DR RICHARD MCLEAN
2 MCCUBBIN ST
FOOTSCRAY VIC 3011

04 July 2023

Ref No. 7103064345

Dear Dr Richard Mclean

Your application is under consideration for an offer of a public housing property in Flemington District. If you are eligible and a suitable property is available for you to inspect, a time will be arranged for you to visit the property.

Each Priority Access and Register of Interest housing application is entitled to a maximum of two reasonable offers. A reasonable offer means that the bedrooms are matched appropriately to your household size, the area requested is in the preferred area and meets the safety and access needs of your household.

If you refuse the first reasonable offer you can receive one further offer at a later date. If you refuse both reasonable offers, your application will be cancelled and you will need to submit a new application for social housing

Before a reasonable offer of housing is made departmental staff must re-establish that the property is suitable, you are eligible, and the Priority Access Category reflects your current circumstances.

You will need to give us the following documents for each person included in your application in order to check your eligibility as follows:

- A Centrelink income statement (no more than 2 weeks old)
- A wage statement for the last 13 weeks
- A current statement(s) for all bank accounts (no more than 4 weeks old)
- Documentation to confirm income and assets from any other source.

If any household members are using the Centrelink Income Confirmation Service, they are not required to provide income documentation.

There may be maintenance works underway at the time of inspection, but all the necessary works will be completed prior to you moving in. You will be informed:

- when the maintenance is due for completion
- when the sign-up is to occur, and the tenancy start date
- any non-standard items in the property or owner's corporation conditions.

If you do not contact the department by 10 July 2023, we will assume you no longer want social housing and your application will be removed from the Victorian Housing Register.

Please quote reference number 7103064345 when making enquiries.

Yours sincerely

Chrisoula Tziros

Privacy Collection Notice

Victorian Housing Register

The department collects personal information you provide in your Victorian Housing Register application about you and your household, to determine your eligibility to access social housing, the size of your household and where you are seeking to live.

The department and registered community organisations use this information to allocate a suitable property for you and your household, as well as determine the rent to charge for your tenancy.

The information is also used to contact you and to know which support providers or advocates have your permission to access your information or to speak on your behalf.

It should be noted that the department accepts information about your household from you on the basis that you have obtained their consent where the household member is not a dependent child. In providing consent, household members should be aware that their information will be used by the department to determine eligibility for housing assistance and maybe accessible by Community Housing organisations where they have been selected as a housing option.

Public Housing

To correctly determine the rent to be charged for your tenancy, the department will collect details about your income and assets either from you, or where you have authorised it, from Centrelink, on an ongoing basis. You will also be requested to update your circumstances over time as this may impact your rent charge. If authorisation has been provided, the department will use your Centrelink details for payment processing of your rent charge once your tenancy commences.

The department is required to collect personal information about you and your household.

As your landlord, the department is required to retain the information it collects about you and your household as it forms the basis on which you have been assessed as eligible for public housing, including the details of your household members and incomes at the point of allocation of a property.

Discussions you have with departmental staff, letters and other communications the department sends to you or you send the department, as well as contacts from advocates or third parties, and referrals to other services, are all held as records associated with your tenancy and its household members.

As your landlord, the Department will take photos of your residence at the time you begin your tenancy, to record its condition, and those photos will be included in the condition report for the premises. If you leave items of personal property in the premises after you vacate, the Department is required to take photos of these, and will use those photos to advise you about these items and to keep a record for security purposes.

The department will only disclose this information with third parties on a need's basis or as authorised by law and will provide the minimal information required for the purpose. For example, when maintenance works are to be done, the department will disclose to the contractor the name of the tenant/s, address of the property, and contact details, as well as the works that are required, and any other specific information relative to safely undertaking the work.
