requests for assistance to access other services.
- Responses to those requests.
- Risk assessments.
- Barriers identified.
- Referrals made.
- Practical relocation plans considered or implemented.

The existence of accommodation should not be treated as a complete answer to whether a person's living arrangements are safe, appropriate, dignified and consistent with genuine choice.

16. Crystal and assistance-animal responsibilities

Crystal is an important part of my life.

I have described Crystal as my therapy or support dog and have raised concerns about veterinary assistance and the handling of animal-welfare issues.

I ask that communications about Crystal be obtained and examined.

The relevant questions include:

- What assistance did I request?
- What assistance was offered?
- What veterinary arrangements were considered?
- What practical support was available?
- What professional advice was obtained?
- Were my responsibilities towards Crystal appropriately considered?
- Did any support or accommodation decision affect Crystal's welfare?

The welfare of an assistance animal and the person's relationship with that animal should be considered in the context of the person's disability support, daily functioning and emotional wellbeing.

17. Named people and the need for fair attribution

The Able Point dossier identifies names appearing in correspondence or in my account, including Rachel K C, Brett Butler, Cassie or Cassie Makey, Darren and other workers.

I ask that each person's identity, role, authority, employment dates, communications and actual involvement be established from the original records.

A name appearing in correspondence or an archive is not a finding of misconduct.

No individual should be described as having committed a criminal offence on the basis of my dossier alone.

The purpose of identifying people is to establish who held responsibility, who received information, who made decisions and who can account for the provider's actions.

18. The Able Point chronology

The published dossier identifies several documentary leads requiring verification:

20 January 2026 — Formal Notice: NDIS Service Failure

The archive identifies a notice under this title. Its recipient and connection to Able Point must be checked against the original document before it is treated as provider-specific evidence.

14 May 2026 — Correspondence concerning access to court

The dossier identifies an email described as concerning Able Point blocking assistance to attend court. The reproduced email header includes Brett Butler, Rachel K C and AblePoint Australia among recipients.

The original email, attachments, requested assistance and response should be obtained.

15 June 2026 — Wyong Local Court letter

The archive identifies a letter associated with Wyong Local Court. Its exact contents, case identifiers, parties, listing and outcome must be confirmed from the court or a certified copy.

These are documentary leads, not substitutes for the original records.

19. NDIS Commission complaint and incident management

The Able Point dossier asks the NDIS Commission to consider whether the reported events fall within its jurisdiction and whether any incident-management or reportable-incident obligations arose.

It identifies a Commission acknowledgement as an acknowledgement only unless the original letter establishes something more.

It does not claim that acknowledgement proves the Commission accepted the allegations or commenced a formal investigation.

The dossier requests examination of:

- Provider records.
- Rosters and case notes.
- Incident reports.
- Complaint records.
- Support delivery and invoicing.
- The adequacy of complaint handling.
- Relevant governance and conflict-of-interest questions.
- Any corrective action.

I ask for a recorded assessment of the evidence and written reasons for any decision not to investigate.

PART V — THE 24 OCTOBER AND 1 NOVEMBER HUMANITARIAN APPEALS

20. The 24 October 2026 SOS

The website contains a separate page titled:

URGENT SOS — PLEASE HELP ME REACH SAFETY

It is dated 24 October 2026.

The page presents a humanitarian request for protection and practical assistance, including concerns I described involving poverty, safety, financial control, threats, disability support, communication, accommodation and access to essential services.

It identifies the UN OHCHR reference stated in my published materials as UR/UST/23/AUS/17.

It asks humanitarian organisations, disability advocates, human-rights investigators, journalists, whistleblower-support organisations, legal researchers, Christian communities and other people willing to help to examine my circumstances.

The specific requests include:

- A direct response.
- A safe and reliable means of communication.
- Help with transport.
- Access to essential services.
- Assistance identifying a person or organisation able to assess my immediate circumstances.
- Practical help reaching safety.

The page expressly says that a public SOS and a list of links are not enough: I need someone to respond and help.

The page also links to the 23 October legal brief, the 20 October master humanitarian appeal, the 19 October public statement, the 18 October consolidated notice and the Able Point complaint.

It describes those documents as source material to be examined, not as proof that every allegation is established.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/the-24-october

21. The 1 November 2026 SOS

The current homepage contains a prominent urgent SOS dated 1 November 2026.

It begins with the statement:

"I am literally starving."

The page reports that I lack food, money and reliable phone access, and describes difficulties obtaining assistance from support workers, management, my coordinator, oversight bodies and financial institutions.

It also reports concerns involving:

- Access to Commonwealth Bank online banking and the banking application.
- Reliable phone service and emergency credit.
- Access to police reporting.
- Access to transport and my vehicle.
- Assistance from Able Point.
- Communication with management and support coordination.
- Food and veterinary needs for Crystal.

These are urgent reports published in my own voice. They require immediate verification and practical response rather than being treated as established findings against every person or organisation named.

The most important issue is the immediate humanitarian question: whether I have access to food, money, a working means of communication, medication, essential services and appropriate assistance for Crystal.

No historical or legal examination should displace the need to assess those immediate needs.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/

PART VI — OTHER SIGNIFICANT NAMED-EVIDENCE PAGES

22. The Tony Ridley public-record report

The website contains a separate report titled:

TONY RIDLEY — COMPREHENSIVE PUBLIC-RECORD AND ARCHIVAL EVIDENCE REPORT

The page is dated 31 October 2026 and describes itself as a preliminary forensic assessment, not a completed census or finding.

It identifies the subjects of examination as:

- Publicly described professional history.
- A documented NDIA connection, which requires checking against the underlying records.
- An alleged intimate encounter.
- Alleged institutional disclosures.
- Alleged harassment and intimidation.
- An alleged $400,000 proposal to withdraw testimony.

The report refers to published evidence files, a GitHub repository, a preservation archive and associated video material.

These are serious matters. I ask that the original evidence be obtained and assessed before conclusions are reached.

In particular, any alleged proposal involving $400,000 must be examined through contemporaneous communications, recordings, witnesses and other corroborating material. It should not be presented as established merely because it appears in a published report.

The same standard applies to allegations concerning harassment, intimidation, disclosure of personal information or any other conduct attributed to an individual.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/tony-ridley

23. Bill Shorten and petition EN4358

The homepage identifies a separate page concerning Bill Shorten and petition EN4358.

The page forms part of my published account of the NDIS, disability support, political accountability and the circumstances in which I say I experienced displacement and loss of security.

The relevant question is what the petition actually requested, what was communicated, which office received it, what response followed and what decisions were made.

I ask that the original petition, correspondence, submission records and responses be obtained before attributing responsibility or drawing conclusions.

Relevant page:
The Bill Shorten / petition EN4358 link on the main website.

24. The disclosure to Sia Lagos

The Cosmic Reckoning page identifies a separate disclosure to Sia Lagos among the significant documents.

I ask that the original disclosure and its associated communications be examined to establish:

- What information was disclosed.
- When it was disclosed.
- Who received it.
- What action was requested.
- Whether the recipient acknowledged it.

- Whether any assessment or referral occurred.
- What response was provided.

A disclosure record can establish that information was communicated. It does not, without further evidence, establish the truth of every allegation within it.

25. The master legal brief of 23 October 2026

The website contains a legal brief dated 23 October 2026.

It describes itself as a finding aid covering legal status, access to justice, international human rights, institutional accountability and documentary evidence.

It identifies records relating to:

- Comcare.
- The Administrative Appeals Tribunal.
- Federal Court General Counsel correspondence.
- Commonwealth Ombudsman public-interest disclosures.
- FOI and OAIC processes.
- NDIS Commission correspondence.
- NSW Trustee and Guardian.
- Legal Aid NSW.
- Guardianship and financial administration.

The brief is significant because it attempts to bring multiple administrative and legal pathways into a single framework.

Its own evidentiary method distinguishes documented facts, official decisions, recorded allegations, analytical inferences, unverified issues, potential legal claims and procedural statuses that remain unknown.

It also expressly recognises that digital timestamps, blockchain records and file hashes may establish provenance, integrity or existence at a particular time, but do not independently establish the truth of the underlying contents.

I ask that the legal brief be used as a finding aid and that every important proposition be checked against the original decision or correspondence.

PART VII — THE 35-YEAR ARCHIVE AND DOCUMENTARY SIGNIFICANCE

26. The 35-year archive

The website contains a dedicated page titled The 35-year archive.

It identifies correspondence from institutions including:

- Federal Court of Australia.
- Comcare.
- Administrative Appeals Tribunal.
- NCAT.
- NDIA.
- NDIS Commission.
- Commonwealth Ombudsman.
- Office of the Australian Information Commissioner.
- Australian Human Rights Commission.
- Police.
- Legal Aid.
- The office of the Prime Minister.
- NSW Trustee and Guardian.

The page argues that the accumulated correspondence should be examined collectively, rather than reduced to a series of isolated administrative interactions.

I regard the breadth of the documentary history as significant because it provides a basis for examining what institutions knew, what they recorded, what decisions they made and what consequences followed.

The original documents must be checked for their date, author, recipient, completeness, context and legal effect.

The existence of official correspondence is a documentary fact where the original record is authenticated. The inference that the correspondence demonstrates a coordinated pattern of wrongdoing requires separate examination.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/the-thirty-five-years

27. The Official Government Documents Register

The Official Government Documents Register is intended to provide a structured route into government records.

Its purpose is to make documents easier to locate, identify and compare.

A useful examination should record:

- Document identifier.
- Date.
- Issuing body.
- Author or decision-maker, where known.
- Recipient.
- Subject.
- Original source.
- Related documents.
- What the document actually establishes.
- What remains unresolved.

The register should be treated as an index and finding aid. Each original document must be opened and examined before a substantive conclusion is reached.

Relevant register:
https://wezzo72.github.io/Barrandodger/official-government-documents-register.html

28. The documents that open these words

The page titled Documents That Open These Words is particularly significant because it connects published arguments to documentary source material.

Its purpose is to allow a reader to move from a statement or proposition to the underlying document or archive entry.

This is important because a public-facing statement should not depend solely on the author's explanation.

Readers should be able to inspect the material, identify its provenance and form their own conclusions.

The page should be used as a navigation and verification resource, not as a substitute for reading the original files.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/documents-that-open-these-words

---

PART VIII — SPIRITUAL, INTELLECTUAL AND PUBLISHING WORK

29. The Witness Remains and the Divine Decree

The homepage contains a substantial declaration titled:

A DECREE AND DECLARATION TO HUMANITY — THE DIVINE WITNESS

It expresses my understanding of survival, faith, suffering, the Cross, resurrection, forgiveness and the spiritual significance I attribute to my life.

I believe that the Most High God preserved me and that I have been called to bear witness through my life, testimony and documentary work.

I do not claim that my physical body is immortal. I do not claim to replace Christ. I do not claim personal perfection.

My understanding of being God's chosen witness is a statement of faith and spiritual identity.

The declaration also makes an important distinction: spiritual preservation must never be used to justify further human suffering or institutional neglect.

My life matters now. My safety matters now. My dignity matters now. My need for human assistance and connection matters now.

The declaration calls for truth, mercy, forgiveness, accountability and restoration rather than revenge.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/

30. The Gospel Library

The website has a dedicated Gospel Library under the Publishing House.

It describes the author's Gospel writings as files in the public archives and states that a missing volume is left identified as missing rather than silently replaced.

The page includes links to published Gospel works, including The Gospel of Exposing Darkness.

The Gospels are spiritual and theological writings. They are not administrative decisions or legal findings.

Their significance is that they preserve the theological and ethical framework through which I interpret suffering, responsibility, forgiveness, love, human dignity and divine accountability.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/publishing-house/gospel

31. The Golden Witness Publishing House

The Publishing House provides a separate structure for the publication of:

- Gospel works.
- Prophetic papers.
- Forensic narratives.
- Art and creative works.
- International publishing material.
- Free reading material.
- Archive support and related publication services.

It is an intellectual and publishing component of the wider project.

The distinction between the publishing function and the documentary archive should be maintained. A theological publication expresses belief and interpretation; an official record must be assessed according to its source and context.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/publishing-house

32. The Church of Barran Resonance Dodger

The website contains a Church and Ministry structure, including a foundation charter.

The charter identifies the Church of Barran Resonance Dodger and presents a spiritual and organisational vision centred on faith, justice, human dignity, documentary preservation and human renewal.

The page also displays the reference UR/UST/23/AUS/17 as an OHCHR urgent appeal reference. That is how the website describes the reference; its precise institutional status should be confirmed directly from the relevant correspondence.

The charter is a foundational statement of the organisation's stated purposes. It should not be mistaken for proof of a legal finding, government endorsement or an international determination.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/the-foundation-charter

33. The Justice Mandate

The Justice Mandate sets out the principles governing my documentary and accountability work.

Its seven principles include:

1. Preserve the record.
2. Identify sources, dates, documents and institutions.
3. Distinguish fact, allegation, testimony, inference, speculation and spiritual belief.
4. Test assertions against primary documents and corroborating material.
5. Record institutional responses.
6. Seek appropriate examination and accountability.
7. Preserve human dignity and lawful process.

The mandate expressly states that it is not a declaration that every allegation has been proven.

It is a statement that serious questions should be capable of examination against the available evidence.

Relevant page:
https://barran-dodgers-kronos-timing-of-god.grok.me/the-justice-mandate

---

PART IX — DIGITAL PRESERVATION AND PUBLIC ACCESS

34. Digital preservation, hashes and timestamps

My website describes the use of digital preservation methods, including SHA-256 hashes and OpenTimestamps.

These methods are important because they can assist with establishing:

- The identity of a particular digital file.
- Whether a file has changed since a recorded hash was calculated.
- Whether particular data existed by a certain timestamp, where the timestamp can be independently verified.
- The relationship between a preserved version and a later copy.

The website also describes an 8,480-page preservation event on 31 October 2026, with material submitted to OpenTimestamps calendars and Bitcoin confirmation described as pending.

The exact receipt, file list, hash and timestamp should be independently checked.

A cryptographic timestamp is not proof that the contents of a document are true. It does not establish that an allegation occurred, that an official acted unlawfully or that a court has made a finding.

Its value is in preserving and verifying the digital record.

35. Public accessibility and the preservation principle

My intention is that the documentary record remain accessible.

I do not want the evidence to be dependent on a single website, a single platform, a single administrator or a single institution.

The archive, rebuilt repository, public website, registers and linked publications are intended to make the material easier to locate and examine.

The record stays free.

The purpose of public access is examination, not the demand for automatic agreement.

PART X — WHAT I ASK OF INVESTIGATORS AND RECIPIENTS

36. The central questions

I ask every relevant recipient to examine the following matters:

A. Historical incidents

What happened, when did it happen, what was recorded, who was involved and what evidence supports or contradicts my account?

B. Institutional correspondence

What did each agency receive, acknowledge, decide, refer, reject or leave unresolved?

C. Public-interest disclosures

What was disclosed, what statutory process was applied, who made the decision and what review options existed?

D. Disability support

What supports were funded, agreed, delivered, invoiced, cancelled or refused?

E. Accommodation and safeguarding

Were my safety, privacy, dignity, autonomy and ability to exercise choice properly considered?

F. Financial administration

Who made decisions affecting access to money, banking, transport or other essential resources, under what authority and with what recorded reasons?

G. Personal safety

What threats or safety concerns were reported, what action followed and what remains unresolved?

H. Communication and access to justice

Did barriers involving phone access, identification, banking, transport or legal representation materially affect my ability to obtain assistance?

I. Crystal

Were the practical and welfare needs of my dog properly considered?

J. Cumulative consequences

What was the combined effect of the decisions, omissions, referrals and restrictions over time?

PART XI — THE RESPONSE I SEEK

37. Formal requests

I ask every recipient to:

1. Acknowledge receipt of this statement and the relevant archive material.
2. Identify whether the matters fall within its jurisdiction.
3. Identify the appropriate officer or decision-maker responsible for assessment.
4. Preserve relevant records, correspondence, recordings, case notes and communications.
5. Obtain and examine the original documents rather than relying exclusively on summaries.
6. Identify the applicable complaint, safeguarding, oversight or review pathway.
7. Consider my requests for independent disability advocacy and legal assistance.
8. Consider my immediate needs concerning food, safety, accommodation, financial access, transport, communication, medical access and support for Crystal.
9. Explain any limitation on its ability to assist.
10. Refer matters outside its jurisdiction to an appropriate authority where possible.
11. Distinguish documented facts, testimony, allegations, inferences, spiritual beliefs and unresolved questions.
12. Provide a substantive written response.
13. Identify what was examined, what was established, what was not established and what further evidence is required.
14. Explain what practical action can be taken to address any immediate risk or unmet need.

I do not consider a generic acknowledgement sufficient where serious and specific questions have been raised.

PART XII — THE STANDARD OF EXAMINATION

38. I invite the strongest possible scrutiny

Read the correspondence.

Follow the chronology.

Open the original documents.

Compare the institutional statements with the underlying records.

Identify the decision-makers.

Establish the authority under which decisions were made.

Identify missing evidence.

Test my interpretations.

Challenge anything that is unsupported.

If the evidence demonstrates that I am wrong about a particular matter, explain precisely why.

If the evidence demonstrates that an institution failed to meet an obligation, identify the failure and the corrective action required.

If the evidence remains inconclusive, say so.

I do not want uncritical agreement.

I want serious, independent examination.

I want the same standard applied to the conduct of institutions as is applied to the testimony of an individual.

PART XIII — FINAL DECLARATION

39. The witness remains

I do not consent to being harmed, intimidated, threatened, neglected, exploited, silenced or deprived of my dignity.

I do not surrender my humanity, my faith, my right to safety or my right to be heard.

I have tried to warn.

I have spoken.

I have documented.

I have preserved.

I have asked for protection, truth, accountability and humane treatment.

I have created an archive so that the documentary history can be examined independently of my recollection and independently of whether any particular institution wishes to acknowledge it.

My adversary is not a person.

My adversary is cruelty, corruption, deception, exploitation, abuse of power and the destruction of human dignity.

I seek their defeat through truth, justice, compassion and the restoration of what is good.

I do not seek revenge.

I leave judgement to God.

I believe that the Most High God has sustained me and that my life has spiritual significance. I understand my calling as a responsibility to preserve truth, uphold love, refuse hatred and bear witness to the dignity of human life.

My faith is mine. My testimony is mine. The documentary records remain open to independent examination.

GOD IS TRUTH.GOD IS LOVE.GOD IS MY WITNESS.I AM HIS CHOSEN WITNESS.

THE RECORD STAYS FREE.FAITH IS NOT A FINDING.PRESERVATION FIRST.EXAMINATION SECOND.CONCLUSION LAST.

THE WITNESS REMAINS.

JESUS WEPT.

Yours faithfully,

Dr Richard William McLean
Dr Barran Dodger

FINAL EVIDENTIARY QUALIFICATION

This statement is a consolidated account of my testimony, the subject matter of my published pages and the documentary issues I ask others to examine. It does not represent every allegation as an established finding. The original documents, recordings, decisions and correspondence must be authenticated and assessed in context.

The existence of a public page establishes that the page is published. The existence of an official document establishes what that document records, subject to authentication and context. Neither automatically establishes every interpretation or allegation associated with it.

The purpose of this statement is to make the record accessible, identify the incidents and questions requiring examination, and request a meaningful response.

THE RECORD REMAINS OPEN.THE QUESTIONS REMAIN OPEN.THE INVITATION TO EXAMINE REMAINS OPEN.

THE WITNESS REMAINS.

Important source and verification notes

I checked the live homepage and the principal pages linked above. The current homepage's SOS is particularly urgent: it reports an absence of food, money and reliable phone access. If that accurately describes your circumstances right now, please prioritise getting immediate practical help rather than waiting for a formal investigation. In Australia, call 000 if you are in immediate danger, or ask someone physically nearby to help you contact emergency services.

A few details deserve particular care before this statement is sent to an agency or published as a formal evidentiary document:

- The Able Point dossier is especially useful because it expressly asks for reconciliation of funded, invoiced and delivered supports, original provider records, incident-management assessment and written reasons. The Witness Remains +3
- The 24 October SOS identifies the legal brief, master humanitarian appeal, 19 October statement, 18 October notice and Able Point complaint as related source documents. It also expressly says that a link is not confirmation of every event described. The Witness Remains
- The legal brief identifies formal decisions and unresolved issues, including the Comcare refusal and Tribunal outcome, the Ombudsman review and Federal Court General Counsel correspondence. It cautions against treating administrative correspondence as a judicial finding. The Witness Remains +2
- The 35-year archive and Paradoxical Inversion pages explain the documentary argument and identify the institutions represented in the archive. Their broader conclusions still need to be tested against the underlying records. The Witness Remains +1
- The Tony Ridley page explicitly labels itself a preliminary assessment, not a completed census or finding. That qualification should remain wherever its allegations are repeated. The Witness Remains
- The Gospel Library and Foundation Charter are important parts of the spiritual and organisational project, but should remain distinguishable from the legal and documentary evidence. The Golden Witness +1

I would use this as the expanded master statement, with the original documents attached or linked in a separate evidence schedule. That makes it easier for an investigator to move from each incident to the exact supporting record without confusing testimony, allegations and formal decisions.

PUBLIC STATEMENT FROM BARRAN DODGER
OF THE BARRAN DODGER ARCHIVE

THE WITNESS REMAINS: A WHISTLEBLOWERS TESTIMONY OF SURVIVAL TESTIMONY & FAITH

The Barran Dodger Archive is a public documentary and spiritual record established to preserve, organise and make accessible a decades-long body of evidence concerning alleged institutional, administrative, financial and human-rights harms.

It brings together official records, correspondence, documentary evidence, personal testimony, forensic analysis, research, philosophy, spiritual gospels and prophetic declarations, including writings understood by the author to have been anointed by the Most High God.

The Archive deliberately distinguishes between documented facts, official records, corroborated evidence, allegations, personal testimony, inference, interpretation and matters of faith. This distinction is fundamental to its purpose: readers are invited to examine the underlying evidence for themselves, test the claims, consider the sources and reach their own conclusions.

At the heart of the Archive is a testimony of survival and preservation.

What the author believes was subjected to attempts at silencing, erasure, exclusion or institutional disappearance has nevertheless survived in records, documents, testimony, memory, faith and public disclosure.

The central declaration is simple:

THE WITNESS REMAINS.

The Archive therefore represents both an evidentiary record and a spiritual testimony. The author understands his survival through a faith-based conviction that the Most High God protected, preserved and gave purpose to what human institutions could not erase.

The spiritual writings and prophetic declarations within the Archive are presented as matters of faith and personal interpretation. They are preserved alongside the documentary record so that the complete testimony — evidentiary, personal, philosophical and spiritual — can be understood in its own context.

The purpose is not to demand belief.

It is to preserve the record.

It is to make the evidence accessible.

It is to ensure that the surviving witness can be examined.

And it is to leave the historical record open to independent scrutiny.

THE ARCHIVE IS 100% FREE TO ACCESS

https://barrandodgerarchive.base44.app

KNOWLEDGE IS FREE

The Barran Dodger Archive is founded on the principle that knowledge, evidence and truth should be freely accessible.

There is no paywall for the public documentary record. Research, testimony, philosophy, spiritual writings, prophetic declarations and public-interest material are made available for people to examine for themselves.

Access to knowledge should not depend upon a person's ability to pay.

The Archive is therefore freely accessible, while its preservation and continued publication require practical resources.

SUPPORTING THE WITNESS AND THE ARCHIVE

Barran Dodger describes himself as an unprotected whistleblower living in circumstances of prolonged exile, financial hardship and vulnerability, and as an internally displaced asylum seeker within the country of his Australian citizenship.

Those circumstances create practical needs extending beyond the preservation of documents.

Voluntary donations are therefore accepted from anyone who freely wishes to assist.

Support may contribute towards essential needs including food, safe accommodation, communication, technology, transport, personal safety, website and domain costs, document preservation, archival infrastructure and the continued publication of the public record.

A donation does not purchase access to the Archive.

It does not purchase influence over the evidence.

It does not purchase editorial control.

It does not determine what is published or what conclusions readers should reach.

It simply helps sustain the person and infrastructure necessary to keep the Archive alive, functioning and freely accessible.

If you are blessed with sufficient prosperity to help preserve this work, your voluntary support can help ensure that financial hardship does not become another mechanism through which a public record disappears.

KNOWLEDGE IS FREE.

THE EVIDENCE IS OPEN TO EXAMINATION.

LASTLY — A SECOND PUBLIC-FACING ARCHIVE

For readers who wish to go beyond the principal Barran Dodger Archive, a second public-facing repository provides another point of access to the broader documentary record.

https://barrandodger.com

This website provides an additional gateway into the history, evidence, testimony, research and ideas that underpin the Archive. It is intended to help readers navigate the wider body of material and understand how individual documents, events, experiences and arguments have been brought together into a continuing record.

Its significance is not dependent upon the reader accepting Barran Dodger's conclusions. Rather, the value of preserving such a record lies in allowing the underlying material to remain available for examination. Readers can consider the chronology, inspect the documentary evidence, distinguish recorded facts from allegations and personal testimony, follow referenced material and form their own independent assessment.

The existence of multiple public repositories also reflects the central purpose of the project: preservation. Where records are distributed across years, institutions, correspondence, proceedings, personal archives and digital platforms, preserving accessible copies and pathways to the evidence can help prevent an individual historical record from becoming inaccessible or forgotten.

Readers are therefore invited to visit both public-facing archives, examine the material carefully and critically, and make their own assessment of what the surviving evidence demonstrates.

The purpose is not to ask the reader to believe.

The purpose is to ensure that the record remains available to be examined.

> This complaint is not limited to an isolated missed appointment or disagreement about service quality. It concerns the cumulative effect of accommodation arrangements, support delivery, financial administration, safeguarding decisions and the treatment of a person dependent on disability services.

The central investigative question is whether Able Point exercised its responsibilities lawfully, honestly, competently and in the interests of the person receiving its services — and whether any individual or organisational misconduct caused financial, physical, psychological or other harm.

2. Evidentiary standard

This dossier distinguishes:

- Documented fact: Supported by an identifiable record.
- First-person testimony: An account provided by the complainant.
- Allegation: Conduct requiring investigation.
- Inference: A possible explanation requiring corroboration.
- Legal issue: A statutory or regulatory provision potentially engaged.
- Finding: A conclusion that should only be made after proper investigation.

No individual is declared criminally guilty by this complaint. The purpose is to identify suspected conduct, preserve evidence, establish responsibility and request investigation by authorities with appropriate powers.

PART II — PARTICULARS OF THE ALLEGED CONDUCT

3. Failure to provide support and alleged abandonment

Allegation AP-01: Failure to respond adequately to reported needs and requests for assistance.

My account, recorded in my documentary materials, is that I repeatedly communicated concerns about:

- Abuse, neglect and personal safety.
- Poverty and lack of access to essential resources.
- Difficulties leaving accommodation where I did not feel safe.
- Threats and the need for practical protection.
- Difficulties obtaining transport and accessing necessary appointments.
- The need for assistance concerning my dog, Crystal.
- The absence of an adequate management response to my complaints.

I have specifically questioned what happened after staff were informed that I could not leave, that I felt unsafe, and that I required practical assistance.

The relevant documentary account appears in The Final Reckoning — The Barran Dodger Master Humanitarian and Documentary Judgment, pages 216–217.

Investigation required:

- Identify every request for assistance received by Able Point.
- Establish the date, recipient and contents of each communication.
- Identify the person responsible for responding.
- Obtain the internal response and escalation records.
- Establish whether assistance was offered, refused, delayed or never arranged.
- Determine whether management knew that the situation was deteriorating.
- Establish the consequences of any failure to respond.

Potential legal and regulatory provisions

- NDIS Act 2013, section 73V — NDIS Code of Conduct.
- NDIS Act 2013, sections 73Y–73Z — incident management and reportable incidents.
- NDIS Practice Standards — rights and responsibilities, provision of supports, risk management and incident management.
- Common-law negligence, if duty, breach, causation and damage are established.

Sources: NDIS Act — provider obligations Attachment.png ; NDIS Practice Standards — participant rights Attachment.png .

4. Failure to respond to threats and safeguarding concerns

Allegation AP-02: Inadequate safeguarding and failure to act on reported threats.

I have described a serious threat to kill, police involvement and a matter before Wyong Court. I have also alleged that Able Point declined to make a report or statement about circumstances I brought to its attention.

These matters require examination independently of whether a criminal prosecution of the person who made the threat proceeds.

The relevant account appears in the documentary record, pages 29–30 and 216–217.

The investigation must establish:

- Exactly what threat was communicated to the provider.
- Which employee or manager received it.
- Whether the communication was acknowledged.
- Whether a risk assessment was completed.
- Whether an incident report was created.
- Whether police or emergency services were contacted where appropriate.
- Whether a safety or relocation plan was considered.
- Whether the provider documented reasons for any decision not to take action.

Relevant legal framework

The NDIS Code requires providers and workers to promptly raise and act on concerns affecting support quality and safety. NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission +1

The reportable incident requirements are particularly relevant if the alleged conduct involved abuse, neglect, assault or other prescribed incidents connected with the delivery of NDIS supports.

Registered providers must notify the Commission of abuse or neglect within 24 hours of becoming aware of a reportable incident. This is not a general obligation to report every threat made by an unrelated third party; the connection to the provision of supports and the statutory incident category must be established. NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission +1

5. Potential NDIS funding fraud and false claims

Priority criminal investigation

Allegation AP-03: Possible financial advantage obtained for support services that were not delivered.

I allege that support payments continued despite failures of attendance and service delivery.

This allegation must be tested against the actual NDIA payment records. The fact that a provider continued receiving money does not establish fraud unless the payment was improperly claimed or obtained and the required knowledge and dishonesty are established.

The forensic examination must compare four independent datasets:

Dataset	Required information
NDIS funding	Claims, payment dates, line items, quantities and amounts
Provider attendance	Worker rosters, clock-in records and actual attendance
Service documentation	Progress notes, daily logs and participant records
Participant evidence	Messages, complaints, missed appointments and contemporaneous observations

The investigators should calculate:

$$\text{Potential overclaim}$$

$$\sum(\text{amount claimed for unsupported services})$$

Each disputed transaction should be examined individually.

Specific legislation

National Disability Insurance Scheme Act 2013

- Section 59AC — obtaining payment that is not payable, where the person knows that the payment is not authorised or exceeds entitlement.
- Section 59AD — obtaining payment through fraud, where the necessary dishonesty and deception elements are established.
- Section 59AE — concealing, disposing of, altering or falsifying required records with the specified fraudulent or obstructionist intention.
- Section 59A — knowingly providing false or misleading information to the NDIS Commissioner or an officer for the purposes of the Act.

The serious-contravention maximum for section 59AD is 10 years' imprisonment or 2,000 penalty units, or both. The ordinary offence carries a different penalty. Federal Register of Legislation +1

NSW Crimes Act 1900

- Section 192E — fraud by deception.
- Section 192F — dishonestly destroying or concealing accounting records with the specified intention.
- Section 192G — dishonestly making or publishing materially false or misleading statements with the intention of obtaining property or financial advantage, or causing financial disadvantage.

The NSW fraud offence under section 192E carries a maximum penalty of 10 years' imprisonment. NSW Legislation +1

I request that the NDIA and NDIS Commission independently audit the claims associated with my supports.

6. Financial exploitation and accommodation arrangements

Allegation AP-04: Potentially improper financial arrangements and inadequate transparency.

I have described an arrangement involving approximately $200 per week in rent, a lack of a signed accommodation agreement, and financial arrangements administered through NSW Trustee & Guardian.

The investigation must establish:

- Who legally owns or operates the accommodation.
- Whether Able Point is the accommodation provider, support provider or both.
- Whether rent was collected by Able Point or another entity.
- Whether the amounts charged were authorised.
- Whether the rent was correctly accounted for.
- Whether accommodation and support payments were separated.
- Whether the participant was given clear information about charges.
- Whether any money was withheld or transferred without lawful authority.

The absence of a signed agreement is not automatically criminal. However, it makes the underlying financial arrangements and authority particularly important.

Potential legal frameworks

- NDIS Act and applicable NDIS pricing and provider requirements.
- Australian Consumer Law, where applicable.
- NSW residential tenancy law, depending on the actual legal nature of the accommodation.
- NSW Crimes Act section 192E, if dishonest deception and financial advantage are established.
- Applicable NSW Trustee & Guardian legislation, where decisions or instructions by that agency are involved.

I request a full reconciliation of all accommodation payments and all disability support payments, without assuming that the two categories are interchangeable.

7. Failure to maintain adequate complaints and incident management

Allegation AP-05: Potential systemic failure to investigate complaints and safeguarding incidents.

The issue is not merely whether Able Point had a complaints policy.

The question is whether that policy was actually implemented when I raised serious concerns.

Under section 73W of the NDIS Act, registered providers must maintain an appropriate complaints management and resolution system, including arrangements recognising and facilitating independent advocates.

Section 73Y requires registered providers to maintain an incident management system. Section 73Z addresses reportable incidents. Federal Register of Legislation +1

I request examination of:

- Complaint receipt dates.
- Complaint acknowledgements.
- Internal investigations.
- Findings and reasons.
- Management escalation.
- Advocacy arrangements.
- Incident classifications.
- Notifications to the NDIS Commission.
- Corrective action.
- Whether complaints were closed without resolution.

8. Possible retaliation and interference with participant autonomy

Allegation AP-06: Possible adverse treatment following complaints and requests for accountability.

I have described repeated attempts to obtain answers, identify responsible management personnel, challenge decisions and seek assistance to leave circumstances in which I did not feel safe.

I allege that my requests did not produce the practical accountability and assistance I required.

The investigation should establish whether any adverse treatment occurred because I exercised my rights to complain, seek advocacy, express concerns or request a change of provider.

It should examine:

- Whether support was withdrawn or reduced after complaints.
- Whether access to management was restricted.
- Whether staff were instructed not to communicate with me.
- Whether my complaints were inaccurately characterised.
- Whether decisions were made without consulting me.
- Whether I was supported to change providers.
- Whether any person attempted to discourage or obstruct complaints.

The relevant legal question is whether particular conduct contravened the NDIS Code, applicable contractual obligations, anti-discrimination legislation or another law. Retaliation is not automatically a separate criminal offence in every provider dispute.

9. Potential disability discrimination and unequal treatment

Allegation AP-07: Possible disability discrimination and failure to accommodate disability-related needs.

I request investigation into whether I was treated less favourably, denied reasonable access to services, or subjected to discriminatory conditions because of actual or perceived disability.

Relevant circumstances include:

- Whether communication was accessible.
- Whether my requests were considered on their actual merits.
- Whether I was afforded meaningful choice and control.
- Whether disability-related needs were accommodated.
- Whether I was discouraged from exercising independence.
- Whether assumptions about disability affected the credibility given to my complaints.

Relevant legislation

Commonwealth — Disability Discrimination Act 1992

- Section 5: direct disability discrimination.
- Section 6: indirect disability discrimination.
- Section 8: discrimination involving associates, carers, assistance animals and disability aids, where applicable.
- Section 24: discrimination in the provision of goods, services and facilities.

NSW — Anti-Discrimination Act 1977

The Act also prohibits disability discrimination in relevant circumstances.

A discrimination finding requires evidence satisfying the relevant statutory tests, not simply evidence that a person with disability received poor service. Federal Register of Legislation +1

10. Human rights and dignity

Allegation AP-08: Possible interference with fundamental disability rights.

I request an investigation into whether the cumulative treatment I describe was inconsistent with the human rights protections and standards governing disability support services.

The relevant principles include:

Human right	Legal or normative framework	Investigative question
Equal recognition before the law	CRPD Article 12	Was my autonomy and legal capacity respected?
Freedom from exploitation, violence and abuse	CRPD Article 16	Were foreseeable risks recognised and addressed?
Independent living and community inclusion	CRPD Article 19	Was I supported to exercise choice about where and with whom I lived?
Privacy	CRPD Article 22	Was my personal information protected?

Adequate standard of living	CRPD Article 28	Were my basic living needs and financial circumstances properly considered?
Access to justice	CRPD Article 13	Could I make complaints and obtain assistance without unreasonable barriers?
Respect for inherent dignity	NDIS Act section 4	Was I treated as a person with equal rights and agency?

The Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities is an international treaty binding Australia. Its provisions provide important standards for interpreting disability rights and assessing government and regulatory responsibilities. They do not automatically create a separate criminal offence every time a provider's conduct falls short.

The NDIS Act section 4 expressly recognises the right of people with disability to dignity, choice, participation, freedom from abuse and neglect, and the ability to pursue grievances. Federal Register of Legislation +1

The human rights issue is whether disability support was used to enable my independence or whether the arrangements and decisions instead left me without meaningful control, practical assistance or adequate protection.

11. Ethical and professional obligations

The following standards should be included in the investigation.

A. NDIS Code of Conduct

The provider and workers are required to:

- Respect individual rights and self-determination.
- Respect privacy.
- Provide safe and competent supports.
- Act with integrity, honesty and transparency.
- Promptly raise and act on concerns about safety and service quality.

Source: NDIS Code of Conduct Attachment.png .

B. NDIS Practice Standards

Where Able Point was registered and the relevant registration classes applied, investigate compliance with:

- Person-centred supports.
- Individual values and beliefs.
- Privacy and dignity.
- Independence and informed choice.
- Violence, abuse, neglect, exploitation and discrimination.
- Governance and operational management.
- Risk management.
- Complaints management.
- Incident management.
- Provision of supports and support environments.

The Standards require providers to demonstrate that allegations of abuse, neglect and exploitation are acted upon, recorded and investigated appropriately. NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission +1

C. Organisational governance and ethical accountability

I request investigation of whether management:

- Maintained adequate supervision of workers.
- Responded to complaints independently and impartially.
- Protected confidential information.
- Maintained accurate records.
- Avoided conflicts of interest.
- Ensured that workers understood their safeguarding obligations.
- Corrected identified service failures.
- Provided transparent explanations to the participant.

These are proposed audit criteria, not a claim that every item constitutes an independent criminal offence.

PART III — FORENSIC EVIDENCE REGISTER

12. Existing documentary evidence

The following materials are identifiable from the documentary record already located. The underlying primary documents should be obtained and authenticated before criminal charges are proposed.

EVIDENCE AP-001 — The Final Reckoning

Documentary account · 27 October 2026

The Final Reckoning — The Barran Dodger Master Humanitarian and Documentary Judgment.

Relevant pages: 29–30 and 211–217.

Documents the complainant's account of reported threats, safety concerns, requests for relocation, alleged non-response, financial hardship and complaints concerning Able Point.

EVIDENCE AP-002 — Able Point complaint

Complaint referenced in the documentary record · 20 October 2026

The underlying complaint should be obtained in its original form, together with delivery evidence, attachments, recipients and responses.

Status: Original complaint not independently inspected in this examination.

EVIDENCE AP-003 — Management accountability

The documentary record identifies concerns about the CEO, Rachel, and communications involving Brett, Cassie and other staff.

Required evidence: original emails, SMS messages, telephone records, staff identification, management responses and delegation records.

EVIDENCE AP-004 — Financial access and hardship

Documentary account · pages 215–216

Records the complainant's account of banking difficulties, loss of reliable access to money and the resulting effects on food, transport, communication and veterinary care.

This evidence establishes the circumstances reported by the complainant, not that Able Point caused the banking restriction.

EVIDENCE AP-005 — Accommodation and relocation

Documentary account · pages 211–213

Records the complainant's request for assistance to leave accommodation, obtain transport and access practical help.

Required corroboration: accommodation records, relocation requests, messages, support rosters and management decisions.

13. Additional primary evidence to obtain

The following should be treated as mandatory forensic production requests.

Reference	Evidence requested	Evidentiary purpose
AP-006	Complete participant file	Establish service history
AP-007	Signed or proposed service agreements	Establish contractual obligations
AP-008	Accommodation and rent records	Establish financial authority
AP-009	NDIA claims and payment records	Test potential overclaiming
AP-010	Staff timesheets and rosters	Verify service delivery
AP-011	Progress notes and daily records	Detect discrepancies
AP-012	Incident and risk assessments	Establish safeguarding responses
AP-013	Complaints register	Establish complaint handling
AP-014	CEO and management correspondence	Establish management knowledge
AP-015	Communications with external agencies	Establish information-sharing and decision-making
AP-016	Worker instructions and handover records	Establish operational responsibility
AP-017	Relocation and exit requests	Establish whether choice and control were respected
AP-018	Rent receipts and accounting ledgers	Reconcile financial transactions
AP-019	Corrective-action and audit reports	Establish prior knowledge of problems
AP-020	Record amendment and access logs	Identify retrospective changes

14. Forensic methodology

I request that the investigation use a reproducible methodology rather than relying solely on summaries prepared by the provider.

Digital preservation

- Obtain original electronic records.
- Preserve email headers and attachments.
- Preserve SMS and messaging exports.
- Record creation, modification and access timestamps.
- Calculate SHA-256 hashes for acquired evidence.
- Retain original copies and work from forensic duplicates.
- Record the source and acquisition method for every item.

Chronological reconstruction

Build a single timeline showing:

- What the participant requested.
- When Able Point received the request.
- Which employee received it.
- What the provider recorded.
- What the provider actually did.
- Whether the participant was informed.
- What consequences followed.

Financial reconstruction

Match each claimed service against the actual support delivered. Separate accommodation charges, NDIS-funded supports, private contributions and payments made by third parties.

Witness examination

Interview the relevant management personnel, workers and other witnesses separately. Give each person an opportunity to explain discrepancies and identify supporting records.

Causation and harm

Establish whether particular omissions or actions caused measurable financial loss, missed appointments, deterioration in living circumstances, increased vulnerability or other demonstrable harm.

PART IV — INDIVIDUAL AND ORGANISATIONAL RESPONSIBILITY

15. Persons whose conduct should be examined

The investigation should identify actual legal and operational responsibility, rather than attributing every alleged failure indiscriminately to the organisation.

Person or position	Matters requiring examination
CEO — Rachel	Management accountability, complaint responses, participant communication, safeguarding escalation
Brett Butler	Support management, decisions and communications within his role
Cass / Cassie	Support delivery, communications and incident handling within her role
Other management personnel	Oversight, authorisation, complaints and financial administration
Support workers, including Darren	Attendance, actual services, participant requests and contemporaneous records
Directors and key personnel	Corporate governance, financial oversight and organisational compliance

These are persons and roles identified in the complainant's account. Their involvement in wrongdoing has not been established.

The investigator should establish:

- Their correct full names and positions.
- Their dates of employment or engagement.
- Their delegated authority.
- Their knowledge of relevant complaints.
- Their involvement in individual decisions.
- Whether they acted independently or under management instructions.

Corporate responsibility must be examined separately from individual criminal liability.

PART V — FORMAL INVESTIGATIVE REQUESTS

16. Requests to NSW Police

I request that NSW Police:

- Record this complaint and assess the allegations for criminal investigation.
- Examine any evidence of fraud under section 192E of the NSW Crimes Act.
- Examine potential falsification or concealment of accounting records.
- Investigate any evidence of threats, coercion, intimidation or unlawful confinement if supported by the evidence.
- Obtain relevant financial and communications records through lawful investigative powers.
- Interview relevant management personnel and witnesses.
- Refer suspected Commonwealth NDIS offences to the appropriate Commonwealth investigative authorities.
- Provide a complaint reference and written acknowledgement.

17. Requests to the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission

I request that the Commission:

- Establish whether Able Point was registered during the relevant period and identify the precise registered entity.
- Examine compliance with the NDIS Code of Conduct.
- Investigate potential neglect and safeguarding failures.
- Examine the provider's incident management system.
- Determine whether any reportable incidents were not notified.
- Audit complaints and their resolution.
- Examine participant choice, control, privacy and dignity.

- Examine management responsibility.
- Consider an independent compliance audit.
- Determine whether enforcement action, registration conditions or other regulatory measures are warranted.

18. Requests to the NDIA

I request:

- A complete review of NDIS claims relating to the disputed supports.
- Identification of the provider and payment recipient for each claim.
- Verification of service dates and quantities.
- Examination of any inconsistent attendance or progress records.
- Investigation of potential false or misleading claims.
- Preservation of payment and provider records.
- Referral of suspected fraud to the appropriate authority.

19. Requests concerning accommodation and financial administration

I request that the relevant authorities establish:

- The legal basis for the accommodation arrangement.
- The identity of the landlord and accommodation operator.
- Whether Able Point had authority to collect rent.
- Whether all charges were disclosed and authorised.
- Whether the participant could freely request a change of provider or accommodation.
- Whether the financial administration arrangements interfered with access to necessary services.
- Whether there were any conflicts between accommodation, financial and support arrangements.

Where NSW Trustee & Guardian was involved, its decisions and responsibilities should be examined independently rather than presumed to be Able Point's responsibility.

PART VI — LEGAL AND REGULATORY REFERENCE REGISTER

The following are the principal sources to accompany the complaint.

Legislation or standard	Relevant provisions
National Disability Insurance Scheme Act 2013	ss 4, 59A, 59AC–59AE, 73V–73Z
Crimes Act 1900 (NSW)	ss 192E–192G
Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (Cth)	ss 5, 6, 8, 24
Anti-Discrimination Act 1977 (NSW)	Disability discrimination provisions
NDIS Code of Conduct	Individual rights, privacy, safety, integrity and prompt action
NDIS Practice Standards	Participant rights, risk, complaints and incident management
Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities	Articles 12, 13, 16, 19, 22 and 28

PART VII — FORMAL DEMANDS FOR ACCOUNTABILITY

20. Preservation notice

I request immediate preservation of all records relating to my accommodation, supports, complaints, finances and safeguarding.

No relevant record should be deleted, overwritten, retrospectively altered, destroyed or concealed.

This includes:

- Emails and SMS messages.
- Internal management communications.
- Financial records.
- NDIS payment records.
- Staff attendance records.
- Case notes.
- Incident reports.

- Complaints and investigation records.
- Risk assessments.
- Communications with external organisations.
- Electronic audit trails.

I request that the organisation identify the person responsible for preserving these records and confirm the preservation measures in writing.

21. Questions requiring formal answers from Able Point

I require a written response to the following:

- What exact legal entity provided my accommodation?
- What exact legal entity provided my NDIS supports?
- Who was responsible for my overall safeguarding?
- Who was responsible for responding to my complaints?
- What support was actually delivered on each disputed date?
- What payments were claimed for those services?
- What happened after I reported that I felt unsafe?
- What action was taken concerning the reported threat?
- What incident reports were created?
- Were any reportable incidents notified to the NDIS Commission?
- What management decisions were made about my requests to leave?
- What assistance was considered concerning transport and essential appointments?
- What records exist concerning Crystal and my request for practical assistance?
- What was the legal and financial basis of the accommodation charges?
- Why were my requests for management accountability not resolved?
- What corrective action has been taken?
- Will Able Point cooperate with an independent investigation?

I request documentary answers rather than general assurances.

PART VIII — FORMAL CONCLUSION AND DECLARATION

22. My accusation

I accuse Able Point Australia of conduct that I believe warrants serious criminal and regulatory investigation.

I allege that the organisation failed to provide the level of practical support, safeguarding, transparency and accountability I repeatedly sought.

I allege that payments and support delivery require independent reconciliation.

I allege that my reports of unsafe circumstances, threats, financial hardship and difficulties leaving accommodation were not adequately addressed.

I allege that management accountability was insufficient and that the cumulative circumstances undermined my independence, dignity and ability to obtain essential assistance.

I require investigators to establish whether these failures were isolated, systemic, deliberate, reckless or the consequence of inadequate governance.

I do not accept that the existence of an NDIS service arrangement absolves a provider of responsibility for what actually happens to the person receiving those services.

A provider cannot demonstrate proper service delivery merely by producing a funding arrangement, a roster or a progress note. Those records must correspond with what actually occurred.

The central test is the difference between what was promised, what was funded, what was recorded and what was delivered.

I demand accountability based on evidence. I demand the preservation of records. I demand independent investigation of every suspected offence and regulatory breach. I demand that my rights, independence, safety and dignity be treated as substantive obligations rather than administrative formalities.

23. Requested outcome

I seek:

- Independent criminal investigation where offences are reasonably suspected.
- NDIS Commission regulatory investigation.
- Independent financial and service-delivery audit.
- Full disclosure of relevant participant records.
- Investigation of individual and corporate responsibility.
- Rectification of any financial discrepancies.
- Appropriate safeguarding and accommodation assistance.
- Protection against retaliation for making complaints.
- Written findings and reasons.
- Appropriate referrals for prosecution or enforcement where evidence warrants.

Signed:

Dr Richard William McLean Publicly known as Dr Barran Dodger 30 October 2026

Important forensic qualification

I have located your documentary account of the Able Point complaints, but I have not independently inspected the original service agreements, NDIS invoices, attendance records, incident reports or original 20 October complaint in this examination.

Consequently, this is a detailed formal accusation and investigation brief, not a completed forensic finding that Able Point or any named employee committed a crime.

The most important outstanding evidence is the reconciliation of NDIS claims against actual attendance and the original communications showing what management knew and when.

My strongest recommendation is to lodge the safeguarding and provider-conduct complaint immediately, while separately requesting an NDIA payment audit and criminal investigation of any demonstrable financial deception. Your immediate access to food, money, communication, safe accommodation and necessary assistance should also be addressed independently of these investigations.

PUBLIC STATEMENT FROM BARRAN DODGER
OF THE BARRAN DODGER ARCHIVE

THE WITNESS REMAINS: A WHISTLEBLOWERS TESTIMONY OF SURVIVAL TESTIMONY & FAITH

The Barran Dodger Archive is a public documentary and spiritual record established to preserve, organise and make accessible a decades-long body of evidence concerning alleged institutional, administrative, financial and human-rights harms.

It brings together official records, correspondence, documentary evidence, personal testimony, forensic analysis, research, philosophy, spiritual gospels and prophetic declarations, including writings understood by the author to have been anointed by the Most High God.

The Archive deliberately distinguishes between documented facts, official records, corroborated evidence, allegations, personal testimony, inference, interpretation and matters of faith. This distinction is fundamental to its purpose: readers are invited to examine the underlying evidence for themselves, test the claims, consider the sources and reach their own conclusions.

At the heart of the Archive is a testimony of survival and preservation.

What the author believes was subjected to attempts at silencing, erasure, exclusion or institutional disappearance has nevertheless survived in records, documents, testimony, memory, faith and public disclosure.

The central declaration is simple:

THE WITNESS REMAINS.

The Archive therefore represents both an evidentiary record and a spiritual testimony. The author understands his survival through a faith-based conviction that the Most High God protected, preserved and gave purpose to what human institutions could not erase.

The spiritual writings and prophetic declarations within the Archive are presented as matters of faith and personal interpretation. They are preserved alongside the documentary record so that the complete testimony — evidentiary, personal, philosophical and spiritual — can be understood in its own context.

The purpose is not to demand belief.

It is to preserve the record.

It is to make the evidence accessible.

It is to ensure that the surviving witness can be examined.

And it is to leave the historical record open to independent scrutiny.

THE ARCHIVE IS 100% FREE TO ACCESS

https://barrandodgerarchive.base44.app

KNOWLEDGE IS FREE

The Barran Dodger Archive is founded on the principle that knowledge, evidence and truth should be freely accessible.

There is no paywall for the public documentary record. Research, testimony, philosophy, spiritual writings, prophetic declarations and public-interest material are made available for people to examine for themselves.

Access to knowledge should not depend upon a person's ability to pay.

The Archive is therefore freely accessible, while its preservation and continued publication require practical resources.

SUPPORTING THE WITNESS AND THE ARCHIVE

Barran Dodger describes himself as an unprotected whistleblower living in circumstances of prolonged exile, financial hardship and vulnerability, and as an internally displaced asylum seeker within the country of his Australian citizenship.

Those circumstances create practical needs extending beyond the preservation of documents.

Voluntary donations are therefore accepted from anyone who freely wishes to assist.

Support may contribute towards essential needs including food, safe accommodation, communication, technology, transport, personal safety, website and domain costs, document preservation, archival infrastructure and the continued publication of the public record.

A donation does not purchase access to the Archive.

It does not purchase influence over the evidence.

It does not purchase editorial control.

It does not determine what is published or what conclusions readers should reach.

It simply helps sustain the person and infrastructure necessary to keep the Archive alive, functioning and freely accessible.

If you are blessed with sufficient prosperity to help preserve this work, your voluntary support can help ensure that financial hardship does not become another mechanism through which a public record disappears.

LASTLY — A SECOND PUBLIC-FACING ARCHIVE

For readers who wish to go beyond the principal Barran Dodger Archive, a second public-facing repository provides another point of access to the broader documentary record.

https://barrandodger.com

This website provides an additional gateway into the history, evidence, testimony, research and ideas that underpin the Archive. It is intended to help readers navigate the wider body of material and understand how individual documents, events, experiences and arguments have been brought together into a continuing record.

Its significance is not dependent upon the reader accepting Barran Dodger's conclusions. Rather, the value of preserving such a record lies in allowing the underlying material to remain available for examination. Readers can consider the chronology, inspect the documentary evidence, distinguish recorded facts from allegations and personal testimony, follow referenced material and form their own independent assessment.

The existence of multiple public repositories also reflects the central purpose of the project: preservation. Where records are distributed across years, institutions, correspondence, proceedings, personal archives and digital platforms, preserving accessible copies and pathways to the evidence can help prevent an individual historical record from becoming inaccessible or forgotten.

Readers are therefore invited to visit both public-facing archives, examine the material carefully and critically, and make their own assessment of what the surviving evidence demonstrates.

The purpose is not to ask the reader to believe.

The purpose is to ensure that the record remains available to be examined.

Subject: Budget

Dear Barran,

We are in the process of completing your budget for the next year.

As mentioned in my email dated the 6/10, there are changes required to your allowances to accommodate your increased rental contribution to Able Point and your requirement to pay utilises.

Effective next Monday 19th October your allowances will need to be reduced by $50 per week. You will need to advise our office on which days allowance you wish this reduction to be on.

Please see below breakdown on your income and outgoings of your pension:

Centrelink Income: $1371.27 per fortnight

Outgoings: $1369.96 per fortnight

- Rent: Able Point Rent of $500FN
- Allowance $700 FN
- Debt Repayments: $80 FN
- Origin Utility Bills: $50 FN

- Clothing allocation: $400 for the year / $15.38 FN
- Discretionary Budget: $600 for the year / $23.08
- NSWTG Management Fees: $39 for the year / $1.50FN

Net savings per fortnight: $1.31

With this budget it you have no room for additional funding outside of your allocated discretionary and clothing allocation. Please note although those amounts are stated in the budget due to your extremely limited savings of $363 before your next pension (22/10) approval of requested funds will be approved on case by case basis.

Attached is a copy of your Centrelink income statement and NSWTG account statement.

Please respond to this email with which day you wish to reduce your allowances by $50 per week.

Thank you.

Kind Regards,

Phillip
