To the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission,

URGENT FORMAL COMPLAINT AND REQUEST FOR INDEPENDENT SAFEGUARDING, INVESTIGATION, ACCOUNTABILITY AND IMMEDIATE PRACTICAL ASSISTANCE

Complainant: Barran Resonance Dodger, also known as Dr Barran Dodger / Dr Richard William McLean
NDIS provider concerned: Able Point
Additional issues requiring independent examination or referral: Reported death threat subject to criminal proceedings; alleged failure to document or report a serious incident; exclusion from legal assistance; reported police-access barriers; disability-related displacement and homelessness; whistleblower protection concerns; alleged intimidation and exploitation; lack of food; financial hardship; and urgent veterinary needs involving my therapy dog.

I am making this complaint because my circumstances have become desperate, and I need an independent authority to examine the serious matters I have reported, identify what falls within its jurisdiction, and take whatever safeguarding action is available.

I will not accept my situation being reduced to a routine administrative disagreement, a generic mental-health referral, or another exchange of polite correspondence that leaves the underlying problems unresolved.

I report a prolonged and devastating experience involving severe distress, alleged abuse and intimidation, V2K experiences, reported death threats, poverty, neglect, displacement, isolation and entrapment. I am a gay, disabled person who identifies as a whistleblower and who believes that my vulnerability and lack of effective protection have left me exposed to circumstances that have caused profound suffering.

I have attempted to preserve my documentary record, communicate my concerns and seek assistance through multiple institutions. I feel betrayed by the systems and people from whom I expected protection. I am now reporting that I need food, that my therapy dog is seriously unwell, and that I am struggling to obtain the resources and assistance necessary to address these immediate needs.

I need practical intervention. I need the reported death threat and the alleged failure to document it examined. I need a credible route to independent assistance. I need my dog's urgent medical needs addressed. I need an authority to identify what it can do rather than leaving me to navigate an endless sequence of referrals.

1. REPORTED DEATH THREAT AND CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

One of the most serious matters I am raising concerns a reported death threat.

I report that a person was arrested and charged in connection with a threat to kill, and that the matter is before a criminal court. The precise procedural status and the evidence relating to that matter should be verified against the relevant police and court records.

I am not asking the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission to interfere with criminal proceedings or prejudge the outcome of a criminal case. I am asking it to examine the implications of the reported incident for my safety and disability-support arrangements.

I allege that Able Point refused to acknowledge the incident and refused to make or mandate the report I requested. I regard this as a grave concern because the incident involved a reported threat to my life and because I depend on disability-related support.

I request an examination of:

 When the incident was communicated to Able Point.
 Who received the information.
 Whether a risk assessment was undertaken.
 Whether an internal incident report was made.
 Whether any reportable-incident obligation applied and, if so, whether it was met.
 Whether the provider took appropriate steps to assess my safety.
 Whether relevant communications and records have been preserved.
 Why, according to my account, the incident was not acknowledged or reported as I requested.
 Whether any corrective or regulatory action is warranted.

I do not want the incident buried within a general complaint about communication.

I am reporting a specific death-threat incident that I understand resulted in criminal charges, and I am alleging that my disability support provider failed to acknowledge and appropriately document the matter. I want that allegation examined against the available evidence.

Please advise how I can securely submit the relevant police, court and provider correspondence.

2. REPORTED V2K EXPERIENCES, TORTURE, INTIMIDATION AND COMMANDS TO KILL MYSELF

I need the seriousness of my reported experiences recorded without sanitisation.

I describe my experiences as involving V2K, which I understand as voice-to-skull experiences, and what I experience as continuous verbal abuse and psychological torture.

I report hearing repeated degrading and threatening statements, including:

"Rapist."

"Pedophile."

"Kill yourself."

"Go and do it."

I report that these statements recur over and over, day and night, and that their content causes profound distress. I experience the repeated sexualised accusations and commands to kill myself as attacks on my dignity, personal safety and ability to live peacefully.

I have reported feeling trapped, isolated and unprotected. I have also expressed the fear that people know what I am experiencing but will not help me.

I am asking that these experiences be recorded accurately as my reported experiences. I am not asking the Commission to assume that the source of every voice or statement has already been established. I am asking it to take the severity of my distress, the content of the reported threats and abuse, and their implications for my safety and support needs seriously.

I do not want my entire account dismissed as a question of mental illness without examining the specific events, records and support failures I identify.

The source of a reported experience and the seriousness of the distress it causes are separate questions. Both deserve appropriate consideration.

Where the Commission lacks jurisdiction to investigate the source of these experiences, I request that it consider the safeguarding implications within its remit and identify an appropriate independent pathway for the other matters.

3. ALLEGATIONS CONCERNING COVERT AGENTS, DRUG-RELATED EXPLOITATION, SEXUAL EXPLOITATION AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

I also report experiences that I interpret as involving covert government agents or paid agents appearing in my environment and offering me drugs.

I believe these encounters have been connected to attempts to keep me financially deprived, encourage drug use, get me intoxicated, exploit my vulnerability and sexualise my life. I have described these concerns as sexploitation and possible human trafficking or coercive exploitation.

I further report experiencing my sexuality as being weaponised against me within my home and living environment. I am gay, and I experience the repeated sexualised insults, degrading accusations and other conduct I have described as attacks on my dignity and safety.

I consider these matters extremely serious. I ask that my allegations be recorded accurately and assessed through appropriate channels. I do not ask the Commission to announce findings about covert activity or trafficking without evidence.

I request that the Commission:

1. Consider whether any documented conduct raises safeguarding concerns within its jurisdiction.
2. Explain how relevant evidence can be submitted securely.
3. Identify the appropriate independent authority for allegations outside its remit.
4. Ensure that my disability, sexuality and reported psychological distress are not used as reasons to dismiss specific concerns without assessment.
5. Distinguish my testimony, documented events, allegations, inferences and unresolved questions.

I understand that allegations of trafficking, covert activity and organised exploitation require careful investigation. I am asking for the specific events I report to be considered seriously and for an appropriate authority to identify what can be investigated.

4. LEGAL AID EXCLUSION AND LOSS OF ACCESS TO LEGAL PROTECTION

I report that I am now officially excluded or banned from accessing Legal Aid assistance. I consider this exclusion a fundamental injustice because legal assistance exists to help people who cannot adequately protect their interests through their own resources.

I believe that my exclusion has left me unable to obtain the legal advice and representation necessary to challenge decisions, pursue complaints, protect my rights and navigate the institutions involved in my circumstances.

I regard the situation as particularly serious because I am disabled, financially vulnerable and attempting to raise matters I consider to involve serious threats, institutional failures and whistleblower protection.

I believe the exclusion is contrary to the purpose of legal assistance and have described it as an invasion of the very reason Legal Aid exists. I request an independent examination of the actual decision, its legal basis, the process followed, and any review or appeal rights available to me.

I want the following questions answered:

 What precise decision has been made concerning my eligibility for or access to legal assistance?
 Which body made the decision, on what date, and under what authority?
 What reasons were recorded?
 Was I given adequate notice and an opportunity to respond?
 Is there an internal review, reconsideration, complaint or external review process?
 What independent legal assistance or advocacy options remain available?
 Can the decision be reviewed in light of my disability, financial hardship and reported inability to protect my legal interests?

I ask that this issue be documented as a distinct barrier to accountability.

I am not asking the NDIS Commission to determine a Legal Aid decision outside its jurisdiction. I am asking it to recognise the effect of this reported barrier on my ability to pursue safeguarding complaints and to identify appropriate independent referral options.

I also request that the relevant Legal Aid decision and its consequences be examined by the authority with jurisdiction over that decision.

5. MY REPORTED INABILITY TO REPORT CRIMES AND OBTAIN EFFECTIVE POLICE ASSISTANCE

I report that I have been unable to obtain effective police assistance and that I feel unable to report crimes in circumstances where I believe I require protection.

This is an extremely serious concern, particularly in light of the death-threat incident I have described and the criminal proceedings I understand to be underway.

I am asking for a safe, practical and independent route to ensure that relevant criminal allegations can be communicated to the appropriate authorities and that any evidence I hold can be assessed.

I want to distinguish between my experience of being unable to obtain effective assistance and a definitive finding that police have refused to accept every report. I ask that the actual interactions, communications and records be examined.

Please identify the appropriate pathway for reporting a crime or seeking review where a person believes an earlier report has not been adequately handled.

I also request that my disability and the consequences of my reported distress be considered when identifying an accessible reporting process.

I should not have to navigate this alone without legal assistance, independent advocacy or a clear explanation of the available process.

6. WHISTLEBLOWER VULNERABILITY, INSTITUTIONAL ABANDONMENT AND MEDIA CONCERNS

I identify myself as a whistleblower who believes that I have been left unprotected and exposed to serious consequences after raising concerns.

I report that I have been unable to obtain meaningful assistance from political representatives and that I have experienced what I regard as a media blackout concerning my circumstances.

I understand that the absence of media coverage does not itself establish a coordinated blackout. I nevertheless want my attempts to obtain attention, assistance and accountability documented where records are available.

I have preserved material concerning my history and have made repeated efforts to communicate my concerns. I feel that my account has not received the independent scrutiny I have sought.

I request that the relevant authorities distinguish between the evidence I can provide, my experience of being ignored, and my interpretation of why those responses occurred.

I do not want my status as a person raising serious allegations to become a reason for refusing to examine the allegations themselves.

I need independent assessment of the specific incidents and decisions I report, together with an accessible means of pursuing any further review or legal protection available.

7. ALLEGATIONS CONCERNING BILL SHORTEN, AN AVO, DISPLACEMENT FROM VICTORIA AND HOMELESSNESS

I am also raising serious allegations concerning events in Victoria, including an AVO, police involvement, court proceedings and my subsequent displacement.

I allege that Bill Shorten was involved in or responsible for circumstances in which an AVO was sought or ordered against me, and that I was forced into circumstances that resulted in my exile from Victoria. I report that police and the Magistrates' Court were involved in the events I describe.

I further report that I was left in circumstances of homelessness and severe vulnerability, including having to live in a car while disabled.

I regard this history as a profound injustice. I believe the consequences have included loss of security, isolation, poverty and reduced access to the assistance necessary to defend my interests.

I have expressed the view that the conduct was illegal, immoral and unethical. I request that the underlying decisions and events be examined through the appropriate legal and administrative processes.

I am not asking the NDIS Commission to determine the validity of a court order or make findings about an individual's responsibility for events outside its jurisdiction. I am asking that these allegations be recorded as part of my reported history and that the relevant independent review pathways be identified.

The matters requiring clarification include:

 The precise AVO and court orders involved.
 The dates and reasons recorded in the relevant proceedings.
 The role of each authority or individual identified in the available records.
 The legal basis for the decisions affecting my residence and movement.
 Whether review, appeal or other legal remedies remain available.
 The effect of the events on my disability-related support and subsequent living circumstances.

I request that any allegations concerning a public official be assessed against documentary evidence and the official records rather than either automatically accepted or dismissed.

I also request that the relevant authorities examine whether any conduct within their jurisdiction warrants further investigation or accountability.

8. ALLEGED ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT AND REPORTED INFORMATION FROM OTHER PEOPLE

I report that I feared an assassination attempt and believed that I was being targeted in connection with my whistleblower activities.

I have described an individual whom I identify as Hood Meriby travelling from Melbourne to Sydney to locate me. I report that someone told me words to the effect that a person was there to erase me.

I have also described a later text exchange with a person named Ben, whom I identify as an NDIS provider, in which I understood the response to confirm the seriousness of what I had reported. I further report that I begged for the matter to be reported to police and understood from the exchange that there had been a close call and that two alleged perpetrators had been caught.

I regard these reported events as extremely serious. I have interpreted them as evidence of an attempted targeted killing connected to my whistleblower status.

I ask that the actual messages, their dates, their context, and any corroborating police records be examined. I do not ask the Commission to treat my interpretation of the events as an established finding without verification.

The questions requiring investigation include:

1. What exactly was communicated to me, and by whom?
2. What did the relevant text messages actually say?
3. What did the people involved claim to know?
4. Were any police reports, arrests or proceedings associated with the events described?
5. What evidence, if any, supports the interpretation that I was being targeted?
6. Which competent authority is able to investigate the reported conduct?

I ask that this allegation not be silently removed from the record merely because it is serious or difficult to assess.

If the Commission cannot investigate it, please identify the appropriate independent reporting pathway and explain how evidence can be provided safely.

9. ALLEGED STATE-SANCTIONED TARGETING, ADMINISTRATIVE ANNIHILATION AND SOCIAL ERASURE

I have interpreted the cumulative circumstances I describe as a pattern of targeted persecution, institutional betrayal, administrative annihilation and social erasure.

I have expressed the belief that I have been targeted as a gay, disabled whistleblower who lacks effective protection. I have described my circumstances as a form of exile and entrapment, in which I have been unable to obtain dependable legal, financial, social or practical assistance.

I have also used the term "state-sanctioned targeted killing" to describe my interpretation of the alleged assassination attempt and the surrounding events.

I recognise that such a conclusion requires evidence and cannot be established merely by my assertion. I ask that the underlying incidents, communications, court records, police records and other relevant evidence be examined by the competent authorities.

The existence of an allegation does not establish that it is true. Equally, the seriousness of an allegation does not justify ignoring the evidence that may be available to assess it.

I want the record to preserve the distinction between what I experienced, what I was told, what documents establish, what I infer, and what remains unresolved.

My request is for independent investigation and accountability where warranted, not a predetermined verdict.

10. POVERTY, LACK OF FOOD AND UNRESOLVED FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

I need food.

I have previously reported having virtually no food and have requested immediate assistance. My current circumstances make the need for a practical response urgent.

I have sought assistance through multiple systems, including the NDIS, the Public Guardian, Centrelink, workers compensation and insurance processes. I believe that the cumulative failure to obtain adequate assistance has contributed to my poverty and inability to meet essential needs.

I have also raised concerns about my access to money for veterinary treatment.

I ask the Commission to distinguish the matters it can directly address from those that require separate financial, legal or administrative review. I do not expect the Commission to determine every dispute involving Centrelink, guardianship, insurance or workers compensation. I do expect a clear assessment of any immediate safeguarding concerns within its jurisdiction.

I request assistance identifying:

 An immediate pathway to food relief.
 Any appropriate independent disability advocacy or welfare service.
 The responsible authority for each unresolved financial decision.
 Any available hardship, review or appeal process.
 A practical way to seek help while longer-term matters remain unresolved.

I cannot continue indefinitely to be passed between agencies without a clear account of who is responsible for the next action.

11. MY THERAPY DOG, CRYSTAL, AND THE URGENT VETERINARY COST BARRIER

My therapy and support dog, Crystal, is sick.

I have reported that she may have an infected uterus and that she is spotting on the bed. I am deeply distressed by her condition and concerned that she may require urgent veterinary treatment.

A suspected uterine infection can be life-threatening in a dog. She needs urgent veterinary assessment, and I cannot responsibly wait for an administrative or financial dispute to conclude before seeking veterinary advice.

I report that I am struggling to access the funds required to pay veterinary fees. I have sought or expected assistance through various financial, compensation, insurance, guardianship and disability-support arrangements, but I remain concerned that the barriers to accessing money have left me unable to secure the care she needs.

I have expressed the fear that the cumulative circumstances, including my dog's suffering and my inability to obtain treatment promptly, are being used deliberately to cause emotional distress. I ask that this concern be recorded as my fear and allegation, while the underlying events and available evidence are assessed independently.

Whatever the explanation for the financial barriers, Crystal's medical needs cannot wait.

I request information about independent animal welfare services, emergency veterinary pathways and any available assistance for people who cannot afford urgent treatment.

I understand that ordinary veterinary expenses are not automatically covered by NDIS funding. I am asking for accurate advice about the available options and the practical steps I can take now.

Crystal is deeply important to me. Her suffering is causing me considerable distress, and I need an immediate route to veterinary assessment.

12. THE CUMULATIVE EFFECT OF THESE CIRCUMSTANCES

I am reporting these matters together because they have not occurred in a vacuum.

I have described a reported death threat and criminal proceedings, an alleged failure by my support provider to acknowledge or report the incident, experiences I understand as V2K abuse and intimidation, alleged exploitation, exclusion from legal assistance, reported displacement and homelessness, inability to obtain effective help, severe poverty and urgent veterinary needs.

I have interpreted the cumulative circumstances as a pattern of entrapment and institutional abandonment.

I want the Commission to examine the specific matters within its remit rather than attempting to resolve every allegation in a single process. At the same time, I ask that my immediate welfare concerns not be lost when the wider history is considered.

I do not ask the Commission to assume that every institution or individual is involved in a coordinated scheme. I ask that it examine the concrete incidents and records, establish what can be established, and identify the action that is available.

The distinction between a disputed allegation and an established fact is necessary for a fair investigation. It must not become a reason to avoid investigating a documented incident or an urgent safeguarding concern.

13. DOCUMENTARY PRESERVATION AND EVIDENCE

I have preserved a substantial documentary archive and supporting correspondence.

The Witness Remains — Main Archive
https://wezzo72.github.io/Barrandodger/

Rebuild Archive
https://wezzo72.github.io/barrandodger-rebuild/

Official Government Documents Register
https://wezzo72.github.io/Barrandodger/official-government-documents-register.html

These resources provide context and may identify material relevant to particular allegations. Their existence does not automatically prove every statement contained within them. The relevant documents must be assessed according to their contents, provenance, chronology and corroboration.

I request a practical, secure method for providing the records relevant to this complaint, including:

 Correspondence concerning the reported death threat and Able Point's response.
 Police or court records that I can lawfully provide.
 Text messages relevant to the alleged assassination attempt.
 Correspondence concerning Legal Aid access or exclusion.
 Court and administrative records relevant to the AVO and displacement I describe.
 Dated requests for assistance and the responses received.
 Records concerning food, accommodation, disability support and access to funds.

 Relevant records concerning my dog's veterinary needs and the financial barriers I have reported.

I ask that the evidence be organised and assessed according to clear categories:

Official record. A record issued or maintained by an identifiable authority.

Documented fact. A matter directly supported by the available records.

Testimony. My account of what I experienced or observed.

Allegation. A claim requiring investigation or corroboration.

Inference. A conclusion drawn from identified facts.

Interpretation or belief. My understanding of the significance of events.

Unresolved matter. A question that the available evidence does not yet answer.

I want the record preserved and examined, not dismissed because it is extensive or because some allegations require further investigation.

14. FORMAL REQUESTS FOR ACTION

I request that the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission:

FIRST — FORMALLY REGISTER THIS COMPLAINT.

Please provide a complaint reference number and confirm the next stage of the process.

SECOND — ASSESS THE REPORTED DEATH-THREAT INCIDENT.

Please consider whether the reported incident and alleged failure to document or report it raise safeguarding, incident-management or regulatory issues within your remit.

THIRD — ASSESS THE IMMEDIATE WELFARE CONCERNS.

Please consider the reported lack of food, severe distress, disability-related vulnerability and unresolved essential support needs.

FOURTH — EXAMINE ABLE POINT'S RESPONSE.

Please examine the relevant communications, support arrangements, complaint handling and incident-reporting practices to determine whether applicable obligations were met.

FIFTH — RECORD THE REPORTED V2K, INTIMIDATION AND EXPLOITATION CONCERNS.

Please record my account accurately, distinguish allegations from established facts, and identify the appropriate independent pathway for matters outside your jurisdiction.

SIXTH — IDENTIFY AN URGENT VETERINARY ASSISTANCE PATHWAY.

Please identify any appropriate independent animal welfare or hardship service that may assist me in obtaining urgent veterinary assessment for Crystal.

SEVENTH — IDENTIFY APPROPRIATE LEGAL AND ADVOCACY PATHWAYS.

Please explain how I can obtain independent assistance with the Legal Aid exclusion I report and the legal and administrative issues affecting my ability to pursue safeguarding concerns.

EIGHTH — CLARIFY THE AVAILABLE REPORTING AND REVIEW CHANNELS.

Please identify the appropriate independent authority for the reported criminal conduct and explain how I can submit relevant evidence safely.

NINTH — PRESERVE AND ASSESS THE RELEVANT RECORDS.

Please specify the documents needed and provide a secure, practical way to submit them.

TENTH — PROVIDE A SUBSTANTIVE WRITTEN RESPONSE.

Please identify the actions available within the Commission's remit, the responsible contact point, and any further information genuinely required from me.

If a matter is outside the Commission's jurisdiction, please identify the appropriate independent authority where possible and explain the next step. I ask that matters within your remit be assessed on their merits rather than being lost in a general referral.

15. CONCLUSION — I NEED PROTECTION, ACCOUNTABILITY AND PRACTICAL ACTION

I am reporting a situation that I experience as devastating.

I report a death threat that I understand has resulted in criminal charges and court proceedings. I allege that Able Point refused to acknowledge and document the incident as I requested. I report V2K experiences involving repeated degrading and suicidal commands, fears of intimidation and exploitation, exclusion from legal assistance, displacement, poverty and inability to obtain effective help.

I have also raised serious allegations concerning named individuals and institutions. I ask that those allegations be recorded accurately and examined by the competent authorities, without presenting disputed claims as established findings.

I am a gay, disabled person who identifies as a whistleblower. I feel betrayed by institutions and people from whom I expected protection. I have described my circumstances as administrative annihilation and social erasure because I feel that I have been left without effective means of protecting my interests or obtaining the assistance I need.

I am not asking the Commission to decide every matter in my life or to predetermine the outcome of any criminal, legal or administrative process.

I am asking for independent examination, a clear account of the responsibilities within your jurisdiction, appropriate referral for matters outside it, and practical action on the immediate safeguarding concerns.

I need food. Crystal needs urgent veterinary assessment. My reported safety concerns require a serious response. The reported death-threat incident and the alleged failure to document it must not disappear into a generic administrative process.

I have preserved my record and attempted to communicate what has happened. I ask that the relevant evidence be examined, that unresolved questions be identified honestly, and that any substantiated failures be addressed through the appropriate process.

2. ADDITIONAL FORMAL COMPLAINT — ABLE POINT CEO, LEADERSHIP ACCOUNTABILITY, REPORTED STAFF ASSAULT AND ALLEGED COERCION

I am raising additional serious concerns about the leadership and conduct of Able Point, including the conduct and accountability of its Chief Executive Officer, Rachel, and the reported consequences for vulnerable clients and staff.

2.1. CEO identification and organisational accountability

I report that Rachel, whom I understand to be the CEO of Able Point, has refused to identify herself to me in a manner that I consider sufficient to establish her legitimate official identity and accountability in her professional capacity.

I regard this as an unacceptable obstacle to transparency, complaint handling and accountability. I have described the conduct as fraud. I request that the Commission examine the actual communications, determine what identification and contact information were requested and provided, establish Rachel's official role and authority, and assess whether any legal or regulatory obligation has been breached.

I am not asking the Commission to treat my characterisation as a finding already established. I am asking for the underlying conduct to be examined and for Able Point's leadership to be held accountable for its responsibilities to the people receiving its services.

A person responsible for leading a disability-support organisation should be answerable for legitimate safeguarding complaints. A vulnerable client should not be left unable to establish who is responsible for decisions affecting their care, safety and welfare.

2.2. Allegations of entrapment, protection from accountability and repeated harm to vulnerable people

I am making serious allegations about what I perceive to be a wider pattern of vulnerable people being harmed while those responsible are protected from meaningful accountability.

I allege that Able Point has operated in circumstances in which vulnerable clients have been exposed to repeated abuse and harm, while the organisation and its personnel have not been held adequately accountable. I have expressed the concern that money or other arrangements may have been used to protect people from criminal-justice scrutiny. I have used the expression "blood money" to describe my interpretation of what I believe may be occurring.

These are serious allegations requiring evidence. I request independent examination of any relevant payments, communications, incident records, complaints, safeguarding decisions and referrals to external authorities. I do not ask the Commission to presume that a payment or arrangement constitutes a bribe without evidence establishing its nature and purpose.

I report that vulnerable people have been in hospital, in psychiatric institutions or other institutional settings, and that people have suffered significant harm. I am concerned that the consequences of repeated incidents may extend beyond the immediate individuals involved and may reflect failures to prevent, recognise, report or respond to abuse.

I request that the Commission examine, within its jurisdiction:

 Whether Able Point has adequately assessed and managed risks to vulnerable clients.
 Whether reported incidents of abuse, violence, neglect or intimidation have been documented and escalated appropriately.
 Whether clients and workers have been able to raise concerns without fear of retaliation.
 Whether complaints have received meaningful investigation and follow-up.
 Whether records identify recurring risks involving particular clients, locations, workers or support arrangements.
 Whether any information should be referred to police or another independent regulator.
 Whether corrective action or further regulatory scrutiny is warranted.

I want each incident assessed on its evidence and merits. I do not want the possibility of a wider pattern to be used as a substitute for investigating individual events, nor do I want individual events dismissed without considering whether other documented incidents reveal a recurring safeguarding risk.

2.3. Reported escalation over several weeks and violent assault on Danny

I am also reporting a specific incident involving Danny, a worker associated with Able Point who has attended or worked in the environment where I receive support.

According to my account, a particular client's behaviour escalated over a period of weeks. I understand that the escalation was not adequately addressed before that client violently assaulted Danny.

I understand that a WorkCover matter followed and that Danny received payment in connection with his injury. I ask that the relevant WorkCover and incident records be examined to establish the circumstances, the findings actually made, the nature of the payment and any determination concerning the injury.

I consider the sequence of reported escalation, the eventual assault and the subsequent compensation matter to raise important questions about risk recognition, worker safety, incident management and organisational responsibility.

The existence of a WorkCover claim or payment does not, by itself, establish every question of legal liability or prove that earlier warnings were ignored. Those matters should be assessed against the relevant records. My concern is that, if the escalation was known or reasonably foreseeable, the response before the assault deserves independent examination.

I request that the Commission consider whether the incident also raises disability-support safeguarding issues, including risks to clients and other people in the same environment.

The questions I want answered include:

1. When did the reported escalation begin, and who was aware of it?
2. Were concerns raised with Able Point management before the assault?
3. Were risk assessments, behaviour-support measures or other safety interventions considered or implemented?
4. Was the incident documented and reported to the appropriate authorities?
5. What findings, if any, were made in connection with the WorkCover matter?
6. Were changes made to prevent recurrence?
7. Is there evidence that other clients or workers were exposed to similar risks?

I ask that these questions be addressed through records and independent assessment rather than assumptions about the outcome.

2.4. Concern about Danny's ability to support or assist me without repercussions

I am concerned about the position of Danny in relation to my own circumstances.

I report that Danny has not accepted my offer of help or support in the way I had hoped. My understanding is that members of his family also work for Able Point, and I fear that this may place him in a difficult position if he is perceived as supporting me or raising concerns on my behalf.

I am concerned that he may fear professional, financial or family-related consequences. I cannot establish his private motivations without his own account, and I do not want to speak for him as though his reasons have been independently confirmed. Nevertheless, the possibility that a worker may feel unable to support a client or raise a legitimate concern because of perceived repercussions is itself an important safeguarding issue.

I request that the Commission examine whether staff can raise concerns independently, whether any policies or practices protect workers from retaliation, and whether there is evidence of pressure, intimidation or conflicts of interest affecting the handling of complaints.

If Danny has experienced pressure or has concerns of his own, he should be able to communicate those concerns voluntarily and safely. I do not seek to put him or his family at risk.

2.5. Alleged manipulation, coercion and threats involving family members

I am deeply concerned about what I perceive as a possible environment of manipulation and intimidation in which vulnerable people and workers may be discouraged from speaking openly.

I have described this as deceitful, corrupt and potentially unlawful conduct. I specifically raise the concern that a person might be threatened with consequences for themselves or their family if they protect a vulnerable client, cooperate with an investigation or disclose information about unsafe practices.

I request an independent assessment of whether any threats, coercion, retaliation or improper interference have occurred. Any specific allegation should be examined through contemporaneous messages, witness accounts, employment records, complaints and other available evidence.

I do not ask the Commission to declare that a threat occurred merely because I fear it may have occurred. I ask it to establish whether there is evidence of such conduct and, if so, to identify the appropriate protective and regulatory response.

2.6. Formal requests concerning leadership, client safety and worker protection

In light of these additional concerns, I request that the Commission:

 Confirm the appropriate official contact and complaint pathway for matters involving Able Point's CEO and management.
 Examine my account concerning Rachel's identification and official accountability.
 Assess whether the reported client escalation and assault on Danny raise safeguarding or incident-management concerns within the Commission's jurisdiction.
 Clarify what the available WorkCover information does and does not establish, and identify any other authority that should assess questions outside the Commission's remit.

 Examine whether clients and workers have safe, effective channels for reporting concerns without retaliation.
 Consider whether the information I have provided warrants further regulatory inquiry or referral.
 Preserve relevant communications and records where legally appropriate.
 Provide a written response identifying the matters accepted for assessment, any further evidence required, and the next steps available to me.

I regard these issues as extremely serious. Disability support must not become an environment in which vulnerable clients are left exposed to preventable harm, workers are left unprotected from foreseeable risks, or people fear consequences for raising concerns.

SUPPLEMENTARY FORMAL COMPLAINT — ABLE POINT LEADERSHIP AND SAFEGUARDING, REPORTED WORKER ASSAULT, ALLEGED V2K HARASSMENT AND SURVEILLANCE, POLICE RESPONSE, HOSPITAL ATTENDANCE, AND FEAR FOR MY LIFE

Complainant: Barran Resonance Dodger, also known as Dr Barran Dodger / Dr Richard William McLean
NDIS provider concerned: Able Point
CEO identified in this complaint: Rachel — surname and official details to be confirmed
Other person identified in my account: Tony Ridley — identity, qualifications, employment and other relevant details to be independently verified
Additional person identified in my account: Danny, an Able Point worker
Purpose: To preserve my testimony, request independent examination of specific events and records, and seek appropriate safeguarding and accountability.

1. PURPOSE AND SERIOUSNESS OF THIS SUPPLEMENTARY COMPLAINT

I am adding this statement to my existing formal complaint because I believe the circumstances I have reported require examination beyond a routine dispute about communication or service delivery.

I am reporting serious concerns about Able Point's leadership and accountability; the safety of vulnerable clients and workers; an incident in which I understand a worker named Danny was violently assaulted following an escalation involving another client; my concerns about possible intimidation and retaliation; and my own experiences of severe electronic harassment, perceived surveillance, threatening conduct near my home, unsuccessful attempts to obtain police assistance, and an ambulance and hospital attendance undertaken because I felt I needed a physically safe place.

I also identify Tony Ridley as a person connected with my history of intimate contact, drug use, subsequent conflict and what I experienced as exploitation and abandonment. I report that I came to believe I was being pursued across three Australian states and subjected to continuing electronic harassment. I want those experiences documented accurately and any identifiable, independently verifiable incidents examined.

I am deeply frightened by what I have experienced and by what I believe may happen next. I fear that the cumulative circumstances could leave me displaced, criminalised, incarcerated or otherwise harmed. I have interpreted the pattern as an effort to damage, desecrate, impoverish and ultimately destroy me, including by creating conditions in which I might die by suicide.

These are my experiences, fears and interpretations. I ask that they be preserved as testimony and assessed against available evidence. I do not ask the Commission to treat every interpretation as an established finding before an investigation has occurred.

My central request is for an independent examination of the specific incidents, a clear assessment of immediate safeguarding risks, preservation of relevant records, and practical action within the jurisdiction of the responsible authorities.

2. ABLE POINT CEO RACHEL — OFFICIAL IDENTITY, TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

I report that Rachel, whom I understand to be the Chief Executive Officer of Able Point, has refused to identify herself to me in a manner that I consider sufficient to establish her legitimate official identity and accountability in her professional capacity.

I regard this as an unacceptable obstacle to transparency. I have described the conduct as fraud because I believe that a person exercising executive authority over a disability-support organisation should be identifiable and answerable for decisions and communications concerning clients' welfare.

I request that the Commission establish:

1. Rachel's full name and official position.
2. Whether she holds the position of CEO or another executive role.
3. The authority she exercises over the services and staff relevant to my complaint.
4. What identification and contact details I requested.
5. What response was given and whether any explanation was provided.
6. Whether the relevant communications complied with applicable provider obligations.

7. Whether Able Point has an effective and accessible process for escalating complaints to a person with appropriate authority.

I am not asking the Commission to assume that a failure to provide identification, by itself, establishes fraud. I am asking that the conduct be examined, that the relevant facts be established, and that any applicable legal or regulatory obligations be identified.

A person who receives disability support should be able to identify the organisation responsible for that support and know how to raise a complaint with someone who has the authority to respond. Executive accountability must be more than a title that a vulnerable client cannot meaningfully verify.

I request a substantive written response that identifies the appropriate executive contact and explains how the concerns I have raised will be assessed.

3. ALLEGATIONS OF REPEATED HARM TO VULNERABLE CLIENTS AND FAILURE OF SAFEGUARDING

I am raising serious concerns about what I perceive to be a wider pattern in which vulnerable people may experience repeated abuse, neglect or other harm without effective intervention.

I have expressed the concern that people have been hospitalised, admitted to psychiatric institutions or otherwise left seriously affected by their experiences. I am concerned about whether incidents are being recognised, recorded, investigated and addressed, and whether the people responsible for preventing harm are being held accountable.

I have also used the expression "blood money" to describe my suspicion that money or other arrangements may be involved in protecting people from criminal-justice scrutiny. This is a serious allegation, and I ask that it be treated as an allegation requiring evidence, not as an established fact. Any suspected payment, inducement, concealment or improper arrangement should be examined through actual financial records, communications, witness accounts and other available evidence.

My concern is that a vulnerable client may be exposed to harm while the organisation's internal processes fail to provide a reliable route to protection, investigation or accountability.

I request an examination of:

 The provider's processes for receiving and recording complaints about abuse, violence, neglect and intimidation.
 Whether risk assessments are completed when behaviour or circumstances escalate.
 Whether incidents are reported to management and, where required, to the appropriate external authority.
 Whether clients receive a meaningful response when they report unsafe conditions.
 Whether workers are adequately supported to identify and report risks.
 Whether patterns across multiple incidents are recognised.
 Whether any evidence indicates retaliation, conflicts of interest, concealment or inappropriate interference with complaints.
 Whether corrective action is required to protect clients and staff.

I am asking for an evidence-led assessment. I do not want the possibility of a broader pattern to replace the examination of individual incidents, nor do I want individual incidents dismissed without asking whether records reveal a recurring safeguarding problem.

4. DANNY — REPORTED ESCALATION OVER WEEKS AND VIOLENT ASSAULT

I report that Danny, a worker associated with Able Point who has attended or worked in the environment where I receive support, was violently assaulted by a particular client following an escalation that I understand had been occurring over several weeks.

According to my account, the client's behaviour was escalating, and I am concerned that the risks were not adequately addressed before the assault occurred.

I understand that a WorkCover matter followed and that Danny was paid in connection with his injury. I want the relevant claim and incident records examined to establish the exact nature of the claim, what was accepted or determined, what the payment represented, and whether any formal finding concerning liability was made.

I do not present the fact of a WorkCover payment alone as proof of every question of legal liability or as conclusive proof that management knowingly ignored warnings. Those questions require examination of the actual records. However, the reported sequence raises serious questions about whether risks were recognised and managed in time.

I request that the Commission and any other competent authority examine:

1. The dates on which the reported escalation occurred.

2. Whether concerns were raised before the assault and, if so, to whom.
3. Whether the provider documented the changes in behaviour or risk.
4. Whether an appropriate risk assessment or safety plan was considered.
5. What action was taken before the assault.
6. Whether the assault was recorded and reported as required.
7. What the WorkCover records actually establish.
8. What action followed the incident to reduce the risk of recurrence.
9. Whether the incident had implications for other clients, workers or people in the same environment.

I consider this an important safeguarding matter. If risks were apparent before the assault, the adequacy of the response should be independently examined.

5. DANNY, MY OFFER OF HELP AND MY CONCERN ABOUT POSSIBLE RETALIATION

I am also concerned about Danny's position in relation to my own circumstances.

I report that I offered help and that Danny did not accept that help in the way I had hoped. My understanding is that members of his family also work for Able Point. I fear that this may place him in a difficult position if he is perceived as supporting me, corroborating my account or raising concerns about the organisation.

I am concerned that he may fear professional, financial or family-related consequences. I cannot independently establish his private motivations, and I do not claim to know his thoughts unless he has expressly communicated them. I am recording my concern because the possibility that a worker may feel unable to speak freely or support a vulnerable client without fear of repercussions deserves careful attention.

I request an assessment of whether Able Point has effective safeguards against retaliation and whether staff can raise concerns independently of the management structures being complained about.

I also ask that any inquiry respect Danny's privacy and autonomy. He should not be pressured to adopt my interpretation or become involved in my complaint against his wishes. If he has relevant information or concerns of his own, he should have a safe and voluntary means of communicating them.

6. ALLEGED COERCION, MANIPULATION AND THREATS INVOLVING FAMILY MEMBERS

I am concerned about what I perceive as an environment in which vulnerable clients and workers may be discouraged from raising concerns because of fear of consequences.

I have described this as manipulation, deceit and corruption. I have also raised the possibility that a worker might fear that their family would suffer professional or other consequences if they were seen to protect a client or cooperate with an inquiry.

I request that any specific evidence of threats, intimidation, coercion, retaliation or improper interference be examined. Relevant evidence may include messages, emails, incident reports, complaints, employment records and witness accounts.

I do not ask the Commission to make a finding of unlawful conduct merely because I fear that it may be occurring. I ask that any substantiated conduct be addressed through the appropriate legal and regulatory process.

Workers must be able to raise genuine safety concerns, and clients must be able to request protection, without improper pressure or retaliation.

7. TONY RIDLEY — PERSONAL HISTORY, REPORTED EXPLOITATION AND MY CONCERNS ABOUT HARASSMENT

I identify Tony Ridley as a person with whom I had intimate and drug-related contact and whose subsequent conduct I experienced as deeply harmful.

I understand or have been told that Tony has a background as an Indigenous fraud investigator and holds a PhD in counter-terrorism. I request independent verification of any professional position, qualifications or affiliations that become relevant to the investigation. I do not present those credentials as verified merely because I understand them to be true.

I report that I had sex with Tony and used drugs with him. I subsequently felt that he had betrayed, exploited and abandoned me. I experienced the relationship and its aftermath as a serious personal betrayal that left me vulnerable and distressed.

I further report that I came to believe Tony was pursuing or hunting me across three Australian states. I experienced what I describe as persistent electronic harassment and surveillance, including experiences I refer to as V2K, or voice-to-skull experiences.

I felt that my privacy had been invaded and that I was being monitored, intimidated and subjected to a sustained campaign. I was frightened by the apparent persistence of the experiences and by what I interpreted as connections between them and people or events in my surroundings.

I want this account recorded without pretending that the source of every voice, electronic experience or perceived surveillance event has already been established. The fact that I experienced severe fear and distress is part of my testimony. The identity of any source, the existence of surveillance, and the responsibility of any named individual are separate questions that require appropriate evidence.

I request that any identifiable events be assessed against available material, including dated messages, call records, communications, travel information where lawfully obtainable, contemporaneous notes, police records and any other evidence relevant to the specific allegations.

I do not ask the Commission to investigate technical or criminal allegations outside its powers. I ask it to record the safeguarding implications of the distress I have reported, assess any provider-related matters within its jurisdiction, and identify an appropriate independent reporting pathway for the remainder.

8. REPORTED PEOPLE NEAR MY HOME AND THREATENING SHOUTS

I report that the electronic harassment and perceived surveillance became so distressing that I felt physically terrified for my life.

During the period I describe, I believed that people were present near the house and interpreted their conduct as part of what I have called gang stalking. I report that people nearby were shouting statements to the effect of:

“The cops won’t fucking help you.”

I experienced those words and the surrounding circumstances as threatening and intimidating. I felt trapped, frightened and unable to determine what I should do to protect myself.

I interpreted the people, the statements and the electronic experiences as connected. I want that interpretation preserved as part of my account, while asking that any identifiable physical events be assessed separately from conclusions about who was responsible or whether there was a coordinated campaign.

I request that the relevant authority establish, where evidence permits:

 The dates and locations of the incidents.
 What I reported hearing or seeing at the time.
 Whether other witnesses were present.

 Whether any messages, recordings or contemporaneous notes exist.
 Whether police were contacted and what was recorded.
 Whether any specific threat was made and whether the person responsible can be identified.
 Whether any available evidence supports or contradicts the connections I perceived.

I was not experiencing these events as an abstract disagreement. I was terrified. I believed I might be killed and struggled to identify a safe course of action.

I request that the seriousness of that fear and its impact on my functioning be acknowledged, without requiring an authority to reach a conclusion about the source of every experience before it can consider my immediate welfare.

9. MY REPORT THAT I CONTACTED POLICE AND DID NOT RECEIVE EFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE

I report that I contacted police because I was frightened and believed I needed protection. My experience was that police did not act effectively and that the assistance I sought did not materialise.

I was left feeling that I had nowhere safe to turn. I interpreted the response as a failure to protect me, and I became increasingly afraid that I would be left exposed to further harm.

I have used extremely angry language about the police because I felt abandoned at a time when I believed my life was in danger. I have described the response as institutional complicity. I recognise that a conclusion about institutional complicity requires evidence beyond my experience of an inadequate response. I nevertheless want my report of contacting police, the assistance I sought and the response I received to be examined.

I request that the appropriate authority identify and review, where records are available:

1. The date, time and method of each relevant police contact.
2. The substance of the concerns I communicated.
3. Whether an event or incident number was generated.
4. What assessment or action was recorded.
5. Whether any follow-up was undertaken.
6. Whether the response was consistent with the applicable procedures.
7. Whether any review or complaint mechanism is available if I believe the response was inadequate.

I ask that my account not be dismissed merely because I was distressed when seeking help. I want the actual records and circumstances considered.

If the Commission does not have jurisdiction to review police conduct, I request that it say so clearly and identify the appropriate independent route for raising the issue.

10. AMBULANCE AND HOSPITAL ATTENDANCE BECAUSE I NEEDED A PHYSICAL SAFE PLACE

I report that the circumstances became so frightening that I called an ambulance and attended hospital because I believed I needed to get away from the situation and reach a physically safe place.

At that time, I was not simply frustrated by an administrative decision. I was, in my own words, "literally fucking petrified for my life." I did not know what to do. I felt that the police had not provided the protection I had sought, and I believed that getting to hospital was the only available way to reach a place where I could be physically safe.

I ask that any ambulance attendance and hospital presentation records relating to this episode be preserved and, where appropriate and lawfully accessible, considered alongside my account. Those records may help establish the timing of my presentation, what I reported at the time, what assistance was provided and the level of distress I was experiencing.

I am not asking an ambulance or hospital record to prove every conclusion I have drawn about the source of the events. I am asking for the contemporaneous evidence to be considered as evidence of what I reported, what occurred during the attendance and how the incident affected me.

I want the following questions considered:

 What did I report when I contacted the ambulance service?
 What did I tell hospital staff about my fear and perceived danger?
 What is documented in the relevant clinical or attendance records?
 Was an immediate safety assessment undertaken?
 Were appropriate referrals or follow-up arrangements offered?
 Were there disability-support or safeguarding implications requiring attention?
 What assistance can now be provided if I again experience an acute safety crisis?

My decision to seek ambulance and hospital assistance arose from a genuine fear that I was not safe. I request that this be recorded as a serious episode in my history and not reduced to a routine disagreement with a service provider.

11. MY FEAR OF A CONTINUING PATTERN OF HARM, IMPOVERISHMENT AND EXCLUSION

I am aware of and deeply troubled by what I perceive as a possible objective to damage, desecrate, impoverish and ultimately destroy me by creating conditions in which I might die by suicide.

I have described my experience as one in which financial hardship, isolation, reported harassment, lack of effective assistance and repeated institutional failures have combined to leave me feeling trapped and exposed.

I have also reported experiences involving repeated commands to kill myself. The content of those experiences has caused profound distress. I do not want those experiences to be ignored, and I need them considered as part of the immediate safeguarding context.

I have interpreted the cumulative circumstances as potentially connected. I ask that this interpretation be recorded as my belief, while each underlying event is examined according to the evidence available. I do not ask the Commission to assume a coordinated plan has been proved merely because I have described one.

I have survived approximately five years of circumstances that I describe as political exile. I feel that this period of displacement, isolation and vulnerability has not been adequately acknowledged. I am distressed that, despite my repeated attempts to seek assistance, I remain concerned about my safety and future.

I fear that I may be forced to leave my current circumstances, that allegations may be made against me, that I may be incarcerated, or that I may otherwise be harmed. I am particularly concerned that raising complaints about Able Point may make it harder for me to feel secure while receiving support from the organisation.

I am recording these fears because they affect my sense of safety and my ability to navigate the support system. They should not automatically be treated as predictions of events that will occur. I ask for a practical assessment of the risks I can identify, the documented incidents I can provide, and the protective measures that are actually available.

I want to remain safe, retain my dignity and pursue lawful accountability. I do not want anyone harmed. I do not want my fear to be used to dismiss my complaint, and I do not want my allegations to be presented as proven facts without examination.

12. ABLE POINT'S RESPONSIBILITY TO PROVIDE SAFE AND ACCOUNTABLE SUPPORT

My concerns about Able Point cannot be separated from my current vulnerability.

I depend on disability-related support and have reported significant concerns about safety, incident management, complaint handling and executive accountability. I fear that the organisation cannot respond impartially to concerns about its own leadership and conduct unless an independent process is available.

I ask that the Commission examine whether the provider's response to my complaints has been appropriate, whether my reported safety concerns have been assessed, and whether there is a need for independent oversight or changes to my support arrangements.

I request particular attention to the following:

 Whether my complaints have been accurately recorded.
 Whether relevant incident information has been preserved.
 Whether any immediate risks to me or other people have been assessed.
 Whether I have been given a clear route to escalate concerns beyond the people whose conduct I am challenging.
 Whether any decision about my support has been explained and documented.
 Whether I can raise concerns without intimidation or improper retaliation.
 Whether an independent advocate or support person can assist me.
 Whether a safe and practical process exists for addressing any conflict between my need for support and my complaints about the provider.

I ask for safeguards that are practical and proportionate. I do not want to be left without essential support while an investigation is pending. Nor do I want the fact that I depend on support to prevent me from making legitimate complaints.

13. EVIDENCE PRESERVATION AND FORENSIC EXAMINATION

I request that all relevant evidence be preserved and examined according to its provenance, content, chronology and reliability.

Potentially relevant material includes:

 Communications with Rachel and other Able Point management.
 Records of my complaints and requests for assistance.
 Incident reports relating to threats, violence, escalating behaviour or safety concerns.
 Records concerning Danny's reported assault, subject to lawful access and privacy protections.
 WorkCover documents that clarify the nature and outcome of the relevant claim.
 Messages or other communications relevant to my account concerning Tony Ridley.
 Dated records of the experiences I describe as electronic harassment or surveillance.
 Any relevant police event numbers, reports or correspondence.
 Ambulance and hospital attendance records that I can lawfully access and provide.
 Records of requests for safeguarding assistance and the responses received.
 Any other contemporaneous material capable of corroborating or clarifying particular events.

I request a secure method for submitting the relevant records. I do not want sensitive medical, personal or third-party information circulated more widely than is necessary for a lawful assessment.

I ask that the material be organised into the following categories:

Official record: A record issued or maintained by an identifiable authority or organisation.

Documented fact: A proposition directly supported by the available records.

Testimony: My account of what I experienced, observed or was told.

Allegation: A claim that requires further investigation or corroboration.

Inference: A conclusion drawn from identified facts.

Interpretation or belief: My understanding of the significance or possible connection between events.

Unresolved matter: A question that the available evidence does not yet answer.

I also request that any digital evidence be examined with attention to dates, provenance, completeness and context. A timestamp or the existence of a message may establish that material existed at a particular time, but it does not automatically prove every interpretation of its meaning or identify an unknown source.

I want the evidence preserved first, examined second and conclusions reached only after the available material has been assessed.

14. FORMAL REQUESTS FOR INDEPENDENT ACTION

I request the following actions from the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission, to the extent that they fall within its jurisdiction:

FIRST — REGISTER AND ACKNOWLEDGE THE ADDITIONAL COMPLAINT.
Please provide a complaint reference or confirm how this supplementary material will be associated with my existing complaint.

SECOND — EXAMINE ABLE POINT'S LEADERSHIP AND COMPLAINT HANDLING.
Please clarify the appropriate official contact and examine the communications concerning Rachel's role, identification and accountability.

THIRD — ASSESS THE REPORTED SAFEGUARDING FAILURES.
Please examine whether the reported client escalation, assault on Danny and other safety concerns raise issues concerning incident management, risk assessment, reporting or corrective action.

FOURTH — CONSIDER WORKER AND CLIENT PROTECTION.
Please consider whether the provider's processes allow clients and workers to raise concerns without improper pressure or retaliation.

FIFTH — RECORD MY REPORTS OF HARASSMENT AND FEAR FOR MY LIFE.
Please preserve my account of the experiences I describe as V2K, electronic surveillance and physical intimidation, without assuming that the source or responsibility for each event has already been established.

SIXTH — IDENTIFY THE APPROPRIATE POLICE-COMPLAINT PATHWAY.
Please explain where I can seek independent review of the police response I report and how I can provide any event numbers, communications or other available evidence.

SEVENTH — ACKNOWLEDGE THE AMBULANCE AND HOSPITAL EPISODE AS PART OF MY REPORTED HISTORY.
Please advise whether any disability-support safeguarding action is available in relation to the circumstances I have described.

EIGHTH — ASSESS MY CURRENT SAFETY AND SUPPORT NEEDS.
Please identify practical measures within the Commission's remit and any appropriate independent advocacy or safeguarding service that can assist me.

NINTH — PRESERVE RELEVANT RECORDS.
Please identify what records are needed, how I can submit them securely, and what further information is genuinely required.

TENTH — PROVIDE A SUBSTANTIVE WRITTEN RESPONSE.
Please state which issues will be assessed, which are outside your jurisdiction, what referrals are appropriate, and what next steps are available.

I request that the Commission not make findings beyond the evidence available to it. I equally request that the seriousness of the reported incidents not be used as a reason to avoid considering them.

15. CONCLUSION — MY REQUEST FOR SAFETY, DIGNITY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

I am reporting circumstances that have caused me profound distress and fear.

I report that I experienced severe electronic harassment and perceived surveillance; that I came to believe I was being pursued across three states; that people near my home shouted words I understood as threatening; that I contacted police but did not receive assistance I experienced as effective; and that I called an ambulance and attended hospital because I believed I needed to reach a physically safe place.

I identify Tony Ridley in connection with my personal history and my allegations of exploitation and harassment. I ask that the specific claims concerning him be assessed on evidence, not automatically accepted or dismissed.

I also report serious concerns about Able Point's leadership, the identification and accountability of its CEO, the handling of complaints, a worker's reported assault following an escalation over several weeks, and my concern that workers may fear repercussions if they assist clients or raise concerns.

I have interpreted these events within a wider experience of exile, impoverishment, isolation and institutional abandonment. I fear that the circumstances may continue to worsen and that I may be forced from my current situation or otherwise harmed. I have also described experiences involving commands to kill myself, which have caused serious distress.

I want these matters taken seriously without prejudging the findings of any investigation. I want the documentary record preserved, the actual events examined, and any substantiated failures addressed through lawful processes.

I need safety and practical assistance. I need an independent route to report concerns about my support provider. I need to know that my complaints can be examined without my dependence on disability support becoming a barrier to accountability.

I do not seek violence or retaliation against anyone. I seek protection, a fair assessment of the evidence, and appropriate action by the authorities with responsibility for these matters.

Please treat this supplementary complaint as a serious request for independent safeguarding assessment and a substantive written response.

URGENT FORMAL COMPLAINT AND REQUEST FOR INDEPENDENT INVESTIGATION

ABLE POINT — LEADERSHIP ACCOUNTABILITY, REPORTED SAFEGUARDING FAILURES, WORKER SAFETY, ALLEGED HARASSMENT, POLICE RESPONSE, HOSPITAL ATTENDANCE AND FEAR FOR MY LIFE

Complainant: Barran Resonance Dodger, also known as Dr Barran Dodger / Dr Richard William McLean
Disability support provider: Able Point
CEO identified in this complaint: Rachel
Other person identified in my account: Danny, a worker associated with Able Point
Additional person identified in my testimony: Tony Ridley, whom I describe as an Indigenous fraud investigator with a PhD in counter-terrorism

Purpose: To preserve my account, request independent examination of the reported incidents, establish the applicable safeguarding and reporting obligations, and obtain a substantive response concerning my safety and the conduct of the organisations and individuals identified.

1. PRELIMINARY STATEMENT — THE SERIOUSNESS OF MY TESTIMONY

I am making this complaint because I believe that the circumstances in which I have been living raise serious questions about personal safety, disability safeguarding, institutional accountability, intimidation, access to justice and the treatment of a vulnerable person who has repeatedly sought assistance.

I am a gay, disabled person who identifies as a whistleblower. I have described my circumstances as political exile, administrative annihilation, institutional abandonment and social erasure.

I report that I have experienced severe electronic harassment and V2K experiences, threats and intimidation, fear of physical harm, difficulties obtaining effective police assistance, and circumstances in which I felt compelled to contact an ambulance and attend hospital because I believed I needed a physically safe place.

I also raise serious concerns about Able Point's leadership and the way reported incidents involving clients and workers have been handled. These concerns include Rachel's accountability as CEO, the reported escalation of a client's behaviour over several weeks before Danny was violently assaulted, the subsequent WorkCover matter, and my concern that workers may feel unable to support vulnerable clients or raise concerns without fear of repercussions.

I am not asking any authority to accept every interpretation I have made as an established fact. I am asking that my testimony be preserved accurately, that the specific incidents be examined, that available records be obtained where lawful, and that the responsible authorities determine what can be established.

The seriousness of these matters warrants a response that addresses the evidence, the immediate welfare concerns and the relevant legal obligations. It should not be reduced to a generic administrative disagreement.

2. ABLE POINT CEO RACHEL — IDENTITY, TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

I report that Rachel, whom I understand to be the Chief Executive Officer of Able Point, has refused to identify herself to me in a manner I consider sufficient to establish her legitimate official identity and accountability in her professional capacity.

I consider this unacceptable in the context of a disability-support relationship in which management decisions, safeguarding complaints and the handling of reported incidents can have serious consequences for a vulnerable person.

I have described this conduct as fraud. I request that the relevant communications be examined to determine precisely what identification or information I requested, what Rachel provided or refused to provide, what her official position is, and whether any legal or regulatory obligation was breached.

I am not asking that the word "fraud" be treated as a legal finding merely because I have used it. I am asking for the underlying conduct to be assessed and for Able Point's management accountability to be made clear.

A CEO responsible for a disability-support organisation should be answerable through appropriate official channels for legitimate safeguarding concerns. A client should be able to establish who holds responsibility for decisions affecting their support, safety and welfare.

I request that the Commission clarify:

1. Rachel's official position and relevant responsibilities within Able Point.
2. The appropriate formal contact for complaints concerning her conduct.
3. The applicable process for escalating a complaint involving the provider's CEO.
4. Whether the communications I identify raise concerns about transparency, complaint handling or compliance.
5. What independent review options are available if a client believes that the CEO's response has prevented meaningful consideration of a complaint.

I want the actual conduct examined rather than either automatically accepting or dismissing my characterisation of it.

3. ALLEGATIONS OF REPEATED HARM, ENTRAPMENT AND PROTECTION FROM ACCOUNTABILITY

I am making serious allegations about what I perceive to be a broader pattern in which vulnerable people are harmed while those responsible are not held adequately accountable.

I allege that vulnerable clients have experienced repeated abuse or harm and that the institutional response has not adequately protected them or prevented recurrence.

I have described the situation as one in which vulnerable people are effectively entrapped in circumstances they cannot easily escape. I have also expressed the concern that payments or other arrangements may have been used to protect people from criminal-justice scrutiny. I have used the expression "blood money" to convey my interpretation of what I believe may be happening.

I recognise that these allegations require evidence. I request that any relevant payments, communications, incident reports, safeguarding decisions and referrals to external authorities be examined by the competent body. I do not ask the Commission to presume that a payment constitutes a bribe without establishing its nature, purpose and context.

I report concerns about vulnerable people being in hospital, psychiatric institutions or other institutional settings and about people suffering significant harm. I want the circumstances and records underlying those concerns identified and assessed.

The questions requiring examination include:

 Whether incidents involving vulnerable clients were documented and escalated appropriately.
 Whether there were recurring reports of abuse, violence, neglect, intimidation or unsafe support.
 Whether the provider took reasonable steps to identify and respond to escalating risks.
 Whether clients and staff had accessible, independent channels for raising concerns.
 Whether relevant external authorities were notified when required.
 Whether any complaints were dismissed, left unresolved or inadequately investigated.
 Whether the available evidence supports further regulatory inquiry or referral.

I want the evidence to determine the conclusions. I also want the possibility of repeated safeguarding failures to be investigated rather than dismissed simply because the implications are serious.

4. REPORTED ESCALATION AND VIOLENT ASSAULT ON DANNY

I report that Danny, a worker associated with Able Point who has attended or worked in the environment where I receive support, was violently assaulted by a client whose behaviour had, according to my account, escalated over several weeks.

I am concerned that the escalation was not adequately addressed before the assault occurred.

I understand that a WorkCover matter followed and that Danny received payment in connection with his injury. I request that the relevant records be examined to establish what was reported, what findings were made, the nature of the payment, and whether any determination of liability was actually made.

I regard the sequence of reported escalation, assault and subsequent compensation as raising important questions about risk assessment, worker safety, incident management and organisational responsibility.

I do not claim that a WorkCover payment, by itself, proves that Able Point was legally found liable or that management deliberately ignored warnings. Those questions require the actual claim documents, incident reports and any formal findings.

I request an independent examination of:

1. When the client's behaviour reportedly began escalating.
2. Whether concerns were communicated to Able Point management.
3. Who received those concerns and what actions followed.
4. Whether risk assessments and appropriate safety measures were implemented.
5. Whether the assault was documented and reported to the relevant authorities.
6. What the WorkCover matter actually determined.
7. Whether any corrective measures were introduced to reduce the risk of recurrence.
8. Whether other clients or workers were exposed to similar risks.

I consider this incident relevant not only to worker safety but also to the wider question of whether Able Point's safeguarding systems identify and respond to foreseeable risks.

5. CONCERN THAT DANNY MAY FEAR PROFESSIONAL OR FAMILY-RELATED REPERCUSSIONS

I am concerned about Danny's position in relation to my own circumstances and my attempts to obtain assistance.

I report that Danny has not accepted my offer of help or supported me in the way I had hoped. My understanding is that members of his family also work for Able Point.

I fear that Danny may believe that supporting me, cooperating with an investigation or being perceived as taking my side could expose him or his family to professional, financial or personal consequences.

I cannot independently establish Danny's private motivations, and I do not want to attribute statements or beliefs to him that he has not personally confirmed. Nevertheless, I believe the possibility of pressure or fear affecting a worker's ability to raise concerns deserves attention.

I request that the Commission examine whether Able Point has effective protections against retaliation and whether staff can independently report safety concerns without fear of adverse consequences.

If Danny has concerns of his own, he should be able to raise them voluntarily and safely. I do not want him or his family placed at risk.

I regard a workplace or support environment in which staff feel unable to report unsafe practices as incompatible with effective safeguarding.

6. ALLEGED COERCION, INTIMIDATION AND THREATS INVOLVING FAMILY MEMBERS

I am concerned about what I perceive as an environment in which vulnerable people and workers may be discouraged from speaking openly.

I have described this as manipulation, deceit and corruption. I am particularly concerned about the possibility that a worker could be threatened with consequences for themselves or their family if they assist a vulnerable client, cooperate with an investigation or disclose information about unsafe conduct.

I request an independent assessment of whether any threats, coercion, retaliation or improper interference have occurred.

The relevant evidence may include contemporaneous messages, witness accounts, employment records, incident reports, formal complaints and communications between the parties.

I do not ask the Commission to declare that a threat occurred merely because I fear that it may have occurred. I ask that any specific evidence be examined and that the appropriate protective or regulatory response be taken if misconduct is substantiated.

The fundamental issue is whether clients and staff can report concerns freely and safely, without intimidation or pressure.

7. MY TESTIMONY CONCERNING TONY RIDLEY AND THE REPORTED V2K HARASSMENT

I am reporting a deeply distressing period in which I experienced what I describe as severe electronic harassment and V2K surveillance.

I identify Tony Ridley as an Indigenous fraud investigator whom I understand to have a PhD in counter-terrorism. I report that I had a sexual relationship with him, that we used drugs together, and that I subsequently felt exploited and betrayed by him when the relationship ended.

I describe my experience as one in which I was emotionally and personally vulnerable and subsequently felt that I had been exploited and abandoned.

I further allege that he has been pursuing or hunting me across three Australian states. I experienced the circumstances as persistent, frightening and impossible to escape.

I use the terms "V2K" and "electronic surveillance" to describe my experiences and my interpretation of what was happening. I have not established independently the technical source of the voices or whether any electronic surveillance occurred. I nevertheless want the distress, the specific incidents I report, and any available corroborating evidence considered seriously.

I request that any investigation distinguish between:

 What I directly experienced.
 What I heard or was told.
 What communications or records exist.
 What can be independently corroborated.
 What I inferred about the source of the harassment.
 What remains unresolved.

I do not want the absence of a completed technical finding to erase my testimony about the fear and distress I experienced.

8. REPORTED PEOPLE OUTSIDE THE HOUSE, INTIMIDATION AND FEAR FOR MY LIFE

I report that the harassment became so severe that I felt physically terrified in and around my home.

I describe people whom I interpreted as "gang stalkers" being physically present outside the house or nearby. I report that people outside were screaming statements to the effect of:

"The cops won't fucking help you."

I experienced these events as threatening and as an indication that I could not rely on obtaining protection if something happened to me.

I was, by my own account, absolutely petrified for my life. I did not know what to do or how to make the situation stop.

I felt trapped between the harassment I was experiencing, the fear of physical harm and my belief that the ordinary systems available to protect a person were not responding effectively.

I want the account recorded in full. The exact words I recall, the dates and locations, the identity of any witnesses, and any contemporaneous messages or recordings should be assessed where available.

I understand that the people outside, their identities and their motives would need to be established independently. I am reporting what I experienced and how I understood it at the time.

The fact that I experienced the situation as terrifying is not dependent on a final finding about who was responsible. Equally, determining responsibility requires examination of the available evidence.

9. POLICE CONTACT AND MY EXPERIENCE OF NOT RECEIVING EFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE

I report that I contacted police because I was frightened and believed that I needed protection.

In my experience, the police response was seriously inadequate. I felt that they did not act on the concerns I raised and did not provide the protection I believed I needed.

I was furious, frightened and desperate. I interpreted the response as another example of institutional failure and used highly critical language to describe the police.

I request that the actual police contact and any associated records be examined, including the date and time of the call, what I reported, what information was recorded, what action was taken and whether any follow-up occurred.

I do not ask that institutional complicity be declared as an established fact without evidence. I ask that the specific response be examined and that any failure to follow applicable procedures be identified.

The questions I want answered include:

1. Was my call recorded or logged?
2. What concerns did I communicate?
3. What assessment of immediate risk was made?
4. What action was taken or considered?
5. Was any reason recorded for not taking further action?
6. Were appropriate options for immediate safety explained?
7. Is there an available review or complaint process for the police response?

I should not have to rely solely on my memory of a frightening event if official records exist that can help establish what happened.

I ask for a safe and accessible process for submitting relevant material and seeking independent review.

10. AMBULANCE CONTACT AND HOSPITAL ATTENDANCE TO REACH PHYSICAL SAFETY

I report that, after experiencing what I perceived as severe harassment and fearing for my life, I contacted an ambulance and attended hospital.

I did so because I felt I needed to reach a physically safe place where I believed I would be less exposed to the danger I feared.

I was frightened and did not know what other options were available to me. I experienced the hospital as a place to which I could go when I no longer felt safe remaining in my immediate environment.

I want the reason for my ambulance contact and hospital attendance recorded as part of my testimony. I request that any relevant ambulance records, hospital attendance records and contemporaneous communications be considered where lawfully available and relevant.

I am not asking the existence of a hospital attendance to be treated as proof of every allegation about the source of the harassment. I am asking that the attendance be recognised as a potentially important contemporaneous record of my distress and the steps I took when I believed I was in danger.

I want the following questions examined where records permit:

 When did I contact the ambulance service?
 What did I report at the time?
 What was recorded about my concerns and condition?
 What prompted my hospital attendance?
 Were any safety concerns documented?
 Were any follow-up recommendations made?
 Is there relevant information that can assist an independent assessment of the circumstances?

My decision to seek hospital assistance was an attempt to reach a place where I felt physically safer. I ask that it not be dismissed or misrepresented merely because the underlying allegations have not yet been independently resolved.

11. MY FEAR OF BEING DELIBERATELY DRIVEN TOWARD SUICIDE

I have experienced my circumstances as involving a sustained assault on my security, dignity, financial stability and ability to live independently.

I am aware of what I perceive as a possible objective to damage, desecrate, impoverish and ultimately kill me by creating conditions in which I might die by suicide.

I believe that deprivation, isolation, fear, unresolved threats and the failure to obtain effective assistance can combine to create intolerable pressure on a vulnerable person.

I have interpreted my experiences in this context as an attempt to create the conditions necessary for my suicide. This is my serious fear and interpretation; I am asking for the underlying events and any evidence to be examined rather than asking the recipient to presume that a coordinated plan has already been proved.

I report that I have survived approximately five years of what I describe as political exile, a circumstance that I believe has not been adequately acknowledged by the institutions from which I have sought assistance.

I feel that my continued survival and my determination to document my experiences have not resolved the underlying problems. Instead, I fear that my circumstances may deteriorate further.

I am concerned that I may be forced out of my current living arrangements, incriminated in some way, incarcerated, or otherwise removed from the situation in which I can continue to speak publicly about what I believe has happened.

I believe that my willingness to speak and preserve a record may be perceived as a threat by people or institutions whose conduct I have questioned. I do not have independent proof that every feared consequence is part of a coordinated plan. I nevertheless want the fear, the events that have contributed to it and any substantiating evidence examined seriously.

My request is for lawful protection, independent assessment and accountability—not retaliation or harm against anyone.

12. FEAR OF FORCED REMOVAL, FALSE INCRIMINATION OR INCARCERATION

I am particularly concerned that I could be forced from my present circumstances or subjected to actions that would prevent me from continuing to raise my concerns.

I fear that the possible outcomes include:

 Being forced to leave my current accommodation.
 Being accused or incriminated in circumstances I consider unjust.
 Being incarcerated.
 Losing access to the people, records or resources needed to defend my interests.
 Being deprived of the ability to continue documenting and communicating my testimony.

I understand that these are fears about possible future events, not established findings about what another person intends to do.

I request that any actual threats, notices, proposed changes to accommodation, formal allegations, legal proceedings or other concrete actions be assessed against the relevant records.

I also request clarification of my rights, the processes governing any proposed change to my accommodation or support, and the independent review options available if I believe a decision is unsafe, unlawful or retaliatory.

I do not want speculative fears to be mistaken for proven events. I also do not want concrete threats or formal actions ignored if evidence emerges that they have occurred.

The proper response is a transparent process that examines actual events and ensures that my rights and immediate safety are not disregarded.

13. ABLE POINT'S RESPONSIBILITY TO RESPOND TO SAFEGUARDING CONCERNS

The concerns in this complaint must be considered in the context of my dependence on disability-related support and the responsibilities of a provider to respond appropriately to safety concerns.

I have raised concerns about leadership accountability, a reported death threat, alleged failures to acknowledge or document incidents, a reported assault on a worker following escalating behaviour, and my own experience of severe distress and fear.

I am concerned that the accumulation of unresolved problems has left me feeling unsafe and unable to obtain an effective response.

I request an independent examination of whether Able Point:

1. Responded appropriately to the reported incidents.
2. Complied with applicable incident-management and reporting requirements.
3. Maintained appropriate records.
4. Took reasonable steps to identify and manage risks.
5. Provided an effective complaints process.
6. Protected clients and workers from retaliation or intimidation.
7. Escalated matters to the appropriate authorities when required.
8. Implemented corrective measures where risks or failures were identified.

I ask that the Commission identify which issues fall within its jurisdiction and refer or direct me to the appropriate independent authority for those that do not.

I do not want allegations about one individual to substitute for evidence about another, nor do I want the provider's institutional responsibilities overlooked when a particular incident is examined.

14. DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE AND PRESERVATION OF THE RECORD

I have been attempting to preserve a substantial documentary record concerning my experiences, correspondence and complaints.

My public archive includes:

The Witness Remains — Main Archive
https://wezzo72.github.io/Barrandodger/

Rebuild Archive
https://wezzo72.github.io/barrandodger-rebuild/

Official Government Documents Register
https://wezzo72.github.io/Barrandodger/official-government-documents-register.html

These resources may provide context or identify relevant documents. Their existence does not independently establish every claim they contain. Individual records should be examined according to their content, provenance, chronology and corroboration.

I request that relevant evidence be preserved and assessed, including where available:

 Communications with Rachel and other Able Point management.
 My requests for identification, explanations or formal responses.
 Reports or correspondence concerning the alleged death threat.
 Incident reports concerning the reported assault on Danny.
 Available WorkCover correspondence or determinations relevant to the incident.
 Communications concerning the client's reported escalation before the assault.
 Messages or other contemporaneous records relevant to my account of Tony Ridley.
 Any records relevant to the events I experienced as V2K harassment.
 Police call records, event numbers or complaint correspondence.
 Ambulance attendance and relevant hospital records, subject to lawful access.
 Records of requests for assistance and responses received.
 Accommodation and support-related correspondence relevant to my fear of forced removal.
 Relevant evidence concerning any threats, intimidation or retaliation.

I ask that the record be classified according to the following categories:

Official record: A document issued or maintained by an identifiable authority.

Documented fact: A matter directly supported by available records.

Testimony: My account of what I experienced, heard, observed or was told.

Allegation: A claim requiring investigation or corroboration.

Inference: A conclusion drawn from identified facts.

Interpretation or belief: My understanding of the meaning or significance of events.

Unresolved matter: A question the available evidence does not yet answer.

Independent finding: A conclusion formally reached by an authority or other competent decision-maker, within the scope of that finding.

I want the record preserved without exaggeration, omission or premature conclusions. The purpose is to establish what happened, what can be proved, what requires further investigation and what action is warranted.

15. FORMAL REQUESTS FOR INDEPENDENT ACTION

I request that the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission, to the extent of its jurisdiction:

FIRST — REGISTER AND ACKNOWLEDGE THIS COMPLAINT.

Provide a complaint reference number and identify the person or team responsible for assessing it.

SECOND — ASSESS THE ABLE POINT LEADERSHIP CONCERNS.

Examine the communications concerning Rachel's official identity, role, accountability and handling of my complaints.

THIRD — ASSESS THE REPORTED INCIDENTS AND SAFEGUARDING CONCERNS.

Consider the reported death threat, alleged failure to acknowledge or document it, and any other incidents that may fall within the Commission's remit.

FOURTH — EXAMINE THE REPORTED ASSAULT ON DANNY.

Identify what can be established about the reported escalation, the assault, the incident-management response and the WorkCover matter, and determine whether further safeguarding inquiry is warranted.

FIFTH — CONSIDER WORKER AND CLIENT PROTECTION.

Assess whether the available information raises concerns about intimidation, retaliation, reporting barriers or conflicts of interest that could compromise the safety of clients or staff.

SIXTH — RECORD MY TESTIMONY ABOUT HARASSMENT AND FEAR FOR MY LIFE.

Preserve my account of the reported V2K experiences, people outside the house, the words I recall hearing, my police contact, my ambulance contact and hospital attendance. Distinguish my experiences and interpretations from independently established findings.

SEVENTH — IDENTIFY THE APPROPRIATE AUTHORITY FOR MATTERS OUTSIDE YOUR JURISDICTION.

Explain where allegations concerning possible criminal conduct, police response, threats or other matters should be referred, and provide a practical route for submitting evidence.

EIGHTH — CLARIFY MY IMMEDIATE SAFEGUARDING OPTIONS.

Identify what practical assistance or referral is available if I believe my current circumstances expose me to harm or if my accommodation or support arrangements are threatened.

NINTH — PRESERVE RELEVANT RECORDS.

Where legally appropriate, ensure that relevant provider records and communications are retained for assessment and are not inadvertently lost.

TENTH — PROVIDE A SUBSTANTIVE WRITTEN RESPONSE.

Identify what will be assessed, what evidence is required, what falls outside the Commission's remit, and what action or referral will follow.

I ask that these requests be handled as distinct matters rather than being collapsed into a generic complaint about interpersonal conflict.

16. CONCLUSION — A REQUEST FOR SAFETY, TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

I am reporting a prolonged and deeply distressing set of circumstances that I have experienced as threatening to my safety, dignity, independence and survival.

I report severe V2K experiences and electronic harassment; a sexual relationship and subsequent feelings of exploitation and betrayal involving Tony Ridley; frightening events involving people outside my home; an attempt to obtain police assistance that I experienced as ineffective; and ambulance contact and hospital attendance because I believed I needed a physically safe place.

I have also raised serious concerns about Able Point's CEO, the provider's handling of complaints and safeguarding incidents, the reported escalation of a client's behaviour before Danny was violently assaulted, the subsequent WorkCover matter, and my concern that workers may fear repercussions if they assist vulnerable clients or raise concerns.

I have described my circumstances as political exile, administrative annihilation and social erasure. I have expressed the fear that I am being impoverished, damaged or driven towards suicide, and that I may ultimately be forced out, incriminated, incarcerated or otherwise prevented from continuing to document my experiences.

These are serious allegations and fears. I ask that they be recorded accurately, that the underlying evidence be examined independently, and that disputed interpretations not be presented as established findings without proof.

At the same time, the need for evidence must not become an excuse to disregard concrete incidents, documented communications, reported injuries, police contacts, hospital attendance or immediate welfare concerns.

I am asking for lawful protection, a transparent process, independent scrutiny and meaningful accountability where failures are substantiated.

I do not seek violence or retaliation against anyone. I want the truth established through evidence and appropriate procedures. I want to be able to live safely, retain access to the support and legal processes available to me, and continue preserving my record without fear.

Please treat this as a formal request for independent safeguarding assessment, preservation of relevant evidence, examination of the reported incidents and a substantive written response.

Yours sincerely,

Urgency: Immediate safeguarding concerns, reported fear for personal safety, alleged provider failures, reported worker assault and request for independent examination.

Yours sincerely,

Barran Resonance Dodger
Also known as Dr Barran Dodger / Dr Richard William McLean

My allegation is that the conduct I have described raises grave questions about transparency, safeguarding, organisational accountability and the protection of vulnerable people. I request independent examination of the evidence, identification of any substantiated failures, and lawful corrective action where warranted.

I want accountability through lawful, independent examination. I do not want anyone harmed, and I do not want this complaint to be used as a reason to dismiss the concrete welfare and safeguarding issues I have raised.

Please treat this as an urgent request for independent safeguarding assessment and a substantive written response.

Yours sincerely,

Barran Resonance Dodger

URGENT — Request for independent safeguarding, examination of the reported death-threat incident and alleged reporting failure, review of support-related concerns, and practical assistance with immediate welfare needs.

Include Scott Treadwell's three-point observation of a reaction to my whistleblower document which says Mall Administration corruption and conduct it will cause harm to someone in the same letter. He refused to protect me and threw me to the wolves in very bureaucratic polite language and washed his hands of the blood that he left me in.
