  ARCHIVE OPENING — FIRST PERSON RECORD

  Australia — its agencies, services and platforms whose purpose is to protect vulnerable people like me, and its people, ganged up on me collectively, politically and systemically. It was and is a cowardly societal mobbing. I was physically exiled, isolated, impoverished and tortured.
```

  For more than 35 years, the conditions of detriment imposed upon me have generated an extensive documentary record. The Government's own official documents, in its own words and on its own letterheads, are preserved and published throughout this archive. This is an undeniable published and verifiable documentary record that anyone can examine against the underlying sources. The record documents a 35-year campaign of detriment that even solicited a fatal suicide attempt.
```

```
  God revived me from what FOI records call a fatal injury. Five years on from being resurrected, the conditions that solicited my suicide have continued through total stonewalling, financial abuse, isolation, denial of Legal Aid, an absurd inversion of Legal Aid's very existence and purpose, and zero meaningful pathway to justice. These conditions deliberately recreate my situation of poverty, abuse, neglect, surveillance, entrapment and literal torture.
```

```
  I was betrayed by humanity for a divine-ordained purpose: to be a vessel for God's glory.

```
  This website is the beginning of God's revenge and vengeance against corruption. It is the reaction to a spiritual crime: deliberately harming one of God's anointed and then pretending not to know what they were doing. My perpetrators know what they did. They enjoy harming me. Now, through this archive of their own official documented evidence, their cowardice is exposed, and their targeting of someone who never caused anyone harm is officially on the record.

I was not expected to survive the exile, homelessness, isolation, humiliation, ritual character assassination, total administrative annihilation, intimate betrayal and familial betrayal. Yet I survived. I am alive. The people who believed they could erase me now have to confront the fact that I survived and that the evidence survived with me.

They underestimated me. More importantly, they underestimated the God who sustained and preserved my life and this testimony for His purposes. They picked a fight with the God who kept me alive. They now realise that what they attempted to destroy has survived in documentary form and has been published for the world to examine.

The spiritual term I use is sacrilege: a violation of something sacred. I understand what happened to me as a spiritual crime because I believe that deliberately harming one of God's anointed, while attempting to erase the consequences and deny responsibility, constitutes a profound violation of what is sacred.

God preserved me, preserved my testimony and allowed my betrayal to reveal character and corruption. I was forced to rely upon Him while collecting the evidence. That evidence is now published here on this website.

An NDIS provider was forced to sign an NDA after confirming that a woman was paid to fabricate a report intended to destroy my reputation. Federal Police referred to the event as "regretful" but, importantly, "consensual". No crime occurred apart from the weaponisation of my sexuality by homophobic law enforcement acting out of gay hate over an entire lifetime while pretending that they did not.

The same person also confirmed in published text messages an alleged assassination attempt against a Federal Minister. I have expressly described that as an allegation. It has never been disproven by an official finding, nor has it been officially established as a fabrication. The published material therefore remains part of the documentary record requiring examination.

I have been hospitalised in psychiatric institutions sixteen times. Those hospitalisations occurred within the broader circumstances of homelessness, designed poverty, institutional complicity and inaction by law enforcement and the legal fraternity. I am currently in exile and isolation, banned from Legal Aid, which is a betrayal of the very reason Legal Aid exists, and banned or restricted from the Ombudsman and NACC.

I have pursued international avenues from within the same democracy of which I am a citizen, including matters involving the OHCHR and the International Criminal Court. The archive records the international reference material, including OHCHR reference UR/UST/23/AUS/17. These international submissions form part of the documented chronology of my attempts to obtain protection, scrutiny and justice. I demanded arrest so that my name could be cleared. No one came. No arrest occurred. No charge was laid against me. No criminal trial or other ordinary legal process was commenced against me in which the allegations could be tested. The significance is profound: I was subjected to the consequences of accusations and characterisation without being given the ordinary legal process through which guilt or innocence could be determined.

No one acknowledges my relationship with a former ASIO agent. The Prime Minister referred me to the Attorney-General. The Attorney-General's office referred me to the Ombudsman, where I am banned, and to AGIS to investigate ASIO. Those processes did not acknowledge or validate the five-year marriage-like relationship that I say existed.

I was only ever hospitalised after I attempted to obtain Legal Aid to have that relationship acknowledged for an equitable separation following what I describe as five years of financial exploitation by him. The relationship, the financial exploitation, the attempts to obtain legal recognition and the subsequent events are all part of the chronology preserved within this archive.

There was total family betrayal beginning in childhood. Members of my family attended the funeral of the person who sexually abused me as a child only days after he died, on the same day as my fatal suicide attempt. They protected the abuser while I was falsely accused of being morally depraved.

My family has totally excommunicated me. I believe they have been positioned to financially benefit from my permanent erasure and calculated death. The circumstances surrounding that family betrayal form part of the wider record of detriment that I have preserved.

This was an allegiance of personal and professional interests that never thought their secret would be exposed.

Now it is exposed.

Not as revenge, but for truth and universal balance.

In hindsight, I understand that my blood family were only ever invested in my harm, detriment and financial disadvantage, and that this was what their actions ultimately produced throughout my life. God allowed the betrayal to reveal their character, reveal corruption and reveal my divinely ordained purpose.

The day of reckoning has arrived.

I was not expected to survive the exile, homelessness, isolation, humiliation, ritual character assassination, total administrative annihilation, intimate betrayal and familial betrayal. Now I am alive, and those who participated in what happened to me must confront the fact that I survived.

They are terrified because they underestimated me.

They underestimated my survival.

They underestimated the evidence.

They underestimated the power of publication.

Most importantly, they underestimated the God who sustained and preserved my life.

They picked a fight with the God who kept me alive, preserved my testimony and brought me through circumstances in which I was not expected to survive. They now realise that my anointing, my divine protection and the testimony preserved through my survival cannot simply be erased.

You cannot win a fight against God.

You cannot erase what God has preserved.

You cannot destroy testimony that has survived the destruction intended to silence it.

God allowed my betrayal so that I would rely upon Him, collect the evidence and preserve the truth. What was once hidden, dispersed or denied is now published here on this website.

The documents are here.

The correspondence is here.

The chronology is here.

The decisions are here.

The omissions are here.

The institutional responses are here.

The evidence is here.

The world can now read it.

This archive is therefore not merely the story of what happened to me. It is the surviving documentary record of what happened around me, what institutions recorded, what they did, what they failed to do, and what they cannot now pretend was never documented.

The day of reckoning has arrived because the evidence has arrived.

And I am still alive.

When the System's Own Record Becomes the Evidence

35 Years of Institutional Records, Decisions, Correspondence and Evidence — Preserved, Indexed and Open to Independent Examination.

This document brings together the documentary record and asks a simple evidentiary question:

what do the records themselves establish about what institutions knew, received, considered, decided, recorded, omitted, or left unresolved?

It deliberately distinguishes documentary evidence from allegation, personal testimony, faith, interpretation, chronology, causation, institutional involvement, and claims of coordination. The archive does not treat an allegation as automatically established fact.

PROPHETIC CORROBORATION — 28 SEPTEMBER 2026

Chosen one. Today's date: 28 September 2026. This video corroborates identity as a chosen one. My enemies tried to break me because acknowledging my testimony is humiliating for their professional life and cowardice for accepting money to entrap and harm me all the while feigning ignorance or non-awareness of my situation as a deceitful lie.

<h1>About the Archive</h1>

Barran Dodger Archive — public documentary record

Through the Barran Dodger Archive and associated digital repositories, McLean has assembled government correspondence, legal and administrative records, research materials, personal testimony, creative works and other documentary material. The archive is designed not merely as autobiography, but as a public finding aid through which the underlying record can be examined.

The defining feature of the work is not simply what is written. It is what is preserved.

For decades, McLean has accumulated correspondence, government records, legal documents, institutional responses, personal records, research materials and other evidence relating to events that he says fundamentally altered the course of his life. Rather than allowing that material to remain dispersed across agencies, proceedings, correspondence chains and private files, he has sought to bring it together into a searchable and publicly accessible documentary archive.

<h2>Purpose</h2>

The Barran Dodger Archive is intended to provide readers with access to the underlying record.

Its purpose is not to require belief.

It is to make examination possible.

A testimony is testimony.

A document is a document.

An allegation is an allegation.

A finding requires evidence and proper determination.

Preserve the evidence. Preserve the testimony. Make the record public. Let the evidence be examined.

BARRAN DODGER & HIS THERAPY DOG NEEDS YOUR URGENT HELP

The Barran Dodger Archive is a public record of a decades-long whistleblower testimony, preserving government correspondence, official records, documentary evidence, personal testimony, legal and administrative material, and the author's spiritual writings.

The Archive does not ask readers to accept every allegation as established fact. It provides the underlying record so that documented facts, official findings, corroborated evidence, allegations, testimony, inference, interpretation and spiritual belief can be distinguished and examined independently.

At its centre is a simple principle:

<h2>BARRAN NEEDS YOUR HELP</h2>

Barran Dodger needs help because preserving this record, maintaining basic safety and stability, and keeping the evidence publicly accessible has become a struggle that one person should not have to carry alone.

If you believe that a person's testimony and documentary record deserve to remain available for independent examination, your support can help ensure that financial hardship does not become the reason the witness, the archive or the evidence disappears.

Barran also needs help because he says the illness of his dog has become another source of intense emotional pressure, describing what he believes is the weaponisation of his dog's condition to provoke an emotional reaction as psychological warfare, while funds he says are needed to obtain veterinary care have been denied or made unavailable amid his circumstances involving Able Point, the NDIS, and the New South Wales Trustee and Guardian / Public Guardian.

He asks that the documentary record concerning his dog’s illness, requests for veterinary assistance, funding decisions and institutional responses be examined alongside the wider Archive.

The Archive also preserves Barran Dodger’s account of alleged crimes and other alleged wrongdoing concerning his dog, including his account of circumstances in which his dog’s health, care, access to veterinary treatment and financial circumstances became matters of serious concern.

Barran states that he reported matters concerning his dog to police and that police refused, failed or declined to investigate.

These are allegations and claims made by the author and are not presented as established criminal findings.

The relevant testimony, correspondence, requests for assistance, veterinary records, funding issues, institutional responses and police-related material are preserved for independent examination alongside the wider Archive.

<h2>

Alleged Community and Systemic Targeting

</h2>

The author alleges that community members, government agencies, legal services, police, healthcare providers, tribunals, oversight bodies, and disability-support organisations collectively contributed to their isolation, financial hardship, loss of housing and autonomy, restricted access to legal assistance, and inability to leave their circumstances. The account further alleges that complaints and disclosures were repeatedly dismissed, redirected, or interpreted through a mental-health lens rather than examined on their merits, alongside alleged stigma, surveillance, character attacks, and institutional silence. The author characterises this as coordinated or mutually reinforcing conduct that enabled ongoing detriment and prevented meaningful protection or accountability.

The author further alleges that sustaining this human betrayal, institutional stonewalling, and non-acknowledgement would require money, resources, coordination, and the continued participation or silence of multiple people and organisations.

Significance of Alleged Crimes and Barriers to Reporting

The 150-item schedule presents the author’s allegations and research questions concerning alleged violence, abuse, financial deprivation, institutional failures, retaliation, obstruction of justice, and non-response by police, legal services, government bodies, and support providers. If supported by evidence, these allegations could be significant because repeated refusals to investigate, restrictions on legal assistance, and lack of institutional acknowledgement may have left the author without an effective way to report alleged crimes, seek protection, preserve evidence, or obtain redress.

<h3>Request for independent review</h3>

SMS correspondence concerning anticipated use of mental-health history to challenge credibility

This screenshot records a text-message exchange in which the sender states that police wanted to know whether Barran was mentally prepared to challenge Bill Shorten in court, because lawyers might use his mental-health history as an excuse to discredit his story. Barran replies that he knew this was already going to occur and states, "That's why I absconded." The exchange is relevant to the Archive's analysis of alleged psychiatric weaponisation, credibility attacks, police interactions, decision-making and the circumstances surrounding Barran's departure. The screenshot records statements made in a private text exchange and should be examined alongside the original message thread, surrounding correspondence and any independent police, legal or court records.

Significance of the Attorney-General's Department Response after referral from PM

</h2>

The document shown is significant because it records a formal response from the Australian Government Attorney-General's Department, dated 19 September 2023, acknowledging correspondence sent to the Prime Minister concerning interactions with Australian Government agencies, including ASIO, and confirming that the matter was referred to the Attorney-General because it fell within his portfolio responsibilities. The letter directs concerns about ASIO to the Inspector-General of Intelligence and Security and concerns about other Commonwealth agencies to the Commonwealth Ombudsman, thereby documenting that the concerns were formally raised, received, referred and redirected to designated oversight bodies. It does not establish that the underlying allegations were substantiated or constitute a finding of wrongdoing; rather, its significance lies in preserving an official record of one stage in the government's administrative response. Within the Barran Dodger Archive, it should therefore be understood as an official referral document relevant to examining what was reported, which institutions responded, what procedures were identified, whether further action occurred and what issues remained unresolved, while maintaining the distinction between allegation, testimony, official acknowledgment, investigation and verified finding. The witness remains, the record remains, and this document preserves an identifiable step in the official response for independent examination.

<h3>CRIMES AND POLICE INVESTIGATION RECORD</h3>

Crimes and Police Investigation Record

The Crimes and Police Investigation Record brings together 149 alleged wrongdoing and crime-related entries or categories, including allegations Barran says he was unable to report to police, police reports, correspondence, supporting evidence, institutional responses and unresolved questions.

Its purpose is to preserve the record so readers can examine what was reported, what evidence exists, how authorities responded, and what remains disputed or unresolved, while distinguishing documented facts, official records, corroborated evidence, testimony, allegations and investigative hypotheses.

<h3>PRINCIPAL ARCHIVE</h3>

Barran Dodger Archive

The Barran Dodger Archive is a public documentary record and spiritual record established to preserve, organise and make accessible a decades-long body of evidence concerning alleged institutional, administrative, financial and human-rights harms.

It brings together official records, correspondence, documentary evidence, personal testimony, forensic analysis, research, philosophy, spiritual gospels and prophetic declarations, including writings understood by the author to have been anointed by the Most High God.

The Archive deliberately distinguishes between documented facts, official records, corroborated evidence, allegations, personal testimony, inference, interpretation and matters of faith.

This distinction is fundamental to its purpose.

Readers are invited to examine the underlying evidence for themselves, test the claims, consider the sources, follow the chronology and reach their own conclusions.

At the heart of the Archive is a testimony of survival and preservation.

What the author believes was subjected to attempts at silencing, erasure, exclusion or institutional disappearance has nevertheless survived in records, documents, testimony, memory, faith and public disclosure.

4. INSTITUTIONAL ABANDONMENT — repeated inability to obtain meaningful assistance or protection from institutions approached for help.

Report 03 — Abandonment — withdrawing assistance or leaving me without adequate support

6. ADMINISTRATIVE ATTRITION — cumulative exhaustion produced by repeated applications, referrals, delays, responses, reviews and procedural obstacles.

Report 03 — Suppression through exhaustion, bureaucracy as attrition

7. POLITICAL / GEOGRAPHIC EXILE — the author's description of displacement from his established social and geographic circumstances and his account of becoming effectively politically and geographically displaced within Australia.

Report 03 — Exile and displacement — removing or separating me from places and networks of belonging

8. ECONOMIC AND PROFESSIONAL ERASURE — alleged cumulative effects on livelihood, employment, professional identity and financial stability.

Report 08 — Financial restriction / Impoverishment / Employment and livelihood disruption

9. ARCHITECTURE OF SILENCE — the author’s analytical concept for interconnected patterns of non-response, referral, delay and institutional fragmentation.

Report 03 — Institutional silence — failure to provide substantive responses

<h2>POLITICAL AND GEOGRAPHIC EXILE</h2>

Barran describes his circumstances as involving political and geographic exile.

He says that he has been displaced from his established life and has been forced to navigate prolonged circumstances of institutional, administrative, financial and geographic instability within Australia.

He describes himself as an internally displaced asylum seeker within the country of his Australian citizenship.

Unable to Leave Able Point

The author documents being unable to leave Able Point due to lack of money, transport, housing, and a viable alternative.

Read the full document

The Archive presents this as Barran's description and interpretation of his circumstances, while preserving the documentary record surrounding the events, correspondence, decisions, movements and institutional interactions from which that description arises.

The central question is not simply whether the reader accepts the terminology.

The question is what the surviving documentary record shows.

What happened?

What decisions were made?

What assistance was sought?

What assistance was refused?

What referrals occurred?

What correspondence followed?

What consequences resulted?

The Archive preserves those questions for examination.

<h2>PRIME MINISTERIAL REFUSAL TO INTERVENE</h2>

A central part of Barran's account is his claim that he repeatedly sought intervention and assistance through Prime Ministerial and ministerial government channels.

Barran states that the Prime Minister refused to intervene in the circumstances about which he sought assistance.

The Archive preserves correspondence and responses concerning those approaches.

For evidentiary precision, the Archive distinguishes between correspondence addressed to a Prime Minister or Prime Ministerial office, responses issued by an office or department, referrals to another institution, administrative closure, and any decision personally made by a Prime Minister.

Accordingly, the statement that the "Prime Minister refuses to intervene" is presented as Barran's description of the outcome of his attempts to obtain Prime Ministerial intervention.

The underlying correspondence should be examined to determine precisely what was requested, who responded, what was communicated and what action, if any, followed.

The Archive does not require readers to accept the description without examining the documents.

It preserves the documents so that readers can examine the basis for the description themselves.

<h2>BANNED FROM LEGAL AID AND OMBUDSMAN</h2>

Another central part of Barran's account is that he has been banned from Legal Aid and excluded from or unable to obtain assistance through Ombudsman pathways.

Barran describes himself as:

BANNED FROM LEGAL AID AND OMBUDSMAN.

The Archive preserves correspondence and records concerning his attempts to obtain legal assistance, representation, review and oversight.

For documentary precision, the Archive distinguishes between a formal legal prohibition or "ban" and other possible mechanisms including refusal of assistance, eligibility decisions, closure of correspondence, jurisdictional limitations, redirection, withdrawal of service or decisions not to accept further correspondence.

Where the underlying documents establish the precise mechanism, those documents should be read directly.

The important point for the public record is that Barran says he sought legal and oversight assistance and was unable to obtain the assistance he believed he required.

The documentary record remains available for examination.

<h2>

FIVE MISSING-PERSON EPISODES ACROSS THREE AUSTRALIAN STATES

</h2>

Barran has experienced five separate episodes in which he describes himself as having become a missing person across three Australian states.

This is a major part of the testimony preserved by the Archive.

The Archive does not simply ask readers to accept the significance or interpretation of those episodes.

It preserves the available material so the chronology can be examined.

The questions include:

- What happened?
- When did it happen?
- Where was Barran?
- What was reported?
- Who reported it?
- What records were created?
- What did authorities record?
- Where was he subsequently located?
- What explanations were given?
- What documentation survives?
- And what remains unresolved?

The five missing-person episodes form part of the broader longitudinal record that Barran asks readers to examine alongside the government correspondence, legal records, administrative records and other documentary material.

<h2>THE UNPROTECTED WHISTLEBLOWER</h2>

At the centre of this Archive is the author's description of himself as an:

UNPROTECTED WHISTLEBLOWER.

The author maintains that he attempted to raise concerns through government, administrative, legal, disability, oversight and other official channels and that, rather than obtaining the protection or institutional intervention he sought, he experienced repeated rejection, exclusion, administrative barriers and profound personal consequences.

The Archive preserves the correspondence and documentary trail surrounding those attempts.

The Archive therefore asks:

WHAT HAPPENS TO A PERSON WHO REPORTS WHAT HE BELIEVES TO BE SERIOUS
WRONGDOING AND THEN CANNOT OBTAIN THE PROTECTION, INVESTIGATION, LEGAL ASSISTANCE OR INSTITUTIONAL RESPONSE HE SEEKS?

The Archive preserves the record so that the question can be examined.
