BRIEF ID BD-BRIEF-2026-10-13

Evidence brief for review and compensation questions

Prepared from files actually opened in wezzo72/Barrandodger at commit a2ff83d. Written so a lawyer, advocate, or complaints body can use it. It is not a judgment, not legal advice, and not a finding of corrupt conduct.

This brief exists for one practical reason. A compensation or review file is accepted when every sentence can be opened and checked. It is refused, or it is used against the person who sent it, when a cover sheet states a conclusion the letters do not contain. The way to press the matter is to lead with the instruments, put the decisions that went against you on the table yourself, and ask only for the records that can still change a figure or a status.

Source report: https://github.com/wezzo72/Barrandodger/blob/main/reports/2026-10-13-documentary-forensic-audit.pdf (examination of a2ff83d3e38361fc67965a252f43966a9fdcf5ff). The full path inventory and the hash annexes are in that report. They are not repeated here. This brief does not open any new file.

1. What can be handed over today

These are decisions and figures a reviewer can read in the original. They are not a finding that anyone acted unlawfully.

What	Record	Use
Plan funding now	NDIA letter 20 November 2025, Angela R., participant 430938559. Plan 20 Nov 2025 to 19 Nov 2026. Total funding $366,406.69.	This is approved support, not damages and not money already paid. It is the one current figure in the opened set. Ask the Agency for the funding breakdown and the payment history. Do not describe the total as stolen or as a loss.
SDA and SIL refused	NDIA letter 1 June 2023, Kate P. Not eligible for SDA. Not suitable for SIL. Drop-in daily-living support described as suitable.	A refusal with stated reasons and a stated review path. The occupational therapy report it relies on (Amy Cavenett, 3 May 2023) was not opened. The letter's own internal-review period was three months after the plan containing the decision was approved. On the dates in the letters, that period has passed. Whether any other avenue remains is a legal question, not a fact in the file.
Provider registration ended	Trudy Tweedie, NDIS Commission, 28 October 2022. Registration ID 4-433J-962 refused. The letter says registration ended that day. A 30 June 2019 certificate shows the earlier registration.	This can support a loss-of-income question only if invoices, tax returns, or client records show income before 28 October 2022 and the drop after it. Those financial records were not opened. The refusal itself is not proof the income was taken by corrupt means.
FOI position moved	Petra Gartmann, 14 April 2022, refused FOI/2022/045 under s 24A. Laura Cameron, 8 October 2024, varied that refusal under s 55G and released five documents, with deletions.	The five documents are a 2009 media clip, two 2012 emails, and two 2014 lecture digests. That is a correction of "no documents exist." It is not a surveillance file and it is not compensation.
Trustee decisions	Certificate of Brian Woods, 20 January 2026: estate committed to NSW Trustee and Guardian on 16 October 2024, matter 658238. Letter 11 November 2025: Ford Territory S797CDP to be disposed of. No sale price.	Ask for the management accounts and the sale result. The certificate reprints a non-publication rule about tribunal proceedings. Do not add a story around it.
Business name	ASIC extract 6 September 2025. WWW.BARRANDODGER.COM.AU registered 2 September 2022, cancelled 3 October 2024. Holder not named on the page read.	A cancelled name is not a proved loss. The holder is still unread.

2. Decisions that went against the claim — disclose them

Leaving these out does not help. A respondent, an insurer, or a tribunal already has them. A brief that omits them is not safe to send.

Decision	Why it matters for compensation
Comcare, 26 May 2021, declined claim 1326583/1 under s 14 of the SRC Act.	This is the workers' compensation refusal.
AAT, 12 July 2023, file 2021/7478, Senior Member C. J. Furnell, affirmed that refusal. The reasons hold the applicant was not an employee under the SRC Act.	This is the strongest merits decision in the opened set, and it is adverse. Further compensation on that claim means dealing with this decision, not ignoring it. The registrar's letter warned of an appeal time limit and of costs. No appeal document was opened. This brief does not say whether any appeal right remains.

Decision	Why it matters for compensation
IBAC, including 9 April 2020 and 30 October 2023 (CASE-20231101 and CASE-20233846).	IBAC wrote that it would not investigate or refer, because the information did not show corrupt conduct or police misconduct at its threshold. That is the opposite of an IBAC finding of corruption. Citing IBAC as if it had made that finding will be disproved by IBAC's own letter.
Commonwealth Ombudsman non-allocations (15 Nov 2021; 16 Sep 2022, PID-2022-100021; 22 Mar 2023, PID-2023-100007).	Jurisdictional and allocation decisions. Not findings that the events did not happen. Also not findings that they did.
DSS, Paula Stratton, email 18 July 2023.	No departmental employment record. Disclosure not allocated. She is the signatory. The filename date of 18 June is wrong.
Health, Avi Rebera, 9 May 2023, and Frankie Lum, 7 April 2024.	Not allocated. The stated reason is that the conduct did not relate to that department.
OAIC closed privacy complaint CP21/02752 about Micron 21 under s 41(1)(a).	Closed on the stated ground that Micron 21 had not interfered with privacy as the Privacy Act defines it. Not a damages judgment.
AAT 8 August 2023 (2023/5778) and 9 August 2023 (2023/5801).	The Tribunal wrote that it could not see a law giving it jurisdiction over a DSS PID assessment, and over a Victorian Ombudsman decision. These letters are not themselves dismissal orders. They are not wins.

3. Compensation questions — what is missing before a figure can be claimed

No opened file contains a proved loss of $18 million, $32.9 million, or any other damages total. data/costs.json publishes no dollar figure. Archive covers that state those totals are the archive's assertion. An approved budget is not expenditure. An invoice is not a payment. A payment is not proof that no service was delivered. The table separates those things.

Question	On the opened paper	Still required before a dollar claim
Workers' compensation for the 2021 claim	Declined, then affirmed. Adverse.	The appeal position, if any was filed. Medical causation was not re-decided here. Do not re-state the claim as if Furnell had not sat.
NDIS support, current	$366,406.69 approved for one year. Not a record of what was paid.	Agency payment ledger and the line-item breakdown the 20 November 2025 letter offers.
SDA / SIL as a past loss	Refused 1 June 2023, with reasons.	The Cavenett report, any internal review that was actually lodged, and a lawful basis for saying the refusal was wrong. The letter's three-month review note has, on its own dates, expired.
Loss of provider income after 28 October 2022	Registration ended, on the Commission's letter.	Tax returns, invoices, and bank records for a period before and after that date. None of those were opened. Without them the loss is an argument, not a schedule.
Vehicle	Decision to dispose, 11 November 2025. No price.	The sale contract or account credit, and the trustee statement showing where the money went.
PID compensation	Several non-allocations. One letter both accepts and does not accept public-official status. See section 4.	A lawyer has to start with status. The 4 June 2026 compilation of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 2013 (Cth) lists section 14 under civil remedies as "Compensation." This examination did not open the text of that section and does not say the elements are met.
Cover-sheet total of $18–32.9 million	Printed on archive covers. Not in an agency instrument. Not in data/costs.json.	Do not put this figure in a claim. It has no source of the kind a court or insurer will accept.

National Disability Insurance Scheme Act 2013 (Cth), compilation in force as at 27 August 2026, section 100: a person given notice of a reviewable decision who wants an internal review must request it within three months after receiving the notice. Checked against the Federal Register text of that compilation. This is not advice that any particular decision is still inside that period. On the dates printed in the NDIA letters opened here, the three months after 1 June 2023, and the three months after 20 November 2025, have both passed.

4. The conflict that has to be resolved before a PID case can be put

Scott Tredwell, General Counsel of the Federal Court, 27 March 2023, wrote that on the information provided to him he was satisfied the discloser was, or had been, an employee of the Department of Social Services. In the same letter, under Decision, he wrote that he was not satisfied the disclosure was made by a public official or to an authorised recipient, and he did not allocate it. That letter is not a judgment.

Paula Stratton, Authorised Officer, Department of Social Services, email of 18 July 2023, wrote that the department had no record of current or former employment and that she was not satisfied the discloser was or had been a public official. She did not allocate the disclosure.

A PID compensation theory needs a public interest disclosure and, for a reprisal remedy, detriment connected to that disclosure. The opened letters do not establish either element. They establish a conflict about status. Quoting only Tredwell's employment sentence, and hiding Stratton and the decision paragraph, is the fastest way for the theory to fail. Put both letters in the brief. Ask DSS for the personnel search Stratton says was made. Ask whether any other agency holds an employment or contract record the Court did not have. Until that record is produced, employment remains disputed, not proved.

5. Sentences that will get this file rejected

Do not send these as facts. Each one is either contradicted by an opened instrument or has no opened source.

Do not say	Why a reviewer will stop
A Federal Court judgment confirmed protected-disclosure status.	The file under that name is Tredwell's non-allocation. There is no judgment in the opened set.
IBAC, the Ombudsman, or the Commission found corruption.	The opened letters say they did not investigate, did not allocate, or were outside jurisdiction.
The agencies acted on one plan.	The letters give different statutory reasons. Repetition is not coordination. The letters do not say they acted together.
The October 2024 press draft is PM&C;'s decision.	Laura Cameron's letter is the decision. The draft is in another PDF.
PM&C;'s last word is that nothing exists.	That refusal was varied. Five documents were released.
$366,406.69 was paid out, or was taken.	The letter approves a plan total. It is not a payment ledger.
The loss is $18 million to $32.9 million.	Cover sheet only. The catalogue publishes no dollar figure.
The archive is Bitcoin-sealed, so the contents are proved.	The archive's own verification note says that block is not authentication. A hash does not prove the words.
A filename is the record.	Twenty files contain only the word Gone. The VOCAT filename is the 5 October 2021 Ombudsman letter. The "section 44" filename is the 16 September 2022 Ombudsman letter.
Paula Stratton is not the decision-maker.	She signed the 18 July 2023 email. Use the email, not the filename date.

6. Records to obtain, in the order that can change money or status

Order	Ask for	From	What it can change
1	The personnel or contract search behind the 18 July 2023 email, and any employment or consultancy record in DSS's name.	Department of Social Services	The public-official conflict. Nothing else in a PID theory moves until this does.
2	NDIS payment history and the line-item breakdown of the plan approved 20 November 2025.	NDIA	Turns $366,406.69 from a budget into either paid support or unpaid support. Those are different claims.
3	Trustee statements for matter 658238, and the result of the vehicle disposal decided on 11 November 2025.	NSW Trustee and Guardian	The only opened property decision with no dollar attached.
4	Invoices, tax assessments, and bank credits for the provider registration, for a year before and a year after 28 October 2022.	The person's own records, or the ATO by lawful request	The only way to put a number on lost provider income. Do not estimate it in the brief.
5	Whether any appeal was filed from AAT 2021/7478, and the result.	Federal Court registry, by a proper search	Stops the workers' compensation chapter being described as unfinished if it is finished.
6	Whether OAIC closed review MR22/00677 after the 8 October 2024 revised decision.	OAIC	Confirms whether the FOI release is the end of that review. It will not, by itself, create a damages figure.
7	Page 2 of the ASIC business-name extract.	ASIC extract already in the repository, second page, or a fresh extract	Names the holder or shows that it does not. Page 1 does not.

A missing record is not proof it was destroyed. These are search targets. The twenty files whose only content is the word Gone are empty git objects. They are not evidence of destruction by an agency.

7. What this brief will and will not do

It will let a representative open with documents: a declined and affirmed compensation claim, a set of written non-investigations, one FOI refusal that was later varied, a registration that ended on a stated date, a current plan total, and a trustee decision to sell a vehicle with no price yet on the file. It will show the one internal conflict, Tredwell against Stratton, without pretending either letter is a win.

It will not vindicate a corruption allegation. The opened instruments do not make one. IBAC's letters say the information did not meet the threshold to investigate. Using those letters as proof of corruption is the step that loses the reader, and with the reader the chance of a further payment, a review, or a proper search.

Vindication, on this paper, is a narrower thing, and it is available now. The filenames that were wrong can be corrected. The 2022 FOI refusal is no longer the last word. The plan figure can be stated accurately. The adverse Tribunal decision can be faced instead of discovered later by the other side. Compensation beyond the approved plan is not established. It becomes a claim only when the records in section 6 are in the brief and a lawyer can tie a figure to a legal head. This document does not supply that figure, and it does not advise that any claim should be brought.
