This is fucked. I've recorded this thing about five times already. I've just come to this point tonight. Holy fucking shitpoles. Where is the outrage? Where is the fucking anger? I asked the most powerful people in the land for help. Why did I ask them for help? Because they have positions of power and influence and money and control and they would be able to do something. But what did they do when. Look, I wouldn't have asked him if I didn't have to. I could already gone through everyone else task and I went right to the top. And I was disabled, I was homeless, I was no money, no rights and they knew that I wasn't going to be happy or heal or anything like that. You know what they did? I gave them patience, I paid them grace and I gave them the opportunity to fucking do the right thing by me. And they spat in the face of the grace that God put in me. That is a fucking brutal thing. And I reckon God is fucking angry with these people. That's why I do recognize God's chosen witness and I'm going to be a vessel for his glory to expose corruption. They've got positions of responsibility for judiciary duties and they have responsibilities as public officials and people of prominent public positions. This is absolutely crook, absolutely crook. And you know, I've contributed so much to this country over 35 years. I've been targeted. What the am I still probably for. Somebody should be up in arms about this. Seriously, why, why can't people see what's going on? Are they blind? Are they lemmings? Are they stupid? Stupid. They're all giving their permission to be ruled by these cunts. Everyone complains about the country anyway. Like why would you give permission to these people? You people need to wake up. I swear I am furious. I'm sitting here alone in exile, political exile. I'm abused, neglected, surveilled, tortured, harassed, electronic, harassed. People setting me up on YouTube. People set me up. Where I chat, people are sitting me up. Every single person in the world knows where I'm, I'm the access by which every professional in this whole country turns. Every cop, every lawyer, rep, public official, the media, my family, everyone, you know, people don't you don't get rid of someone if, if, if you, if, if, if you like them, you know, obviously they hate me. They hate me. Why would they do this to me? They hate me. You know what I would have been if, if I'd done something wrong? If someone had a sid we. Where's the courage of their convictions when they stop and Say if anyone at all came up and said to me, well I think you did this and you'll teach this and here's the evidence and here's a method by which we can test it. And I think this is going to be good for you because you can kind of sort out your shit and we can be a better human being. No one ever did that. No one ever came up to me with facts and evidence and said I think you've done this. They just wanted to go and livell and slander and the fucking gossip meal and all that kind of stuff. Just liberal and center. And you know what? The devil is tricky. The devil. That's the devil. That's the devil's work right there. I've admitted my perfections publicly over 35 years and I've enough claim my insecurities and my mental illness and everything like that. I don't see any single public official or any person in the country who was admitting that they looked the other ways. I was destroyed. That's not really very culpable or very nice of or very proud. Hasn't got ethics, integrity, facts, evidence, anything. And all my letters to all of them, they've all got fact checked evidence based in the public domain. It is absolutely concrete, it's undeniable and, and still I'm scapegoated. I'm excommunicated. I'm sitting here by myself with my dog. I've got nothing and no one. And it's just fucking amazing. I'm just really, I'm just brutally angry at these people. These proud privileged world deserved public, published public facade people. And they're absolute demons. They would throw someone into the bus and a disabled person they're obliged to care for as well. And they sleep well in their beds at all the same time and they don't give another single thought of guilt or conscience to them. And I don't know why I've got a website. Why does anyone not listen to me? This is absolutely. Fuck. I wouldn't need a website or a fucking YouTube channel if I had a single person to acknowledge my humanity. You know what the bear the irony of this whole thing is I had to do it in order to survive. And I've died once, assassination attempts again and I've escaped them. And I'm still under conditions that are creating conditions for my suicide and my detriment, my harm and financial abuse and family violence and the whole lot. Denial, legal aid, entrapment, torture, poverty, exile, you name it. It is absolutely brutal and I'm her. Why am I sitting here patiently talking about all this stuff when it's. It's just so brutal? They're absolutely destroying me in human sacrifice. And everyone's on board. I can't believe it.
