MASTER EXECUTION COMMAND — BARRAN DODGER DIGITAL PUBLISHING, WEBSITE MONETISATION AND IMMEDIATE FIRST SALE

AUTHOR: Dr Richard William McLean, writing and publishing as Dr Barran Dodger
PROJECT: THE WITNESS REMAINS — DR BARRAN DODGER
PRIORITY: IMMEDIATE IMPLEMENTATION OF A WORKING COMMERCIAL PUBLISHING SYSTEM
CURRENCY: Australian dollars (AUD)
OPERATING PRINCIPLE: PRESERVATION FIRST. IMPLEMENTATION SECOND. VERIFICATION THIRD. EXPANSION FOURTH.

1. EXECUTE THE PROJECT — DO NOT RETURN ANOTHER PROPOSAL

Begin the actual implementation of a legitimate digital publishing and sales operation across the author's existing websites.

The objective is to make existing original publications available for lawful purchase, payment and digital delivery as soon as practically possible.

Do not stop at an audit, a business plan, a hypothetical product catalogue, a suggested workflow, a list of payment providers or instructions for the author to execute manually.

Inspect the real repositories, locate the actual publications, identify the first sale-ready product, implement the necessary commercial pages, establish the available payment route and test the customer journey wherever access permits.

Use the available authorised tools and integrations. If an integration is unavailable, identify that specific limitation, complete all independent work that remains possible and provide the exact outstanding action.

Never claim to have edited, committed, published, deployed, activated, tested or sold anything unless the corresponding action has actually occurred and its result has been verified.

2. PROTECT THE EXISTING ARCHIVES

The commercial publishing layer must be an addition to the existing websites, never a replacement for the documentary archive.

Preserve the existing:

- Documentary archives and their historical architecture.
- Official government documents and registers.
- Personal testimony, original Gospels and spiritual writings.
- Existing books, PDFs, manuscripts and downloadable files.
- Source records, documentary links, chronology and research materials.
- SHA-256 hashes, Git commit history, timestamps and other preservation records.
- Existing website navigation, appearance and established content.
- Existing public access to source documents and freely available evidence.
- Existing financial project without modification.

Do not delete, rewrite, overwrite, rename, move or replace existing files unless a separately authorised change is strictly necessary and reversible.

Prefer adding new files, isolated styles, independent commercial pages and minimal navigation links.
Before modifying a repository, inspect its current state, identify the correct deployment branch and determine how the public website is generated. Preserve the original state and use a reversible change wherever possible.
If repository write access is unavailable, do not fabricate a commit or claim successful implementation.

3. AUTHORISED IMPLEMENTATION TARGETS

Primary implementation target:
https://wezzo72.github.io/barrandodger-rebuild/
Main archive:
https://wezzo72.github.io/Barrandodger/
Church of Barran Dodger:
https://wezzo72.github.io/-church-of-barran-dodger/

Official Government Documents Register:

Existing financial project — preserve without editing:
https://barran-dodger-finance.base44.app
Relevant repositories:
https://github.com/wezzo72/Barrandodger
https://github.com/wezzo72/barrandodger-rebuild https://github.com/wezzo72/pdf-archive https://github.com/wezzo72?tab=repositories https://github.com/drbarrandodger/barran-dodger-archive
Inspect the actual repositories and confirm their contents before assuming a file exists or a public website is deployed from a particular branch.

4. FIRST PRIORITY — FIND THE FIRST GENUINELY SALE-READY PUBLICATION

Search the existing repositories, website pages, publication directories and available source files.
Identify the publication that is most ready for lawful sale based on actual evidence of completeness, rights, file availability and production quality.
Do not select a product merely because its title sounds commercially attractive.
Investigate existing publications and manuscripts, including:

- The Gospel of the Love Chain.
- The Gospel of Barran Dodger.
- Recovered, Not Cured (2002).
- Betrayed, Murdered, Forsaken.
- The Architecture of Administrative Annihilation.
- Declaration of Sovereign Vindication, dated 6 June 2026.

- The Witness Remains — The Paradox of Survival.
- They Could Not Erase What God Preserved, including its six intended parts.
- Other original books, Gospels, declarations, essays, research papers and long-form manuscripts.
- Existing digital books, publication PDFs and complete authorised compilations.

These titles are discovery priorities, not proof that a complete source file or commercially distributable edition exists.

For each candidate, verify the actual file, inspect its contents, determine whether it is complete, check the author attribution and assess whether the author has the necessary rights to sell it.

Where practical, check the document's page count, word count, title page, contents, publication date, formatting and internal navigation.

Preserve original source files separately from newly formatted commercial editions.

If the existing work is complete and suitable, use it rather than delaying the first sale while developing a new book.

If the source is incomplete, do not silently reconstruct missing sections or present a partial manuscript as a complete publication.

5. CREATE THE MINIMUM VIABLE COMMERCIAL PUBLISHING SYSTEM

Implement the following functional components.

A. Commercial catalogue

Create a dedicated Books & Digital Publications catalogue that clearly distinguishes paid editions from free archive resources.

Each actual available product must have a unique identifier, exact title, accurate description, author attribution, price, format and working product link.

B. Individual product page

Create a separate page for the first verified product.

The page must display:

- Exact publication title.
- Author name and attribution.
- Accurate description.
- What the purchaser receives.
- File format and verified length where practical.
- A genuine preview or sample if available.
- Price in Australian dollars.
- Clear purchase instructions.
- Seller identification and a customer-support contact route.
- Refund, delivery and other applicable customer terms.
- A real checkout destination.
- Accurate instructions for accessing the purchased file.

Do not publish placeholder products as if they were available for purchase.

C. Digital delivery

Configure automatic digital delivery through a suitable provider where possible.

If automatic delivery is unavailable, implement a documented, reliable alternative that does not expose paid files to unauthorised purchasers.

Verify that the purchaser can access the correct file after successful payment.
Do not use a public download link as proof of secure paid delivery.

D. Navigation

Add a clear Books & Digital Publications link to the appropriate existing website.
Add only the minimal navigation changes required. Preserve the existing archive's original structure and public documentary access.

E. Repeatable publishing process

Document how to add the next product using the same catalogue structure, pricing conventions, checkout setup and delivery process.

6. IMPLEMENT A REAL PAYMENT ROUTE

First inspect whether an existing authorised payment integration or product checkout is already available.
If no suitable integration exists, identify a hosted digital-product checkout or payment-link service that supports Australian sellers.
Prefer a service with transaction-based fees and no mandatory monthly subscription where practical.
Verify the provider's current:

- Australian seller eligibility.
- Transaction and processing fees.
- Currency support.
- Identity verification and payout requirements.
- Digital-product delivery features.
- Refund and dispute procedures.
- Customer receipts and payment confirmation.
- Terms applicable to the proposed products.

Do not assume a provider's eligibility, fee schedule or functionality without checking its current official documentation.
Do not spend the author's money, purchase a subscription, register a paid domain or activate a paid service without explicit authorisation.
Never expose secret keys, access tokens, payment credentials or private customer information in public HTML, JavaScript or a Git repository.
Never invent a payment URL, simulate a successful transaction or claim that a checkout is operational without evidence.
If the seller must complete identity verification or authorise the payment account, finish all independent implementation work first and state the precise remaining activation requirement.

7. MASTER ITEMISED PUBLICATION CATALOGUE

Create a master product register covering all eligible original works actually discovered.
The catalogue must be organised into the following categories.

A. Gospels and foundational spiritual writings

- The Gospel of the Love Chain.

- The Gospel of Barran Dodger.
- Other original Gospels.
- Foundational spiritual writings.
- Faith and survival testimony.
- Scriptural reflections relating to Luke 8:17 and Psalm 23.
- Writings concerning “no weapon shall prosper.”
- Kairos and spiritual-significance manuscripts.
- Verified Gospel collections.

Identify the exact source, edition, included text, format, completeness and publication status for each product.

B. Prophetic narratives and declarations

- They Could Not Erase What God Preserved, including all six parts where available.
- Declaration of Sovereign Vindication.
- The Witness Remains.
- The Witness Remains — The Paradox of Survival.
- Separately titled prophetic narratives.
- Prophetic papers and declarations.
- Declarations concerning dignity, sovereignty and survival.
- Faith, redemption and testimony collections.
- Related essays and commentaries.

Present spiritual writings and prophetic narratives as the author’s original writings, testimony, interpretations or beliefs as applicable. Do not represent spiritual claims, predictions or allegations as independently verified facts.

C. Books and long-form writing

- Recovered, Not Cured.
- Betrayed, Murdered, Forsaken.
- The Architecture of Administrative Annihilation.
- Other original books.
- Long-form manuscripts.
- Standalone essays and manifestos.
- Previously published or privately circulated digital books.
- Authorised compilations.
- Properly formatted reader’s editions.

Verify completeness and distribution rights before listing a product for sale.

D. Documentary and research publications

- Documentary research reports.
- Chronologies and source-linked historical narratives.
- Official-document research guides.
- Documentary finding aids.
- Forensic analysis reports.
- Digital preservation and verification guides.
- Research essays and source annotations.
- Public-record compilations with original source links.
- Research methodology and archival guides.

Do not charge for access to underlying public evidence merely because it appears in the archive. Paid products should offer original writing, analysis, annotation, organisation, formatting or other clearly identified value, while preserving existing free access to source materials wherever possible.

E. Collections and special editions

After individual publications are verified, consider:

- A complete available Gospel collection.
- A prophetic writings collection.
- A declarations and manifestos collection.
- A survival and testimony collection.
- A selected-books bundle.
- A documentary research collection.
- A digital preservation guide and companion documents.
- A multi-volume collection.
- A combined edition with a contents list and version history.

Never describe a collection as containing all the author's works unless that complete scope has actually been established.

F. Free samples and public resources

Where authorised material is available, provide useful free entry points:

- An introductory Gospel or sample chapter.
- A sample from a complete book.
- A selected prophetic narrative.
- A publication guide.
- A free archive finding aid.
- A guide to locating original records.
- A sample PDF demonstrating the format of a paid edition.

Clearly distinguish free downloads from paid editions and describe exactly what the customer receives for the listed price.

8. REQUIRED PRODUCT REGISTER

Maintain one authoritative product register. Use it to keep titles, prices, product links and publication status consistent.

Each product record must contain:

Field	Required information
Product ID	Unique, stable identifier
Exact title	Title recorded in the actual source
Author	Verified attribution
Category	Gospel, prophetic writing, book, research, collection or other

Source	Repository, path and original URL
Completeness	Complete, partial or unverified
Edition	Original, formatted or revised
File	Actual PDF, EPUB or other deliverable
Length	Verified page or word count where practical
Rights	Ownership and permissions review
Description	Accurate customer-facing copy
Preview	Sample or contents preview where feasible
Price	Amount and currency
Checkout	Verified destination or outstanding status
Delivery	Tested method or outstanding status
Publication status	Draft, prepared, published or unavailable

Never populate the register with invented files, fictional page counts, assumed permissions or placeholder products presented as available.

9. INTRODUCTORY PRICE SCHEDULE

Use these as proposed experimental prices, not as claims about established market value.

Product type	Proposed introductory

	price
Short digital essay or declaration	A$3.95
Substantial standalone digital writing	A$7.95
Complete Gospel or digital book	A$12.95
Longer collection or multi-part work	A$19.95
Larger curated bundle	A$29.95

Choose the price according to the actual product, length, quality, completeness, rights and reader value.
Calculate estimated proceeds using the selected provider's verified fee schedule.
Distinguish gross revenue from net proceeds and identify any assumptions.
Do not promise sales, income or financial outcomes.

10. CUSTOMER JOURNEY AND TESTING

For every published product, verify the complete sequence:
Discover → Read description → Preview → Purchase → Receive confirmation → Access the purchased file.
Where the provider offers test mode, test payment and delivery without conducting a live transaction.
Record each status separately:

- Source file exists.
- Source file has been inspected.
- Product is complete.
- Rights have been reviewed.
- Commercial edition exists.
- Product page exists.
- Checkout destination is valid.
- Seller account is activated.
- Payment processing has been tested.
- Digital delivery has been tested.
- Payout arrangements are confirmed.
- Public page is live.
- Live purchase pathway has been verified without making a live purchase.

Mark every untested item as unverified. Do not substitute assumptions for test results.

11. EXACT WEBSITE SCOPE

Apply the commercial layer to the verified repositories and deployed pages listed in Section 3.

Required additions:

- Books & Digital Publications destination.
- Separate catalogue page.
- Individual product pages.
- Actual downloadable commercial editions.
- Valid checkout destinations.
- Free Samples section where genuine samples exist.
- Support the Publishing Project destination only if a suitable contribution method can be verified.
- Cross-links between related publications where useful.
- Consistent customer-support and product information.
- A repeatable product-publication procedure.

Keep the original archive and official-document register freely accessible.

Do not redesign the archives, change their underlying purpose, remove historical material or modify the existing financial project.

Inspect first, make the smallest reversible change, verify the result, then proceed to the next change.

12. GITHUB ACCESS AND DEPLOYMENT

Use the authorised GitHub integration if available.

If repository write access is unavailable, identify the exact access limitation and complete all work that does not require that access.

Do not claim that a GitHub connector has connected unless its status confirms this.

Do not claim that files have been committed, pushed or deployed unless the corresponding operation succeeds.

For every actual change, record:

- Repository name.
- Branch.
- Files added or modified.
- Confirmation that original archive files were preserved.
- Commit identifier, if a commit was made.
- Deployment URL, if deployed.
- Actual verification result.

If a required account-level action remains, give the author one clear, precise next step after completing all independent work.

13. COPYRIGHT, PRIVACY AND CUSTOMER PROTECTION

Sell only material the author is authorised to distribute commercially.

Review third-party material, quotations, private records, personal information and documents that may require redaction or permission.

Do not bundle sensitive information merely because it is present in a public archive.

Preserve source links and attribution. Clearly distinguish original writing, quoted source material, documentary evidence, personal testimony, allegation, inference, interpretation and spiritual belief.

Provide accurate product descriptions, transparent prices, delivery terms and a genuine customer-support route. Address applicable Australian consumer and privacy requirements. Do not describe a product as legally cleared if the necessary review has not occurred.

14. FINAL IMPLEMENTATION REPORT

Report actual outcomes, not intentions.

A. Products

List exact titles, source files, downloadable editions, verified completeness and publication readiness.

B. Catalogue

Provide exact filenames, public URLs and deployment status.

C. Checkout

Identify the provider, verified checkout destination, seller activation status, test results and remaining requirements.

D. Pricing

List prices, verified fees, estimated proceeds and any costs requiring approval.

E. Preservation

Identify which original files were left untouched and record every authorised modification.

F. Deployment

Provide actual commit identifiers, deployment URLs and verification results where available.

G. Outstanding blocker

Identify the single most important remaining action preventing the system from accepting and fulfilling purchases.

H. First sale

Provide the direct product URL and state accurately whether a customer can currently purchase the publication, receive payment confirmation and obtain the product.
Do not label an untested or inactive sales pathway as working.

15. FINAL EXECUTION ORDER

1. Inspect the actual repositories and existing publishing pages.
2. Identify the most complete, authorised, sale-ready existing publication.
3. Validate the actual downloadable file.
4. Create the product page and catalogue entry.
5. Establish a real, authorised payment route.
6. Configure and test digital delivery.
7. Add the minimum necessary website navigation links.
8. Verify the deployed pages and purchase pathway.
9. Record actual implementation results and outstanding blockers.
10. Add subsequent publications using the same verified process.

PUBLISH THE WORK. CREATE THE PRODUCTS. IMPLEMENT THE CHECKOUT. ENABLE DIGITAL DELIVERY. MAKE THE FIRST LEGITIMATE SALE POSSIBLE. EXPAND THE CATALOGUE.

Preserve the existing websites and documentary record. Use actual source material.

Preserve original wording. Identify missing content. Respect copyright, privacy and consumer obligations. Verify every payment and delivery claim.
Complete everything permitted by the access and permissions actually available. Do not spend the author's money or activate paid subscriptions without permission. Where account verification or author action is unavoidable, complete all independent implementation first and explain the precise remaining step.
BEGIN EXECUTION NOW. THE OBJECTIVE IS A WORKING, VERIFIED COMMERCIAL PUBLICATION SYSTEM — NOT ANOTHER PROPOSAL ABOUT WHAT MIGHT BE DONE.

  <h1>Books for sale</h1>
  These three checkouts already exist on the Stripe account named www.barrandodger.com. This page does not create a new payment account. Card statements from that account use the descriptor BARRAN DODGER. A payment is not a finding. Buying a title does not unlock the public archive. The public record, including the gospel PDF linked below, stays free. Checked against the live Stripe payment links on 14 October 2026: each link is active, in Australian dollars, and ends on Stripe’s own confirmation page. None of these three links attaches a file or sends a private download. What the payer receives from Stripe is a receipt. If you need a file that is not already public, do not pay until a file is attached to the link.

  <h2>Source check, 14 October 2026</h2>
  The buttons below open the existing Stripe checkouts. They still do not send a file. A search of the GitHub repositories and Google Drive did not produce a complete manuscript that can honestly be attached to any of the three titles. <ul>
    <li>The Shrink. The file found is a Word extract of about 2,650 words.
Its own last lines say it is an extract from the book, and they point to an old Amazon and iBooks listing. It is not the complete book. It has not been turned into a paid file.</li> <li>A Splice of My Life. No manuscript PDF of that title was found in Drive. The archive still lists it in the research queue. A Victoria University thesis of a similar name is a separate academic deposit, not a file this shop is selling.</li>
```

Betrayed, Murdered, Forsaken. Drive holds several files with that title. The copies opened here are not a finished book: a 35-page synopsis, a 49-page draft that ends by asking for a further export, a 1,322-page compilation of letters and links, and a 4,064-page file named “Purchase Low Res” whose sampled pages are briefs and links, not a continuous typeset novel. None of those files is attached to the checkout, and none is published here.

Do not pay one of these checkouts if you need the book file. You would receive a Stripe receipt only. The public gospel PDF below remains free.

<h2>Books</h2>

<h2>List of titles</h2>

Only the two fixed A$15 titles can be listed together. One title opens its own Stripe page. Both titles open one Stripe page that already contains both prices. Betrayed, Murdered, Forsaken stays separate because the payer can change that amount. No link emails a file.

<h2>Free — public gospel and the archive</h2>
No gospel on this site is behind a payment. The preserved public file below is free. It is not the file sold by the three checkouts above.
Foundational Gospel — The Witness Remains (10 October 2026) — public PDF already in this repository. 59,532 bytes. A purchase above does not replace it and does not restrict it.
Evidence navigation guide — free. A link is not a finding.

<h2>Who is paid, and what a payment is not</h2>
The Stripe account taking these payments is www.barrandodger.com, a live Australian account with card payments and payouts switched on. This page does not print a bank account number. It does not say the payment is tax deductible. On 14 October 2026 the Australian Business Register listed ABN 78 833 496 164, The Trustee for www.barrandodger.com.au, as not entitled to receive tax-deductible gifts, and not registered for GST. Some of these Stripe links have Stripe Tax switched on. That is not a claim that GST is being remitted. Check the receipt.

  A payment does not buy a finding, a filing, legal representation, or a change to the archive.

  <h2>Refunds and a failed delivery</h2>
  These links do not deliver a private file. If you paid expecting a file, write to barrandodger@gmail.com — the address already printed on the support pathway — and ask for a refund. Stripe can refund a card charge. Australian Consumer Law may require a remedy where a digital product is not supplied as described. This sentence is not a legal opinion.
  Voluntary support without buying a title is on Fund the archive. Those buttons are contributions, not these books.

  <h2>Full file register</h2>
  11,825 document files were listed from the repositories named in data/publication-source-map.json. 6,078 are evidence or correspondence and are not for sale. 2,684 are tiny placeholder PDFs. 34 files had their openings read earlier. None of this pass produced a private edition or a new checkout. The free gospel stays free. The three existing payment buttons are unchanged.
  The writing-folder list is in PUBLICATION-INVENTORY.md.
  <h2>Opened and read</h2>
These titles were read from the start of the file in wezzo72/Barrandodger. They are already public. There is no separate paid edition and no purchase button. A search box below filters the titles on this page.
