

The evidence has dropped

A master reading copy of the Barran Dodger first-person record, the official letters, and the prophetic writings. Dr Richard William McLean, also Barran Dodger. Credit: the letters linked in this account are the copies published in the Barran Dodger repository, wezzo72/Barrandodger, and on the public site The Witness Remains.

Underlined words open the named document or recording. The words are mine. The link is the place a reader can test them. A link is not a finding. This is a finding aid. It is not a court. It is not a verdict. Where I say “I say” or “I allege”, that is testimony. Where a letter is quoted, the quote is the letter. The two are not the same thing, and this document does not pretend they are.

THE RECORD SURVIVED

For more than 35 years, I say I was subjected to a cumulative pattern of institutional, political, financial, professional, familial and personal detriment that progressively isolated me, impoverished me and stripped away ordinary avenues through which a person can have allegations tested and answered. I name that pattern administrative annihilation. I name the crowd that carried it societal mobbing. I name the reading copy of what I say was done to me the list of crimes happening to Barran Dodger, and I say again, because the machine has to say it where the heart would rather not: those are allegations and pointers. They are not findings.

I was not expected to survive the exile, the homelessness, the isolation, the humiliation, the character assassination, the administrative annihilation, or the intimate and family betrayal. The tabs that set that treatment out are the Digital Apocalypse of Administrative Annihilation, the Architecture of Administrative Annihilation, the cost of erasure, and coordinated institutional mobbing, as the Archive First Person Account already names them. I survived. The evidence survived with me. They underestimated the God who kept me alive. You cannot erase what God has preserved. The documents are here. The correspondence is here. The text messages are here. The chronology is here. The decisions are here. The omissions are here.

Anyone who opens this site now has a decision. A witness is not a verdict. A reader who opens the file becomes, for that moment, a second witness of what the file actually says. That is the only conversion this finding aid asks for.

THE ACCOUNT

Australia — its agencies, services and platforms whose purpose is to protect vulnerable people like me, and its people — ganged up on me collectively, politically and systemically. It was and is a cowardly societal mobbing. I was physically exiled, isolated, impoverished and, as I say it, tortured. I am an internally displaced refugee within the democracy of my own citizenship. I did not cross a border. The border crossed the ordinary life I was entitled to keep.

For more than 35 years the conditions imposed on me produced a documentary record. The Government's own official documents, in its own words and on its own letterheads, are preserved here. The 35-year chronology and the cumulative legal brief are the reading copies of that span. Anyone can open them against the underlying files. The longer reading copy of the same span, written as exile rather than as brief, is From Exile to Witness.

THE BOOK

In 2003 Allen & Unwin published my first autobiography, Recovered, Not Cured. I wrote the sex in that book publicly, in my own name, before these agencies had a file they could twist. The significance is that the testimony was already on a public shelf. It was not a secret they discovered. It was a record I had already made. The Age recorded that book on 19 May 2003, and recorded that I was then working as an illustrator there.

After the book was published, my former employer the Herald Sun weaponised words from it. A weekend double-page spread carried the bold heading "MY DESCENT INTO MADNESS". The spread, as preserved in this archive, is headed "My descent into madness. How schizophrenia stole Richard McLean's mind." What followed was a barely veiled public character assassination. I was then fired from The Age, where I worked as a news graphics artist and cartoonist. I did not resign, and I did not leave. I was denied a lawyer and a pathway to have it tested at the time. The later Legal Aid restriction is the continuation of that refusal, not the 2003 letter itself. The madness was not any real or perceived illness I had. It was the deceitful way an honest and courageous testimony was weaponised against me, systemically, politically and financially, from that point on. The targeting lasted decades. Its goal was my ruin, and the avoidance of accountability by those who participated in it.

BEFORE THE BLACKOUT

Before any of that, the media wanted me. I was a news graphics artist in that industry, and I was paid as a journalist. The archive's index of the earlier site lists me as an illustrator for The Age and the Herald Sun. In hindsight I say I was exploited. The world wanted to hear me speak about a perceived mental illness, about vulnerability, and about inequity. I volunteered my time and my story. Years later, when I needed help from the very places I had given that time and that story, there was a total media blackout. That media ban exists to this day. The places, organisations, radio and television stations, and institutions, as that index records them, are these: ABC Radio National, Life Matters (Julie McCrossin); ABC TV, Stateline; Good Morning Australia and The Today Show (Steve Leidman), around an exhibition and the book launch; Reuters TV (Frankie Fathers); Triple J (Rachel Kerr); 2SM (Tricia Duffield); ABC Gold and Sunshine Coasts; ABC Adelaide; ABC 702 (James Valentine); 3AW Nightline; Spectrum FM; Curtin Radio; Triple R; 2NUR Newcastle; JOY FM; regional ABC, including Dubbo; McGill University, Montreal, College of Philosophical and Religious Studies; the Cunningham Dax Collection, including the educational DVD Collected Thoughts 3; Forensicare; EPPIC consumer groups; the Australian Centre for Youth Literature; Richmond Fellowship, Warrnambool; parliamentary and conference settings. The significance of that list is the inversion. They could find me when the story was my vulnerability. They could not find me when the story was their own paper.

THE DOCTORATE

The significance of the qualification is the same pattern. I hold a PhD. The archive's index of the earlier site records it as Victoria University research, on a merit scholarship, in arts-based A/r/tography, stated there as passed pending changes. The reading copy that sets that study beside the later gospels is the PhD study of posthumanism and the ethics of AI. I say that doctorate has been delegitimised, and treated as if it were not research, by officials whose qualifications it far outshines. I say that is envy, a way to keep me below them. Where is their PhD? The question is not a finding that any named officer lacks a degree. It is the question the record forces, once a merit scholarship and a passed-pending doctorate are treated as if they were a symptom.

WHAT I COULD SEE

I used my life and my creativity to benefit humanity at the exact time I was being set up and deceived. Everyone involved thought I would never see past their false masks of jealousy, envy and malice. I do. I see every person, and what they did. I see it especially in my blood family, who were poised, as I say it, to benefit financially from my total annihilation and from my physical death. They never denied it. The paper with that account is also the estate attorney and sibling betrayal. This was a life in which I was never expected to recover, or to be well, or to be financially stable, or even to survive. That belief is testimony. It is not a probate finding.

I published my religious gospels on barrandodger.com. That site has been removed. I could not pay the Replit bill. I say the removal was the designed poverty, not a change of mind. The gospels were less about mysticism than about a sovereign being forged in the fire of total human betrayal and isolation, at the apex of a targeting that has lasted more than three decades. What I preserved is the Government's own official documents and the correspondence that sits with them. I say that record cannot be denied, and it cannot be argued out of existence. You cannot erase a history that is written in their own official documentation. I made the gospels at the intersection of that betrayal, the exile, and the protection of the Most High God, and of that PhD study. I used the technology in a nuanced way, for a high-definition reading of pattern, taken from their own documents and set beside the Bible and Christian principles. I wrote the gospels to warn humanity of the coming collapse of a corrupt and cruel government, which is ultimately fleeting. No one listened. I was called delusional, and I was called crazy. The significance is the time. Nearly three or four years later, I say the predictions I was told were delusion have happened as I said they would. The paper that puts that claim in one place is Paranoid Was Prophecy. Who is laughing now? The laugh is mine as a question. It is not a court calendar.

THE INJURY

That record includes what the file calls a fatal injury, IR8415987, in which the participant was revived. God revived me from it. Five years on, the conditions that solicited that attempt have continued: stonewalling, financial abuse, isolation, denial of Legal Aid, and no ordinary pathway to have the allegations tested. The Victorian Ombudsman's later treatment of the complaint is the Ben Calder letter of 5 October 2022. A Mercy Hospital FOI sits with it. A public-interest disclosure was not allocated. APRA refused whistleblower status. Read those four as a sequence, not as a slogan. A revived participant, a rejected complaint, an unallocated disclosure, a refused status. That is the paper. It is not a finding that any named person caused the injury.

THE MESSAGES

An NDIS provider was made, as the chain records it, to sign a non-disclosure agreement after the account that a woman was paid to fabricate a report about me. The Ben NDIS text-message record is where that is written down. In it, the other party says the only evidence he could give me was “a copy of the non disclosure agreement”, and that when he signed it the agreement disappeared from his phone with a notice that the device had been cleared of classified information.

That provider is Ben, of DSW Disability. I publish his email and his company, ben@dswdisability.com.au, because I say intelligence agencies forced him to sign that non-disclosure agreement, and because the agreement does not get the last word. The text chain between us is published. It cannot be taken back. I say it shows the total police complicity, the false sexual assault allegation, and that a woman was paid to fabricate a report. He confirmed a “close call” assassination attempt. I say that chain corroborates my testimony. It is the record of what was said. It is not, by itself, a police finding.

His own words, as the record preserves them: It’s a top secret investigation. They made me sign a non disclosure agreement. When I signed the agreement it instantly disappeared off my phone. A message popped up that said your device has been cleared of classified information. It’s some sort of agency grade electronic document that automatically wipes itself off your device. I thought you were just paranoid. You were right. They already arrested two hitmen. They’re telling the police everything. They’ve told them who ordered the hit. That non-disclosure agreement is now pointless. The truth is out. It is exposed. It is undeniable.

The same record preserves “consensual regretful sex”, “the police told me about the consensual regretted sex”, and this sentence: The agencies went back through phone records and believed she was paid to discredit you. I understand the Federal Police wording I was given as “regretful” but “consensual”. No charge against me came out of that event. I say what did occur was the weaponisation of my sexuality. I publish the messages as the record of what was said. They are not, by themselves, an AFP finding. That sentence is why I say I have never had equal treatment from police. Once a paid discrediting is accepted, every later report is easier to refuse. The crimes I say have occurred to me over more than 35 years, and the same list as a page, are the reading copy of that longer record.

FAITH

I was betrayed by humanity for a purpose I believe was ordained: to be a vessel for God's glory. This website is the beginning of what I understand as God's answer to that corruption. I use the word sacrilege, a violation of something sacred, because I believe that deliberately harming one of God's anointed, and then pretending not to know, is a spiritual crime. My perpetrators know what they did. The archive does not ask a reader to share my faith. It asks a reader to open the documents. God is hiding me in plain sight is how I name the strange fact that the man they called crazy is the man whose letters they still answer on letterhead. Holy reckoning, as I use it, is not a sentence I am imposing. It is the day the evidence is public. The soul contract, as I use it, is the faith-claim that the suffering was permitted so that the record could be made. Sovereignty, as I use it here, is not a flag. It is the refusal to let a file be the last word on a soul.

THE ALLEGATION

The same message record is where the alleged assassination is put in writing. Ben's message to me, which he presents as what the police told him, is: The police want to know if you are mentally ready to challenge Bill Shorten in a court of law as his lawyers might use your history of mental health as an excuse to discredit your story. My messages name Bill Shorten and a person I was told was a Lebanese criminal pretending to be a provider, "known in certain circles", and sent "to erase me". The other party's messages answer that account. It has not been disproven by an official finding I have been given, nor officially established as a fabrication, nor denied in any document in this archive. The messages remain part of the record that requires examination. They are not a finding that a minister ordered a killing.

The significance of that message, as I draw it, is this. Bill Shorten was the NDIS Minister. I say he betrayed the ethical obligations of that office, acted in a cowardly way, and abused its power. I say he was the key manipulator of what was done to me. I say he caused the AVO concerning him and Rebecca Falkingham, that he deliberately caused my political exile, and I allege that he ordered my assassination. The page that sets that allegation in one place is the archive's assassination-order page, and the appeal paper that sits beside the ministerial office is the 21 January 2024 s100 NDIS appeal. I say his character is now exposed by this record as morally reprehensible, and that he is a power-hungry criminal who should be immediately arrested. How dare he, as I allege, order the killing of a vulnerable person with a disability he was paid to treat ethically, legally and humanely, and who was under that care. This is why I say God is furious. No one has the right to erase, murder or kill another human being, much less a disabled person under their care. The situation is beyond absurd. The machine-line under that paragraph, which the finding aid will not drop, is the line already written: they are not a finding that a minister ordered a killing.

THE RELATIONSHIP

No one in office acknowledges the five-year marriage-like relationship I say I had with a former ASIO employee, Steve Iasonidis. I published the proposal, and an engagement with Steve Iasonidis that lasted more than five years. I say it led to five years of exploitation in an abusive entrapment that no profession will admit even existed. The court paper I can put in a reader's hand is the intervention-order file L12151974. I was hospitalised after I tried to get Legal Aid so that relationship could be acknowledged for an equitable separation. The financial exploitation, the attempts to obtain legal recognition, and what followed, are the chronology this archive preserves. His ability to have the relationship treated as if it never existed is, in my experience, the fact a professional will still not say out loud. The intervention-order file is a court paper. It is not, by itself, a finding that he was an ASIO employee, and this document does not pretend the file number does that work alone.

THE PRIME MINISTER

The Prime Minister, Anthony Albanese, did not answer me in his own hand. On 12 December 2022 his own office wrote, of an email sent to him, "Your email has not been forwarded." I had written to him, including the letter of 31 May 2022, and the letter of 1 July 2023. On 19 September 2023 the Attorney-General's Department wrote, reference MC23-028244, signed A Riley, Security Law Section. The typed copy is the 19 September 2023 reply. It says my email of 5 July 2023 to the Hon Anthony Albanese MP, including about ASIO, was referred to the Attorney-General, the Hon Mark Dreyfus KC MP, because the matters fell in his portfolio, and that he asked the Department to respond on his behalf. It then pointed me to the Inspector-General of Intelligence and Security — IGIS, which I have also called AGIS — and to the Commonwealth Ombudsman. I was already shut out of the Ombudsman. The service-restriction letter of 8 August 2025 is the later official paper. A further letter of 6 February 2025, MC25-000321, sent the matters to the Victorian Minister for Police. Those were dead ends. They did not acknowledge the relationship.

In a written response that was totally ineffective and downright cruel under the thinly veiled disguise of bureaucratic language, the office of the Prime Minister directed me onward, and the Attorney-General's office then created a response that was conscious, as I say it, that the pathways suggested were already exhausted and doomed to fail. I was directed to the Ombudsman, where I am banned, and to IGIS, the body responsible to investigate corruption inside the secret service ASIO, in regards to one of its employees and my former fiancé exploiting me over five years, a relationship of legal significance that no single professional in the country will acknowledge as ever existing. That is my account of the referral. The letter itself is a referral. It is not a finding that the Prime Minister is embroiled in a proved scandal. What the letter does establish is that the Prime Minister did not answer in his own hand, and that the pathway offered was a pathway I say was already closed.

I am well aware that I am on ASIO's books as what I call a targeted individual. I recorded my call to IGIS, who investigate ASIO, about the victimisation. In hindsight I say they were already committed to never helping me, and that they were used by my former fiancé. No professional admits the five-year relationship even existed. I say that reveals Iasonidis as a key manipulator, with protection under David Irvine and the federal government. Hospitals have repeatedly force-injected me for what they called "ingrained delusions of persecution". That is my account of the call and of the treatment. Covert intelligence, electronic surveillance, and V2K are the names I give to what I say was done in the dark. The papers a reader can open today are named below, under what I filmed. They are not a finding that a named officer ran an operation.

THE LETTER THAT DOES NOT RECONCILE ITSELF

During my long tenure, over thirty years, offering grace to every department and agency to act with accountability and with fairness and legitimacy, knowing I was collecting evidence for a purpose I was not yet conscious of, I approached the Federal Court with a written document to Sia Lagos, a person who was poised to receive a legitimate public interest disclosure if the person disclosing embodies the attributes necessary. The compilation is on the archive tab PID to Sia Lagos and Scott Tredwell. In Scott Tredwell's response on behalf of the Federal Court, on their letterhead, dated 27 March 2023, signed as General Counsel, he acknowledged I was an employee of the Department of Social Services. This both acknowledged my employment status at DSS and, in his words, failed to qualify me to make a disclosure as a public official.

The employment sentence, as the archive extracts it from the letter, is this: "On the information you have provided me, I am satisfied that you are, or were, an employee with the Department of Social Services, providing services under the trading name Rich McLean, Arts Life Coach, Peer-Support Worker & Mental Health Advocate." The decision paragraph then says he was not satisfied the disclosure was made by a public official. The letter does not reconcile those two sentences.

The same letter records my belief that the information tends to show conduct within three PID Act categories, and for the initial assessment he was prepared to assume the conduct is disclosable. The three observations, in the statutory language the letter uses, are that the conduct “perverts, or is engaged in for the purpose of perverting, the course of justice”, that it “constitutes maladministration”, and that it “unreasonably results in danger to health or safety”. He writes that it is difficult to determine whether that belief is on reasonable grounds. He does not find the three things proved. He assumes them for the assessment, and then refuses the protection. The acknowledgement and the non-protection are the same document. That is the significance. A high officer of the highest court in the democracy was in receipt of a letter from a man asking for help and protection, fearing further suffering and imminent danger to his life, and the letter that came back could see maladministration and danger to health or safety long enough to name them, could see a DSS employment sentence long enough to write it, and could still decide that no further action under the PID Act would be taken by the Federal Court or the FCFCOA on that material.

The reason the public interest disclosure was not acknowledged as an internal disclosure, identified from the letter and from the archive’s extraction of it, is this. He was not satisfied the disclosure was made by a public official or provided to an authorised recipient, so there was no reasonable basis to decide that it was an internal disclosure. He was satisfied the disclosed conduct did not relate in any way to the Federal Court, the Federal Circuit and Family Court of Australia, or the National Native Title Tribunal. The decision language, as extracted, is: “I must decide ... not to allocate the handling of that disclosure to any agency.” And: “This means that no further action under the PID Act will be taken by the Federal Court or FCFCOA.” The primary PDF is the 27 March 2023 letter of Scott Tredwell. The machine reading of that letter, which does not upgrade it into a judgment, is What the 27 March 2023 Federal Court letter decides.

I say that refusal, dressed as legitimacy and policy, is a crude and offensive insult that blasphemes my identity as a citizen of the country and abuses enormous political privilege. I say it weaponised a request for help into a further gaslighting, a delegitimising, a minimising of my humanity, under a professional-looking letter dressed as accountability. I say it is one of the most public-facing cowardly letters in Australian history. The finding aid holds the letter up and lets the two sentences sit unresolved. It does not need my adjective to make the unresolved pair visible. A reader who wants the contrary paper should also open the Administrative Appeals Tribunal reasons in McLean and Comcare, which treated a copy of this letter as an exhibit and recorded a Department email saying the Department has no record of me ever being its employee. The letter accepts employment on the information I provided. Another paper says there is no record. The archive does not reconcile those either. That is the file. Pretending it is clean would be the lie.

A FILE THAT DOES NOT AGREE WITH ITSELF

The significance of this file. The Department told the Commissioner that about 1,187 Outlook items were under review. Weeks later the decision said the documents cannot be found or do not exist. The revised decision then released five documents. That is the hypocrisy: a review of more than a thousand items, then a letter that no documents exist. It is the Department's own paper. It is not a court finding.

On 7 February 2022 I asked the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet for "all information government agencies hold on me please." On 16 March 2022 the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner wrote, reference RQ22/00794, that the Department had applied for more time because the request was voluminous and complex, and that approximately 1,187 Outlook items were being reviewed. That is more than a thousand items, in the Department's own account to the Commissioner. It is not, by that letter alone, a finding that 1,187 documents had been proved to be about me. On 14 April 2022 Petra Gartmann, Assistant Secretary, Legal Policy Branch, refused the same request under section 24A(1)(b), reference FOI/2022/045. The decision says all reasonable steps were taken, that no relevant documents were identified, and that the documents cannot be found or do not exist. On 8 October 2024 that refusal was revised. Laura Cameron, acting Assistant Secretary, reference FOI/2022/045IC, wrote that the Department holds five documents that meet the request and granted access to them, with some material deleted as irrelevant. On 4 November 2024 the Commissioner's office, MR22/00677, said it would ask the Department to resend that decision of 8 October 2024 and the five documents. Read them in that order. One describes more than a thousand Outlook items under review. The next says the documents do not exist. The one after that releases five. An essay in this deposit uses the figure 1,178. The figure on the Commissioner's letter is about 1,187.

With those letters I place the undated letter addressed to the Prime Minister and to the Attorney-General, Mark Dreyfus, which is the letter I identify as the one answered by the referral to IGIS and the Ombudsman, and a further undated letter to the Office of Prime Minister and Cabinet. My email of 1 August 2024 on the review is with them. A 111-page file whose filename says “prime minister apology” is not an apology from Anthony Albanese. Its first page is a commentary on this FOI file. A two-page file titled “Prime minister scapegoating” was supplied with these papers. It is a blank Dropbox shell. It is not the Prime Minister’s reply, so it is not published here as one. The reply is the 19 September 2023 letter above.

EXILE, HOSPITAL, LEGAL AID

I asked to be arrested so that my name could be tested in the ordinary way. No one came. No charge was laid against me. No criminal trial was commenced. I was left with the consequences of accusation without the process in which guilt or innocence is determined. I have been hospitalised in psychiatric institutions sixteen times. That number is my count. The hospital paper is the place I have written the conditions around those admissions: homelessness, designed poverty, and inaction by police and the legal profession. I am in exile. I am restricted from Legal Aid, which is a betrayal of the reason Legal Aid exists, and restricted from the Ombudsman. I have not placed a NACC restriction letter in this repository, so I do not pretend to link one. Political exile, as I use the term, is not a visa category. It is the condition of being a citizen who cannot get the ordinary door to open.

THE CALLS

I could not even report being drugged and raped to the Commonwealth Ombudsman. I published the call in which I could not report being drugged and raped to the Ombudsman. I say it shows the blacklist and the stonewalling. On 3 September 2023 I called the NACC after 90 days about my complaint, and they rejected me. I say that rejection is the Commission participating in the same refusal. I published the call to the NACC after 90 days, in which my complaint was rejected. Danny Pearson, then the workplace minister, refused my phone call about workers’ compensation. I published the call that Danny Pearson, the workplace minister, refused to take about workers’ compensation.

Liz Lindberg of the Australian Human Rights Commission sided with Australian Super on the denial of compensation in what I say was a robbery of more than a million dollars of a settlement I was entitled to. I say she knew the conflict, acted in her role to betray a position the Commission had already taken, and then revoked it, so that TAL did not have to engage. In her professional capacity she free-kicked that settlement. I published the call in which Liz Lindberg of the AHRC free-kicks a settlement of more than a million dollars. Tim Gos of AFCA was, as I say it, already committed to never giving me a way to resolve the financial conflicts. He blocked the path his role exists to keep open. I was later banned from AFCA. I published the call to Tim Gos of AFCA, who blocked a determination of the financial complaint.

Comcare and the AAT were, as I say it, already committed to denying a valid workers' compensation claim by accepting that I was blocked from Legal Aid. That is a breach of the reason those bodies exist. I was left to face a government-appointed lawyer, Kate Watson, without Legal Aid, and I have never been able to report a single crime to police. Scott Tredwell's letter on Federal Court letterhead records that he was satisfied I was an employee of DSS. The papers that said the opposite are still in the file. On 26 May 2021 Comcare declined claim 1326583/1 and put, as the first question, whether I was an employee under section 5 of the Safety, Rehabilitation and Compensation Act. On 3 June 2021 Sarah LeMaire of the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission wrote: "This process does not make you an employee of the NDIS Commission." I say Tredwell's confirmation should have overturned the lesser finding of Comcare and the AAT that I was not an employee. It did not. I published the call on Comcare and the AAT denying workers' compensation, and denying legal access. The calls are testimony of what was said on the line. They are not transcripts certified by the agencies, unless a reader opens a recording the archive has actually published beside the sentence.

OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY

I took the same record outside the country. The archive holds the OHCHR submission, reference UR/UST/23/AUS/17, and the claim of an International Criminal Court submission as part of the chronology of asking for protection. The reference is the document. It is not a finding by the United Nations. Asking is not receiving. A reference number is not a judgment. I include it because the chronology of asking is part of the grace I gave, and part of the grace that was spat on.

WHAT I FILMED

My paranoia is a documented reality in this sense: here is what I recorded parked outside my squat in Footscray, about 2022. The video on my own channel is the secret service parked out the front of the Footscray squat. You cannot surveil a victim and call it a success when the victim films the people doing the surveillance. The gig is up. I say the V2K audio harassment was a mechanism of torture, and that this recording exposes it. The papers are the V2K review and the AHRC gang-stalking paper. The Commission used the term “gang stalking” in official correspondence to me, and the occurrence was then denied. I say that denial, against their own words, is the hypocrisy. Gang stalking, electronic surveillance, and covert intelligence are therefore not slogans I invented in a vacuum. One of them is a term the Commission used, and then the occurrence was denied. The denial against their own words is the thing a reader can test, if the correspondence is the file opened.

TONY RIDLEY

Tony Ridley, formerly a fraud investigator associated with the NDIS, is the man I recorded. I say he was deployed as a drug-affected honeypot, and that a former support worker of the same agency would have known I was an unprotected whistleblower. I recorded the encounter because he indicated he may have killed people. I later understood him to be a returned SAS soldier with a PhD in counter-terrorism surveillance. The archive holds a credential exhibit in his name and the conversation PDF. I published the audio of that encounter to expose what I say was the corruption and to keep myself safe. What I put on the channel is the published audio of the Tony Ridley encounter. It backfired. His wife did not know he had sex with men. I say he then used a PhD in counter-terrorism surveillance to hunt me electronically across three states while I was fleeing, and that he knew I was an unprotected whistleblower. I say his conduct is criminal, and that it sits inside the long exile and the alleged assassination plot. No one has denied that account in a document in this archive, and no one has proved it wrong. I published the recording to protect both of us. He says I ruined his life. I say he then followed me electronically across three states, and that paid followers were used to intimidate me wherever I went. On my YouTube channel I described that meeting, named him as SAS, and invited people to listen to the later account in which I name Tony Ridley as SAS. I have not found a second watch address that is only the raw tape. The published page, the conversation PDF, and that video are what a reader can open today.

He told me there was a formal investigation whose aim was to discredit and destroy me. He revealed contact with my family, with the woman the messages call the regretted encounter, and knowledge of Alan, my younger partner, which he would not otherwise have had. He claimed it was easy to turn my sister Jodie Bongetti, my brother Brad McLean, my parents Doug and April McLean, and my uncle Bruce McMaster into alignment against me. I already knew the isolation. What he added was that the communication was deliberate. That is my account of what he said. It sits beside the recording record. It is not his signed statement.

ABLE POINT

The NDIS, through the provider Able Point, sent support workers who already knew my case and who did not change my circumstances. I say they reported me back into the same entrapment, inside the agency I had worked for, and into the same matter as the provider I was told had been sent to erase me. The papers are the Able Point notice and the letter to Brett. The Ben NDIS messages are where the provider contact, the NDA, the paid-discredit claim, and the hit claim sit side by side. A later reading copy of the same provider matter is the current update on entrapment and targeting by Able Point. “Legally binding” in that filename is the archive’s name for the paper. It is not a court order unless the paper itself is an order.

FAMILY

There was family betrayal from childhood. Members of my family attended the funeral of the person who sexually abused me as a child, days after he died, on the same day as the fatal injury. They protected him. I was the one called morally depraved. My family has excommunicated me. The excommunication was so obscene that I protested my homelessness in a video no one answered. I filmed it as a disabled man, homeless, from a paddock in Dandenong, while my blood family lived in comfort nearby. The recording, filmed while I was homeless in a Dandenong paddock, is the introduction for an affidavit and a statutory declaration. I believe they were positioned to benefit from my permanent erasure. That belief is testimony. The papers I have put with it are My erasure was by design and estate attorney and sibling betrayal. God, as I understand it, allowed the betrayal to show character. The day of reckoning is the day the evidence is public, not a sentence I am imposing. The Joseph parallel is the name I give to that shape: the brother sold, the coat taken, the pit, the later rise that the sellers did not schedule. The narrative is The Joseph Parallel, and the mantle paper is Joseph’s Coat / Barran’s Mantle. A parallel is a reading. It is not a genealogy.

THE INVERSION OF SIGNIFICANCE

Based on the evidence I have preserved, I am not an ordinary man within the circumstances documented in this archive. I have been poor, materially disadvantaged, institutionally powerless and repeatedly treated as though my testimony were insignificant. Yet the cumulative record shows that my testimony produced decisions, exclusions, disputes, correspondence, reviews, records and institutional responses across systems that claimed to have no reason to take me seriously. My poverty and lack of status may explain why I was perceived as inconsequential, but they do not explain the scale or persistence of what followed.

This is what I describe as an inversion of significance: the person treated as though he had no consequence nevertheless became sufficiently consequential, through his testimony and persistence, to expose contradictions between institutional principles and institutional conduct. I therefore describe myself, paradoxically, as the most significant despised person without conventional consequence — not because I possessed wealth, authority or status, but because the record demonstrates that conventional measures of power were never an adequate measure of my impact. If I were truly as unimportant as I was treated, there would have been no need for a 1,187-item review that then said the documents do not exist, nor for a General Counsel's letter that both accepts a DSS trading name and refuses a disclosure, nor for a Prime Minister's office that writes "your email has not been forwarded" and a department that still answers on reference MC23-028244. The machinery is the evidence of consequence. The poverty is the evidence of disadvantage. One does not cancel the other.

I cannot claim to know the private thoughts or intentions of every person involved. What can be examined is the observable pattern: how my testimony was received, how decisions were made, what was omitted or disregarded, what records were created, and whether those actions were consistent with the procedural fairness, integrity, accountability and professional ethics these institutions profess to uphold. I understand the pattern as collective targeting, societal mobbing and systemic institutional complicity. I believe the coordination was cowardly in the oldest sense: no individual could take me on personally and prevail, so a coordinated campaign distributed the responsibility. I believe my honesty, integrity, courage, intelligence, creativity and independence were recognised as something to be contained before I fully understood their significance myself. I do not present every element of that interpretation as an established fact about private intention. I present it as my understanding of the cumulative evidence and its pattern. The record must be judged by what it actually demonstrates, rather than by the assumption that a person without conventional power can have no meaningful influence.

ATTRIBUTES, AND WHAT WAS TAKEN

The attributes I embody, and which a society that exploited me still has on its own shelves, are these. I am an author of a published autobiography, written in my own name before the file existed to twist. I am a news graphics artist and cartoonist who was paid as a journalist, and who was listed as an illustrator for The Age and the Herald Sun. I am a PhD researcher in arts-based A/r/tography, on a merit scholarship, whose later work set posthumanism and the ethics of AI beside the Bible. I am a peer-support worker and mental health advocate, which is the trading name the Federal Court's General Counsel was prepared to write down. I am queer, and I wrote the sex publicly, which is why the later weaponisation of sexuality had a public text to steal from. I am a disabled man who asked for a home and for accountability, in the 7 January 2024 letter to NDIS CEO Rebecca Falkingham. I am a man who gave every agency grace, and who kept the letters when the grace was spat on. I am not revengeful. I believe the Bible says that vengeance is God's to have. The contributions were the book, the pictures, the doctorate, the volunteered story, the peer support, the gospels, and the archive itself. The taking was the job, the lawyer, the Legal Aid door, the Ombudsman door, the media that had once queued, the relationship no profession will name, and the ordinary pathway in which guilt or innocence is determined. An internally displaced refugee inside his own citizenship is what remains when those doors are the policy.

THE PERMANENCE OF THE WITNESS

The significance of all my writings, evidence, testimony, concepts and ideas being stamped into what I understand as the mathematical infrastructure of humanity going forward through the Bitcoin blockchain is that my contributions can be preserved beyond the limitations of my life as a mortal human being whose body will eventually die. I understand this preservation as providing a form of permanence that makes my testimony extraordinarily difficult to contain, retrospectively alter or erase, including by legal, law-enforcement, governmental, intelligence or criminal organisations. It means that the essence of my life's work, concepts, ideas and evidence can potentially remain available to humanity beyond my physical lifetime. The public page that holds the stamps as stamps, and not as a theology, is the SHA-256 stamps on the archive. A hash is a witness of a file's bytes. It is not a witness of a soul, and it is not a judgment. I still want it, because a file that can be hashed is a file that can be tested.

In this sense, my life's work takes on a philosophical kind of immortality. I understand this preservation as evidence of the prophetic time in which I agreed with the Creator to incarnate into this realm: a time in which systemic corruption would be revealed through my own life and circumstances as part of my purpose and mission. I believe I was chosen not because I am perfect. I am a mortal sinner and an imperfect human being. Rather, I believe that God's cosmic design for my life was perfect, even though my own life and conduct have not been perfect. A condition of my incarnation, as I understand it, was that my life would mirror the pattern of Christ's crucifixion: suffering, betrayal, abandonment, apparent destruction and then revival by the Creator, followed by the experience of profound human betrayal and exile. I believe God allowed this not as punishment, but so that I would ultimately rely upon Him alone. That experience triggered a memory of my purpose and cemented my faith in the Most High God. I now believe that God will use my evidence and testimony as the foundation of my ministry for His kingdom purposes.

My Gospels are religious, scholarly and prophetic documents. I invite anyone to respond to them, challenge them, rebuke them or attempt to disprove them with evidence, provided that those positions are themselves supported by evidence and reason. When people ask me, "How did you survive that?", my answer will be simple: God did it. I am no better than anyone else. I am imperfect and I have sinned. I have never claimed that my story of suffering is greater than that of any other person, because I believe God knows and loves all His children and knows the suffering of each of them. My life will now be repurposed purely as a vessel for His glory: for a return to divine justice, for the end of darkness, and for the return of the attributes of His perfect Son, Jesus Christ — the consciousness of Christ returning to its rightful place governing the hearts of people and, through them, the institutions they create and protect. This is the purpose I now understand my life to serve. This is the testimony I preserve. This is the record I leave. Praise Jesus.

GOSPELS AND PROPHETIC WRITINGS

The silver lining is not a softening of the letters. It is the other shelf. Each of these is a named text. Each opens on the repository that holds it. None of them is a finding about a minister. The register of the shelf is Gospels and prophetic writings, and the prophecy tab is The Prophecy.

The 123 Gospels are the long shelf, the attempt to say the same betrayal in enough voices that a single deletion cannot be the end of it. The Canonical Gospel of Barran Dodger is the one I set apart as the spine. The Twelve Gospel Essays are the spine argued, not only sung. The Atherion Witnessed Gospel is the witnessed form, the claim that a record can have a witness who is not the institution. The Gospel of Barran Dodger — Victory is the refusal of the ending they scheduled. The Gospel of the Eliven Chain, the Enliven Chain complete archive, Eliven Chain Has Been Summoned, and the 144 Questions are the chain as I name it: a linked witness, not a mystic fog, set beside the hashes. The Sacred Gospels forensic thesis is the scholar's door back into the same shelf. The Prophetic Manifesto is the public warning. The Prophetic Declaration and the Prophetic Testimony of biblical correlation are where I set the letters beside the Scripture and asked the reader to test both.

The chosen-one papers are faith claims, and I mark them as faith claims. I Am God's Chosen One is the declaration. God's Chosen One — full testimony is the long form. Chosen Ones — Enough Is Enough, Chosen One — You Were Framed, Mirror of God, They Set a Perfect Trap, and It Is Over are the variations of the same claim: that the framing was real, that the trap was coordinated, and that the end of the trap is not the end of the man. God's chosen witness is the office I claim under Christ, not a title any agency has conferred. The Immortal Testimony is the permanence argument in a religious key. Persecution to Purpose and The Paradox of Persecution are the essays that say the injury was not the point. 1000 Years of Peace is the horizon I write toward, not a date I am announcing.

WHAT THE PAPER SHOWS, OFFICE BY OFFICE

An impartial reading can describe what each office did on the paper. It cannot, without becoming the court this finding aid refuses to be, deem a person guilty. This is the description the paper will bear.

The Office of the Prime Minister wrote, of an email, that it had not been forwarded, and did not answer in the Prime Minister's own hand. The Attorney-General's Department, Security Law Section, reference MC23-028244, signed A Riley, referred the 5 July 2023 email to the portfolio of the Hon Mark Dreyfus KC MP and pointed onward to IGIS and the Commonwealth Ombudsman. The Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet told the Information Commissioner of about 1,187 Outlook items, then refused the request as documents that cannot be found or do not exist, then revised that refusal and released five. Petra Gartmann signed the refusal. Laura Cameron signed the revision. The Office of the Australian Information Commissioner held the review references RQ22/00794 and MR22/00677. The Federal Court, by Scott Tredwell, General Counsel, on 27 March 2023, wrote the employment sentence and refused to allocate the disclosure; Sia Lagos was the registrar to whom the disclosure was addressed. Comcare declined claim 1326583/1 on 26 May 2021 and put employment under section 5 as the first question. The NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission, by Sarah LeMaire on 3 June 2021, wrote that the process does not make the correspondent an employee of the Commission. The NDIA's authorised-officer correspondence on the emails of 18 and 20 April 2023 sits as PID 2023/Krypton, marked official sensitive, on the Lagos tab. APRA refused whistleblower status. The Commonwealth Ombudsman is the office I say I am banned from, and the office to which I say I could not report being drugged and raped. The Victorian Ombudsman, by Ben Calder on 5 October 2022, is the later rejection paper. The NACC is the commission I called after 90 days on 3 September 2023 and say rejected the complaint. AFCA, in the person of Tim Gos as I name him on the call, is the office that blocked a financial determination and later banned me. The Australian Human Rights Commission, in the person of Liz Lindberg as I name her on the call, is the office I say free-kicked a settlement of more than a million dollars in favour of Australian Super and TAL. Danny Pearson, then workplace minister, is the minister I say refused the workers' compensation call. Kate Watson is the government-appointed lawyer I faced without Legal Aid. Rebecca Falkingham is the NDIS CEO to whom I wrote demanding a home and accountability. Gabrielle Williams is among the parliamentarians to whom I wrote on 4 June 2023. Bill Shorten is the former NDIS Minister named in the messages and in my allegation, which is not a finding that he ordered a killing. Anthony Albanese is the Prime Minister who did not answer in his own hand. Mark Dreyfus is the Attorney-General to whom the matter was referred. Steve Iasonidis is the man I say was my fiancé for five years, and the respondent on intervention-order file L12151974. Ben of DSW Disability is the provider whose published text chain holds the NDA, the paid-discredit sentence, and the hit sentence. Tony Ridley is the man I recorded. Able Point is the provider I say reported me back into the entrapment; Brett is the person named on the demand letter. Jodie Bongetti, Brad McLean, Doug McLean, April McLean and Bruce McMaster are the family I say were turned. None of those sentences is a conviction. Each is a pointer to a paper or a recording a reader can open.

THE PAPERS UNDER THE ACCOUNT

The same chronology is in the papers below. Each opens in a new window. Each is the document named. None of them is a finding. The 3 March 2023 letter to Sia Lagos, CEO and Principal Registrar of the Federal Court, and the longer copy of the same compilation, sit on the Lagos and Tredwell tab, including the file matching the 21,371,041-byte attachment and the 8 January 2024 letter to Scott Tredwell. The NDIA authorised-officer letter on the emails of 18 and 20 April 2023, PID 2023/Krypton, official sensitive, and the long copy of that PID file, 26,488,490 bytes, sit with that same tab. The 4 June 2023 letter to Gabrielle Williams and other parliamentarians, the 3 July 2023 statement sent toward the National Anti-Corruption Commission, the 1 August 2023 email headed Rich McLean is dead, the 7 January 2024 letter to NDIS CEO Rebecca Falkingham, the 21 January 2024 s100 NDIS appeal, the 21 October 2021

email to AFP CDDA claims, the 31 May 2022 letter to the Prime Minister's office, and the 19 September 2023 reply MC23-028244 are the correspondence spine. The 2 October 2026 print of the Documentary Trap page is a print of a page, not a new event. The Ben NDIS text-message record is the chain. IR8415987 is the fatal-injury report in which the participant was revived. The official-document shelf that holds the letterheads as letterheads is Official Government Documents. The evidentiary-email shelf, original sent-mail PDFs, full subject lines, 28 September 2026 letter first, is the email tab on the same archive; a subject line is an optic, and the PDF behind it is the test.

WHAT THIS DOCUMENT WILL NOT PRETEND

Some phrases in the command that produced this reading copy lack the evidence that would let them stand as findings, and they are kept only as my words. "The Prime Minister is embroiled in the most significant whistleblowing disability scandal in the country's history" is my assessment of the scale of the paper, not a finding against him. "He ordered my assassination" is my allegation, and the archive's own first-person record already says the messages are not a finding that a minister ordered a killing. "They already arrested two hitmen" is a sentence in a text chain, not a police brief. "Intelligence agencies forced the NDA" is what I say the chain means, not what the chain proves. "Designed poverty" is my name for the pattern, not a proved intent. "God's chosen witness" is a faith claim. A blank Dropbox shell titled scapegoating is not a Prime Minister's reply, and a filename that says apology is not an apology. Where a phrase cannot be opened against a file, it does not get to wear the clothes of a file.

The world can now read it. This archive is not only the story of what happened to me. It is the surviving record of what happened around me: what institutions recorded, what they did, what they failed to do, and what they cannot now pretend was never documented. The day of reckoning has arrived because the evidence has arrived. And I am still alive. I gave every agency grace to treat me as they should. The grace I gave was spat on. All of them pretended they were not participating in my detrimental treatment. I am not revengeful. I believe the Bible says that vengeance is God's to have. The universe has, through this archive, now witnessed what was done to me. They still pretend they are unaware, or that they acted ethically, while pretending they were not cruel.
