Hi Richard,

Thank you for your email.

I am unable to provide any guidance, information or update regarding Commcare as it is separate to the Workcover scheme.

In regards to Workcover- sole trader's are not eligible to cover themselves for Workcover. It is generally recommended that sole trader's take out a income protection insurance due to ineligibility to apply for Workcover.

Please feel free to contact us if you need further clarification or to discuss your scenario. For more information please see the Worksafe website:
Contractors and workers guideline

Good afternoon Meg. (CC Slav)

Below is the email in which I asked if there was a 'block' with commcare - - who covers me for workcover?

The NDIA and NDIS have said I am not covered whatsoever, because I am a sole trader.

Therefore Commcare has rejected me outright.

In actual fact, I have a registered providers number as a therapeutic support for the NDIS to be a different type of therapy and to have provided the service I did.

Often, if it a PRODA managed client - the NIS directly pays me as I have a login and password. So-The NDIS is the statutory body that pays me.

Why then - is army from Commcare saying that I am not covered?

Because this has happened, I asked for legislative evidence I am NOT covered.

I expect this by tomorrow.

Should she provide that - and proves that I am not covered under the legislation - who, in fact, covers me for workcover as a sole trader?

I have it on record that ALL workers are covered.

Ps I have had income assist from HCF as private insurance - however, they have denied it outright, saying that 'stress' (or the condition that happened), is a 'mental illness' and this condition occurred preciously.

They have said that if I receive worker compensation for the same issue, then they will cover me.

So - if I did not have private health insurance (which I did but is denied outright (so far)), and I am a sole trader, who in fact, covers me for workcover?

Please treat this as URGENT

Thanks

Rich

Dear Commcare, the WorkSafe Advisory has suggested I forward
my claim on to Commcare

Could you please acknowledge this email and if necessary forward it to the relevant department.

Thanks in advance for attending to this and also I was just wondering if you could acknowledge this with a receipt and a turn around time.

Grateful for your time.

Kindly

Hello Richard,

Thank you for contacting the WorkSafe Advisory service.

With regards to your claim for worker's compensation, the employer noted on the claim form, NDIS/NDIA is not covered under the Victorian WorkCover scheme.

Being a federal agency, we advise lodging the claim with Comcare, the federal worker's compensation authority.

If you have any further questions, please contact WorkSafe Advisory on 1800 136 089, between 7:30am and 6:30pm, Monday to Friday.

Best regards,
Stuart.
