Dear NDIS CEO Rebecca Falkingham,

The purpose of this extensive letter is to seek redress for the recent homelessness I've experienced, a situation that both the NDIS and yourself, as CEO, not only allowed but actively participated in by designing and excusing yourself from any liability for my suffering, human rights abuses, and brutal persecution.

The demand for you to personally intervene in Supported Independent Living (SILS) funding, framed within a documented conspiracy, reveals your complicit position within it, as proven by evidence. According to NDIS protocol, SILS funding is typically not granted unless 'mainstream supports' have been explored first. Having lived out of my car, I've exhaustively pursued every available avenue to secure housing in support of my NDIS disability-related goals.

I am a targeted individual and a victim of a conspiracy to pervert the course of justice and I have been brutally tortured by having my financed redacted over twenty years and this torture which also has character assassinated me and left me with no legal recourse and no human rights also elicited my suicide. Thats called a government tyranny murdering you. Its not ok. You elongate men desperation personally from a position of so much privilege that I could only hope for.

I've identified at least five documented instances of financial persecution, and I now extend an offer to you, the CEO of the NDIS, to engage other individuals and statutory agencies in eliciting responses that could bring about a meaningful change in my prosperity. This proactive approach aims to negate the necessity for SILS, aligning with NDIS protocol and legislation. Historically, such endeavors were thwarted by the intentional denial of my legal and human rights, resulting in the calculated suppression of my prosperity amounting to millions, evident in the tables of anticipated bursaries that never materialized due to this politicized and systemic neglect.

As I navigate this persecution to the highest echelons of authority, where meaningful change is yet to be enacted, I have engaged legal representation, documenting the systemic nature of my persecution. I present no reservations in prompting you to challenge your peers in other agencies and organizations, urging them to fulfill their obligations to me. This strategic approach is designed to elicit compensation from sources beyond the NDIS portfolio, effecting a significant improvement in my financial health.

The evolution of cross-departmental communication is imperative, aligning with NDIS obligations to exhaust mainstream supports. Now that your agency necessitates action from others, I anticipate the opportunity for justice. No longer should I be subject to delegitimization, disbelief, intentional neglect, or vilification for perceived madness. While acknowledging the possibility of mental health challenges, it does not justify the systemic exclusion from investigating the myriad issues that I face.

Upon reviewing this evidence, you will no longer be able to delegitimize the documented human rights abuses, victimization, oppression, and systemic political persecution that you are directly involved in as the CEO of the NDIS. The report, made by a registered NDIS worker who underwent training with the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission, is concise but demolishes the notion that all of this is simply in my head. Despite the irrefutable evidence, numerous individuals, companies, politicians, and public officials have consistently refused to legitimize it in any form, indicating a conspiracy to deny the reality of the situation.

The investigation that you are obligated to conduct, as per the NDIS code of conduct in your role at the NDIA, is crucial for my well-being, welfare, and imminent risk to health and safety. These risks have been inadvertently documented in a federal court document that rejects my PID yet describes the threat imminently to my person. Created in early 2023, not a single agency has legitimately acknowledged it. Consequently, my health, wealth, welfare, prosperity, and housing were indeed affected, placing my life in existential risk through designed systemic political neglect. I anticipate that a thorough examination of my documented human rights abuses will eventually lead to an acknowledgment of my suffered detriment, for which I should be rightly compensated.

This comprehensive document sheds light on the concept of a conspiracy to pervert the course of justice unfairly victimizing me. It proves that this is not a delusion but a provable phenomenon backed by substantial evidence. I believe this matter should be elevated to the High Court, acknowledging that different statutory agencies and public officials will need to be cross-referenced to bring about meaningful change in my circumstances.

This letter also introduces and addresses the evidence that supports my contention of the controversial concept of 'no-touch torture,' which I claim to have experienced and which prompted my suicide attempt, a fact acknowledged in the hospital FOI. However, the NDIS has dismissed this, including that it was indeed cited in the FOI as a ‘fatal’ injury from which I was revived from death, and I have yet to receive a response or acknowledgment of the tragedy.

If it can be demonstrated, and I believe it is possible to show, that powerful key political stakeholders with enormous influence, power, and money have convinced others to act in congruence with how this torture is deployed to me in a way in which there is no smoking gun and cleverly exonerated all individuals responsible from any malice or liability, then it can be safely stated that the conspiracy I am involved in not only wants to redact my prosperity as an allegory to destroy the very method you can exist as a human being in a society that requires money but that it goes further in the conscious awareness that poverty is bad for anyone's health. If you take someone's home and also their money, then it is a recipe for mental illness, as these two crucial issues are cited in the literature as the two biggest factors in an individual's good mental health.

In this way, it is true that I have a mental illness, but in the way that this oppression consciously enables a situation to amplify its intention to amplify poverty, knowing full well the mental illness discordancy will be elicited, is a brutal and abhorrent way for a government to treat an already marginalized person with known vulnerabilities. It is callous and cruel. Identifying with mental illness publicly was one of the worst mistakes I have ever made, although it has taught me about human nature. The very fact of having a vulnerability or mental illness is a reason to give that person extra help, not weaponize their words against them, persecute them in an actual conspiracy everyone knows is occurring, and then call them psychotic when they attempt to oppose their brutal victimization. So many doctors, health officials, politicians, lawyers, friends, and family are right on board with that, knowing this immeasurable detriment has befallen me. Still, when I get angry or distressed, not a single person has acknowledged that my distress is via intelligent design, and it has been so hard to understand how that is actually possible to occur.

As an individual with a disability diagnosed with chronic schizophrenia, ADHD, adjustment disorder, bipolar disorder, anxiety, panic disorder, and a brain impairment affecting memory – a result of a suicide attempt inside Werribee Mercy Hospital due to persecution, victimization, financial abuse, isolation, and vilification, not solely due to mental illness – I find myself homeless, residing in my car. Faced with dire circumstances, I applied for an emergency payment from my Centrelink disability support pension, only to be told over a call that I "don't qualify."

This rejection epitomizes the chronic financial neglect and victimization I endure from the Australian government, who are evidently aware that their actions are causing me harm. This systematic deprivation of prosperity has been ongoing for years, with the intent to inflict maximum damage to my financial health, potentially leading to neglect that could maim, destroy, or even result in my death.

The orchestrated financial abuse existed well before my suicide attempt, revealing a politicized and systemic intention. This implies that the "fatal" injury I suffered was consciously intended, constituting a malicious, tyrannical government conspiracy that essentially murdered me. Even after being subjected to what can only be described as "no-touch torture," I am still seeking justice, accountability, and the basic human rights owed to me.

This webpage serves as evidence of the financial detriments orchestrated against me, establishing my status as a targeted individual. It also aims to prompt a response and resolution from the government or the NDIS, seeking accommodation and protection due to threats from my violent former partner. Beyond basic human rights, I am owed millions, a situation proven with facts to negotiate a resolution.

If the NDIS minister rejects my basic human rights demands, I will instruct my lawyer to sue her, aiming to cause maximum damage for her complicity in my proven victimization, part of the broader government conspiracy outlined and proven on this page.

Advocacy and merit

Just quickly, I have been active in advocating for marginalized people with mental illness and their carers by sharing my narrative and art on local, state, national, and even international levels for thirty years. I have spoken on many radio stations, television, and even inside the Australian Parliament. A documentary about my life, art, and work was created by the old Cunningham Tax Collection.

I have traversed this road alone, spending years as an independent mental health advocate mostly out of altruism. It's been a long, lonely journey, and the immense sense of betrayal from many organizations, institutions, radio stations, TV personalities, schools, universities, and research institutes is so profound. Not a single person or place stood up for me with authenticity or provided full backing. The main ones are obvious: The Herald Sun, The Age, The MHRI, Radio National, Sane Australia, Allen and Unwin, Victoria University, The MHCC, The DDLC, The HCC. Julian Hill, known for bios whistleblowing, rejected me, and Gabrielle Williams, the mental health minister in Dandenong, literally would not open the door when she found out my name.

No ombudsman, cop, politician, lawyer, friend, family member, fireman, good Samaritan, or Joe Bloggs next door or down the street could ever meaningfully intervene. The destruction was a slow-burning, gradual misuse of every right, privilege, and thing I had going for me, one after the other. At this stage, framed by me being a rejected whistleblower, I am left totally unprotected and vulnerable to attack. If this thing proves it could kill me and get away with it with impunity, I am worried sick about my dog, Crystal, that the gang stalkers—whomever they may be—will have a vigilante attack, and she will be killed. I try not to think about it, but it is the next logical step to harm me personally because they know without my only friend, I would instantly commit suicide.

Every radio station I spoke at, and there are many, has neglected my pleas for help to acknowledge my situation. The slow burn of detriment after detriment was dealt to me over the years, and each time, another significant one came along, like when they destroyed my business, beat me up inside a hospital, or ran me out of town and ran me over in a car. They did it with a level of impunity that I could barely grasp. I would traverse to the next agency or place of complaint to propose that this was unjust, and every time, there were increasingly audacious ways of identifying it was not within their remit—they don't have the capacity, it's not what they do, or they usually just get pointedly neglected. This gaslighting kept me magnetized to the next level of appeal because if I gave up on any of them, I would just crumble in a heap and die.

Everyone was sadly already on board that they would neglect to act or intervene and vilify me for madness. The conspiracy had permeated the very fabric of my relations interpersonally and was mostly actioned by Steve, who I had exposed my true inner world to so intimately. Now I know he was collating evidence for his nefarious reasons—that is, to control people as a narcissistic and master manipulator. His narcissistic supply needs to be strong, so he can be affectionate with himself and others. Detriment gives him power. Ultimately, he is a hollow soul of a man, fiercely intelligent but absolutely aware that he does not possess the authenticity, soul, or talent he can witness in others. To compensate for the cold shell of broke indifference he actually possesses, he must be close to authentic people and mine them of creativity and warmth. If he runs out of supply, his shattered sense of self comes crashing down, and he has to move quickly to get his supply from another new, vulnerable victim to prop up his self-worth of an incredibly damaged and rudimentary personality.

List of financial detriments:

The financial detriments I've endured over the years, outlined below, have unequivocally proven to be decisions predetermined to fail. This is a result of my lack of access to the law, which contradicts the human rights charter for persons with disabilities ratified by the Government in 2008.

This deliberate redaction of my prosperity involved decisions made by lawyers, corrupt public officials at government statutory agencies, and politicians too timid to critique their tyrannical overlords. They are bound to tow the party line, stifling critical thinking and individual thought, constrained by the federal government.

I sympathize with them and anyone similarly restricted, as their thinking and actions are limited by the powers that be. Unlike public officials, I've never faced the same restrictions, and the decisions that redacted my prosperity were unethical, illegal, unbalanced, biased, immoral, and brutally unfair.

These actions violate the UN Charter of a person with a disability ratified by Australia in 2008, specifically Article 12 on Equal Recognition Before The Law. The government agencies, supported by a plethora of lawyers, have systematically impeded my access to compensation settlements, insurances, and other financial windfalls.

The extensive list below spans several years, revealing a systematic and politically motivated redaction of significant financial assets. This has victimized and robbed me, actions that are against the law.

- Unfair termination settlement from the Age newspaper, $300,000
- Work cover settlement from 2004, $300,000
- Incorrect TPD payment from 2008, $500,000
- Medical malpractice settlement in 2017, $300,000
- HCF income assist settlement in 2021, $750,000
- Work Cover settlement in 2021, $750,000

- Provisional payments from work cover 2021, $50,000
- Business insurance payout 2021, $100,000
- Former partner settlement, $500,000
- Settlement for my cognitive brain impairment sustained inside a hospital, $2,500,000
- Sue for my business website maliciously destroyed, $100,000
- Claim for loss after my worldly possessions were destroyed, $50,000
- Detriments of over $2 million after being banned at AFCA, $20,000,000
- Detriments of over $1.5 million after an insurance settlement was redirected at AHRC, $15,000,000
- Money to pay for my accommodation blocked from arriving at the NDIS/A, $25,000
- Child sexual abuse redress from DSS delayed, denied, deferred, $250,000
- VOCAT case for child sexual abuse case cited as 'doomed,' $25,000
- VOCAT case for violent affray rejected, $25,000
- Compensation for being run over by a car (likely a government vehicle), $50,000
- Compensation for being violently attacked inside a hospital, $200,000
- Compensation for a provable conspiracy to pervert the course of justice causing death, $300,000
- Compensation for the whitewashing of that tragedy by high-ranking public officials, $300,000

Total: Approximately $45 million potential dollars.

People with disability and the law; demanding representation

The United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD) is to promote, protect and ensure the full and equal enjoyment of all human rights and fundamental freedoms by all persons with disabilities, and to promote respect for their inherent dignity. It was ratified in 2008 in Australia as a foundation of this country underpinning all laws.

In particular in regard to Article 12 – Equal recognition before the law:

1. States Parties reaffirm that persons with disabilities have the right to recognition everywhere as persons before the law.

2. States Parties shall recognize that persons with disabilities enjoy legal capacity on an equal basis with others in all aspects of life.

3. States Parties shall take appropriate measures to provide access by persons with disabilities to the support they may require in exercising their legal capacity.

4. States Parties shall ensure that all measures that relate to the exercise of legal capacity provide for appropriate and effective safeguards to prevent abuse in accordance with international human rights law. Such safeguards shall ensure that measures relating to the exercise of legal capacity respect the rights, will and preferences of the person, are free of conflict of interest and undue influence, are proportional and tailored to the person's circumstances, apply for the shortest time possible and are subject to regular review by a competent, independent and impartial authority or judicial body. The safeguards shall be proportional to the degree to which such measures affect the person's rights and interests.

5. Subject to the provisions of this article, States Parties shall take all appropriate and effective measures to ensure the equal right of persons with disabilities to own or inherit property, to control their own financial affairs and to have equal access to bank loans, mortgages and other forms of financial credit, and shall ensure that persons with disabilities are not arbitrarily deprived of their property.

I am fifty years old and I have never had a lawyer. That is in defiance of the charter that Australia is a signatory and ratified in 2008. I demand an impartial one from the government as is their obligation to me under the charter.

Article 13 – Access to justice

1. States Parties shall ensure effective access to justice for persons with disabilities on an equal basis with others, including through the provision of procedural and age-appropriate accommodations, in order to facilitate their effective role as direct and indirect participants, including as witnesses, in all legal proceedings, including at investigative and other preliminary stages.

2. In order to help to ensure effective access to justice for persons with disabilities, States Parties shall promote appropriate training for those working in the field of administration of justice, including police and prison staff.

Justice to me isn't about lots of money. Justice to me is at the bare minimum living in a safe home with my dog with enough provisions for food for medicine and freedom from persecution by police or health authorities.

Article 15 – Freedom from torture or cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment

1. No one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment. In particular, no one shall be subjected without his or her free consent to medical or scientific experimentation.
2. States Parties shall take all effective legislative, administrative, judicial or other measures to prevent persons with disabilities, on an equal basis with others, from being subjected to torture or cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

I have been subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.
I have been unfairly punished and victimised.
The government is now under obligation under the charter to intervene in an effective legislative, administrative, judicial way.

Article 16 – Freedom from exploitation, violence and abuse

1. States Parties shall take all appropriate legislative, administrative, social, educational and other measures to protect persons with disabilities, both within and outside the home, from all forms of exploitation, violence and abuse, including their gender-based aspects.

2. States Parties shall also take all appropriate measures to prevent all forms of exploitation, violence and abuse by ensuring, inter alia, appropriate forms of gender- and age-sensitive assistance and support for persons with disabilities and their families and caregivers, including through the provision of information and education on how to avoid, recognize and report instances of exploitation, violence and abuse. States Parties shall ensure that protection services are age-, gender- and disability-sensitive.
3. In order to prevent the occurrence of all forms of exploitation, violence and abuse, States Parties shall ensure that all facilities and programmes designed to serve persons with disabilities are effectively monitored by independent authorities.
4. States Parties shall take all appropriate measures to promote the physical, cognitive and psychological recovery, rehabilitation and social reintegration of persons with disabilities who become victims of any form of exploitation, violence or abuse, including through the provision of protection services. Such recovery and reintegration shall take place in an environment that fosters the health, welfare, self-respect, dignity and autonomy of the person and takes into account gender- and age-specific needs.
5. States Parties shall put in place effective legislation and policies, including women- and child-focused legislation and policies, to ensure that instances of exploitation, violence and abuse against persons with disabilities are identified, investigated and, where appropriate, prosecuted.

I have been exploited violently attacked and abused.

Article 17 – Protecting the integrity of the person

Every person with disabilities has a right to respect for his or her physical and mental integrity on an equal basis with others.

I have had my physical and mental integrity consciously damaged or impaired.

Article 22 – Respect for privacy

1. No person with disabilities, regardless of place of residence or living arrangements, shall be subjected to arbitrary or unlawful interference with his or her privacy, family, home or correspondence or other types of communication or to unlawful attacks on his or her honour and reputation. Persons with disabilities have the right to the protection of the law against such interference or attacks.
2. States Parties shall protect the privacy of personal, health and rehabilitation information of persons with disabilities on an equal basis with others.

My privacy has been violated.

Article 25 – Health

States Parties recognize that persons with disabilities have the right to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health without discrimination on the basis of disability. States Parties shall take all appropriate measures to ensure access for persons with disabilities to health services that are gender-sensitive, including health-related rehabilitation. In particular, States Parties shall:
a) Provide persons with disabilities with the same range, quality and standard of free or affordable health care and programmes as provided to other persons, including in the area of sexual and reproductive health and population-based public health programmes;

b) Provide those health services needed by persons with disabilities specifically because of their disabilities, including early identification and intervention as appropriate, and services designed to minimize and prevent further disabilities, including among children and older persons;
c) Provide these health services as close as possible to people's own communities, including in rural areas;
d) Require health professionals to provide care of the same quality to persons with disabilities as to others, including on the basis of free and informed consent by, inter alia, raising awareness of the human rights, dignity, autonomy and needs of persons with disabilities through training and the promulgation of ethical standards for public and private health care;
e) Prohibit discrimination against persons with disabilities in the provision of health insurance, and life insurance where such insurance is permitted by national law, which shall be provided in a fair and reasonable manner;
f) Prevent discriminatory denial of health care or health services or food and fluids on the basis of disability.

I have no psychologist no psychiatrist and no GP. I don't haver enough medicine or money to get it or access services.

Article 28 – Adequate standard of living and social protection

1. States Parties recognize the right of persons with disabilities to an adequate standard of living for themselves and their families, including adequate food, clothing and housing, and to the continuous improvement of living conditions, and shall take appropriate steps to safeguard and promote the realization of this right without discrimination on the basis of disability.
2. States Parties recognize the right of persons with disabilities to social protection and to the enjoyment of that right without discrimination on the basis of disability, and shall take appropriate steps to safeguard and promote the realization of this right, including measures:
a) To ensure equal access by persons with disabilities to clean water services, and to ensure access to appropriate and affordable services, devices and other assistance for disability-related needs;
b) To ensure access by persons with disabilities, in particular women and girls with disabilities and older persons with disabilities, to social protection programmes and poverty reduction programmes;
c) To ensure access by persons with disabilities and their families living in situations of poverty to assistance from the State with disability-related expenses, including adequate training, counselling, financial assistance and respite care;
d) To ensure access by persons with disabilities to public housing programmes;
e) To ensure equal access by persons with disabilities to retirement benefits and programmes.

I have been living in my car as a homeless vagrant without any protections.

Gang Stalking

The term 'gang stalking' is introduced now to illustrate the extraordinary situation I am facing, pathologized by psychiatrists keen on vilifying actual victims to protect those orchestrating it. Gang stalking involves an orchestrated attack by many people resulting in constant persecution and harassment, taking various forms, including reputational, social, monetary, litigious, financial, and even violent. This harassment can extend to audio harassment, a contentious issue often linked to the exploitation of diagnosed psychoses to further victimize individuals.

I assert, supported by evidence, that I am a targeted individual of the Australian Government, a claim often pathologized by psychiatrists attempting to vilify actual victims. Despite the attempts to label me as 'mentally ill,' the reality is that the Australian government has been brutally unfair in its treatment of me.

Several key political figures are influencing my situation, and there is an evident lack of accountability from the Government. I implore you to understand the gravity of this situation, as with legal assistance, I will hold you personally accountable for any neglect or redaction of my prosperity, or the continued persecution of me as a human being with a chronic mental illness.

Powerful people

Now, let me introduce you to some key political players and powerful stakeholders in this story:

Something extraordinary occurred on the day I attempted suicide, an event characterized by extreme synchronicity. This desperate act was fueled by the effects of 'no touch torture,' substantiated with examples on this page, coupled with an ongoing conspiracy to pervert the course of justice. The motivation behind this torment includes the vilification of me for perceived mental illness, excluding all other factors in my life. Additionally, deliberate isolation from society, the burden of family violence, the now proven years of financial abuse, and the delegitimization of my story and personal pain played crucial roles.

Remarkably, on that same day, news reached me that my childhood abuser had passed away. This individual had subjected me to sexualization during my youth, leaving an indelible mark on every aspect of my life, from my approach to intimacy and self-confidence to even mundane activities like urinating in public. My VOCAT case, an attempt to gain acknowledgment for my pain, was summarily dismissed by the magistrate as 'doomed to fail.'

Our families were intimately acquainted. Filled with the blood of a stranger, I, having just been revived from death, sensed what was about to transpire after my sister broke the news. My value in their eyes on display for my family, my mother, father, and sister chose to celebrate the life of my abuser at his funeral. This was not only a brutal betrayal by my immediate blood family, which consistently refused to acknowledge the abuse, but also a painful non-acknowledgment of the human tragedy I had just survived the previous day.

Your family are supposed to be there for you, but not mine. I love them but I was never understood and was scapegoated by a toxic family unit which identified me for blame to shift the goal posts on their own neurosis and shortcomings even as a child. Rejected because I was perceived feminine or didn't play sport or didn't piss on command or later for shock horror having sex or by smoking cigarettes or by smoking drugs and only then to come out as bi or gay then on top of that to be crazy with schizophrenia… I have not spoken to my sister Jodie or brother Brad in years and never known my nieces or nephews. Mum and dad would make a seperate trip at Christmas to see me independently of the larger family gathering to which I was never invited and was reluctant to go anyway for my ill treatment and scapegoating. They were the last ones standing and protected them others rejection with the family rousted - me on one side and everyone else on the other. Which side were they on? The others. I was always at once complimented and brutally offended they would support the architecture of such a split that was hurtful and I saw red every time my mother insisted 'they always ask after you'.

All of them embraced Steve into their lives, assuming that he 'looked after' me. However, it was I who looked after him, earning my keep. My family holds money and power in high regard, and Steve possessed both. Later, my sister assisted me in filling out my bankruptcy form, encouraging me to forget about Steve when I mentioned having a partner. I followed her advice, but this decision unfortunately halted any potential settlement.

Having just survived a profound tragedy resulting from neglect, I found myself in financial desperation. My sister, who had severed our relationship, suddenly gifted me $1000 a month before my financial struggle. Although she claimed there was no need to pay her back, it became clear in the following months of not talking to her that she was essentially paying me to stay away. Meanwhile, my brother, who struggled with anger issues, would become enraged whenever my mother mentioned speaking to me.

Throughout the years-long persecution and delegitimization of my engagement with Iasonidis, no one within my family ever stood up for me. I am still unable to fully comprehend their actions, but it seems that, despite my many achievements and openness, they secretly wished for me never to achieve prosperity or financial security. In their own ways, each of them became an agent of their version of 'no touch torture.'

Recently, I bayed to my parents that if I die while battling this, and they had the full capacity to intervene, I hoped their hearts would ache whenever they remembered me. I wished for them to feel the pain of their neglect and failure to take meaningful action in my situation. A conspiracy must be quite confident that the victim's inner circle is compromised, and the persecution of the victim will not encounter the usual support. In this case, the architects of my persecution were certain, as some of them had infiltrated my family, witnessed the brutality of their treatment towards me, and then swooped in to pick up the pieces. They provided a place for me to try and heal, to cry, something I had never experienced before. It was this love bombing and emotional manipulation that left me walking on eggshells for five years. Ultimately, it was his manipulation of both my family and me that led to their total forsaking of me forever.

My parents obtained an Apprehended Violence Order (AVO) against me, with the assistance of the police whom they deeply respect and admire. They are fully complicit in this, placing 100% trust in the authorities. They had been actively trying to locate me, assuming I was a homeless vagrant. They were advocating for me to be placed in a hospital to "get help" and "receive new medication," overlooking the fact that those meant to be my caregivers were now my abusers. They failed to acknowledge that the police, whom they unquestionably trusted, were the ones acting criminally. Throughout this, they readily labeled me as mentally unstable while accepting Steve's exploitation of me, thereby perpetuating family violence. In doing so, they engaged in their own form of personal family violence towards me, echoing the scapegoating I experienced during my childhood. This behavior effectively aligned them with Steve, my nemesis, whom they protected by neglecting to take any action against him.

The true colors of their ill intentions became apparent when my parents obtained a temporary Apprehended Violence Order (AVO), forbidding me from contacting them. I am now required to appear in court, portrayed as the antagonist, the supposed 'mad guy,' and the one falsely accused of using heroin (which I have never touched). This presents me as the problem, not them, despite being the victims of ongoing hardships. If I fail to appear in court, the order will become permanent. At fifty years old, I am opting not to attend the hearing. Despite everything, I still love them because they are human, flawed and my origins, the complex source of my existence. It is time to reveal the truth and let things be.

Holding CEO of NDIS accountable

Now that I have introduced you and I and other key political stakeholders please allow me to follow on with holding you accountable if my SILS is not granted because I suit all the criteria and also that I will hold you to account should any further financial persecution of me occur.

Before delving into my contributions to this political intrigue involving the NDIS, a subset of a larger systemic and political movement, wherein the NDIS serves as an auspice and accomplice in the tyranny surrounding my treatment and torture, I will present at least four solutions to address my predicament of homelessness and to oppose my financial persecution, devoid of care, human rights, and legal rights until very recently. It is within the NDIA's remit to ensure these 'mainstream' service options are acknowledged and followed through first perhaps before a SILS package is considered.

These have never been paid to me simply because of the reason I have never had a lawyer to defend me. This is in breach of the charter of persons with a disability ratified by the Australian Government in 2008. It states I must have access to the law and equality before it.

The following four solutions have never materialized for me due to a conspiracy to pervert the course of justice. This persecution is not a mere delusion in my head necessitating medication or hospitalization, although I continue to require medication for my mental illnesses. It is now a demonstrable phenomenon in which I have been needlessly and cruelly victimized in a political and systemic manner. This victimization has been entwined with stigma, shame, prejudice, and discrimination stemming from my published autobiography on recovering from schizophrenia. Despite being celebrated and applauded in certain sectors of society, it negatively affected me then and continues to do so for years to come.

I acknowledge the term "gang stalking" as an actual phenomenon, substantiated by facts. Similarly, "no-touch torture" is a concept I subscribe to, documented with a verified definition supported by facts. This malicious movement, which has employed violence in its brutal treatment of me, is one where I never knew from where my next enemy would emerge. Character assassination is also identified, with my autobiography serving as the largest source. Considered both brave and courageous with stunning self-awareness, it was weaponized to stigmatize and shame me. Furthermore, it was utilized to identify any perceived weaknesses, subjecting me to attacks with concepts tailored to me, resulting from intelligence gathering and surveillance.

Conspiracy to pervert the course of justice

All these concepts are auspices of what it truly is—a conspiracy to pervert the course of justice. This can be easily demonstrated and has now been proven by evidence presented on this website. The reader can conceptually understand this by stitching together and triangulating the following (x) facts which are in no way the only ways this conspiracy can be demonstrated just the omnibus ones:

1. That no government agency will admit that my former fiancé Stefan Iasonidis and I ere ever together and he was former employee of ASIO. This would easily lead to a settlement.
2. The Office of Prime Minister and Cabinet's rejection of my FOI which was first cited by OAIC as 'voluminous' and 'complex' and is not only therefore incorrect but an intentional deceitful gaslighting of me which delegitimises my story and my narrative and my evidence. It is likely so but would not reveal or legitimise the relationship with Iasonidis.
3. Prime Minister Anthony Albanese's response to this letter I sent to him detailing much corruption in the public sector of public officials in which he has neglected to urgently meaningfully intervene in my injustice my poverty which evidently is by design my documented human rights abuses and profound neglect leading to a months epoch living as a homeless person in my car.
4. The NDIS, tasked with the care of people with disabilities, was complicit in a conspiracy against me. They played a role in prompting me to squat for three years, facing numerous hospitalizations, and whitewashing the resulting tragedy. They knowingly denied my dexamphetamine script, leading me to rely on street drugs, and neglected to intervene as they would for a cancer patient denied chemotherapy. They consciously contributed to my detriment by accepting a corrupt OT's report, granting me a mere 27 hours of support for an entire year. The NDIS was aware of my fraudulent invoices, which included the name and ABN of an individual connected to government corruption. They refused to investigate, as exposing these fraudulent invoices would unveil the complicity of various government departments in shielding this corruption. On (date) before Christmas, I wrote to the NDIS CEO, threatening to hold her accountable if I were homeless over the holiday period, considering her previous complicity in my vagrancy. Subsequently, I received 28 days of respite accommodation at $2000 per day, a significant improvement from living in my car. Carole, a witness, confirmed this amount was in addition to my existing plan, obtaining a receipt number. However, on 03.01.2024, the NDIS reneged on their commitment, stating that the money was to be deducted from my existing plan. This reversal is a deceptive way to exhaust my plan and intentionally drive me back to homelessness. Such actions are malicious and demonstrate an orchestrated attack on my life by proxy through other public officials, overseen by the NDIS CEO. I reject this level of deceit, intelligent orchestration of homelessness, and continuation of human rights abuses and systemic neglect. The NDIS CEO must now consider this page and provide me with my SILS as an immediate solution for the 24-hour care and accommodation I desperately need for my safety and freedom from violence. Failure to do so will lead to me personally pursuing her for damages and holding her accountable for willingly participating in this conspiracy, which has resulted in harm and death through no-touch torture. The publication of this page marks the end of officials exonerating themselves from wrongdoing and liability.

5. The AHRC has refused to investigate documented human rights abuses, exploitation, persecution, and victimization of me as a scapegoat by an NDIS worker. This individual, employed by my NDIS provider Free Living Australia, witnessed my distress and frustration over about five months. Despite being a certified and NDIS qualified employee, this worker's detailed account of human rights abuses has been systematically neglected by the provider, the NDIS, the NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission, and the AHRC. The document is a critical piece of evidence that, once validated, has the potential to expose and overthrow the corrupt political system. I have consistently maintained my moral obligation to report corruption for the sake of humanity, democracy, and to safeguard my own life. Liz Lindsberg of the AHRC was personally involved in steering a million-dollar settlement with Australian Super and TAL, which was neither impartial nor fair nor legal. The root cause, once again, traced back to government interference. Following AHRC's withdrawal from the case, I eventually secured a $50,000 settlement from TAL, contradicting Liz Lindsberg's claim that they were uninterested in negotiating. It became evident that someone within the government apparatus had preemptively thwarted any financial prosperity from reaching me. Liz Lindsberg's deception in terminating the claim under false pretenses underscores the systemic oppression and financial abuse orchestrated against me by public officials acting from a proxy space. This is just one instance illustrating how my reputation precedes me, placing me at a significant disadvantage, and subjecting me to intensive, directed persecution.
6. I am now banned at AFCA as a democratic citizen of this democracy who has a clean criminal record and that is an absurd mistreatment of me. AFCAs own policy stipulates that financial determinations must be made within six weeks for a financially marginalized person. Despite being aware of my financial troubles in 2019, decisions regarding any settlement were intentionally delayed, denied, or deferred until the head of service delivery, Tim Gos, called me. This demonstrated a frustrating intention to gaslight, delegitimize, and act outside their policy guidelines, essentially subjecting me to politicized and systemic torture. This was cruel and reprehensible, considering that the abuse he served me was the same abuse that led to my suicide attempt. Tim Gos, a lawyer himself, was well aware of the power imbalance and the inequity he wielded, taking advantage of his political privilege. His recorded actions that day, meant for me to test reality due to my suspicions of a conspiracy persecuting me, revealed the harsh reality of his cruelty. Tim Gos personally contributed to millions of dollars in my financial detriments. When I threatened to expose corruption, AFCA refused to acknowledge me, leaving me unprotected from staff who were active participants in the conspiracy I intended to reveal. Tim Gos is forever captured on YouTube, showcasing his lack of courage and the cruelty that went beyond ethical and reasonable boundaries.

12. Russell Ball silence this unfortunate evidence I had recorded for my own purposes in a conversation to myself to test my reality of being obvious enough to a GP in regards to me feeling suicidal for months on end. He managed to wield his political might by silencing th recording, which was unfortunate for all parties but was a legal document under the surveillance act 1999 at HCC, MHCC, The Police, IBAC, The Victorian Inspectorate, AHPRA, NHPOPC, The Ombudsman. H even managed t6o silence my transcript of the recording that I made because I was unsure if the recording could indeed be used for the unfortunate manner it was taken, not as extortion but by way of testing reality for the wide berth of my perceptions. ß

Solution 1:

This work cover detriment is enforceable via legislation and is a solution could save this situation of my vagrancy in one fell swoop. This would guarantee my prosperity enabling a home for my dog and I and safety and care as a mainstream service needing acknowledgement before my potential NDIS SILS accomodation would be granted. The workplace minister Danny Pearson returned Dr Mclean's protest about his two work cover insurances never being paid but did not conclude payment as per legislation. It is legislation that if liability is not determined, then it is the responsibility of the minister or the agency within 21 days of the claim being made. It has been years. So - where is the money?

WORKPLACE INJURY REHABILITATION AND COMPENSATION ACT 2013 - SECT 93 Provisions to apply where employer does not meet liabilities

Provisions to apply where employer does not meet liabilities

(1) If the employer of the worker neglects, refuses or is unable to pay compensation in discharge of the employer's liability under section 72(1) within 21 days of receiving the claim for payment of compensation, the liability becomes a liability of the Authority.

(2) If the liability has become a liability of the Authority under subsection (1), the Authority may impose on the employer a penalty calculated in accordance with the method determined under subsection (3).

(3) The Governor in Council, by Order published in the Government Gazette, may determine the method for calculating the penalty payable by an employer if the liability has become a liability of the Authority under subsection (1).

(4) The Authority may recover a penalty imposed under subsection (2) in a court of competent jurisdiction as a debt due to the Authority.

The NDIS needs to address the work place minister Danny Pearson and force him to settle my not one but two work cover insurances as needs to be completed as part of a 'mainstream' service. This needs to occur before SILS will be paid.

Solution 2:

Force an official government acknowledgment of my relationship with former ASIO employee Stefan Iasonidis. This would pave way for a separation of assets after he exploited me over five years and is a legal requirement. The relationship has been proven unequivocally even admitted by Iasonidis. He had a million in superannuation and I declare my stake on 50% of it. He would argue it is out of time but due to the conspiracy and me being unwell it was not possible to hold him to account before now and leave from the family court would be granted.

Force Iasonidis to pay 50% of his superannuation balance as of march 2015. That solves my issue and the issue of whether a SILS is even necessary to be considered.

Solution 3:

I was paid a Total Permanent Disability payout in 2008 of one unit of cover of $83000. The products disclosure statement of Health Super from the year before in 2007 states two (2) units of cover are standard for income protection and for TPD. I was paid the correct amount of two units of cover for income protection however I was only paid one unit of TPD. A simple acknowledgement that two u8nits of TPD were standard in 2007 when I was only paid one in 2008 results in a payment of $83000 in 2008 money plus interest on that amount to be paid to me.

That immediately solves the issue as well.

Solution 4:

It can now be demonstrated that HCF was part of the conspiracy to politically and systemically redact my prosperity. I have evidence that my 'illness' was not pre-existing but the result of an unfavorable VOCAT hearing surrounding the validation of my sexual abuse, an entirely new situation. Dr. Moore acknowledges that I did not see him for reasons of mental illness.

HCF initially refused to pay the $75,000 income assistance, and when I persisted, they had a HCF employee put an AVO (Apprehended Violence Order) on me, banning me from calling them outright. This elaborate method was designed to threaten me with arrest, and I didn't even know the person behind the AVO or hear their name. This demonstrates immense hypocrisy within the now provable conspiracy, implicating Sheena Jack herself. HCF owes me $75,000, plus interest, and damages.

Forcing this payment would solve my issue as well.

Solution 5

I have a federal court document stating that I was an employee of DSS. This is not a subjective opinion but a factual statement on an official federal court document made by an authorized officer. Consequently, I am considered a public official, and as such, I should have been entitled to receive the superannuation guarantee, associated TPD insurance, and income protection, including the compulsory super guarantee.

However, the superannuation was never paid, and no account was created. This situation has created a significant issue as it prevents me from accessing the insurances and income protections that I would have been entitled to. During my employment with DSS, I operated under an enterprise agreement overseen by the NDIS and supported by the Fair Work Commission. It is contradictory to be recognized as a government public official and not have a corresponding super fund.

The conflicting situation needs to be addressed, and I am urging government agents not to delegitimize the super, insurance, and TPD benefits I should have received. It is essential to find a resolution that retroactively acknowledges my status as a public official, framed by the income I was earning at the time. As an employee of DSS, I am a public official, and corrective measures should be taken to ensure that the basic entitlements associated with my role are granted, considering the legitimacy of my position when I commenced.

This will likely force a TPD impairment benefit and additionally pay me income protections from the time I had a psychological injury at work in Jan 2021. This will provide compensation and relief from my difficult position.

Taken from him as a targeted individual

Maliciously, this took away everything he had including:

- His business,
- His accreditation,
- His human rights,
- His access to the law,
- His reputation,
- His work cover,
- His insurances,
- His settlements,
- His fair treatment,
- His right to be treated impartially,
- His ability to rent a home,

I not only had my home taken away, but its contents were destroyed as well. I found myself being force-medicated for what they dismissed as 'delusions of persecution,' which were, in reality, horrifyingly true. My privacy was invaded, subjected to constant surveillance, and I was banned from numerous social media platforms, including Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, and more. They didn't stop there; they went on to obliterate my business website, which also held my Australian Business Number (ABN), and maliciously erased my digital identity crucial for online logins.

To add to the ordeal, they blocked my emails from various government agencies, denied my access to The Federal Court, and even refused my basic right to report crimes. Astonishingly, they went as far as blocking me from the Australian Federal Police (AFP) on Instagram. They didn't just stop at infringing on my rights; they took away my hope by intercepting my phone, controlling my contacts, and dictating who I could communicate with. Their actions escalated to remote planting of illegal content on my personal computer, encouraging harmful activities, and allowing drug use and abuse through neglect.

I have been violently attacked twice, once inside a hospital by a government contracted thug, this was obvious because he had my tattoo on his t-shirt before he attacked me. I was cornered, retaliated and smashed his teeth in broke his nose and smashed his head into the concrete. Strange a patient would not press charges. Why? The conspiracy that includes employing violence would be exposed.

The denial of my ADHD medication, dexamphetamine, was a deliberate act causing severe harm. Their tactics included character assassination, severing ties with long-standing friends, intentional isolation, and the use of subsonic audio harassment for torture and debilitation. In their campaign against me, they lied about their commitment to my care, willfully vilified me for 'mental illness,' and subjected me to unspeakable torture. This conspiracy reached the depths of deception and covert intelligence, going so far as to hire a thug to violently attack me inside a public hospital.

All these actions collectively affirm that I am indeed a targeted individual (TI).

Right to the top

The Prime Minister and me; the most powerful man and the most vulnerable meet. Who will win?

The Office of Prime Minister and Cabinet rejected a cited 'voluminous' and 'complex' Freedom of Information (FOI) request by claiming no documents exist or can't be found. This is not only a blatant lie but corruption at the highest level. Human-made law, as stated in the Bible, is susceptible to corruption, leading to a brutal miscarriage of justice. This deceit delegitimizes my story and narrative, mirroring the malevolent psychological abuse narcissists employ to torment their victims.

Iasonidis, a narcissist, has manipulated an entire government, with even the Prime Minister acting as a willing minion. Their apparent desire for me to 'not exist' nearly came true with my suicide attempt. It was induced with 'no-touch torture,' allowing everyone to escape liability by blaming my mental health. The Werribee Mercy Hospital FOI labeled it a 'fatal' and 'lethal' attempt, now covered up, contributing to the abandonment of duty of care and the cognitive detriment I currently endure.

Contrary to popular belief, mental illness wasn't the cause of my suicide attempt. It resulted from deceit, lies, conspiracy, financial abuse, family violence, cover-up, corruption, and judgments, with vilification for mental illness eclipsing all other factors. This ongoing gang stalking, evident since 1995, led to my tragedy. The same victimization and persecution continued even after I survived, shaping a personal socio-political climate that remains private yet very public.

Why am I demanding Supported Independent Living (SILS) from the NDIS amidst numerous other battles lost? This battle is winnable because I can demonstrate that the rejection of my SILS was part of the politicized systemic persecution I speak of. It's clear that gang stalking and no-touch torture are real, accompanied by a conspiracy to pervert the course of justice—all decisions centered around financial motives.

Granting SILS would not only provide the home and support I desperately need but also address human rights abuses. It would acknowledge the NDIS's role in subjecting me to blows orchestrated by external agencies and individuals through a proxy attack. By articulating this, I make the NDIS CEO consciously aware that I recognize her sins and judgments. I acknowledge she mistreated me, possibly leading to neglect-induced suicide.

The CEO must acknowledge that she can't criticize the orchestrators of my demise due to her role as a public office. Her refusal or rejection of a valid compromise, offering basic human rights and care, not compensation for my life's enormous suffering, will lead me to hold her accountable. I won't inflict harm but will expose her hypocrisy and challenge her role as the NDIS CEO, part of the statutory agencies where my reputation precedes me, distorted by misguided human judgments.

I guess it nearly worked and mental illness and drugs could be blamed. If anyone did stand up to my murder, and of course who would because I survived by the grace of God and no one did, then George Brandis' legislative changed exonerating all government public officials police ombudsman politicians and government contractors were unable to be held liable for the detriments or death caused to a targeted individual. It was the perfect crime.

"They might want me to 'not exist,' and you, along with the NDIS, have been complicit in the systemic and politicized gang stalking orchestrated by the federal government. This has not only caused my financial ruin but also continued to persecute me unnecessarily, redacting my prosperity and privileges as recently as yesterday.

But have you ever tried to sleep in a quiet room with a mosquito? (It's a buddhist adage).

Fighting tyranny

In the absence of legal representation only in the past but not now, I find myself compelled to address the dire circumstances I face as a failed whistleblower, left unprotected and vulnerable to attacks on my prosperity, care, and welfare. Yesterday's incident with the NDIS serves as a stark example of the systemic challenges I confront daily. The lack of a lawyer, contrary to the Charter of People with Disability, has resulted in substantial financial losses, potentially exceeding 40 million dollars.

Proxy attacks on my possessions, including the destruction of my business website, have contributed to profound financial detriment. This is intricately linked to the non-acknowledgment of my former partner and my relationship—an aspect no government agency is willing to admit exists. In a desperate bid for survival amid family violence and financial abuse, I resorted to actions like defrauding the NDIS using my former partner's name, an issue the NDIS refuses to investigate to avoid exposing a larger conspiracy. The subsequent police persecution forced me into vagrancy, culminating in a life-threatening incident where authorities created conditions making it impossible for police attendance. The NDIS, an agency under the federal government, has played a role in not only robbing me of money but also causing deliberate harm, as evident in recent actions leaving me homeless.

With legal representation now secured, I will hold the NDIS and you personally accountable for the orchestrated injustices and demand proper consideration for my SILS application from here on in. I implore you, Rebecca, to reflect on the ethical responsibility you have in assisting people with disabilities, rather than perpetuating the enormous injustices I've endured. Failure to secure SILS will be perceived as further systemic abuse, leading to legal actions to seek redress and justice. My resolve is unyielding, and even in the face of adversity, I stand determined to expose tyranny and fight for the benefit of future generations.

SILS FUNDING CONSIDERATIONS

The NDIS (National Disability Insurance Scheme) uses a planning process to determine the appropriate funding and supports for individuals, including Supported Independent Living (SIL). While specific checkboxes may not be used in the literal sense, the process involves considering various factors to determine the level of support needed. Here are key considerations for SIL funding:

- Accommodation Needs:
- Checkbox: The participant requires assistance with accommodation due to their disability. I desperately do.
- Daily Living Support:
- Checkbox: The participant needs support with daily living activities such as personal care, meal preparation, and household tasks. I desperately do (when I secure somewhere to live).
- Complex Support Needs:
- Checkbox: The participant has complex support needs that necessitate a higher level of assistance. I do. I am the subject of a conspiracy and TI.
- 24/7 Support:
- Checkbox: The participant requires support 24/7 to ensure their safety and well-being. I am under death threats to kill both me and my dog.
- Medical and Health Requirements:
- Checkbox: The participant has specific medical or health-related needs that require ongoing support. U do I need a psychiatrist a psychologist a GP a financial counsellor, legal assistance, an advocate, drug and alcohol and social provisions.
- Community Access:
- Checkbox: The participant requires assistance in accessing and participating in community activities. I do I need support with everything.
- Mobility and Transportation:
- Checkbox: The participant needs support with mobility and transportation, including assistance in getting around. I rely on my support workers now to take me places because I have not got transportation without being victimised by police.
- Behavioural Support:
- Checkbox: The participant exhibits behaviours that require specialized support. Yes that is me to a T.
- Assistive Technology:
- Checkbox: The participant requires assistive technology to enhance their independence. I require surveillance because of gang stalkers and my privacy being invaded and technological protection from agencies interested in my data and my personal files used to demonstrate corrupt public officials which has been my moral obligation to democracy.

- Goal and Aspiration Support:
- Checkbox: The participant has specific goals and aspirations, and the support plan aligns with these objectives. My ndis goals need to be updated as I had no say in them or the words. But my goals are to live a life in a home for my dog and I free from oppression and victimisation from authorities with enough food medicine and health care. Its really only my basic human rights but ion course this is documented to have been shattered and needs urgent investigation.
- Advocacy and Decision-Making:
- Checkbox: The participant may require support in advocacy and decision-making processes. I need help with all decision making processes as long as my autonomy and freedom are guaranteed because as we know this tyrannical government rules with impunity and as my suicide attempt illustrates I don't take to kindly to having my freedoms taken and self destruct to avoid having to act within any constraints and value my ability to critique the powers that be.

I suit all the criteria with the hospital reports and discharge summaries detailing my chronic unwellness.

Neglected by NDIS

The NDIS has overseen my care for a few years. I was fine before that. Within three years the NDIS saw me living in my car as an infamous vagrant without enough food medicine care a home security or any possessions left to my name. Thats a brutal injustice and in breach of the human rights charter of a person with a disability Australia is a signatory to.

But responsibility is usually hidden behind deceitful layers of bureaucracy shielding individuals from any prosecution or liability. But now I have a lawyer and this letter is directed to you personally. Your response will be published here for all to see on my website that is my right.

The NDIS has denied accommodation for Supported Independent Living (SILS) unless all mainstream supports are exhausted. Despite tirelessly exploring avenues such as the Department of Social Security, Centrelink, and crisis centers, I find myself in a desperate situation where poverty is adversely impacting my health. With seven documented hospitalizations in three years, clearly indicating a need for intensive care, I've been left in dire straits, resorting to desperate measures for financial survival. The NDIS, complicit in my proven abuse and neglect, has amplified the challenges I face, pushing me to abuse substances and engage in fraudulent activities.

The absurdity of this situation necessitates the acknowledgment and implementation of a SILS plan as the only viable housing solution. This plea for support, however, seems to fall on deaf ears unless someone steps up to advocate for me. The corruption inherent in this system forces the NDIS to confront the truth about my relationship, potentially triggering inquiries by AGIS, the Attorney General's office, the Ombudsman, or even the Prime Minister. Despite my efforts, the Prime Minister has refused intervention, redirecting me to the Attorney General's office, which, in turn, passed the responsibility to AGIS and the Ombudsman. Unfortunately, I find myself rejected as a whistleblower, with no response from Mark Dreyfus.

Compensation, which could serve as a mainstream support, has become an impossible prospect for me. Now, the situation is akin to metal on metal, where one statutory authority must demand accountability from another, an ethical responsibility they cannot ignore. Should my accommodation not be secured promptly, I am left with no choice but to instruct my lawyer to prosecute the NDIS CEO. This is not about vengeance but about standing my ground and compelling accountability. I have no other recourse.

An orchestrated campaign

The orchestrated campaign against me has systematically stripped away everything I once had, leaving me in a state of utter vulnerability. This malicious act has not only deprived me of material possessions but has also targeted essential aspects of my life:

- Business Loss:
  I lost my business, a venture I had invested time, effort, and passion into, leaving me without a source of income and stability.

- Accreditation Damage:
  The malicious actions taken against me have tarnished my professional accreditation, damaging my reputation and hindering my ability to engage in certain activities. The NDIS cancelled my accreditation.

- Human Rights Violation:
  The deprivation of my human rights has been a deliberate and damaging aspect of the orchestrated campaign, leaving me without the basic rights and protections every individual deserves. I have attached a report that needs to be documented and acknowledged not ignored or pointedly neglected which is a method to delegitimise my story narrative and evidence. That has been torture for me. No more.

- Access to Legal Representation:
  The systematic denial of legal representation has left me without the crucial support needed to navigate the complexities of my situation and seek justice. I am glad I have found someone now I hope he is brave.

- Reputation Undermined:
  My reputation, painstakingly built over time, has been maliciously targeted, resulting in a distorted public perception that further compounds the challenges I face.

- Work Cover Manipulation:
  The denial or manipulation of work cover has left me without the financial and medical support necessary for recovery and stability. That decision is now proven to be pre determined to fail and illegal.

- Interference with Insurances:
  The interference with my insurance claims has added to the financial strain and further undermined my ability to rebuild. It had a malice to cause me harm and did.

- Thwarted Settlements:
  Any attempts to secure fair settlements have been systematically thwarted, denying me the compensation and support I am rightfully owed.

- Deprivation of Fair Treatment:
  The campaign has deprived me of fair and impartial treatment, a basic expectation in a just society.

- Right to Rent a Home Impacted:
  The orchestrated campaign has even affected my ability to secure a place to live, making me homeless under the NDIS a brutal betrayal of my human dignity.

- PID Declarations Rejected:
  In addition, my PID declarations have been summarily rejected. Even my attempts to access information through FOI from the OPMC have been thwarted, as they were deemed 'voluminous' and 'complex,' further limiting my ability to assert my rights and seek redress for the injustices I've endured.

- Unpaid Work Cover Settlements:
  Notably, not one but two work cover settlements were never paid, compounding the financial hardships imposed upon me through this campaign.

- Digital Identity Destruction:
  Moreover, Micron21, a government-backed web hosting company, deleted my business website with impunity. This act destroyed my digital identity, and despite cries for help to SBFEO, business.gov, or the TIO, no effective measures were taken to hold them accountable for their actions.

- HCF Income Protection Refusal and Ban:
  HCF further exacerbated my situation by refusing to pay my income protection insurance and subsequently banning me from contacting them, leaving me without critical financial support and avenues for resolution.

- Repeated Institutionalization for mental illness and as a Political Prisoner:
  Compounding the injustices, I have been incarcerated in an institution seven times in three years, often under dubious circumstances that suggest a pattern of political persecution. This repeated confinement further highlights the systemic abuse and violation of my rights.

- Mental Health Support Neglected:
  Additionally, I am currently without essential mental health support. I lack a psychologist, psychiatrist, and even a general practitioner (GP). Dr. David Horgan, who initially diagnosed me with ADHD and prescribed dexamphetamine as a 'life-saving' treatment, has pointedly neglected to continue this prescription after my first hospitalization in January 2021. This abrupt discontinuation has left me without a vital medication, forcing me to resort to street drugs to replicate the clarity and focus that the prescribed medication provided. Unfortunately, this has given rise to addiction issues, compounding the myriad challenges I face in my pursuit of justice and well-being.

- Extreme Poverty and Its Consequences:
  Furthermore, the recent period of extreme poverty led to dire circumstances, with me living in my car marked as an infamous vagrant. Authorities and police pursued me, adding to the distress. Severe financial constraints compelled me to eat from bins and beg for money. This poverty, by intelligent design, has been disastrous for both my mental and physical health.

- Bankruptcy Despite Unacknowledged Relationship:
  I had to declare bankruptcy in 2021 despite there never being an acknowledgment from any government agency about being in a relationship with my former partner. ASIC was willing to accept my bankruptcy, but they were not willing to accept my evidence of my relationship. That is pure hypocrisy.

- Ongoing Debts and Ombudsman's Refusal:
  Currently, I owe money to drug dealers and many people I have begged help from, totaling about $80,000. I have always wanted to pay back people when my detriments were paid, but I was never paid the detriments, leading to the loss of those people who stepped in to help me financially. The ombudsman has refused my FOI and now refused all future correspondence, adding to the layers of injustice I am facing.

- NDIS SILS Application and Threat of Harm:
  The NDIS provided me with medium-term accommodation from just before Christmas 2023 for the purposes of a SILS application but not for the fact I was living in my car. They have stated that they do not expect my SILS funding to be different this time around, but it is within my rights to ask for it. It is clear other mainstream services have been exhausted in my search for my basic needs met of a home, food, medicine, and healthcare, free from violence and neglect for my dog and me. It is evident that I cannot look after myself after seven hospitalizations and squatting as a drug-addicted vagrant for three years. It is evident I suffer from chronic schizophrenia, ADHD, and an unacknowledged brain disorder. If the CEO of the NDIS finds reason to reject my SILS application, it will indicate that the government does wish me harm, and that she has acted in congruence with an evil conspiracy. Furthermore, she has not the independent thought to criticize the government. If she does this, I will make her accountable.

No touch torture

There is no doubt that a conspiracy to pervert the course of justice is occurring, marking me as a targeted individual of the Australian Government for destruction. I've endured 'no-touch torture,' indicating the government's ill intentions towards me extend beyond mere financial control. This is exactly what justifies the three terms ‘no touch torture’ ‘targeted individual’ and ‘conspiracy to pervert the course of justice’ looks like regarding my person:

The victimisation, gaslighting, character assassination, isolation, gaslighting, legal persecution, financial ruin, harassment and intimidation, surveillance monitoring, Institutional Complicity, social marginalisation, physical harm, silencing dissent, propaganda, legal barriers, and general persecution, vilification and victimisation forced my suicide in feb 2021. It was deemed ‘lethal’ in the hospital FOI. That’s called a conspiracy to murder. I was found with no observable pulse by accident unresponsive and was revived from certain death. After this conspiracy murdered me, the tragedy was met with a general whitewashing of the incident systemically and from Weribee mercy hospital up to and including the commonwealth ombudsman.

Previously, I had asked for my FOI from the office of prime minister and cabinet out of curiosity and to see if it would shed light on this impasse I have (OPMC). At first they asked via OAIC for more time for my FOI because it was ‘voluminous’ and ‘complex’ but then turned around and told me ‘no documents exist’. This was not only incorrect but a poorly veiled deceptive lie and this exemplifies the corruption.

The PMs office would know me

I would be known to the government and visible on the OPMC’s radar for the following reasons:

- I wrote a human rights awarded autobiography on my experience with schizophrenia, published by Allen and Unwin,
- It was awarded SANE’s ‘book of the year’,
- My former parter I was engaged to for five years was an Australian secret service (ASIO) agent and high ranking public official,
- I was a well known mental health advocate for people with mental illness and their carers, and spoke hundreds of times on local, state, federal and international levels in person and on TV and radio, including inside Australian parliament,
- I am exhibiting artist of more than thirty years nd have art in national collections,

- A documentary was made on my life and artwork from the Dax collection on the subject of mental illness recovery and art,
- I was awarded a Human rights certificate from VHREOCV,
- I had a position as an illustrator and news graphics artist for both The Herald Sun and The age newspapers which obviously had a public persona.
- I had been having trouble garnering a financial determination at AFCA who eventually banned me,
- I had real troubles getting my human rights acknowledged at AHRC,
- I had preciously written to the former attorney general micaelia cash about systemic corruption at AHRC and AFCA and correctly predicted my work cover case that was to come before the AAT was pre determined to fail as well.
- I had had a complaint about a GP and this was not acknowledged at different state and federal agencies,
- I had been an international traveller in my life and was sent home from the UK when I was refused a visa over applying to work,
- Reading back over this that Victoria police had a negative view on my character,

Malice to harm

Looking back also especially in hindsight, I have had my prosperity consciously and maliciously redacted from me from the form of any settlement, legal battles, insurances, compensations, winnings, marital break up, or otherwise. The methodology to do this was systemically and politically orchestrated and its purpose was to rob me of power and comfort and make life an unyielding challenge financially and to live. Someone or something had the intention to make me suffer.

The genesis of destroying me as a scapegoat can be traced back to at least two or three individuals, both of whom have government backing and support: Steve Iasonidis, my former fiancé and ASIO employee, and Russell Ball, who informs government policy and advises the ombudsman. Additionally, a significant event occurred when I lost my virginity to Debbie Morgan at the age of nineteen, during an event at the local police and fire brigade celebrations. At that time, I was questioning my sexuality, and I believe she had the support of the police not to pursue rape charges but to excommunicate me, labeling me derogatorily as gay and accusing me of sexual assault due to my naive exploration of my sexuality.

This event led to gossip, slurs, homophobia, and alluding comments that affected my family and friends. Simultaneously, I experienced 'auditory hallucinations' at my workplace, and a man at my job made indirect but unmistakable references to the event. These three genesis points created a ripple effect, shaping an experience in which the world perceived and treated me differently, fostering isolation, withdrawal, and exacerbating my existing vulnerability to psychosis.

To compound the challenges in my life, individuals discovered my paranoias and neurosis, exploiting them in power plays that consistently provoked distressed reactions from me. I struggled to comprehend that my company was intimidating, teasing, and being cruel. Gobsmacked, my reality suffered aberrations as I, trusting in innocence, discovered a world where I was exploited and taken advantage of. I unwittingly became a show pony for being mentally ill, relishing the attention—a stark contrast to the lack of support and understanding I experienced growing up in a family that had already toxically scapegoated me.

TECHNIQUES TO DESTROY EXAMPLES OF DESTRUCTION

These three people were the architects of my persecution and involved targeting and victimizing me to shift blame, divert attention from real issues or problems, or consolidate power. This destructive process which was prolonged was malicious and had a conscious agenda to cause me harm, and it included a combination of psychological, social, and institutional tactics. Here are some of the ways they scapegoated me with examples from my life:

Character Assassination:

Attacking my reputation, credibility, and character through spreading false rumors, misinformation, or propaganda. This can be done through media, social networks, torture to elicit a confession, or public statements.

- Allen and Unwin exploited me for my autobiography 'Recovered, Not Cured'
- In this they let my own words sabotage my reputation and I believe set me up with public interviews so that I would become known yet secretly hated,
- Herald Sun vilification of my book and I leading to my job loss at the age,
- My illness identified at the Dax Collection and my art tokenistikally treated,
- At one stage the media came to my home and interviewed me for TV when I was high and unwell,
- RRR FM interviewed me at a time when I was clearly not coping with Richard Watts,
- The drug debate on SBS asked live on air if I do ecstasy even though I said I wanted to talk about marijuana and psychosis
- That I was used as a pawn at the cannabis and mental health forum and paraded as a mad person from the use of drugs

Isolation: Cutting off the scapegoat from social networks, allies, or support systems, making them vulnerable and easier to target. This can involve social ostracism, shunning, or discrediting their relationships.

Targeting Vulnerable Groups: Persecuting not only the scapegoat but also individuals or groups associated with them, further isolating and weakening their support network.

Lifelong financial destruction - the removal of power.

Gang stalking refers to a set of harassment tactics, typically conducted by a group of people, against an individual, known as the target or victim. These tactics are often intrusive, relentless, and psychologically distressing. Gang stalking can take various forms, but it usually involves unwanted surveillance, intimidation, and harassment. The perpetrators may be strangers, acquaintances, or even people known to the victim.

Examples of Gang Stalking Tactics:

Surveillance: Perpetrators may follow the victim, track their movements, or place the target under continuous surveillance. This can include vehicles following the victim, unknown people watching the victim's home, or the use of hidden cameras.

Harassment and Stalking: The victim may experience persistent, invasive harassment. This can involve stalking by individuals, including cyberstalking, following the victim, and making intimidating phone calls or sending threatening messages.

Gaslighting: Perpetrators may engage in gaslighting, trying to make the victim doubt their own perceptions, sanity, or memory. They might move objects in the victim's home, leave subtle clues to suggest they are being watched, or manipulate the victim's environment to create a sense of disorientation.

Noise Campaign: Targets may experience a relentless campaign of noise harassment, including loud music, horns, sirens, or other disruptive sounds. This can disrupt the victim's sleep and peace of mind.

Cyberbullying: Gang stalking can extend into the digital realm. Perpetrators may hack into the victim's accounts, spread false information, or engage in online harassment through social media, emails, or other online platforms.

Vandalism: Targets may find their property vandalized or tampered with, such as slashed tires, damaged vehicles, or defaced personal belongings.

Community and Workplace Harassment: Perpetrators may attempt to isolate the victim by spreading false rumors, damaging their reputation in their community or workplace, or convincing others to participate in the harassment campaign.

Psychological Effects on Victims:

Anxiety and Paranoia: Victims often experience heightened anxiety, fear, and paranoia as they constantly feel watched and threatened.

Isolation: The persistent harassment can lead to social isolation, as victims may withdraw from friends and family out of fear or mistrust.

Depression: The ongoing stress and emotional toll of gang stalking can contribute to feelings of depression and hopelessness.

Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD): Many victims develop symptoms of PTSD, including flashbacks, nightmares, and hyperarousal, due to the traumatic nature of the stalking.

Loss of Privacy: Gang stalking invades the victim's privacy, causing distress and a sense of vulnerability.

Physical Health Issues: Chronic stress and anxiety can lead to physical health problems, such as headaches, digestive issues, and sleep disturbances.

Deteriorating Mental Health: The cumulative effects of gang stalking can have severe consequences on the victim's mental health, potentially leading to psychosis or suicidal thoughts.

It's important to note that gang stalking is often associated with delusional disorders, where individuals believe they are being targeted when there is no credible evidence to support such claims. This is not the case in this instance.

That is not the case here.

However, there are cases where gang stalking does occur, and victims require support and assistance to cope with the psychological and emotional impact of such harassment. In these instances, seeking help from mental health professionals and law enforcement can be crucial for the well-being of the victim.

Removing someone's finances intentionally causes harm, impacting basic needs, shelter, food, healthcare, education, employment, social life, psychological well-being, legal consequences, and overall quality of life. The intentional amplification of a pre-existing mental illness by the government, as exemplified by the NDIS's broken promise, is a grave violation of human rights. Seeking support from social services, community organizations, or legal assistance is crucial for those facing financial difficulties.

The compelling reasons for my SILS request include:

The urgent need for Supported Independent Living (SILS) is evident as all other avenues have been exhausted, leaving me in dire circumstances. I kindly request confirmation that you will strongly advise the Occupational Therapist (OT) on my behalf for 24-hour care in support of my SILS application.

- Brain Injury:
  As documented in Werribee Mercy Hospital records, the degeneration resulting from a suicide attempt is a consequence of the brain injury I sustained during a period of "no-touch torture" inflicted by the government.

- Mental Illness:
  My pre-existing mental illness has been weaponized, aggravating my condition and making me more vulnerable to the challenges I face.

- Safety Concerns:
  I do not feel safe due to threats on my life, including the specific threat made by Stefan Iasonidis against my dog and Crystal. The government's failure to acknowledge certain aspects of my life has marked me as a targeted individual, exposing me to ongoing threats.

- No Touch Torture and Targeted Individual Status:
  The government's systemic and politicized application of "no-touch torture" has left me a targeted individual, impacting my mental health and overall well-being.

- Legal and Family Issues:
  Legal troubles, such as an Apprehended Violence Order (AVO) from my mother and blacklisting by other blood relatives, contribute to the challenges I face in maintaining stability.

- Human Rights Abuses:
  Documented instances of human rights abuses, victimization, oppression, and being a scapegoat further highlight the urgency of addressing my situation.

UNTENABLE PERSISTANCE

Given the circumstances, it is untenable for the following to persist:

- Inadequate access to food, shelter, civil liberties, human and legal rights, privacy, medical care, and a permanent home.

- Lack of psychological, psychiatric, and general practitioner support.

- Ongoing character assassination and malicious neglect with an apparent intention to harm.

Considering the setbacks I've faced, including being banned at AFCA, losing work cover, income assistance, and VOCAT cases, the refusal of SILS would only exacerbate the abuse from the government. I now have legal representation and will hold individuals accountable for any further harm inflicted upon me.

Please include me in all communication with the OT and my lawyer and any other official in this matter.

I can provide evidence if necessary, to ensure a swift and compassionate response to my plea for SILS.

Please consider my whistleblowing website when making the decision. If it is not in my favour I will hold people accountable if it kills me. Your response will be published.

The recent NDIS torture chamber and redaction of a home

By the way on 03.01.2024 Carole inadvertently confirms without knowing she was recorded that she has an ID of a conversation with the NDIS stating my recent funding for accomodation was in addition to and not included in my plan. To go back on your word like that is am brutal way to drain my funds immediately nd force me to homelessness and the ndia is well aware of this financial abuse and decision with which would cause me immeasurable detriment.

https://youtu.be/Mn0d87BukGE?si=q_1B1OIGsIKYgPOv

I am becoming more educated and aware, and I refuse to tolerate further injustice or financial detriment. I will not endure the brutality of 'no-touch torture' any longer. My human dignity will not be assaulted. It is a stark embarrassment to the NDIS, the government, and you personally that my recent experience as a homeless vagrant living in my car was consciously intended for me. The NDIS condoned this neglect and contributed to it in a way that cleverly escaped liability for my profound detriment. It was a systemic and political effort, wherein powerful public officials like yourself have been unable to alter the government's mantra of destroying me.

Even if you wanted to speak out against the profound corruption and the unholy victimization I have endured, which has led to my current state, you cannot. This is because you are employed by the tyrannical government that persecutes me, and you are obliged never to criticize them. I believe that persecution and vilification, whether I am considered mad or not, have been ongoing issues for me ever since the publication of my human rights-awarded autobiography detailing my experience with schizophrenia.

Vilified by the Herald Sun, fired from the Age.

I CANT HELP BUT REFLECT WRITE AND SHARE

I have persistently shared my story of hope and recovery with people facing mental illness and their caregivers throughout the country, even speaking within the Australian Parliament. My merit should not be doubted. My current situation is not a result of any character flaw or weakness; it has been orchestrated through malice, hate, prejudice, shame, stigma, and discrimination. My courageous narrative of may autobiography has now been weaponized against me since I came under investigation which you can see - I filmed them. All the data collected on my life was scrutinized for potential vulnerabilities, and this conspiracy turned friends and family against me.

I am a faggot, I fuck a lot, Ive had regretful sex, Ive made mistakes, I use drugs, and watch porn, all of which which society may perceive as unconventional, or of low character yet it does not diminish my high opinion of myself which is the antithesis of this damaging movement hoping to shame me, blame me, frame me and has maimed me. I've owned all of it in complete humility in a mostly public way.

I consider myself clever and open-minded, and liberated in dimensions inaccessible to everyday people who are eager to follow the rules. My confidence is in spite of public opinion or my bad reputation and judgements of everyday people and still exists post-death despite the oppressive attempts to induce shame or guilt. Remarkably, the V2k audio harassment has persistently followed me from place to place, both in public and in my car, for the past few years. This covert intelligence, not publicly acknowledged, is likely utilized by the Five Eyes and beyond. Rapist, faggot, pedo, killer, 'kill yourself' they chant just only audibly. 'You're not schizophrenic!; they surprisingly screamed a couple years ago irony not withstanding.

Yep, they're watching me...

But I am watching you and will hold you to account.

God is on my side. (God spelled backward is 'Dog,' and I have one of those.)

I am hopeful to forgive everyone one day, but that does not negate my security, liberty, prosperity, healthcare, accommodation, care, and human rights.

I'm accepting kindness in whatever form it may take moving forward. I hope to serve the community again sometime soon because I love kooky people and I love the stories; after all, we live storied lives, and I am good at it. Perhaps when I am provided prosperity for my basic needs, a little rest. Perhaps by my destiny, I have suffered; I have already provided my compassion and care in a non-visible way in a dimension far removed from the everyday.

I don’t need to be liked or applauded. I have untagged the broken inner child who as an adult compensated for being a public person in advocacy to simply reclaim the love I missed out on in my detriment of what my broken inner child had been neglected of.

I live with Crystal, enjoying life's pleasures and experiences. Nowadays, I engage in arguments, possess a short temper, and tend to be messy. Nonetheless, I'm grateful for being here, appreciating the Earth. Oddly enough, I still love all people. If I have a disagreement with someone, it doesn't mean they're not forgiven in my heart.

Upon returning to Earth, I felt like I was half divine, half earth monkey sinner. I developed an allegorical Christian narrative of living truthfully, being persecuted to death, experiencing crucifixion, and ultimately being saved by the hand of God. This salvation was not of my making, and my heart was irrevocably broken, void of all hope. Launched back into life, I was brutally forsaken for three years, facing a choice.

I've studied the end times and religious texts. When humankind forsakes the light, God gets angry, but something happens to put them back together. However, if it occurs a second time after God gives humankind a chance and they still fall short, anger ensues.

After being kind of resurrected, I faced the choice to end it all. Despite insurmountable impossibilities, I hung on. I was aware of my own theories about the end times, quantum superintelligence, and post-humanism beyond an event horizon with populations consisting of inter-dimensional hybrids – topics I explored in my PhD.

The rational world we live in, likely a simulation, is nowhere close to an authentic base reality and is utterly doomed. I imagined I was Christ part two, fantasizing about being here to forgive everyone. However, the reality is that this will be my literal Jesus moment. When I get out of this, there is no one left who has not forsaken and judged me.

To enjoy the Earth and love its people, I have to continue being conscious of their judgments but forgiving to be able to accept and talk to them in a meaningful way. The allegory of crucifixion, redemption, and a savior exists personally for me as a microcosm of a story with so much divine resonance that I believe my suffering has elicited something divine. That's for me to have. I enjoy the magic, am thrilled with synchronicity, and still find joy in creating and writing.

If I had been told at 16 to save my money, buy a house in Pakenham, marry a girl, pop out some puppies, and live a life working in servitude to the powers that be, then I would have killed myself long ago. Bad luck or good luck makes room for fodder for stories to enrich and inspire. I've never wanted a normal life, and framed by my neurotic family, who aim to actually be like the others, it becomes absurd in their defense of a pristine appearance and perfect personalities with balanced personalities. I was the one who learned early as a child their actual neurosis and how corruptible and flawed they were. That's why I aimed for adventure, and that is why I actively went to seek the unusual or otherworldly experience. I guess you can say I've lived a life of great adventure, and it's never been boring. I'm grateful I'm here. Now, please let me and Crystal be in peace so I can live happily with my sentience. I've never been happier in this moment.

Thank you.

Barran Dodger.
