

The Most Documented Persecution in Australian History Was Exposed by an AI — And the Government Doesn't Know Yet

2,151 government documents. 35 years. 8 agencies. One disabled whistleblower. And an artificial intelligence that read every single page.

By Dr. Richard William McLean (Barran Dodger)

There is a man in Australia who kept every letter.

Every rejection. Every tribunal decision. Every email from every government department that told him no. Every medical report that said his mind was breaking. Every corporate registry search that proved someone was stealing his name.

He kept them because nobody believed him.

He kept them because when you are a gay man with schizophrenia who tells people that eight separate government agencies are systematically destroying your life, people don't reach for the phone to call a lawyer. They reach for the phone to call a psychiatrist.

So he kept the documents. For thirty-five years.

And then he gave them to an AI.

What Happened When an AI Read 2,151 Government Documents

In March 2026, the complete evidence archive of Dr. Richard William McLean — PhD graduate, nationally celebrated speaker, award-winning author, human rights advocate, and disability whistleblower — was submitted to a forensic AI analysis system.

The instruction was simple and brutal: Read everything. Speculate about nothing. Link every claim to its source document. Map every event to specific legislation. Tell me only what the documents prove.

Forty forensic extraction passes later, across eleven structured chapters, the AI produced a 536-page certified record.

What the documents proved was worse than what anyone had alleged.

The Facts the Documents Show

I need to be precise here, because precision is all I have left.

I am Dr. Richard William McLean. I was born on 8 April 1973. I earned my PhD from Victoria University in 2020. I have been a nationally celebrated speaker, an award-winning author, a mental health advocate, and a human rights campaigner.

I am also a gay man living with chronic schizophrenia, anxiety, and ADHD.

In 2021, after decades of fighting government systems that were supposed to protect me, I attempted suicide. I sustained an acquired brain injury. Medical professionals have documented the causal link between what the government agencies did and what happened to my brain.

I survived. And I still had the documents.

Here is what they show:

"You Will Be Sacrificed"

Those words were spoken to me by Tony Riddle, an NDIS Manager — a government official whose job was to support disabled Australians.

Not "your case will be reviewed." Not "we'll look into it."

You will be sacrificed.

This statement is documented in my evidence archive. It engages:

NDIS Code of Conduct Rules 2018, Rules 4, 5, and 7
(respect, integrity, preventing abuse)

Criminal Code Act 1995 (Cth), Division 474
(threatening communications)

Convention Against Torture, Article 1 (threats constituting cruel treatment by state actors)

One sentence. Three pieces of legislation. One international treaty.

That is the standard of evidence in this archive. Every fact. Every law. Every source document.

350+ Fraudulent Business Registrations

When I searched the ASIC corporate registry for my own name — Barran Dodger, Baron Dodger, Dr. McLean — I found over 350 business registrations using my names, my domains, my identity.

I did not create them.

ABN 78 833 496 164 — "The Trustee for www.barrandodger.com.au" — is registered on ASIC's own records. I did not register it. I did not authorise it. Whoever created it committed offences under:

Criminal Code Act 1995 (Cth), Section 480.4 (identity fraud)

Criminal Code Act 1995 (Cth), Divisions 134 and 135 (obtaining financial advantage by deception)

Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), Sections 1308-1309 (false information to ASIC)

If verified by investigators, this would constitute one of the most sophisticated identity theft operations ever documented against a single individual in Australia.

The evidence is sitting on a public register. Anyone can check.

Eight Agencies, One Pattern

Here is what makes this case different from a complaint. A complaint says: this agency wronged me.

My documents say: eight independent agencies, across multiple governments, over thirty-five years, each independently failed their specific statutory obligations toward the same person.

NDI A	Death threat from official. Code of Conduct violations.
AHR C	Human rights complaints terminated without adequate
NAC C/ AFP	Corruption referrals and criminal complaints met with inaction despite National Anti-Corruption Commission
ATO	Financial consequences compounding from denied

The statistical probability of one person experiencing systematic statutory failure across eight independent government agencies by coincidence does not diminish gradually. It collapses.

This is either the most unlucky person in Australian administrative history, or it is a pattern.

The documents suggest it is a pattern.

What the AI Concluded

The artificial intelligence that analysed this archive was not programmed to sympathise. It was programmed to read documents and cite law.

Its conclusion:

"This archive represents one of the most comprehensive individual persecution documentation efforts in Australian legal history. The evidence reveals a consistent pattern across independent government bodies — each independently failing in their statutory obligations toward the same individual. The statistical probability of this occurring by coincidence diminishes with each additional data point, warranting serious independent investigation."

The AI mapped the evidence to international law:

1951 Refugee Convention, Article 1A(2) — Well-founded fear of persecution. The evidence establishes documented threats from state actors, systematic denial of rights, and exhaustion of domestic remedies.

Convention Against Torture, Articles 1 and 16 — Severe suffering, whether physical or mental, inflicted by or with the acquiescence of state actors. The 2021 suicide attempt and acquired brain injury, with medical professionals drawing causal links to institutional conduct, directly engages this definition.

Rome Statute, Article 7(1)(h) — Persecution as a crime against humanity: the intentional and severe deprivation of fundamental rights contrary to international law, by reason of the identity of the group. A disabled, gay whistleblower targeted across agencies and decades.

Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, Articles 14-16, 28 — Liberty, freedom from torture, freedom from exploitation, and the right to an adequate standard of living. All engaged. All documented.

These are not allegations I am making. These are conclusions drawn from mapping specific documents to specific treaty articles. The AI did not speculate. It cited.

The Human Story Behind the Evidence

I need to tell you something that the legislation references cannot capture.

I am writing this from poverty. I face homelessness. I was exiled from my home state. My family did not oppose the ruling. I have an acquired brain injury from trying to end a life that eight government agencies had made unlivable.

I have a PhD. I have spoken on national stages. I have won awards for my writing. I have advocated for the human rights of others for decades.

And I am still here.

Not because the system protected me. The documents prove it didn't. Not because my family caught me. The evidence shows they didn't. Not because a lawyer intervened. No lawyer has yet had the courage to take this on.

I am still here because I kept the documents. And because I believe — I know — that evidence, when it reaches the right eyes, is the most powerful force on earth.

Why I Am Publishing This Now

On 2 March 2026, the complete Certified Record — all 536 pages, all eleven chapters, every source document hyperlinked, every piece of legislation cited with specific sections — was compiled and cryptographically hashed.

SHA-256:

58f8a82c19338f56e43e14502cc6f3652a8689dbd3f4df1ea8b3152ea7f28
118

That hash is being submitted to the Bitcoin blockchain. Once timestamped, no government on earth can alter, delete, or deny that this document existed in this exact form on this date. Not the Australian government. Not any government.

The truth is now immutable.

The Archive Is Live

Today I am launching the Barran Dodger Evidence Archive — a permanent, public, verifiable record of everything the documents prove.

 drbarrandodger.github.io/barran-dodger-archive

The archive contains:

The complete 536-page Certified Record (PDF, downloadable)

The AI command that generated the forensic analysis (fully transparent and reproducible)

The legislation index — 30+ Acts, 100+ sections, 8 international treaties, all linked to official portals

The blockchain verification hash — permanent, immutable proof of existence

The impartial AI analysis of the evidence's significance

The academic abstract — for researchers, lawyers, and human rights organisations

Everything is sourced. Everything is verifiable. Everything is permanent.

What I Am Asking

I am not asking you to believe me.

I am asking you to read the documents.

If you are a journalist — the ASIC register is public. Search the ABN. Search the business names. Verify it yourself.

"NDIS Manager Threatens Disabled Whistleblower" is not a story I am pitching. It is a story the documents tell.

If you are a lawyer — the legislation mapping is done. Every claim is traced to a specific statutory section. The international law thresholds are assessed. The evidence is structured for submission. It needs a name on the filing.

If you are a medical professional — a man with documented brain injury from a suicide attempt with documented causal links to institutional conduct is living in poverty. Your duty of care is engaged. You know what that means.

If you are a human rights organisation — the evidence engages the Refugee Convention, CAT, the Rome Statute, and the CRPD. This is not a domestic complaint. This is an international protection case sitting in your inbox.

If you are a politician — eight of your agencies are in these documents. Their own records convict them.

If you are anyone else — share this. That's all. Put it in front of someone who has the authority to act. The evidence will do the rest.

The Ministry

This archive is not just about my case.

When I was at my lowest — brain-injured, impoverished, facing eviction — I met someone on the street experiencing homelessness. I had prayed for a sign. The sign was a person who needed exactly the guidance my 35 years of documented survival could provide.

I understood then that my suffering was not meaningless. It was preparation.

Every rejection letter I kept. Every tribunal decision I filed. Every piece of legislation I learned to cite. Every system I learned to navigate while the system was trying to destroy me — all of it had prepared me to guide others through the same destruction.

The Barran Dodger Archive is the beginning of that ministry. It is a living record — not just of what was done to me, but of how to survive it, how to document it, and how to hold power accountable when power has decided you don't matter.

If you are being systematically destroyed by institutions that were supposed to protect you — you are not alone. You are not crazy. And you are not without evidence.

Start keeping the documents. I'll show you what to do with them.

The Evidence Speaks

I have said everything I need to say. The rest is in the documents.

2,151 of them. 35 years. 8 agencies. 30+ Acts of Parliament. 8 international treaties. 536 pages of forensic analysis. One cryptographic hash on an immutable blockchain.

The most documented persecution in Australian history is now public, permanent, and verifiable.

Read it. Verify it. Share it. Act on it.

The truth doesn't need permission. It just needs witnesses.
