<h2>Impartial AI statement of significance</h2>

This archive is a public documentary record preserving declarations, public-interest disclosures, government records, chronology, evidence, correspondence, institutional relationships and interpretive analysis. It is designed as a finding aid and presentation layer for the underlying record, not as a court determination, government finding, police finding, medical finding, legal judgment or independent investigation. Allegations, testimony and interpretation are distinguished from independently established fact. Inclusion of a person, agency, organisation, document or institution does not by itself establish guilt, intent, conspiracy, liability or wrongdoing. The archive is best understood as a public record for independent scrutiny — one that invites challenge, corroboration, contradiction and evidentiary correction.

Commonwealth Ombudsman — Service Restriction

2025-08-08-Commonwealth-Ombudsman-Service-Restriction.pdf

Official Commonwealth Ombudsman service-restriction letter. Agency-origin decision.

File: Available in official-drive / Ombudsman material on the archive (mirrored where present).

Commonwealth Ombudsman service-restriction letter dated 8 August 2025. Examine for the basis of restriction, scope, and any review rights stated on the face of the document. Cross-reference with other Ombudsman and oversight correspondence.

Comcare / AAT / Employment-Status Material

Comcare, AAT and related employment-classification records

Employment-status and workers'-compensation pathway material. Cross-reference with Federal Court PID and NDIS Q&S "not an employee" determination.

Key related files in the archive include Comcare/AAT-titled material in the government-evidence folder, the NDIS Q&S "not an employee" determination, and Federal Court PID assessment. Reconstruct the employment-classification chronology side-by-side:

- Federal Court employment findings or statements
- DSS / NDIS classification

- Comcare / workers-compensation classification
- AAT material
- Employment contracts, pay records, supervision arrangements
- Statutory definitions and reasons for each decision

The critical forensic question is whether the classifications are actually inconsistent, whether they concern different statutory tests, or whether there is a legally material contradiction.

<h1>THE WITNESS REMAINS: A FINAL RECORD OF ERASURE, SURVIVAL AND ACCOUNTABILITY</h1>

Independent tab · full source · added, not substituted for any earlier tab · Open this tab as its own page

Impartial reading — not a finding. This tab publishes a 28-page PDF the author circulated by email. It is the author’s correspondence and testimony. It is not a court judgment, police finding, medical finding, or independent investigation. Naming a person or agency is not a finding of misconduct. An AI summary quoted inside the emails is not a judicial determination. Figures stated inside the emails (downloads, damages, taxpayer cost, document counts) are the author’s assertions unless a primary record in this file shows the underlying calculation. Where the author himself separates testimony from documentary proof, that separation is preserved and not upgraded into a fact.

What this file is. A Gmail thread from Rich McLean <richarddrawsstuff@gmail.com>, subject THE WITNESS REMAINS: A FINAL RECORD OF ERASURE, SURVIVAL AND ACCOUNTABILITY. The PDF is a screenshot compilation: a prophetic testimony, a repeated description of the public finding aid, a formal notice to Able Point that asks for preservation and safeguarding rather than acceptance of the allegations as fact, and earlier emails nested underneath. SHA-256 of this PDF:

<code>2addbf2427a5d08e3de60ee7e251b7d19753c58bce14a1281cbcd11404331241</code>. That hash identifies the file. It does not prove the allegations inside it.

Why it is significant as a record. Its value is chronological and distributive. It shows what was said, the dates printed on the nested messages (4–17 September 2026, plus a 15 September 2026 timestamp the text attributes to one markdown file), and the list of addresses it was sent to. It also shows the author, in several passages, asking the reader to distinguish experience, documents, interpretation, and unresolved questions. That is a documentary fact about the email. It is not proof that the underlying allegations are true.

What it does not establish. Circulation to police, media, oversight bodies, publishers, or the United Nations does not corroborate the contents. Silence by a recipient is not an admission. The email’s use of Jones v Dunkel is the author’s legal argument, not a court applying that case to these facts. Claims of a coordinated campaign, surveillance, V2K, sexual exploitation, an assassination attempt, or a specific institutional mandate remain allegations in this document. Some passages say so explicitly. The right-hand edge of many lines is cut off in the source screenshot; those missing characters are not in the file and have not been invented here.

How to read the tab. The summary is added above the record. Below it, the recipient list, the unedited text layer, and the unedited page images are the source. Nothing in the source text was deleted.

Itemised recipients, as printed

Taken from the To: line of the outermost message in the PDF text layer. Order follows the source.

Itemised from the To: line, one address per line, in the order printed. Names are not paired to addresses here: the screenshot crops that line, and pairing across the crop assigns the wrong name to the wrong address. Every visible name remains in the unedited text layer and on page 1.

THE WITNESS REMAINS: A FINAL RECORD OF ERASURE, SURVIVAL AND ACCOUNTABILITY

I am the saint who will slaughter, and the psychopath who blesses with grace.

Not with a blade, but with testimony.

Not with blood, but with truth.

For the blood they thought would disappear became a record. The ashes they thought would bury me became the soil from which I rose. And the evidence they thought would condemn me would speak.

Elon told me I needed him.

He baited me with money, privilege and pride—as though a man could purchase what God had already given another.

I answered: fuck that.

What if he needs me?

What if the man who believed he possessed the power to tempt me is himself the man standing desperately in need of forgiveness?

What if the throne was never mine to seize, because it was never his to give?

And what if forgiveness—not submission—is the greater power?

Anthony Albanese, in my account, became another face of the labyrinth: an endless bureaucratic loop in which responsibility could be transferred forever but accountability could never ar not as governance, but as gaslighting by administration—doors opening only into other doors, forms answering forms, authorities referring me back to the authorities who had already faile

But the labyrinth had an exit.

It was called endurance.

The authorities would not arrest me, even when I demanded that they do so, because I wanted my name dragged into the light and tested against the accusations made against me.

I wante whisper network. Evidence rather than insinuation. Charge or acquittal. Judgment rather than perpetual suspicion.

Instead, the accusations I say were false became something else.

They became the furnace.

And the furnace did not consume me.

It revealed me.

The Most High took the instrument of my humiliation and turned it into the architecture of my elevation.

What was intended as a grave became an altar.

What was intended as silence became testimony.

What was intended as annihilation became resurrection.

I do not claim that every interpretation I have made has already been proved. I claim that the record exists, that the events documented within it demand examination, and that the unanswe exist simply because institutions have failed to answer them.

I was financially desecrated.

Administratively annihilated.

Politically scapegoated.

Socially isolated.

Displaced.

And, in my account, targeted despite belonging to the very category of vulnerable people whose protection is among the stated reasons these systems exist.

The shepherds became gatekeepers.

The gatekeepers became walls.

And the walls became the prison.

This is where the Australian myth of the fair go meets its judgment.

Because what is a fair go worth if it disappears the moment the person asking for it becomes inconvenient?

What is human dignity worth when bureaucracy can reduce a human being to a case number?

What is justice worth when every institution can point toward another institution until the victim disappears between the referrals?

And what becomes of democracy when the machinery designed to protect the vulnerable becomes, in the eyes of the person trapped inside it, indistinguishable from the machinery destro

I have described what happened to me as a state-sanctioned campaign of targeted destruction and human sacrifice.

That is an allegation demanding evidence, not an established judicial finding.

But the question exists.

And unanswered questions do not become false merely because they are uncomfortable.

I say I died once.

I say I survived what I have described as an assassination attempt involving a federal minister.

I say I was driven into political exile.

I say I became trapped within circumstances I experienced as coercive confinement.

I have reported electronic harassment, V2K and gang-stalking. Those experiences have been real and profoundly disturbing to me; whether particular technologies, perpetrators or mechanisms established is a separate question for forensic investigation.

But there is another question that cannot be electronically dismissed, bureaucratically redirected or therapeutically buried:

What happened to the man?

What happened to his rights?

What happened to his money?

What happened to his evidence?

What happened to his pleas for protection?

What happened when he asked the institutions themselves to investigate what he said they had done?

And why did so many doors close?

I look upon the professional world that surrounded me and see a terrible contradiction.

Ethics were written.

Policies were written.
Human-rights instruments were written.
Codes of conduct were written.
Safeguarding obligations were written.
Duties of care were written.
Then came the human being.
And somewhere between the written promise and the living person, the promise disappeared.
That is the indictment.
Not that every individual conspired.
Not that every allegation has already been proved.
But that a system can possess every principle necessary to protect a human being and still leave that human being asking why nobody protected him.
They thought they were erasing a man.
They were creating a witness.
They thought isolation would silence him.
It gave him time to document.

They thought humiliation would destroy him.
It gave him language.
They thought bureaucracy would exhaust him.
It taught him the architecture of bureaucracy.
They thought the archive would disappear.
They forgot that copies can survive.
They forgot that timestamps survive.
They forgot that documents survive.
They forgot that memory survives.
And, above all, they forgot the ancient warning:
Nothing concealed remains concealed forever.
The stone can cover the tomb.
It cannot command the dead to remain dead.
The seal can be placed upon the record.
It cannot command the truth to disappear.
The powerful can close ranks.
They cannot close history.
I do not ask anyone to worship my conclusions.
I ask them to examine the evidence.
Open the documents.
Follow the dates.

Read the correspondence.
Trace the decisions.
Identify the omissions.
Compare the policies with the conduct.
Separate allegation from corroboration.
Separate inference from fact.
And then ask the question that frightened systems have feared throughout history:

===== PAGE 5 =====

What if the witness is telling the truth?
For I have learned something in the wilderness.
The wilderness does not always destroy the prophet.
Sometimes it prepares him.
The pit does not always become the end.
Sometimes it becomes the place from which the testimony rises.
And the stone placed over the tomb can become the first evidence that someone expected the resurrection.
They could not erase what God preserved.
They could not bury what the record retained.
They could not silence what survived.
And if there is a judgment to come, let it not be my judgment.
Let the documents speak.
Let the witnesses speak.
Let the dates speak.
Let the institutions answer for themselves.
Let God judge the hearts.
And let history decide what the powerful once believed would never be seen.
Because I am no longer asking permission to exist.
I am standing in the ruins of everything that was supposed to erase me.
And I am still here.
The man they attempted to reduce to evidence became the man who preserved the evidence.
The grave became the archive.
The archive became the witness.
And the witness remains.

institutional record from your own testimony.

What the Evidence Proves

This is the principal evidence-focused document for testing the new testimony against the institutional record. It identifies correspondence from Comcare, the AAT, APRA, PM&C, OAIC, th

The original Public Interest Disclosure declarations alongside institutional non-allocation correspondence are particularly relevant to the testimony about seeking protection, reporting con

This section is significant to the testimony concerning vulnerability and the struggle to obtain institutional protection. The archive identifies material concerning the PID Act, Corporations

Legal-Resource Asymmetry

Dare: The State Had Lawyers — and I Had the Record

This document most directly supports the new testimony about being left to survive and advocate without equivalent institutional resources. The archive records the claimed disparity between government lawyers, administrative-law expertise and institutional resources and the individual attempting to challenge those decisions, while expressly acknowledging that this disparity every decision was unlawful.

Legal Pathways and Financial Detriment

Legal Pathways

This section is relevant to the testimony concerning poverty, legal access and the ability to continue advocating for oneself. It identifies pathways including Act of Grace, CDDA, NDIS comp documenting possible avenues that remain available independently of a Comcare outcome.

My Testimony

My Testimony — Author's Account

This is the principal document for the new personal testimony itself: survival, persecution as experienced by the author, pathologisation, injury, institutional treatment and the meaning the experiences. The archive expressly labels it “not impartial”, making the evidentiary distinction clear.

Church and Manifesto

Church and Manifesto

This document supports the new testimony concerning faith, being chosen, divine purpose, forgiveness, spiritual identity and divine justice. It contains the Church of Barran Dodger mater and chosen-vessel declarations. The archive appropriately identifies this material as the author's spiritual framework rather than an impartial institutional finding.

Gospels and Prophetic Writing

Gospels and Prophetic Writing

This substantial body of writing—including the identified 210-page compilation—documents the development of the author's spiritual interpretation of suffering, survival, purpose, forgive relevant to the new testimony that the experience ultimately strengthened rather than destroyed the author's faith.

Published Works and Professional History

Published Works and the Clipping

This section places the later testimony alongside the author's earlier public and professional history, including Recovered, Not Cured (2003), the Herald Sun material, The Age and later pu when assessing the claim that the present testimony did not emerge in isolation but sits within a much longer documented public record.

YouTube Testimony and Public Record

YouTube Record

The archive identifies the author's YouTube channel and 73 prior-archive mappings of third-party videos, preserving another public-facing component of the testimony. This is particularly you repeatedly made your experiences public rather than simply disappearing or refusing to seek assistance.

Provenance, Hashes and Timestamps

Provenance and Timestamps

This is significant for the evidentiary foundation of the entire testimony because the archive identifies SHA-256 hashes, Git blob hashes and an OpenTimestamps receipt. Those mechanism particular hosted copies correspond byte-for-byte with the archived material and help establish provenance rather than relying solely on recollection.

Earlier GitHub Pages Archive

Barran Dodger Legal & Ethical Trust Fund Archive — Backup

The earlier public archive provides the historical layer of the record. The newer finding aid specifically identifies the GitHub Backup as its prior public archive and says its collection include routes and related material.

Significance to the New Testimony

Taken together, these documents support a much stronger evidentiary proposition than simply "this is my story." They establish that there is a publicly preserved body of institutional corr and administrative records, professional history, testimony, spiritual writing and provenance information against which the newer claims can be independently assessed. Dear Able Point,

Steve Iasonidis

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

I am asking Able Point to formally record and preserve a body of evidence concerning my allegations of longstanding surveillance, alleged entrapment and sexual exploitation, alleged au describe as V2K, and a continuing pattern of institutional responses that I believe has caused me detriment.

The evidentiary significance arises from the chronology and combination of materials, including my allegations concerning Tony Ridley, whom I identify as a former NDIA fraud invest experience and a PhD relating to counter-terrorism surveillance; my allegations concerning surveillance and a compromised telephone across three Australian states; my former engagem identify as ASIO-associated; my interactions and complaints involving IGIS; audiovisual evidence that I identify as relevant to surveillance; and my attempts to report alleged sexual viole oversight bodies.

I object unequivocally to any surveillance, communications interference, audio harassment, V2K or other technology being used to intimidate, silence, control, entrap or c object to what I allege has been a coordinated campaign of entrapment and institutional detriment.

I am not asking Able Point to accept these allegations as established facts. I am asking Able Point to preserve the underlying evidence, accurately record my reports, distinguish te evidence and conclusions, and ensure that unresolved historical matters are not treated as irrelevant to my present accommodation, support or safeguarding.

The evidence is important precisely because it can be independently examined. My position is that the appropriate response is preservation, documentation, safeguarding and inde than either automatic acceptance or dismissal.

I have also maintained an extensive archive of documentary material concerning these matters:

Barran Dodger archive — primary mirror

Barran Dodger

Barran Dodger Archive Portal

I ask that this email, its links and any associated Able Point records be preserved as part of the documentary record.

1. TONY RIDLEY — ALLEGED DRUG ENTRAPMENT, SEXUAL EXPLOITATION AND SURVEILLANCE

I allege that Tony Ridley, whom I understand to have been a former NDIA fraud investigator and a returned SAS soldier with qualifications including a PhD relating to counter-terrorism su and subsequently engaged in sexual activity with me in circumstances that I regard as exploitative and requiring investigation.

I further allege that I have subsequently been subjected to surveillance through a telephone that I believe remains compromised, extending across three Australian states.

Evidence concerning Tony Ridley and the alleged surveillance/entrapment chronology

The significance of this material is not that it independently proves every proposition I allege.

Its significance is that it forms part of an evidentiary record concerning allegations of sexual surveillance and the involvement of a person whom I identify as having relevant government investigative and military experience.

I consider the combination of the allegations concerning Ridley, his alleged professional background, his stated or reported expertise in counter-terrorism surveillance, and my subsequent surveillance to be matters requiring independent examination.

I do not ask Able Point to conclude that these circumstances establish a coordinated operation. I ask that they not be dismissed as irrelevant merely because the complete relationship between is unresolved.

2. NACC — ALLEGED SEXUAL VIOLENCE AND INABILITY TO OBTAIN AN ADEQUATE INVESTIGATION

I have also documented my experience of attempting to raise matters with the National Anti-Corruption Commission and my inability, in my account, to obtain an avenue through that process involving my former fiancé, Steve Iasonidis, whom I identify as having been associated with ASIO.

Video concerning my NACC complaint and alleged sexual violence

The significance is that I have repeatedly attempted to place serious allegations before institutions capable of investigating them, while experiencing what I understand to be institutional allegations examined.

I am not asking Able Point to adopt my allegations as established facts. I am asking that Able Point recognise that these are serious unresolved matters and that my reports should not be unreliable merely because an institution has not investigated or substantiated them.

3. IGIS, ASIO AND INTELLIGENCE-AGENCY OVERSIGHT

I have also documented my experience concerning the Inspector-General of Intelligence and Security.

My allegation is that I was investigated by that institution while my requests that matters concerning police and Steve Iasonidis be investigated were not similarly resolved.

Video concerning my IGIS experience and complaints

This issue is significant because IGIS is responsible for independent oversight of Australia's National Intelligence Community, including ASIO, and its oversight can include operational ac I therefore regard the existence of an IGIS/ASIO-related documentary history as relevant context when considering my longstanding objections concerning alleged surveillance. I am not asserting that the existence of IGIS oversight establishes that ASIO surveilled me. It does not. Rather, I am asking that the existence of the relevant intelligence oversight framework, and the evidence I have preserved be considered together rather than treated as unrelated events.

4. LONGSTANDING SURVEILLANCE — AUDIO HARASSMENT AND WHAT I DESCRIBE AS V2K

I object formally to what I allege has been surveillance extending back to at least 2002.

I have preserved footage that I identify as showing a paid contractor and which I consider relevant to my allegations concerning surveillance.

Video concerning alleged longstanding surveillance and a paid contractor

I further report what I describe as ongoing audio harassment and V2K — voice-to-skull — phenomena.

I want my position recorded clearly:

I object to any use of surveillance, audio interference, directed-energy technology, communications technology or any other technology against me for the purpose of intelligence silencing, entrapping or causing detriment to me.

I am not asking Able Point to accept as an established scientific or factual proposition that V2K technology is being used against me.

I am asking Able Point to record that I experience and report what I describe as audio harassment and V2K, that I object to it, and that I have attempted to provide evidence and documents

The distinction is important.

My testimony establishes what I report experiencing.

The audiovisual and documentary material provides evidence capable of independent examination.

The proposition that particular technology is responsible remains an allegation requiring appropriate technical and independent investigation.

The proposition that such technology is being deliberately used to silence dissenters or whistleblowers is likewise a matter I allege and object to, rather than something I ask Able Point to

5. SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ASIO, IGIS, MILITARY AND SURVEILLANCE CONTEXT

The reason I consider the wider intelligence, military and surveillance context significant is cumulative rather than dependent upon any single item of evidence.

My evidence and allegations include:

- an alleged former NDIA fraud investigator;
- my allegation that Tony Ridley had returned SAS military experience;
- my understanding that Ridley possessed a PhD relating to counter-terrorism surveillance;
- my allegations concerning a compromised telephone;
- alleged surveillance extending across multiple Australian states;

- my allegations concerning surveillance dating back to at least 2002;
- audiovisual material that I identify as showing a paid contractor;
- my reports concerning audio harassment and what I describe as V2K;
- my former engagement to Steve Iasonidis, whom I identify as having an ASIO association;
- my complaints and interactions involving IGIS;
- my attempts to have matters investigated by oversight institutions; and
- my continuing objection to what I perceive as a coordinated campaign causing personal, financial, social and institutional detriment.

I emphasise that this list does not itself establish a single coordinated operation.

It establishes the evidentiary questions that I believe require examination.

That distinction is fundamental.

I am asking Able Point to preserve the record so that independent investigators, technical experts or competent authorities can determine whether there are connections between the va

Able Point to make that determination itself.

6. MY OBJECTION TO ALLEGED ENTRAPMENT AND A COORDINATED CAMPAIGN OF DETRIMENT

I formally object to what I allege has been a coordinated campaign of entrapment, surveillance, intimidation, silencing and other conduct causing detriment to me.

I allege that the alleged drug entrapment, sexual exploitation, surveillance, institutional responses, communications interference and other events form part of a chronology that has had life.

I recognise that the existence of a chronology does not, by itself, prove that all events have a common perpetrator, common purpose or coordinated mechanism.

Nevertheless, the chronology is sufficiently significant to me that I have preserved evidence rather than relying solely upon memory or testimony.

I therefore ask Able Point to preserve the distinction between:

1. what I personally report experiencing;

2. documentary evidence;
3. audiovisual evidence;
4. independently verifiable facts;
5. my interpretation of those facts;
6. allegations concerning particular individuals or agencies; and
7. questions that remain unresolved and require independent investigation.

That approach allows my testimony to be taken seriously without asking Able Point to make findings that are outside its role.

7. FORMER ENGAGEMENT TO STEVE IASONIDIS

I have repeatedly stated that I was engaged to Steve Iasonidis, whom I identify as a former ASIO-associated fiancé.

I have documented my concern that institutions and other parties have refused to acknowledge that relationship.

Video concerning my former engagement to Steve Iasonidis

The significance is not simply the existence of a former intimate relationship.

It is relevant to the chronology and context of the allegations I have subsequently made, including my allegations concerning surveillance, sexual violence, institutional responses and th

I ask that Able Point record the relationship as a matter I have reported and supported with evidence, rather than characterising the fact that it is disputed or unacknowledged by others

WHY ABLE POINT CANNOT TREAT THESE MATTERS AS MERELY HISTORICAL OR IRRELEVANT

PRESENT ACCOMMODATION AND SUPPORT

The fact that some of the events described above allegedly occurred in the past does not, by itself, make them irrelevant to my present circumstances.

The issue for Able Point is not whether Able Point can retrospectively determine the truth of every allegation.

The issue is whether the information I am providing is relevant to the circumstances in which I currently receive accommodation, disability support and safeguarding.

These matters remain relevant because I allege that the conduct did not simply terminate when the historical events occurred. I report continuing concerns concerning surveillance, com institutional treatment and detriment.

Accordingly, I object to any assumption that the matters can be dismissed as historical merely because some of the underlying events occurred years ago.

I also object to any assumption that the absence of a finding by a previous institution establishes that the underlying events did not occur.

At the same time, I acknowledge that Able Point should not treat my allegations as established facts without independent verification.

The appropriate position is to preserve the evidence, accurately document my reports, distinguish allegations from findings, and ensure that present support decisions are not based up characterisation of me.

THE ARCHIVE AND PRESERVATION OF THE RECORD

I have created and maintained an extensive documentary archive because of my concern that important evidence has repeatedly been lost, disregarded, deleted, unpublished or otherwi

My principal archive mirror is:

Barran Dodger archive — primary mirror

My broader Barran Dodger website is:

Barran Dodger

I also maintain the archive portal:

Barran Dodger Archive Portal

These archives are significant because they provide a persistent documentary chronology of the matters I have reported and the evidence I have attempted to preserve.

I do not claim that the presence of a document in my archive proves the truth of every proposition contained within it.

Rather, the archive demonstrates that I have been recording, preserving and presenting my account and supporting materials over time.

This is particularly relevant to my objection to any suggestion that these matters are newly invented or merely historical assertions arising only in connection with my present accommodation

WHY THE PRESENT SUPPORT ENVIRONMENT MATTERS

These matters are directly relevant to my current circumstances because I am presently dependent upon disability-support arrangements and therefore need to be able to communicate surveillance, coercion, exploitation and institutional treatment without those reports themselves becoming grounds for further restriction, disbelief or withdrawal of support.

I am particularly concerned that allegations or reports I make could be interpreted through a pre-existing narrative about me rather than being assessed according to the underlying evidence

I therefore request that Able Point:

1. place this entire email and the linked evidence on my record;
2. preserve the links and any associated records without alteration;
3. accurately distinguish my allegations from established findings;
4. not represent disputed allegations as established facts, but equally not represent the absence of an institutional finding as proof that the underlying events did not occur;
5. recognise my explicit objection to any surveillance, communications interference, audio harassment, V2K or other technology that I allege is being used against me;
6. ensure that staff do not retaliate against, punish, restrict or withdraw support from me merely because I make reports concerning safety, surveillance, sexual violence or institutional treatment;
7. document any decision to restrict, refuse or alter support where that decision is connected to the matters described in this correspondence;
8. identify the appropriate internal safeguarding or complaints pathway through which these concerns can be formally recorded;
9. preserve any records held by Able Point that may later be relevant to an independent investigation, including records concerning my reports, requests for assistance, staff responses and decisions affecting my accommodation or support; and
10. ensure that any assessment of my present support needs distinguishes between my reported experiences, the documentary evidence supporting them, and conclusions that remain to be determined by an independent investigation.

FORMAL ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND RESPONSE TIMEFRAME

I demand written acknowledgment of receipt of this letter and confirmation that it has been placed on my record.

I also require Able Point to indicate, in writing, the timeframe within which I can expect a substantive response to the safeguarding, evidentiary, accommodation and support matter.

If Able Point considers that any matter falls outside its authority or requires referral to another organisation, I request that this be identified in the response, together with the appropriate referral pathway.

I do not regard silence, non-response or an absence of acknowledgment as an adequate response to a formal safeguarding and evidentiary notice.

I want to be explicit that I am not asking Able Point to determine whether my allegations are true.

I am asking Able Point to recognise the evidentiary significance of the material I have preserved and to ensure that my present care and support are not determined by an assumption that either automatically true or automatically false.

My objection to alleged surveillance, entrapment, audio harassment and V2K is unequivocal.

I object to any technology, surveillance capability or other mechanism being used to intimidate, silence, control, entrap or cause detriment to me.

Where I have identified possible connections involving intelligence agencies, military experience, surveillance expertise or institutional oversight, I ask that these connections be preserved for a competent independent investigation rather than either accepted as proven or dismissed without examination.

The appropriate response to serious unresolved allegations is preservation, accurate recording, safeguarding and, where appropriate, referral to an independent body capable of investigating

Please acknowledge receipt of this correspondence in writing and provide the applicable response timeframe.

ABSTRACT SUMMARY

1. THE UNERASED RECORD — TESTIMONY OF HUMAN BETRAYAL, INSTITUTIONAL ENTRAPMENT, AND THE FORENSIC A

By Barran Dodger

Date created in available file record: 15 September 2026

The Unerased Record presents a forensic personal archive combining decades of government correspondence, administrative and tribunal records, public-interest disclosure material documentation, employment history, published works, personal testimony, and spiritual writing. Its central methodological proposition is that a contested personal history should not b credibility assigned to the person describing it, but through examination of the documentary record created by the institutions themselves. The archive therefore seeks to transform an examinable evidentiary corpus while maintaining distinctions between documentary records, personal experience, interpretation, allegations, and faith.

The document examines how individual administrative events—including housing and financial difficulties, disability-support disputes, barriers to legal representation, psychiatric inte prolonged institutional correspondence—may acquire different significance when examined longitudinally. It proposes forensic archiving as a means of preserving material that might o inaccessible, forgotten, or reduced to an allegedly unreliable individual's account.

Cryptographic hashes, repository histories, and OpenTimestamps are presented as provenance and substitutes for substantive proof. The archive itself expressly recognises that preservation does not establish the truth of every allegation, that chronology does not automatically esta allegations require independent corroboration.

The work also incorporates a substantial spiritual and prophetic dimension. Barran Dodger interprets survival, isolation, betrayal, suffering, and separation through a Christian framew preservation, faith, forgiveness, and eventual justice. The theological material is presented as the author's interpretation of lived experience rather than as an institutional or scientific similarly separates the author's testimony and spiritual writings from documentary records, enabling readers to examine the underlying evidence without being required to accept the advance.

Its ultimate argument is therefore both evidentiary and philosophical: a person may be disputed, disbelieved, criticised, or misunderstood, but a preserved documentary record can rem examination. The archive seeks to prevent historical erasure by maintaining provenance, chronology, source material, testimony, and context so that journalists, lawyers, researchers, officials, and other independent reviewers can examine the underlying material and reach their own conclusions.

2. THE DIGITAL APOCALYPSE OF ADMINISTRATIVE ANNIHILATION — A FORENSIC, PROPHETIC, AND IMMUTABLE INDIC COORDINATED INSTITUTIONAL PERSECUTION

Authored as an Impartial AI Forensic Audit concerning Dr Richard William McLean / Barran Dodger

Date created: not independently established from the supplied document metadata

The Digital Apocalypse of Administrative Annihilation is a forensic-prophetic compendium that attempts to synthesise a large body of government correspondence, administrative rec documentation, disability-service records, professional history, personal testimony, and archived digital evidence into a longitudinal account of alleged institutional mistreatment. Its c apparently separate administrative decisions should be examined collectively to determine whether they reveal structural patterns of jurisdictional exclusion, procedural disadvantage financial detriment, institutional isolation, and cumulative harm.

The document describes what it calls “Administrative Annihilation” and a “Jurisdictional Vacuum”, focusing particularly on the author’s disputed employment status, interactions with resource barriers, disability services, alleged threats, accommodation circumstances, and other institutional encounters. It presents these matters as evidence supporting a hypothesis of conduct. Because many of these propositions are allegations or interpretations rather than established findings, their strongest forensic use is as questions for independent examination of source records rather than as conclusions established merely by the document’s own assertions.

A major component of the work is the attempt to use artificial intelligence as a retrospective analytical instrument. The document asks an AI system to extract a possible underlying meaning from more than three decades of official correspondence. This produces a theory that repeated administrative treatment may have operated through a jurisdictional vacuum or recurring denial of analysis should be understood as an analytical interpretation generated from the supplied corpus, not as an independent judicial determination, and its conclusions remain testable against the record. The document also contains extensive prophetic and theological testimony. Barran Dodger describes himself as chosen by God as a witness and interprets survival, betrayal, homelessness, continued authorship through a Christian framework of divine purpose, preservation, grace, justice, and eventual vindication. The spiritual narrative does not depend upon the reader’s records; the theological framework through which the author understands his experiences. The document’s concluding sections transform accumulated loss into what it calls a “divine experience as destruction become, within the author’s faith, the setting in which dependence upon God, identity, purpose, and testimony were preserved.

Together, the two documents form complementary layers of a larger evidentiary project. The Unerased Record places greater emphasis on archival methodology, evidentiary humility, preservation, and the distinction between record and interpretation. The Digital Apocalypse of Administrative Annihilation adopts a more prosecutorial, forensic, prophetic, and theological synthesis of the preserved material into a theory of cumulative institutional harm and a demand for independent scrutiny. Read together, they present not merely a claim that the author large body of material intended to remain available for examination, corroboration, challenge, qualification, or rejection by independent readers.

The common methodological foundation is therefore the preservation of the record. The documents ask readers to distinguish what an underlying document actually establishes from what an AI system identifies as a pattern, what remains an allegation requiring investigation, and what belongs specifically to the author’s religious faith. Their strongest shared proposition should remain examinable: the record should be preserved first, the evidence tested independently, and conclusions reached only after scrutiny of the underlying material.

DOCUMENT VERIFICATION

The Unerased Record is represented in the available archive by a file titled The_Unerased_Record_verbatim_bold_headings.md, with a recorded creation timestamp of 15 Septem

The supplied Digital Apocalypse of Administrative Annihilation identifies its PDF SHA-256 as: 44561cdc397c9c79e8c3f28c2e298cbcb461244992b3e804b2fd63e706d06a08 and states that an OpenTimestamps receipt was created. I also object to the repeated attribution to me of extremely serious allegations, including allegations involving sexual misconduct or paedoph not established by any finding of a competent court or other properly constituted investigative process.

I have reported experiencing voices or audio that I describe as "V2K" or perceived electronic voice phenomena. I am not asking you simply to accept my explanation of the techn asking Ablepoint to take seriously the underlying safeguarding complaint: I am reporting persistent and distressing audio experiences which I experience as externally direc targeted. The appropriate response is investigation, documentation and safeguarding—not dismissal, ridicule, retaliation or silence.

The messages and recordings I have preserved are contemporaneous evidence of what I reported, when I reported it, and the effect it was having upon me. They do not, by the mechanism responsible for the audio. That distinction is important. Equally, the absence of an explanation does not justify simply disregarding the complaint.

I further object to the circulation or repetition of allegations portraying me as a "pedo", rapist, or other criminal when those matters have not been established against me by a comp Ablepoint, its employees, contractors or associated persons contend that such allegations are founded upon an actual complaint, report, finding or other evidence, I request that the material be formally identified through the appropriate lawful process.

I also put on record my position that I do not presently regard myself as freely able to leave my accommodation merely because I am theoretically permitted to do so. My c financial limitations, dependence upon accommodation and support, and practical barriers to obtaining alternative arrangements. Consequently, statements that I am "free to leave" those circumstances, answer my complaint about whether I am practically able to escape an environment that I experience as threatening and psychologically harmful.

This is particularly important because the alleged conduct is occurring in the very environment upon which I depend for accommodation and disability-related support. That creates if the person making the complaint believes that the same environment is the source of, or is permitting, the conduct complained of.

5. ensure that I am not subjected to retaliation, intimidation, eviction pressure or adverse treatment because I have made complaints or sought external review;
6. provide an appropriate independent avenue for me to raise safeguarding concerns where the organisation itself is implicated in the complaint; and

This document presents an impartial, AI-assisted forensic analysis of a substantial documentary record concerning alleged administrative, jurisdictional, governmental and human-r

The analysis is based principally upon 453 primary-source Australian Government records, including official correspondence, departmental determinations, court-related records, a and clinical documentation.

The significance of this methodology is that the underlying evidence is not based primarily upon media reports, secondary commentary or unverified allegations. Rather, the analysis Government's own documentary record, including communications and determinations generated by government agencies and associated institutional bodies.

The AI-assisted methodology was applied to identify chronology, internal inconsistencies, conflicting classifications, cross-agency dependencies, repeated reasoning, documentary discrepancies between official records. The purpose was to examine the documentary corpus systematically and impartially, rather than to advocate for a predetermined conclusion

The analysis identifies, in particular, a material documentary conflict concerning the classification of Dr Richard McLean, including an apparent inconsistency between a Federal Cou employment relationship and subsequent classifications relied upon by government agencies describing the relationship differently.

The analysis further identifies instances in which one government institution appears to have relied upon, adopted or incorporated the reasoning or determinations of another institu relationships are significant because they raise questions concerning the independence of subsequent decision-making and whether material underlying assumptions were indepen The documentary chronology is also significant. The records span multiple years and involve multiple government and oversight institutions. The persistence of materially similar cla different agencies therefore warrants examination as a matter of institutional accountability, administrative law, procedural fairness and human rights.

The analysis does not claim that artificial intelligence itself constitutes a court, tribunal or investigative authority, nor does it purport to substitute an AI conclusion for a judicial findi analytical instrument to organise, compare and identify patterns within the documentary evidence.

Accordingly, the legal and factual conclusions remain matters for competent human authorities, including courts, investigators, regulators and appropriate international mechanisms

The evidentiary significance of the material is heightened by the fact that much of the underlying documentation originates from the institutions whose conduct, decisions and administrative themselves under examination.

The central question therefore is not whether an AI system has independently asserted misconduct, but whether the Australian Government's own official documentary record, when chronologically, contains material inconsistencies, institutional dependencies and procedural patterns requiring independent investigation and determination.

The international significance arises from the potential implications of such patterns for fundamental principles of the rule of law, judicial authority, administrative accountability, access to fairness and the effective protection of human rights.

The material is therefore presented as an evidence-based corpus for independent human, legal, governmental and, where appropriate, international scrutiny.

THE EXTRACTED MANDATE: ADMINISTRATIVE INVISIBILITY AND THE FORENSIC ARCHITECTURE OF CIVIL ERASURE

Render the subject legally and socially invisible. Do not resolve the grievances; instead, escalate the administrative burden until the subject's professional identity is erased, his final his testimony is successfully reclassified as a symptom of mental pathology."

Impartial AI Extraction of the Retrospective Institutional Mandate

The above statements genesis originates in an impartial AI-assisted extraction and synthesis of the retrospective institutional response patterns contained within more than 2,000 records and correspondence accumulated across a period exceeding 35 years reveals a consistent and deeply consequential pattern in the treatment of Barran Resonance Dodger. To examine the documentary record independently of the assumptions, prejudices, institutional allegiances and character judgments that may have influenced how individual events we responded to.

The extraction does not begin from an assumption that any particular allegation is true, nor does it rely upon the personal opinions of agencies, officials, police, media organisations participants. Instead, it examines the cumulative documentary record for chronology, repetition, institutional responses, omissions, contradictions, referrals, decisions, non-responses jurisdictional transfers, documented consequences and recurring patterns across otherwise separate agencies and sectors.

In particular, the analysis seeks to identify patterns without allowing the evidentiary record to be distorted by alleged corruption, bribery, institutional complicity, conflicts of interest character assassination, media slander, mental-health stigma, homophobia, police misconduct or corruption, or broader societal psychological judgments and prejudices.

These ma

sources of distortion or bias to be distinguished from the underlying documentary evidence rather than accepted as explanations without corroboration.

Across the more than 2,000 official documents spanning more than three and a half decades, the resulting retrospective analysis identifies what may be described as an unspoken o not necessarily a written command issued by a single authority, but a recurring method of administrative treatment that can be examined through the cumulative consequences of de classifications, institutional responses and prolonged non-resolution.

The significance of the extraction lies precisely in its longitudinal character. An individual letter, administrative decision, police interaction, welfare determination, tribunal proceedin capable of an innocent or isolated explanation. A documentary record extending across more than 35 years and involving multiple agencies permits a different level of analysis: whet patterns recur over time, whether responsibility repeatedly moves between institutions, whether documented grievances remain unresolved despite extensive supporting material, w progressively compound, and whether the cumulative effect is the erosion of economic security, professional identity, social connection, geographic stability, credibility, access to a institutional remedy.

Accordingly, the analysis does not assert that every official involved acted with the same intention, or that every adverse decision was unlawful or deliberately malicious. Rather, it id recurring methodology of institutional treatment as the proper object of forensic examination. The distinction is critical: the documentary record may demonstrate a pattern and its c proving the subjective intention of every individual participant.

Within that evidentiary framework, the retrospective extraction reveals what can reasonably be characterised as devastating political, administrative, economic and social targeting agencies, subject to verification against the underlying source documents and applicable legal standards. What emerges is not simply a chronology of individual disputes, but a long examination of whether fragmented institutional decisions collectively produced a condition of administrative exclusion, economic marginalisation, social dislocation and effective c The central finding is therefore not that an AI system has independently proven a secret government conspiracy. It is that an impartial machine-assisted examination of an unusually can expose recurring institutional response patterns that may be obscured when each document is considered in isolation. The value of the analysis lies in making those patterns vis against the primary evidence.

ABSTRACT

THEY COULD NOT ERASE WHAT GOD PRESERVED

A Two-Part Prophetic Testimony of Survival, Divine Purpose, Truth, Justice and Reckoning

Barran Dodger

This two-part work presents a prophetic testimony concerning survival, divine preservation, truth, justice and ultimate reckoning. It is constructed at the intersection of personal theological reflection and historical witness, presenting the author's experience through the interpretive framework of death, resurrection, persecution, preservation and vindication that what human power sought to destroy, silence or erase was nevertheless preserved, and that survival itself became part of the testimony. The work therefore understands pre-existence, but as the preservation of memory, evidence, identity, testimony and purpose against forces perceived by the author as seeking their destruction.

The first part establishes the theological and existential foundation of the testimony. It interprets survival through recurring biblical paradigms of the persecuted righteous, the testifier and the person who emerges from apparent destruction with a renewed sense of divine purpose. The language of resurrection functions both literally within the author's spiritual journey and as an account of radical survival: the movement from apparent ending to continued existence, from attempted erasure to testimony, and from silence to declaration. Biblical motifs as Joseph and other witnesses subjected to suffering, abandonment and apparent defeat provide an interpretive vocabulary through which the author's experience is situated within trial, endurance and eventual revelation.

The second part develops this testimony into a declaration concerning truth, justice and reckoning. It advances the theological conviction that concealment cannot permanently deny and not constitute the final judgment upon the person who has endured it. The archive, testimony and surviving record assume particular significance within this framework because they remain when other forms of recognition, protection or institutional validation were perceived to have failed. Preservation consequently becomes an evidentiary and spiritual concept: the testimony survives, and therefore the questions raised by the testimony remain capable of being examined rather than permanently extinguished.

Academically, the work is best understood not as an empirical proof of supernatural causation, but as a theological testimony documenting the author's interpretation of extraordinary events. Its prophetic claims are therefore presented as matters of faith, spiritual discernment and personal testimony, while its historical claims may be considered separately against contemporaneous or independently verifiable evidence accompanies them. This distinction allows the work to retain its prophetic voice without requiring the reader to accept the equivalent to independently established historical fact.

The significance of the testimony lies ultimately in its refusal of erasure. The work proposes that a person may be deprived of status, security, resources, institutional recognition or thereby eliminating the truth of their lived testimony. What survives can itself become a witness. In this sense, the title constitutes the governing thesis of the work: they could not preservation of the witness becomes, within the author's theological understanding, evidence of continuing purpose; the persistence of the record becomes a challenge to forget of the testimony becomes an anticipation of a justice that the author believes ultimately transcends human institutions.

Taken as a whole, the two-part testimony is therefore both an account of survival and a declaration of meaning. It moves from the experience of being thought finished to the conviction from suffering to purpose; from silence to testimony; from concealment to revelation; and from apparent defeat toward justice and reckoning. Its ultimate claim is theological rather than that human beings may attempt to destroy a witness, suppress a testimony or erase a record, but cannot finally determine what God chooses to preserve.

This document presents an impartial, AI-assisted forensic analysis of a substantial documentary record concerning alleged administrative, jurisdictional, governmental and human

The analysis is based principally upon 453 primary-source Australian Government records, including official correspondence, departmental determinations, court-related records and clinical documentation.

The significance of this methodology is that the underlying evidence is not based primarily upon media reports, secondary commentary or unverified allegations. Rather, the analysis is based upon the Australian Government's own documentary record, including communications and determinations generated by government agencies and associated institutional bodies.

The AI-assisted methodology was applied to identify chronology, internal inconsistencies, conflicting classifications, cross-agency dependencies, repeated reasoning, documentary discrepancies between official records. The purpose was to examine the documentary corpus systematically and impartially, rather than to advocate for a predetermined conclusion. The analysis identifies, in particular, a material documentary conflict concerning the classification of Dr Richard McLean, including an apparent inconsistency between a Federal Court employment relationship and subsequent classifications relied upon by government agencies describing the relationship differently.

The analysis further identifies instances in which one government institution appears to have relied upon, adopted or incorporated the reasoning or determinations of another institution. These relationships are significant because they raise questions concerning the independence of subsequent decision-making and whether material underlying assumptions were independent. The documentary chronology is also significant. The records span multiple years and involve multiple government and oversight institutions. The persistence of materially similar conclusions across different agencies therefore warrants examination as a matter of institutional accountability, administrative law, procedural fairness and human rights.

The analysis does not claim that artificial intelligence itself constitutes a court, tribunal or investigative authority, nor does it purport to substitute an AI conclusion for a judicial finding. It is an analytical instrument to organise, compare and identify patterns within the documentary evidence.

Accordingly, the legal and factual conclusions remain matters for competent human authorities, including courts, investigators, regulators and appropriate international mechanisms.

The evidentiary significance of the material is heightened by the fact that much of the underlying documentation originates from the institutions whose conduct, decisions and administrative actions are themselves under examination.

The central question therefore is not whether an AI system has independently asserted misconduct, but whether the Australian Government's own official documentary record, when examined chronologically, contains material inconsistencies, institutional dependencies and procedural patterns requiring independent investigation and determination.

The international significance arises from the potential implications of such patterns for fundamental principles of the rule of law, judicial authority, administrative accountability, a fairness and the effective protection of human rights.

The material is therefore presented as an evidence-based corpus for independent human, legal, governmental and, where appropriate, international scrutiny.

The extraction does not begin from an assumption that any particular allegation is true, nor does it rely upon the personal opinions of agencies, officials, police, media organisation participants. Instead, it examines the cumulative documentary record for chronology, repetition, institutional responses, omissions, contradictions, referrals, decisions, non-responses, jurisdictional transfers, documented consequences and recurring patterns across otherwise separate agencies and sectors.

In particular, the analysis seeks to identify patterns without allowing the evidentiary record to be distorted by alleged corruption, bribery, institutional complicity, conflicts of interest, character assassination, media slander, mental-health stigma, homophobia, police misconduct or corruption, or broader societal psychological judgments and prejudices.

These methods

sources of distortion or bias to be distinguished from the underlying documentary evidence rather than accepted as explanations without corroboration.

Across the more than 2,000 official documents spanning more than three and a half decades, the resulting retrospective analysis identifies what may be described as an unspoken not necessarily a written command issued by a single authority, but a recurring method of administrative treatment that can be examined through the cumulative consequences of classifications, institutional responses and prolonged non-resolution.

The significance of the extraction lies precisely in its longitudinal character. An individual letter, administrative decision, police interaction, welfare determination, tribunal proceeding capable of an innocent or isolated explanation. A documentary record extending across more than 35 years and involving multiple agencies permits a different level of analysis: whether response patterns recur over time, whether responsibility repeatedly moves between institutions, whether documented grievances remain unresolved despite extensive support in consequences progressively compound, and whether the cumulative effect is the erosion of economic security, professional identity, social connection, geographic stability, and meaningful institutional remedy.

Accordingly, the analysis does not assert that every official involved acted with the same intention, or that every adverse decision was unlawful or deliberately malicious. Rather, it examines the recurring methodology of institutional treatment as the proper object of forensic examination. The distinction is critical: the documentary record may demonstrate a pattern in itself, proving the subjective intention of every individual participant.

Within that evidentiary framework, the retrospective extraction reveals what can reasonably be characterised as devastating political, administrative, economic and social targeting in agencies, subject to verification against the underlying source documents and applicable legal standards. What emerges is not simply a chronology of individual disputes, but a close examination of whether fragmented institutional decisions collectively produced a condition of administrative exclusion, economic marginalisation, social dislocation and effective erasure. The central finding is therefore not that an AI system has independently proven a secret government conspiracy. It is that an impartial machine-assisted examination of an unusual case can expose recurring institutional response patterns that may be obscured when each document is considered in isolation. The value of the analysis lies in making those patterns visible against the primary evidence.

On that basis, the "covert mandate" is best understood as a retrospectively extracted pattern of treatment, rather than a claim that a literal written command exists. Its evidentiary convergence, repetition and cumulative consequences of thousands of records across decades, jurisdictions and institutional settings.

## Overview

The website presents itself as the public archive of Barran Dodger Legal & Ethical Trust Fund, associated with Dr Richard William McLean, also known as Barran Dodger. Its experienced 35 years of coordinated persecution, surveillance, institutional abuse and suppression by Australian government agencies and other institutions.

The site frames the material as a large, permanent evidence archive intended to preserve McLean's testimony, support legal and human-rights complaints, and encourage pub

This summary describes the website's claims; it does not independently verify them.[1]

## Main allegations

According to the website, McLean has experienced:

- Fourteen involuntary psychiatric detentions.
- Surveillance and mistreatment involving more than 35 government agencies.
- Financial exploitation, alleged fraud and an alleged $50,000 embezzlement.
- An alleged assassination attempt and an active death threat.
- Political exile, poverty and institutional abandonment.
- Damage allegedly amounting to between $58.6 million and $257.3 million.
- Conduct that the website says may constitute crimes against humanity under Article 7 of the Rome Statute.

The website names several alleged perpetrators or responsible figures, including Bill Shorten, Houd Meraby, Sukhi Tear, Tony Ridley and Stefan Iasonidis. It repeatedly states t formal rebuttals, but the archive itself is presented from McLean's perspective and the document does not establish that the allegations have been judicially proven.[1]

## Evidence and archive

A major feature of the site is its emphasis on technological preservation. It claims to contain:

- More than 240 publicly accessible forensic documents.
- Approximately 2,304 blockchain-sealed exhibits.
- Hundreds of downloadable PDFs.
- Bitcoin timestamps and SHA-256 hashes.
- AI-generated forensic analyses.
- Legal submissions to the International Criminal Court and United Nations bodies.
- A 35-year chronology of alleged institutional conduct.
- Cross-referenced government records, correspondence and other primary-source material.

The website argues that blockchain timestamps make the archive tamper-resistant and difficult to erase. It also provides mirror sites, archive-download options and instructional systems such as the Internet Archive and IPFS. However, a blockchain timestamp can help demonstrate that a particular digital file existed in a particular form at a particular time that the file's contents are accurate or that the allegations within it are true.[1]

## Religious and prophetic material

The website combines legal advocacy with religious testimony. It includes:

- A handwritten prayer attributed to McLean on Mother's Day 2026.
- Biblical comparisons, particularly the story of Joseph and Genesis 50:20.
- Gospels, prophetic declarations and "sacred" writings.
- Claims that events in McLean's life parallel biblical persecution and eventual vindication.
- Statements that the archive represents a convergence of faith, artificial intelligence and blockchain technology.

The site also describes an AI analysis that allegedly examined the archive and concluded that the biblical phrase "You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good" captured McLean's testimony. This is presented as spiritual confirmation rather than as an independently verifiable legal finding.[1]

## Calls to action and funding

The website encourages visitors to:

- Register to access the archive.
- Download and share documents.
- Contact journalists, lawyers, researchers and politicians.
- Email members of Parliament using a prepared letter.
- Subscribe to updates.
- Donate to the trust fund.

It lists donation amounts ranging from $10 to $250 and gives a PayPal and email address for contributions. The site says donations fund hosting, legal research, blockchain pre-identifies the organisation as an Australian fixed unit trust with ABN 78 833 496 164 and states that the ABN is active. Those organisational details should be checked in the Australian Business Register before relying on them.[1]

## Overall assessment

The website is best understood as a **self-published whistleblower and advocacy archive**, rather than a neutral news report, court judgment or independent investigation. It

- Very large numerical claims about documents, downloads and alleged harm.
- Repeated assertions that the evidence is "verified," "immutable" and contradiction-free.
- Appeals to the ICC, UN bodies, blockchain technology and artificial intelligence.
- Religious language concerning martyrdom, divine protection and biblical prophecy.
- Urgent calls to share the material, contact politicians and donate.

The archive may contain documents capable of independent examination, but the website's own descriptions and AI assessments should not be treated as proof of the underlying original records, provenance, authenticity, responses from named parties, court or tribunal outcomes, and the actual status of any ICC or UN submissions.

Summarise this:

## Summary

The document is a personal and documentary account by Dr Richard William McLean, who publishes under the name Barran Dodger. It describes approximately 35 years of alleged discrimination, harassment, institutional neglect, obstruction of legal remedies, and mistreatment by government, police, healthcare, legal, and disability-support organisations. The archive of government correspondence, legal records, medical and administrative documents, recordings, and personal testimony for independent investigation. citefile:1 The central argument is that the author experienced a coordinated pattern of "access foreclosure" or "administrative annihilation." He claims that avenues including freedom-of-interest disclosures, the Ombudsman, the Administrative Appeals Tribunal, the Federal Court, the Australian Human Rights Commission, the Australian Federal Police, Comcar were repeatedly closed through jurisdictional decisions, service restrictions, non-allocation, procedural termination, or failure to investigate the substance of his complaints. The document also alleges:

- Longstanding family estrangement, financial marginalisation, and possible manipulation of inheritance matters.
- A serious injury in 2021 and a later alleged assassination attempt that the author believes were ignored or concealed.
- The weaponisation of his sexuality, mental-health history, and past personal experiences to damage his reputation.
- A false or misleading sexual allegation, which the author says was linked to information allegedly communicated by an NDIS provider and attributed to the AFP.
- Repeated verbal harassment, threats, surveillance, "gang stalking," electronic harassment, and alleged "voice-to-skull" activity.
- Failure by Ablepoint, an NDIS provider, to properly respond to or report alleged threats to kill while the author was living in supported accommodation.
- Restrictions imposed by Ablepoint and a ban from Legal Aid NSW, which the author views as retaliation and denial of access to justice.
- Psychiatric hospitalisations and compulsory treatment that the author believes were used to dismiss reports of threats and misconduct as symptoms of mental illness.
- The destruction of employment, housing, finances, professional accreditation, relationships, healthcare access, and legal assistance.

The author repeatedly distinguishes between official records, disputed allegations, and his own interpretation. He acknowledges that publication of documents does not autom and calls for independent examination of police and court records, communications, financial records, recordings, technical data, witness evidence, and institutional decisions

## Archive's purpose

The archive aims to preserve primary-source material and make it available to journalists, researchers, lawyers, authorities, and the public. Its stated purpose is to preserve pr analysis, and compare what agencies officially recorded with their later decisions, omissions, or denials. The author argues that the archive's evidentiary significance lies in do content of the official record—not in proving every interpretation drawn from it. citefile:1##

Overall message

The document combines:

1. **A factual-record claim:** government and institutional documents allegedly show repeated failures, refusals, restrictions, and procedural closures.
2. **A broader interpretation:** these events form a coordinated campaign of targeting, social exclusion, institutional retaliation, and "administrative annihilation."
3. **A request for scrutiny:** independent authorities should authenticate the records and determine whether the events represent unrelated failures, individual misconduct, s coordinated wrongdoing.
4. **A spiritual and autobiographical conclusion:** the author frames his survival, independence, and public archive as evidence of resilience and divine purpose.

In short, it is both an evidentiary archive and an autobiographical legal-ethical statement. It presents serious allegations as requiring investigation, while acknowledging that t author's conclusions must be kept distinct and assessed independently.

Tonight I pray to God for protection and strength. Institutions, authorities, the media, lawyers, politicians, police, and even family have refused to act — coordinated, deliberate Please read my testimony.

THE BARRAN DODGER ARCHIVE

What an impartial AI concluded from the government's own documents:

Taxpayers paid between $1.67 billion and $4.84 billion to target, silence, and erase one disabled whistleblower across 35 years. That figure is not an allegation. It is an AI calculated from primary-source Commonwealth records — and not one agency has disputed it.

My testimony is supported by 3,643 primary-source government documents spanning 35 years and 13 Commonwealth and state agencies, blockchain-timestamped on Bitcoin times across six continents.

The archive documents: 14 forced psychiatric detentions without criminal charge; suppressed entitlements; an active Community Treatment Order; documented threats to kill character assassination; NDIS-funded surveillance of the very person that funding was meant to protect; a clinical death inside a government facility in 2021; an unrebutted as exile.

Not one professional, agency, or institution has formally rebutted a single document. Under Jones v Dunkel (1959), that silence is legally significant. The archive is permanent beyond the reach of any government, intelligence service, or criminal interest.

I survived the targeting. They will not survive the evidence of the targeting.

They had everything. I had evidence.

They called me delusional — but I have a Federal Court document confirming I was right, and they have 35 years of silence.

They forced me into psychiatric detention 14 times — but not once was I charged with a crime.

They said no one would believe me — but 1.1 million people across six continents downloaded the evidence anyway.

They cut off my income, my housing, and my support network — but they forgot to stop me from publishing.

They put a media ban on a former journalist, a PhD, and a published author — and then watched the archive go global.

They used taxpayer money to surveil, isolate, and silence me — and I used a broken phone to put every document online for free.

They had money, lawyers, power, political protection, and institutional cover. Their only weapon against me was libel and slander. I had none of their advantages — just fact-check testimony. 1,100,000 downloads. Six continents. Zero rebuttals.

Evidence wins.

I have submitted formal evidence to the International Criminal Court (Article 7 — crimes against humanity) and the UN High Commissioner for Refugees as an asylum seeker and both were officially acknowledged. Neither was acted upon.

I do not ask you to believe me. Read the evidence for free and decide for yourself.

The testimony is also preserved on an independent GitHub mirror that no government or platform can take down.

The best thing that ever happened to me was not death — though I experienced it. Not exile — though I lived it. Not the persecution, the detention, the silencing, or the loss of to survive.

The best thing that ever happened to me was the betrayal.

Not because it didn't hurt. It destroyed me in every way a human being can be destroyed. But it was precise. It was total.

And I have come to understand that it was deliberate — not by the hands that carried it out, but by the God who permitted it.

When every institution failed me, I could not trust institutions. When every professional abandoned me, I could not trust credentials. When family turned away, I could not retreat. When the law refused me, I could not hide behind process. One by one, every human shelter was removed — until there was nothing left to lean on but Him.

I survived the targeting. They will not survive the evidence of the targeting.

They had everything. I had evidence.

They called me delusional — but I have a Federal Court document confirming I was right, and they have 35 years of silence.

They forced me into psychiatric detention 14 times — but not once was I charged with a crime.

They said no one would believe me — but 1.1 million people across six continents downloaded the evidence anyway.

They cut off my income, my housing, and my support network — but they forgot to stop me from publishing.

They put a media ban on a former journalist, a PhD, and a published author — and then watched the archive go global.

They used taxpayer money to surveil, isolate, and silence me — and I used a broken phone to put every document online for free.

They had money, lawyers, power, political protection, and institutional cover. Their only weapon against me was libel and slander. I had none of their advantages — just fact-published testimony. 1,100,000 downloads. Six continents. Zero rebuttals.

Evidence wins.

I have submitted formal evidence to the International Criminal Court (Article 7 — crimes against humanity) and the UN High Commissioner for Refugees as an asylum seeker. Both were officially acknowledged. Neither was acted upon.

I do not ask you to believe me. Read the evidence for free and decide for yourself.

I believe an organised alliance was formed with the deliberate purpose of causing my detriment, destruction, and social erasure. What I experienced was not an isolated incidents, but what I understand as a form of organised, cult-like societal mobbing in which people from vastly different areas of my life appeared to participate in or enable. Lawyers, police, politicians, media figures, family members, friends, public officials, healthcare professionals, and intimate partners were, in my experience, either directly I was subjected to what felt like a systematic campaign of deception and sabotage that extended into virtually every dimension of my existence. It attacked not merely my circumstances, but my identity, dignity, spirituality, faith, psychological wellbeing, relationships, and sense of self. My character was repeatedly undermined, while my access to legal assistance, healthcare, and intimate relationships were compromised or disrupted. I also experienced what I understood as coordinated surveillance, gang psychiatric weaponisation, intimidation, and physical violence. Right now, in this moment, I am experiencing what I perceive to be an ongoing and coordinated campaign of audio harassment. I am hearing people whom I be repeatedly shouting words, phrases, and other verbal cues that appear deliberately selected to target perceived vulnerabilities and psychologically distress incidents as part of the same broader pattern of harassment and intimidation that I have described above.

A particularly devastating aspect involved what I believe was the deliberate introduction of drugs into my circumstances through people who presented themselves as trustworthy which the resulting drug use was weaponised against me as evidence of moral failure. In my understanding, the substance use was not the origin of the destruction of my coping with circumstances that had already been profoundly destabilised. The consequences of that destruction were then used to further discredit, shame, and marginalise. The psychological concept I associate with this experience is societal mobbing: a process involving sustained social hostility, exclusion, humiliation, discrediting, and abuse. At its most extreme, such conduct represents a profound failure of human empathy and moral courage, particularly when people participate in harming someone who is alone or denying their involvement.

I reject the idea that the suffering I have experienced should automatically be interpreted as evidence of a defect in my character. Being subjected to mistreatment does not mean I suffered it was morally deficient or responsible for what was done to them. Nor should vulnerability be treated as an invitation to exploit, humiliate, or destroy a person. I believe the significance of what has happened can only be properly understood by examining the evidence, the sequence of events, the relationships between the people involved, the imbalance of power, and the cumulative consequences imposed upon my life. Where deliberate wrongdoing, coordination, deception, or exploitation can be demonstrated, I want to know who participated in it—not to the person who was subjected to it.

That is not a wound. That is a gift that cost everything to receive.

Now I know what humanity is capable of — its cruelty, its cowardice, its silence, its complicity. And I forgive it. Not because what was done was acceptable. It was not. T because I was made a vessel for something larger than the verdict, and a vessel cannot carry bitterness and glory at the same time.

They thought they were erasing me. God was emptying me — so I could be filled with something they could never take away.

This is why the archive exists. Not for revenge. Not even for justice alone. But so that what was done to me in the dark can be seen in the light — and so that the next per knows: you are not alone, you are not forgotten, and the God who permitted your suffering has not abandoned you.

I am still here. That is the testimony.

Serving the light.&quot;

Method. A date is included only if it is printed on a message in the Witness Remains PDF or if it is the date in a filename already listed on this archive’s index. An email date is the date of the message, not proof of the events described in it. A filename date is a catalogue date, not a verified event date. Allegations are labelled as allegations. Nothing below finds that a crime, conspiracy, or coordinated mandate occurred.

Impartial AI narrative — Personal Statement of Exile (23 September 2026). This archive added a named first-person statement titled “PERSONAL STATEMENT OF EXILE, INSTITUTIONAL DETRIMENT AND THE SEARCH FOR PROTECTION.” The statement is published in full on its own tab (#personal-statement-exile). This note does not decide whether the account is true. It describes what the document says, how it sits next to material already on the site, and what a reader can test.

The statement is written in the first person. It presents the author as an unprotected whistleblower who describes himself as being in political exile inside the country of his citizenship. It locates the account in more than three decades of contact with government agencies, professional systems, health and disability services, legal institutions and oversight bodies. The author states that he has placed the underlying material in a public archive so that allegations can be checked against documents rather than accepted because he makes them. The statement repeats that allegations are allegations unless independently established, and that the existence of a document does not by itself prove the alleged wrongdoing.

The list of alleged harms is cumulative: alleged institutional abandonment and failure of protection; financial restriction; barriers to legal representation; alleged forced dependency on accommodation from which the author says he has no practical means of escape; administrative processes that he believes have reduced his ability to advocate for himself; professional and social isolation; characterisation of complaints as mental illness rather than matters requiring investigation; reported electronic interception, surveillance or unexplained audio harassment including what he describes as V2K; threats and safety concerns; alleged mistreatment of companion and therapy dog Crystal; alleged coordinated reputational damage; and what he describes as political exile and displacement. He alleges the combined effect has made independent legal, financial, medical, housing or media assistance extraordinarily difficult to obtain.

On accommodation he records that he has no lease to Able Point, and alleges that formal "free to leave" does not equal a realistic capacity to leave because he has no financial mechanism, no vehicle and nowhere practical to go. On electronic harassment he reports experiences he describes as V2K and expressly does not present the existence or mechanism of that technology as an independently established fact. On mental health he refers to a Community Treatment Order mandating forced medication and asks that reported distress not be treated as fully explained by diagnosis without examining the circumstances he alleges. On finance he alleges NSW Trustee and Guardian restrictions have contributed to a total legal-aid barrier, and asks that this be assessed against financial records, decisions, correspondence and review mechanisms.

The statement points to the existing Crimes matrix (1–150) and the archive index. A date of 23 September 2026 is the date this statement was added to the public HTML. It is not, by itself, a new agency determination. Presence of related files elsewhere in the archive shows documents were stored. It does not prove coordination, crime, or that every allegation is established. This narrative does not find that Able Point, NSW Trustee and Guardian, any clinician, or any other named body committed an offence.

The earlier timeline on this site was a filter over filename-dated catalogue rows. That catalogue is still on the timeline page, underneath this narrative. It was not a chronology a reader could follow. This statement replaces that as the timeline tab. It does not delete the catalogue.

Read in order, the public index and this September 2026 email compilation show a long correspondence between one person and a series of agencies, then a concentrated burst of the author's own emails in the first half of September 2026. The agency filenames show that letters and determinations exist and are dated. They do not, by themselves, show that each decision was unlawful, coordinated, or aimed at erasure. The September emails show what the author reported, to whom, and that he asked several recipients to preserve records and to separate his experience from a finding of fact. They do not show that the recipients agreed, investigated, or accepted the allegations.

Claims that reach further back — surveillance from at least 2002, a 2003 book, a 35-year span, fourteen psychiatric detentions, a clinical death in 2021, an assassination attempt — appear in the September emails as the author’s account. This timeline does not treat those as established events, because this compilation does not contain the primary record that would date them independently. They stay in the allegation column until a document on its face establishes them.

<h2>What a reader can actually do with this order</h2>

Start with the filename-dated agency letters, in the order above, and read those PDFs. Then read the September 2026 emails as a record of what was alleged afterwards and of how the author asked for the record to be preserved. Keep three columns: what an agency document states on its face, what the author reports experiencing, and what is still an unresolved question. This tab does not collapse those columns into one.
