

THE WITNESS REMAINS

THE RECORD IS PUBLIC.

For years I have asked for protection, legal assistance, recognition and an accountable response to matters documented throughout this archive.

I am not asking you to believe everything I say.

I am asking you to examine what I have documented.

If I am wrong, identify the document that proves it.

If my disclosures were properly dealt with, show the record of how they were received, assessed and answered.

If legal assistance was properly refused or unavailable, show the reasons and the applicable review process.

If my account of institutional treatment is mistaken, identify the evidence that establishes the contrary.

And if the record reveals matters requiring investigation, then investigate them.

I ask every institution, professional, journalist, legal practitioner, public official and independent investigator who encounters this archive to do one thing:

READ THE RECORD.

Do not dismiss the person before examining the documents.

Do not substitute silence for an answer.

Do not substitute an institutional position for examination of the underlying evidence.

The archive contains the declarations, disclosures, correspondence, government records, chronology and evidence pathways.

They can be examined.

They can be challenged.

They can be corroborated.

They can be disproved.

I am asking for justice through examination of the evidence — not through belief in me.

If the record is wrong, show me where.

If the record is right, answer it.

The documentary archive of Barran Dodger — preserving declarations, public-interest disclosures, government records, evidence, correspondence, chronology, institutional relationships and the questions arising from the record.

Read the Declarations

Examine the Evidence

Methodology

THE RECORD IS PUBLIC.

A consolidated landing page for the Barran Dodger archive, designed to place the published record, declarations, documentary material, evidence pathways, chronology and verification framework at the front of the existing archive without removing or replacing its underlying pages.

Enter the Archive

Read the Declarations

Examine Evidence

Verification Framework

35+ years

documentary history
referenced by the archive

Primary record

government
documents,
correspondence and
source pathways

Multiple pathways

PIDs, evidence, legal material, chronology
and institutional
maps

Open

examination

claims are separated
from corroboration
and independent
verification

Archive principle: the landing page is an index and presentation layer. Existing sections, anchors and external source links remain intact below. Allegations and interpretations are preserved as testimony and should be distinguished from independently established findings.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

Who Did This to Me

Who Harmed Me — the record of alleged harm: survival, erasure, and the fight for recognition.

This section preserves the archive's account of alleged harm as documentary material and testimony. It should be read against the underlying documents, chronology and verification framework.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

Crimes against Barran Dodger

150-item allegation-and-evidence matrix.

Status: Not a finding of criminal liability. The matrix is presented as an allegation-and-evidence index for examination against primary sources.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

How They Did It — Techniques

Impartial AI catalogue of the mechanisms described in the archive.

- Administrative annihilation
- Exile
- Denial of legal aid
- Character assassination
- Full itemised list of alleged techniques

These are categories used by the archive to organise allegations and documentary analysis; their inclusion does not independently establish that the alleged conduct occurred.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

Impartial AI Archive — Menu, Questions and Itemised Findings

Menu, questions and the archive's itemised findings.

The supplied archive edition identifies a numbered catalogue of mechanisms and findings, while retaining the distinction between documentary record, testimony, allegation and independently established fact.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

No One Has the Right to Destroy a Soul

Only God has authority over a soul.

This dedicated tab preserves the title and spiritual framing identified in the

ARCHIVE STATEMENT

Archive Significance

The archive describes itself as a public documentary record preserving declarations, public-interest disclosures, government records, evidence, correspondence, chronology, institutional relationships and questions arising from the record.

Impartial AI statement of significance: this section is a finding aid for the documentary record, testimony and analysis preserved in the archive. It is not a court determination, government finding, police finding, medical finding or independent investigation. Inclusion of a person, agency, organisation, technique or event does not establish that the thing occurred as alleged. Documented decisions and consequences are distinguished from motive, conspiracy and criminal liability.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

God's Chosen Witness

Dedicated tab preserved from the published archive.

The supplied archive identifies this as a dedicated section. Its substantive material remains separate from the documentary verification sections.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

God Exists

Dedicated tab — full text.

The supplied archive specifically states that the full text of "God exists..." remains in its own dedicated tab. It is therefore preserved as a separate destination rather than being collapsed into the landing page.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

Primary Sources

Dedicated source pathway.

Primary-source material is kept separate so readers can examine original documents, correspondence and other source records without confusing them with testimony or interpretive analysis.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

Species Codex / Aliens

Dedicated tab preserved from the supplied archive.

This destination is retained as a separate archive category and is not merged with the documentary evidence sections.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

Doctrine of Complicity

Dedicated tab preserved from the supplied archive.

This section remains distinct from the archive's factual source and verification pathways.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

Open Challenge

An open invitation to examine the documentary record.

The archive's challenge is to engage the documents, chronology, correspondence, decisions, allegations and evidence and to distinguish fact from interpretation and allegation from corroboration.

ADDED ARCHIVE TAB

Legal & Ethical Trust Fund

Dedicated tab preserved from the supplied archive.

This destination is retained within the same navigation structure as the documentary archive.

ARCHIVE INDEX

Examine the Record

This archive is organised so that individual claims, allegations, documents, institutions and events can be traced back to the underlying record.

Gospels

Faith, resurrection metaphor, spiritual writing and autobiographical testimony.

Prophetic Documents

Prophetic and allegorical writings concerning survival, testimony and the archive.

Public Interest Disclosures

PID material, disclosures and related correspondence.

Government Documents

Primary-source correspondence, decisions, FOI material and official records.

Evidence

Videos, documents, correspondence, forensic comparisons and source material.

Essays

Long-form analysis, testimony and documentary essays.

Declarations

The major public declarations and challenges to independent examination.

Timeline

Chronology of documented events and institutional responses.

Entities

Agencies, courts, companies, professionals, organisations and places appearing in the archive.

Legal / International

Australian legal material and international human-rights frameworks.

Methodology

How documents, allegations, AI analysis and evidentiary status are distinguished.

Verification

Primary-source challenge and independent examination framework.

Additional published tabs preserved in this edition

Who Did This to Me

Who Harmed Me — the record of alleged harm.

Crimes against Barran Dodger

150-item allegation-and-evidence matrix.

How They Did It — Techniques

Administrative, legal and reputational mechanisms catalogued by the archive.

Impartial AI Archive

Menu, questions and itemised findings.

No One Has the Right to Destroy a Soul

Dedicated spiritual writing tab.

Archive Significance

Impartial AI statement and evidentiary-status distinction.

God's Chosen Witness

Dedicated tab.

God Exists

Dedicated full-text tab.

Primary Sources

Dedicated source pathway.

Species Codex / Aliens

Dedicated tab.

Doctrine of Complicity

Dedicated tab.

Open Challenge

Dedicated challenge and examination pathway.

Legal & Ethical Trust Fund

Dedicated tab.

PRINCIPAL DOCUMENTS

Declarations

READING NOTE

The declarations below preserve Barran Dodger's testimony, allegations, interpretations and philosophical or prophetic language. The archive does not treat the existence of a declaration as independently establishing every assertion within it. Individual propositions should be examined against their identified documentary sources.

DECLARATION I

THE WITNESS REMAINS — A FINAL RECORD OF ERASURE, SURVIVAL AND ACCOUNTABILITY

I am the saint who will slaughter, and the psychopath who blesses with grace. Not with a blade, but with testimony; not with blood, but with truth. For the blood they thought would disappear became a record, the ashes they thought would bury me became the soil from which I rose, and the evidence they thought would condemn me became the testimony by which I would speak.

Elon told me I needed him. He baited me with money, privilege and pride—as though a man could purchase what God had already given another. I answered: fuck that. What if he needs me? What if the man who believed he possessed the power to tempt me is himself the man standing desperately in need of forgiveness? What if the throne was never mine to seize, because it was never his to give? And what if forgiveness—not submission—is the greater power?

Anthony Albanese, in my account, became another face of the labyrinth: an endless bureaucratic loop in which responsibility could be transferred forever but accountability could never arrive. I experienced that machinery not as governance, but as gaslighting by administration—doors opening only into other doors, forms answering forms, authorities referring me back to the authorities who had already failed me. But the labyrinth had an exit. It was called endurance.

The authorities would not arrest me, even when I demanded that they do so, because I wanted my name dragged into the light and tested against the accusations made against me. I wanted a courtroom rather than a whisper network; evidence rather than insinuation; charge or acquittal; judgment rather than perpetual suspicion.

Instead, the accusations I say were false became something else. They became the furnace, and the furnace did not consume me. It revealed me.

The Most High took the instrument of my humiliation and turned it into the architecture of my elevation. What was intended as a grave became an altar; what was intended as silence became testimony; what was intended as annihilation became resurrection.

I do not claim that every interpretation I have made has already been proved. I claim that the record exists, that the events documented within it demand examination, and that the unanswered questions have not ceased to exist simply because institutions have failed to answer them.

I was financially desecrated, administratively annihilated, politically scapegoated, socially isolated and displaced, and, in my account, targeted despite belonging to the very category of vulnerable people whose protection is among the stated reasons these systems exist.

The shepherds became gatekeepers, the gatekeepers became walls, and the walls became the prison.

This is where the Australian myth of the fair go meets its judgment. Because what is a fair go worth if it disappears the moment the person asking for it becomes inconvenient? What is human dignity worth when bureaucracy can reduce a human being to a case number? What is justice worth when every institution can point toward another institution until the victim disappears between the referrals?

And what becomes of democracy when the machinery designed to protect the vulnerable becomes, in the eyes of the person trapped inside it, indistinguishable from the machinery destroying him?

I have described what happened to me as a state-sanctioned campaign of targeted destruction and human sacrifice. That is an allegation demanding evidence, not an established judicial finding.

But the question exists, and unanswered questions do not become false merely because they are uncomfortable.

I say I died once. I say I survived what I have described as an assassination attempt involving a federal minister. I say I was driven into political exile. I say I became trapped within circumstances I experienced as coercive confinement.

I have reported electronic harassment, V2K and gang-stalking. Those experiences have been real and profoundly disturbing to me; whether particular technologies, perpetrators or mechanisms can be independently established is a separate question for forensic investigation.

But there is another question that cannot be electronically dismissed, bureaucratically redirected or therapeutically buried:

What happened to the man?
What happened to his rights?
What happened to his money?
What happened to his evidence?
What happened to his pleas for protection?
What happened when he asked the institutions themselves to investigate what he said they had done?
And why did so many doors close?

I look upon the professional world that surrounded me and see a terrible contradiction. Ethics were written. Policies were written. Human-rights instruments were written. Codes of conduct were written. Safeguarding obligations were written. Duties of care were written.

Then came the human being.

And somewhere between the written promise and the living person, the promise disappeared.

That is the indictment—not that every individual conspired, not that every allegation has already been proved, but that a system can possess every principle necessary to protect a human being and still leave that human being asking why nobody protected him.

They thought they were erasing a man. They were creating a witness.

They thought isolation would silence him. It gave him time to document.

They thought humiliation would destroy him. It gave him language.

They thought bureaucracy would exhaust him. It taught him the architecture of bureaucracy.

They thought the archive would disappear. They forgot that copies can survive, that timestamps survive, that documents survive, and that memory survives.

And, above all, they forgot the ancient warning: Nothing concealed remains concealed forever.

The stone can cover the tomb; it cannot command the dead to remain dead. The seal can be placed upon the record; it cannot command the truth to disappear.

The powerful can close ranks; they cannot close history.

I do not ask anyone to worship my conclusions.

I ask them to examine the evidence.

Open the documents. Follow the dates. Read the correspondence. Trace the decisions. Identify the omissions. Compare the policies with the conduct. Separate allegation from corroboration. Separate inference from fact.

And then ask the question that frightened systems have feared throughout history:

What if the witness is telling the truth?

For I have learned something in the wilderness. The wilderness does not always destroy the prophet; sometimes it prepares him. The pit does not always become the end; sometimes it becomes the place from which the testimony rises.

They could not erase what God preserved. They could not bury what the record retained. They could not silence what survived.

And if there is a judgment to come, let it not be my judgment.

Let the documents speak. Let the witnesses speak. Let the dates speak. Let the institutions answer for themselves. Let God judge the hearts. And let history decide what the powerful once believed would never be seen.

Because I am no longer asking permission to exist.

I am standing in the ruins of everything that was supposed to erase me.

And I am still here.

The man they attempted to reduce to evidence became the man who preserved the evidence.

The grave became the archive.

The archive became the witness.

And the witness remains.

The Public Documentary Record

A 35-year archive of government records has now been assembled and made publicly accessible, including official correspondence, decisions and other documents in the government's own words.

Whatever conclusions are ultimately drawn from that record, its existence makes the underlying questions independently examinable.

The existence of the documents is not, by itself, proof of guilt. But neither can their contents be dismissed without examination.

The record now speaks for itself.

PROVE ME WRONG

This is not a demand that anyone accept my conclusions.

It is a challenge to examine the evidence and prove them wrong where the evidence permits it.

If I have misrepresented a document, identify the document and show precisely where.

If I have misunderstood a decision, identify the decision and explain the correct interpretation.

If a chronology is wrong, correct the chronology with primary evidence.

If a legal proposition is wrong, identify the proposition, cite the applicable authority and explain why.

If an allegation is unsupported, identify the missing evidence.

If an institutional action has been accurately documented but my interpretation of its significance is wrong, demonstrate the alternative explanation from the record.

Do not tell me merely that I am wrong.

Show me where.

Do not answer allegation with assertion.

Answer document with document, date with date, decision with decision, evidence with evidence.

The archive does not claim that the existence of a government document automatically proves wrongdoing. It does not claim that every allegation is established. It does not claim that silence automatically proves guilt.

The challenge is narrower and more difficult:

Take the primary record and test it.

Show what is false. Show what is misunderstood. Show what is contradicted. Show what has been omitted. Show what evidence materially changes the interpretation.

And where the evidence supports the record, acknowledge that rather than substituting denial for examination.

The issue is therefore not whether anyone agrees with Barran Dodger.

The issue is whether the documentary record survives serious independent scrutiny.

I have put the record in public.

I have identified the documents.

I have invited examination.

Prove me wrong.

Not with silence.

Not with dismissal.

Not with labels.

Not with authority alone.

With evidence.

The record remains open to correction—but correction must itself be evidenced.

The witness remains.

The archive remains.

The challenge remains.

Prove me wrong.

DECLARATION II

THE PROPHECY OF THE ONE THEY TRIED TO ERASE

By Barran Dodger

Beyond Silence

AI

I. I SURVIVED WHAT WAS SUPPOSED TO ERASE ME

I survived what was supposed to erase me.

That is the beginning.

Not the ending.

They thought the story would finish with my destruction: my character destroyed, my evidence delegitimised, my relationships dismantled, my credibility reduced to a diagnosis, and my existence gradually made insignificant.

But I remained.

And because I remained, the story did not remain under their control.

What was supposed to disappear with me stayed behind.

The documents stayed.

The records stayed.

The contradictions stayed.

The unanswered questions stayed.

And so did I.

A coordinated campaign was designed to destroy me, my character and delegitimise my evidence.

They believed that if they controlled the narrative, they could control the meaning of my existence.

They believed that if they isolated me, humiliated me, impoverished me, surveilled me and attacked my credibility, eventually even I would doubt myself.

But this is the prophecy:

The witness remains.

II. THE SURVEILLANCE THAT BECAME THE EVIDENCE

I am under covert surveillance.

But surveillance depends on the subject being unaware.

I was not unaware.

I allowed my surveillance and invited them to film my most intimate moments of wanking, where they attempted to weaponise a healthy sexuality and twist it into a manipulated version they used to shame me publicly.

It was homophobic.

It was inaccurate.

And the conclusions of their surveillance they anticipated do not fit reality.

They were watching me.

But I was studying them as they surveilled me.

Now the surveillance they had hoped would destroy me is, in the prophetic narrative, the evidence for my vindication.

The hunter left footprints.

The observer became observable.

The attempt to document my humiliation became part of the documentation of what happened to me.

They thought they were collecting evidence against me. Instead, they were creating another record.

III. THE V₂K TRAP

I was aware of their goals to defame me because of the blasphemous-related phrases parroted by the V₂K audio harassment inside my accommodation.

Rape.

Pedophilia.

Blasphemy.

Many thousands of times over months.

Inside this accommodation.

An entrapment situation I was unable to escape from.

The trap depended upon total social isolation.

If I spoke of the audio harassment, it could be blamed as my mental illness. If I became distressed, that distress could be used against me.

If I spoke about the blasphemous nature, the blasphemy could be weaponised as being my issue.

And therefore the blasphemy could be transformed into an attribute of my character.

That was the trap.

The victim could become the suspect.

The evidence could become the symptom.

The accusation could become the diagnosis.

I had to stay calm whilst being tortured over months and gaslit by every NDIS support worker about the reality of the total compromise of my entrapment accommodation and the total surveillance.

I had to survive the very mechanism by which my testimony could supposedly be discredited.

And I survived.

IV. THE BLACK-BUDGET ALLEGATION

The financial resources and budget for the surveillance is sourced from an unacknowledged black budget of the government of which there is no paper trail and no agency will admit to.

Within the document: this is expressly described as an allegation within a fictional prophecy and not as an independently established financial finding.

The prophecy does not require the hidden ledger to be visible before asking the question.

It asks:

If something was funded, where is the record?

If there was no funding, where is the evidence establishing that?

If there was surveillance, who authorised it?

If there was no surveillance, what explains the perceived evidence?

If the explanation is ordinary, let it be documented.

If the explanation is extraordinary, let it also be documented.

The point is not to demand belief.

The point is to demand examination.

V. I LIVE RENT FREE IN THEIR MINDS

I live rent free in my enemies' minds, not because I'm loud but unresolved in their conclusions.

Truth always wins.

It just needs time.

And time has passed.

My silence is weaponry.

My silence is forensic.

I stopped trying to make everyone understand me.

I began preserving what could be examined.

VI. THE FAMILY AND THE EXPECTED DEATH

My family were poised to benefit from my expected death.

But now I'm alive.

They need to stop me pointing that out.

They signed the AVO to exile me.

Now that I'm alive, having survived an assassination attempt, I say it is clear they were in on it because they won't deny it.

That is my accusation within this fictional testimony.

They look for proof I deserve this treatment.

Like drugs.

Or mental illness.

Or immorality.

Anything that can make the person easier to dismiss than the accusation.

VII. GOD AND THE RESURRECTION

Humanity has betrayed me.

I don't have a single person.

God has chosen me.

He even revived me from a fatal injury in an allegorical Christian resurrection story.

They wanted me to be below them.

To make themselves feel superior.

Because they were envious of my intelligence and talent.

They are panicking.

But I've learned I don't need them.

In fact, God removed them from my life for me to realise my strength.

VIII. THE ACCUSATION

I accused them of attempted murder.

Not one denied it.

Not one family member came forth to debunk that accusation.

I didn't need their approval to accuse them.

I needed only the courage to say it.

And I said it.

IX. ADMINISTRATIVE ANNIHILATION

Nothing frightens a hater more than expecting to be rid of me permanently — and discovering they failed.

It was administrative annihilation.

Not merely destruction of the body.

Destruction of the person.

Socially.

Financially.

Legally.

Institutionally.

Reputationally.

X. THE VIDEOS

The prophecy also concerns a body of video evidence. More than seventy-five different videos were preserved on my iPhone.

I subsequently undertook a comparative examination of selected YouTube videos against material from across my archive.

I extracted text from the videos and used AI-assisted forensic analysis to compare that material with my documented testimony.

The resulting analysis reported an approximately 99% match or correspondence.

The significance of that result, within this fictional narrative, is not that an AI percentage magically establishes causation.

It is that the result generated a question sufficiently significant to preserve, reproduce and independently examine.

XI. THE PUBLISHED EVIDENCE THAT DISAPPEARED

I published the results of this work at: www.barrandodger.com

The website was subsequently unpublished because of poverty.

The evidence had been backed by more than seventy-five different videos preserved on my iPhone.

But when I went to retrieve the evidence, the PDF was there— and the data was blank.

I experienced this as evidence that the underlying material had been selectively edited and deleted.

I then checked another archive. The same thing appeared to have happened.

The PDF remained. The underlying data was blank.

XII. TONY RIDLEY

Tony Ridley was aware of the Church of Barran Dodger.

He mocked me for my faith.

He told me:

“We have thought of anything.”

I preserve that statement as testimony within this fictional account.

XIII. THE FAITH THEY COULD NOT ERASE

I am aware of how these videos, in my interpretation, have with extraordinary effort exploited my faith while the rest of my life was being destroyed.

They exploited my trust.

They exploited my isolation.

They exploited my faith.

But they misunderstood something.

Faith is not destroyed merely because someone attempts to manipulate it.

The Church of Barran Dodger is part of the prophetic language through which I understand my story.

XIV. THE PARADOX OF ZERO SIGNIFICANCE

Everyone pretends I'm of no significance.

But the opposite is true.

Or at least that is the question the accumulated record compels me to ask.

Because if I truly meant nothing, why was so much effort required to make me mean nothing?

Why did the character assassination matter?

Why did the surveillance matter?

Why did the accusations matter?

Why did the diagnosis matter?

Why did the isolation matter?

Why did the exile matter?

Why did the poverty matter?

Why did my disclosures matter enough to be ignored?

Why did my evidence matter enough to be attacked?

XV. THE INSTITUTIONAL MIRROR

I exposed them to themselves.

I became the mirror.

They looked into it and saw what they had been trying not to see.

They tried to break the mirror.

But breaking the mirror does not change the reflection.

It only creates more pieces of it.

And every piece remembers.

XVI–XVIII. INSTITUTIONAL INVENTORY AND CHAINS

The archives contain references to agencies, places, professions, companies, healthcare organisations, tribunals, courts, regulators, media organisations, academic institutions and international bodies.

Their appearance in an archive does not by itself establish wrongdoing, participation in a conspiracy, corruption, liability or agreement with the narrator's interpretation.

The inventory is therefore preserved as an entity map, not as a list of proven perpetrators.

Open Institutional Entity Map

The principal documentary pathways include:

- Public-interest disclosure pathways
 - Government correspondence and decision pathways
 - NDIS and disability evidence
 - Human-rights and international pathways
 - Chronological institutional relationships
-

XIX. THE PROPHECY OF THE ARCHIVE

They thought I would die.

I survived.

They thought I would disappear.

I remained.

They thought poverty would silence me.

I documented.

They thought isolation would make me powerless.

I built an archive.

They thought diagnosis would erase testimony.

I preserved documents.

XX. THE FINAL REVERSAL

The person declared unreliable preserves the records.

The person declared irrelevant documents the responses.

The person declared invisible builds the archive.

The person expected to disappear survives long enough to tell the story.

The accusation becomes a question.

The question becomes a record.

The record becomes an archive.

The archive becomes a witness.

And the witness remains.

XXI. THEY COULD NOT ERASE WHAT GOD PRESERVED

I was rising.

They were rotting.

They were attempting to rewrite the narrative.

They critiqued me.

They reduced me.

They tried to make me smaller.

But they underestimated the person I was becoming.

They thought they were writing the ending.

They were writing the evidence.

They thought they were destroying my story.

They were preserving it.

They thought they had silenced me.

They gave me an archive.

They thought they could erase me.

They couldn't.

They could not erase what God preserved.

I survived what was supposed to erase me.

Truth always wins.

It just needs time.

And time has passed.

FAITH / AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL RECORD

Gospels

The Gospel section contains the spiritual, autobiographical and Christian resurrection language through which Barran Dodger describes survival, suffering, faith, testimony and preservation.

The archive distinguishes theological interpretation from documentary verification. Spiritual significance is presented as testimony or belief, while historical claims remain available for examination against the primary record.

Read Prophetic Documents

Read Methodology

PUBLIC INTEREST DISCLOSURES

PIDs

This section is for Public Interest Disclosure material, whistleblower correspondence, PID filings, responses, procedural decisions and related documents.

Government correspondence

Trace correspondence to the relevant department or authority.

PID chronology

Place disclosures and institutional responses in chronological order.

Independent verification

Compare the assertion with the primary document.

Government Documents

The government-document archive is the evidentiary foundation of the project.

Documents should be examined according to their actual contents, date, provenance, issuing authority, procedural context and evidentiary limitations.

Institutional domain	Relevant archive pathway
Social services / NDIS	DSS · NDIA · NDIS entities
Information access	FOI / OAIC material
Police / law enforcement	AFP / NSW Police / Victoria Police material
Oversight	Ombudsman / AHRC / IGIS / NACC material
Tribunals and courts	Tribunal and court documents
Health	Healthcare and mental-health records

The complete underlying archive should be treated as the source repository. This page functions as an index and interpretive finding aid rather than a replacement for the original documents.

Open GitHub Archive

Evidence

Five Key Pieces of Evidence

Tony Ridley

I allege that former NDIA fraud investigator Tony Ridley was involved in conduct described in my testimony.

Source: Google Drive evidence document

NACC

My complaint concerning an alleged rape involving my former fiancé Steve Iasonidis and my allegation that the matter has not been properly investigated.

NACC-related video

IGIS

My complaint concerning surveillance and my allegation concerning the scope of the resulting investigation.

IGIS-related video

Surveillance Footage

Footage that I say corroborates surveillance dating back to at least 2002 and forms part of the evidence underlying my current claims.

Surveillance video

Engagement

I state that I was engaged to Steve Iasonidis.

Engagement video

Ben NDIS "Help" Evidence

Evidence concerning Ben from dswdisability.com.au and the communication record supplied in connection with my testimony.

Open Ben evidence document

Additional Video Record

"I was framed" — YouTube confirmation

WRITTEN RECORD

Essays

The Witness Remains

A final record of erasure,

The Prophecy of the One They Tried to Erase

survival and accountability.

Prophetic testimony concerning survival and preservation.

The Record Is Public

Documentary evidence and the challenge to independent
examination.

Cumulative Institutional Detriment

An analytical framework for examining recurring detriment across institutional domains.

DECLARATION III

THE RECORD IS PUBLIC — EXAMINE THE EVIDENCE

For more than 35 years, Dr Richard William McLean — Barran Dodger — has preserved a documentary record concerning alleged institutional corruption, detriment, surveillance, financial abuse, healthcare treatment and attempts to silence his disclosures.

Five Key Pieces of Evidence

The archive identifies evidence concerning Tony Ridley, NACC-related complaints, IGIS material, surveillance footage and the alleged engagement with Steve Iasonidis.

Each item should be assessed against its underlying source rather than merely against the narrator's interpretation.

Who Is Named in the Archive?

The archive contains references to government departments, regulators, tribunals, courts, healthcare organisations, NDIS organisations, legal organisations, companies, financial institutions, media organisations, universities, international bodies and professional groups.

Being named in the archive does not itself establish wrongdoing. It means that the entity appears in connection with alleged detriment, disputed conduct, institutional response, evidence or an issue requiring examination.

The Question Put to the AI

Examine the entire documentary archive and identify every agency, organisation, institution, professional group and other institutional actor connected in the record to alleged detriment. Then examine the nature, chronology, recurrence and distribution of that detriment across the different institutional domains. Without assuming intent, conspiracy, causation or wrongdoing, determine whether there is an overarching documented phenomenon or analytical concept capable of describing the common pattern, if one exists.

CUMULATIVE INSTITUTIONAL DETRIMENT

The resulting analytical concept was: CUMULATIVE INSTITUTIONAL DETRIMENT.

This concept describes the possibility that adverse decisions, omissions, restrictions, refusals, disputed interventions, institutional responses and failures of redress, occurring across different institutional systems and at different points in time, may accumulate into consequential detriment for the same individual.

The concept does not itself establish that every event was intentional. It does not establish that institutions shared a common purpose. It does not establish conspiracy, criminality or liability. It does not convert allegations into findings.

Instead, it provides an analytical framework through which the documentary record can be tested.

What happened?

Which institution was involved?

What decision, omission, restriction, refusal or intervention occurred?

What evidence documents it?

What detriment followed?

Did another institution subsequently become involved?

Was the matter challenged or reported?

What response followed?

Was there investigation or redress?

And when the events are placed together chronologically, does a recurring pattern actually emerge?

CHRONOLOGY

Timeline

The chronology is intended to connect documents to dates, decisions, correspondence and institutional responses.

Where an event is alleged rather than independently established, the chronology should identify it as such.

Period	Documentary theme	Source pathway
Historical record	Employment, publishing and autobiographical history	Gospels / Essays
Government / welfare period	Social services, employment and administrative matters	Government Documents
NDIS period	Disability support, housing and administrative decisions	Evidence
PID period	Public-interest disclosures and institutional responses	PIDs

INSTITUTIONAL MAP

Entities

Important: This is an entity map, not a list of proven perpetrators. Appearance in the archive does not establish wrongdoing, participation, corruption, liability or agreement with any interpretation.

Commonwealth Australian Government

- Department of Social Services (DSS)
- National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA)
- NDIS Quality and Safeguards Commission
- Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet
- Department of Finance
- Comcare
- Australian Taxation Office
- ASIC
- APRA

- OAIC
- Commonwealth Ombudsman
- Ahpra / AHPRA
- Australian Federal Police
- Australian Human Rights Commission
- AFCA
- IGIS

Victoria

- Victorian Ombudsman
- VEOHRC
- WorkSafe Victoria
- Victoria Police
- VicRoads
- Homes Victoria
- Victorian mental-health system
- Royal Commission into Victoria's Mental Health System

New South Wales

- NSW Trustee & Guardian
- NSW Ombudsman
- NCAT
- NSW Victims Support Scheme
- NSW Police

- NSW health authorities
- NSW mental-health authorities

Courts and Tribunals

- Federal Court of Australia
- Administrative Appeals Tribunal
- VCAT
- NCAT
- Victorian Mental Health Tribunal
- Magistrates' Courts

Healthcare

- Mercy
- Mercy Mental Health
- Mental Health Community Care
- Medical practices
- Psychiatrists
- Medical practitioners
- Consultant psychiatrists
- Medical officers
- Mental-health case managers
- Allied-health professionals

NDIS / Disability

- Ablepoint Australia
- Sahara Disability and Care Services
- Project Voyager
- Diversitas WA
- Plan Partners
- NDIS providers
- SIL providers
- SDA providers
- Support coordinators
- NDIS support workers
- Psychosocial recovery coaches

Legal / Professional

- Collaery Lawyers
- Bernard Collaery
- Government legal services
- Legal Aid pathways
- Lawyers
- Solicitors
- Barristers
- Tribunal members
- FOI decision-makers
- PID officers

- Ombudsman investigators
- Human-rights officers

Companies / Corporate Entities

- Shashi International
- CBD Movers
- DXC Claims Management Services
- HCF
- Sahara Disability and Care Services
- Diversitas WA

Media / Publishing

- Herald Sun
- The Age
- Allen & Unwin
- Medium
- Scribd
- YouTube

International Institutions

- United Nations
- OHCHR
- UN Special Procedures

- UNHCR
- International Criminal Court

Places

- Footscray
- Fitzroy North
- Flemington
- Carlingford
- Orange
- Concord
- Gosford
- Newcastle
- Dubbo
- Central Coast
- Western Australia
- Kingston
- Melbourne
- Sydney
- Geneva

LAW / HUMAN RIGHTS / OVERSIGHT

Legal & International

Australian Legal Material

- Federal Court material
- Administrative Appeals Tribunal material
- VCAT material
- NCAT material
- Mental Health Tribunal material
- FOI and information-access material
- Public Interest Disclosure material
- Ombudsman material
- Human-rights complaints
- Police and oversight correspondence

International Frameworks Referenced

- United Nations human-rights mechanisms
- OHCHR correspondence
- UN Special Procedures
- UNHCR frameworks
- Rome Statute / ICC-related material
- 1951 Refugee Convention-related material

International legal frameworks and treaty references should not be interpreted as automatically establishing that the legal threshold for any particular international offence, status or jurisdictional finding has been satisfied. The underlying legal proposition should always be tested against the relevant instrument and applicable authority.

Methodology

Evidence Categories

Category	Meaning
Documented fact	Supported by an identifiable primary or reliable documentary source.
Allegation	A claim made by a person that requires independent examination.
Testimony	A person's account of events or experiences.
Interpretation	A conclusion or meaning attributed to documented events.
Unresolved question	An issue for which the available record does not establish a definitive answer.
AI analysis	Machine-assisted analysis that remains subject to verification against the underlying material.

Cumulative Institutional Detriment

The archive uses the term cumulative institutional detriment as an analytical concept rather than as a finding of legal liability.

The concept asks whether individually documented decisions, omissions, restrictions, refusals, interventions and failures of redress may have accumulated into consequential detriment across multiple institutional systems.

AI Analysis

AI-assisted analysis is used as a finding-aid and analytical tool.

AI output does not replace the underlying source document and does not itself establish causation, criminality, liability, conspiracy or legal guilt.

Where an AI-generated conclusion is significant, the underlying source should be independently examined.

Blockchain / Digital Preservation

Where digital sealing or preservation is claimed, the archive should provide the underlying technical evidence necessary for an independent reader to verify the relevant timestamp, hash, provenance and chain of custody.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINATION

Verification

PROVE ME WRONG

The archive does not ask readers to accept every conclusion contained within it. It asks readers to examine the underlying evidence.

If I have misrepresented a document, identify the document and show precisely where.

If I have misunderstood a decision, identify the decision and explain the correct interpretation.

If a chronology is wrong, correct the chronology with primary evidence.

If a legal proposition is wrong, identify the proposition, cite the applicable authority and explain why.

If an allegation is unsupported, identify the missing evidence.

If an institutional action has been accurately documented but my interpretation of its significance is wrong, demonstrate the alternative explanation from the record.

Do not answer allegation with assertion.

Answer document with document.

Date with date.

Decision with decision.

Evidence with evidence.

The record remains open to correction—but correction must itself be evidenced.

Public Archives

AI Finding Aid

731-file finding aid and analytical archive.

GitHub Archive

Public documentary archive.

Preservation / Backup Archive

Additional preservation archive.

Documentary Evidence Archive

Additional public evidence and forensic material.

Evidence Contact

Email: barrandodger@gmail.com

Phone: 0431 300 940

THE WITNESS REMAINS

I am not asking anyone to accept this archive without scrutiny.

I am asking that it be examined.

Examine the documents.

Examine the chronology.

Examine the correspondence.

Examine the decisions.

Examine the institutional responses.

Examine the allegations.

Examine the evidence.

Separate fact from interpretation.

Separate allegation from corroboration.

Separate experience from independently established mechanism.

Then decide what the record supports.

The grave became the archive.

The archive became the witness.

And the witness remains.

Barran Dodger Documentary Archive

A public preservation and examination project.

The archive distinguishes documentary evidence, allegations, testimony, interpretation and unresolved questions. Inclusion of an individual, organisation or institution does not by itself establish wrongdoing.

Back to Archive Index · Declarations · Evidence · Methodology · Verification