Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to ask for urgent humanitarian assistance. Please read this request personally and, if your organisation cannot assist directly, forward it today to someone who can.

My name is Dr Richard William McLean, publicly known as Dr Barran Dodger. I am a disabled man currently living in Long Jetty on the Central Coast of New South Wales. I am seeking practical help to reach safety, protect my wellbeing, regain my independence and ensure the welfare of my companion and therapy dog, Crystal.

I want to make one thing absolutely clear: I am asking for help because I want to live. I am not suicidal. I want to recover, live safely, maintain my friendships and be treated with dignity.

On 27 October 2026, I documented a serious difficulty involving my support arrangements. I wanted to visit two friends, but my support worker said he had no petrol and that his employer, Able Point, would fire him if he took me to their homes. I also describe difficulty obtaining a response from another person involved in my support arrangements. I am asking for these events to be independently examined, not for anyone to be condemned without investigation.

My urgent needs are: safe accommodation where Crystal can remain with me; food and essential supplies; uninterrupted access to medication and healthcare; transport to visit friends and reach services; independent disability advocacy; help with reported banking, phone and internet access difficulties; and an independent review of my concerns with relevant records preserved.

Crystal is my companion and therapy dog. Please do not assume accommodation is suitable if it requires us to be separated without exploring reasonable alternatives.

My public appeal and supporting material are available here: https://barran-dodgers-holy-reckoning.lovable.app/

I am contacting churches, community organisations, humanitarian services, disability advocates, legal services and human-rights organisations. Even one concrete action could help: a safe accommodation referral, food assistance, transport, an advocate willing to speak with me, or an introduction to someone equipped to assist.

Please reply with a specific next step. If you cannot assist, please tell me which service I should contact and, if possible, forward this appeal.

I want to live. I want Crystal to be safe. I want to recover my independence and be able to live with dignity. Please hear this request and help me find a way forward.

Sincerely,
Dr Richard William McLean
Dr Barran Dodger

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to ask for urgent humanitarian assistance, independent advocacy and practical intervention concerning my current circumstances.

My name is Dr Richard William McLean, publicly known as Dr Barran Dodger. I am a disabled man living on the Central Coast of New South Wales, seeking safety, stability and independence for myself and my companion and therapy dog, Crystal.

I have published my personal testimony, humanitarian appeal and documentary record here:

https://barran-dodgers-holy-reckoning.grok.me Attachment.png

I ask you to read my appeal and consider the material directly.

My immediate needs include safe accommodation where Crystal can remain with me, food and essential supplies, access to medication and healthcare, transport to visit trusted friends and reach essential services, and independent disability advocacy to help me navigate my circumstances.

I have also reported difficulties involving my disability-support arrangements, access to online banking and essential communication services. These difficulties compound my vulnerability and make it harder to obtain the assistance I need.

My published account describes longstanding concerns involving disability-support services, government agencies and other institutions. It also documents my concerns about an incident on 27 October 2026, when I say I was unable to obtain transport to visit friends. I am seeking independent examination of these matters, including the preservation and appropriate review of relevant communications, recordings, support notes and other records.

I am not asking you to accept every allegation without scrutiny or to prejudge any individual or organisation. I am asking for my evidence to be considered fairly, my concerns to be assessed independently, and my immediate humanitarian needs to be addressed without unnecessary delay.

My immediate safety cannot wait for every wider issue to be resolved.

I want to live, recover, maintain meaningful relationships and regain my independence. I want Crystal to be safe and for us to remain together wherever reasonably possible. I am seeking practical assistance, not retaliation: a genuine opportunity to live with dignity and to have my circumstances examined fairly.

I respectfully ask your organisation to consider whether it can assist with any of the following:

- Finding safe, suitable accommodation that accepts Crystal.
- Arranging food, essential supplies and transport.
- Connecting me with independent disability advocacy or appropriate legal assistance.
- Helping me access essential services and resolve practical barriers to obtaining support.
- Referring my concerns to an appropriate independent body for assessment.
- Advising how relevant evidence can be preserved and examined.
- Forwarding this appeal to another organisation or individual who may be able to help.

If you cannot assist directly, even a specific referral or introduction to the right person would be greatly appreciated. I ask that you please respond with a practical next step rather than allowing this request to go unanswered.

My full appeal and documentary material are available here:

Thank you for taking the time to read this request. I hope someone receiving this message will be willing to listen, examine the available material fairly and help me take the next step towards safety.

Please help me and Crystal find a safe way forward.

Sincerely,

Dr Richard William McLean Dr Barran Dodger
